SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the bill because I believe that the legislative subcommittee should not have the authority to take away a fundamental right: the right to carry; that should go through the full Legislature. So, I support this bill as it is. Thank you, Mister President.

Amend RSA 14:49, I(b) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(b) The membership of any study committee established by the general court shall be limited to members of the general court only.

SENATOR LAMBERT: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 190 Ought to Pass with Amendment. Amendment to HB 52

Amend the bill by replacing section 3 with the following:

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass with Amendment on HB 52. This legislation permits the court to modify a permanent parenting order based upon the best interest of the child, and was filed in response to a New Hampshire Supreme Court ruling referred to as "Much More".

While the content of HB 52 was intended when parental statutes were revised, it was not specifically spelled out that modifications could be based upon the best interest standard.

The committee amendment merely makes the effective date 60 days after passage, which was requested by the sponsors.

The Judiciary Committee recommends this statutory clarification and welcomes your support. Thank you, Mister President.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill amends the statute governing indemnification of volunteers under the supervision of department of resources and economic development personnel.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 131. This bill deals with the indemnification for state park volunteers. A great deal of our maintenance work is done by volunteers, not just within our state parks, but also on our trails. The first section of the bill extends this liability coverage to these important, vital members.

The committee amendment deletes the second part of the bill, which sought to extend a state park system advisory council to 2016. If this group wishes to be extended, they are welcome to submit legislation to that effect.

(a) Retreat from the encounter, except that he or she is not required to retreat if he or she is within his or her dwelling [or], its curtilage, or in any place where he or she has a right to be, and was not the initial aggressor; or

(b) Surrender property to a person asserting a claim of right there-to; or

(c) Comply with a demand that he or she abstain from performing an act which he or she is not obliged to perform; nor is the use of deadly force justifiable when, with the purpose of causing death or serious bodily harm, the actor has provoked the use of force against himself or herself in the same encounter.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. I move Re-refer to Committee.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: I believe that a Re-refer is not in order at the present time, as there is an equivalent precedent motion on the table being considered, which is Ought to Pass as Amended. Should that fail, I will be more than happy to recognize you for a Re-referral.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: I would ask the Committee to turn down the pending motion of Ought to Pass so that a Re-refer motion can be made in order.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. Briefly, I would support Senator Bradley's motion of "nay" on the Ought to Pass as Amended so that we can support a re-referral.

I just wanted to rise to make note that I trust we'll see some of this legislation later, and as a result, I wanted to point out that I thought House Bill 210, which retained what is known as the "initial aggressor" provision, had something to speak for it instead of Senate Bill 88, which we passed earlier, which deleted the initial aggressor provision. Therefore, for those who will be talking about this again, I just wanted to bring that to their attention. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 225-FN, relative to the return of personal property confiscated by law enforcement agencies from a person charged with a crime. Re-refer to committee, Vote 4-0. Senator Carson for the committee.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 225-FN be Re-referred to committee. This legislation sought to deal with the return of personal property confiscated by law enforcement agencies.

While the Committee is sympathetic to the return of personal property when individuals are found innocent, a number of concerns were raised at the public hearing for which there were no simple answers. Some of these unresolved issues dealt with how long the police should be required to hold onto the property; how many times they must notify the individual that the property is available; must the police return the property to the person's home, or can the individual pick up the property at the police station; what do officers do when the property was seized from seasonal residences, just to name a few of those concerns.

Senator Groen and I have volunteered to try to resolve these questions and come back with a solution that we feel protects the rights of the individuals whose property was seized and yet is respectful of the public servants who are operating within limited budgets.

The Judiciary Committee recommends that this be Re-referred so that we can continue our work, and we ask for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Re-refer to committee. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. My fellow Senators, I'd like to welcome the fourth-graders from the Simonds Elementary School in Warner, New Hampshire. As we know, Warner, New Hampshire represents the halfway point between Concord, where we stand today in these hallowed halls, and my great friend, Senator Houde's District, up in Lebanon, New Hampshire. Also home to – in case you haven't visited – one of the best firefighting museums we have and telephone museums, owned and operated by the Violettes, who presently own MCT Telecom.

So, fourth-graders from Warner, thank you so much for coming today; we truly appreciate your visit.

HB 313, requiring parental consent for court referral of a minor to a juvenile diversion program. Ought to Pass, Vote 4-0. Senator Luther for the committee.

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass on HB 313. This legislation changes the statutory reference to juvenile diversion programs to require that the parent or guardian give knowing and informed consent to the juvenile being ordered to participate in a diversion program. This is important because of issues of transportation and the need of the parent or guardian's positive involvement in order for the diversion program to succeed.

The Judiciary Committee unanimously voted for Ought to Pass and recommends that this be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 330-FN, relative to carrying firearms. Re-refer to committee, Vote 4-0. Senator Groen for the committee.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I move HB 330-FN be Re-referred to committee. Article 2-a. of the New Hampshire Constitution clearly states that all persons have a right to keep and bear arms in defense of themselves, their families, their property, and the state. The U.S. Constitution states that the right of people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed. House Bill 330-FN seeks to modify licensing requirements in order to be more consistent with the intent of both the New Hampshire and U.S. Constitutions.

The majority of the Judiciary Committee members generally supported the underlying concept, but heard concerns that some issues remain unresolved and will require further clarification.

Therefore, the Judiciary Committee recommends that this bill be Re-referred. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Re-refer to committee. Adopted.

Sen. Sanborn is in opposition to the motion to Re-refer to committee HB 330-FN.

HB 378-FN, inserting an exception to the criminal threatening statute, relative to the minimum mandatory sentence for a felony conviction involving the possession, use, or attempted use of a firearm, and relative to the definition of "non-deadly" force. Re-refer to committee, Vote 3-1. Senator Groen for the committee.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I move that HB 378 be Re-referred to committee. HB 378 sought to deal with a number of issues relative to criminal threatening, firearm possession, and use of non-deadly force.

Again, the Judiciary Committee members generally supported the underlying concepts of this bill, but we had concerns about how these changes could be accomplished. This bill should be viewed at the same time that HB 330 is considered, which is also Re-referred.

So, the Judiciary Committee recommends that this be Re-referred and we ask for your support. Thank you.

Amendment to HB 478-FN-LOCAL

Amend the bill by replacing section 3 with the following:

3 New Section; Testimony by Video Teleconference for Motor Vehicle Violations. Amend RSA 516 by inserting after section 37 the following new section:

516:38 Testimony by Video Teleconference for Motor Vehicle Violations. In any contested case for an alleged motor vehicle violation in district court at which a keeper of the records or technical specialist from the department of safety, bureau of hearings or division of motor vehicles is summoned to testify, the state may move to take the testimony of the keeper of the records or technical specialist by video teleconference, provided that the testimony is limited to expert testimony or to the results of and matters relating to records of the department of safety. Notice shall be provided to the defendant, and the defendant shall have an opportunity to object to the introduction of testimony by video teleconference. Similarly, in any contested case for an alleged motor vehicle violation in district court, the defendant may move to take the testimony of his or her own expert witness by video teleconference, provided that the testimony is limited to expert testimony or to the results of and matters relating to records of the department of safety. Notice shall be provided to the state, and the state shall have an opportunity to object to the introduction of testimony by video teleconference. Examination and cross-examination of the expert witness shall proceed in the same manner as permitted at a contested case for an alleged motor vehicle violation in district court. For purposes of this section, "video teleconference" includes the use of any technology that provides live, interactive aural and visual communication.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill authorizes testimony by video teleconference at department of safety administrative hearings and in district court motor vehicle cases.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. In non-firearms bills, I move Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 478. This legislation deals with video conference testimony in motor vehicle cases.

We already allow for receipt of testimony via video conference in arraignments in criminal matters, and this legislation would allow the Department of Motor Vehicles to provide testimony of technical specialists by video.

The Committee, however, was concerned about the potential loss of one's license having a dramatic effect on one's livelihood and life, ability to earn a living. So, we sought to provide a balance with the committee amendment by deleting the option from proceedings at the Superior Court level. In other words, it will only be an option that would apply to those cases heard in the District Court system. The amendment also provides the ability for the petitioner to provide video testimony and for both parties to object.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass on HB 490-FN. This legislation adopts the most recent version of the interstate compact for juveniles.

Model legislation enables the State to provide uniform treatment for juveniles who may have run away or moved. The reciprocity enables family courts to provide consistent and continued treatment for these youngsters as they cross state borders. The Department of Health and Human Services has individuals who take care of the interstate compact.

The Judiciary Committee recommends that this be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass on House Bill 532-FN-L. This legislation repeals a number of archaic statutes that date back to when New Hampshire was primarily agricultural and rural. The outdated statutes places liability for dog bites on the town as opposed to the dogs' owners.

Amendment to HB 544

Amend RSA 159:26, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. To the extent consistent with federal law, the state of New Hampshire shall have authority and jurisdiction over the sale, purchase, ownership, use, possession, transportation, licensing, permitting, taxation, or other matter pertaining to firearms, firearms components, ammunition, [or] firearms supplies, or knives in the state. Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, no ordinance or regulation of a political subdivision may regulate the sale, purchase, ownership, use, possession, transportation, licensing, permitting, taxation, or other matter pertaining to firearms, firearms components, ammunition, or firearms supplies in the state. Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting a political subdivision's right to adopt zoning ordinances for the purpose of regulating firearms or knives businesses in the same manner as other businesses or to take any action allowed under RSA 207:59.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 544. This legislation adds knives to the list of firearms, ammunition, and firearms-related items over which the State has authority. This provides uniform State oversight and precludes local municipalities from adopting ordinances that could single out or discriminate against these weapons.

The committee amendment merely includes the words: "or knives" in a second section of the bill.

Amendment to HB 487-FN

Amend RSA 654:12, V(b) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(b) The secretary of state shall cause a letter of identity verification to be mailed by first class mail to each voter identified at a state general election as a first-time election day registrant in New Hampshire who also did not verify his or her identity with an approved photo identification. The letter shall be mailed within 90 days after the general election. The secretary of state shall mark the envelope with instructions to the United States Post Office not to forward the letter and to provide address correction information. The letter shall notify the person that a person who was unable to present photo identification registered or registered and voted using his or her name and address and instruct the person to return the letter within 45 days with a written confirmation that the person registered and voted or to contact the attorney general immediately if he or she did not register and vote. Any voter under a protective order pursuant to RSA 173-B, and whose name does not appear on the checklist as provided under RSA 654:25, shall not be subject to the provisions of paragraph V.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 487-FN Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill requires a first-time election-day registrant who did not verify his or her identity with an approved photo identification to return written identity verification confirming the individual did indeed register and vote.

Currently, a letter of verification is sent from the Secretary of State's Office. The proposed returned mailing is a logical extension of this process.

The Public and Municipal Affairs Committee recommends House Bill 487-FN be adopted as amended and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. I was the one "no" vote in Committee. And, I did not support HB 487 because I think it adds an unnecessary layer of bureaucracy, and probably ineffective requirements to the voting process for those people we most want to participate, and those are our first-time voters. I believe this is another proposal aimed at addressing what, in New Hampshire, is a nonexistent problem: that of voter fraud. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 521, relative to meeting dates for county conventions. Ought to Pass, Vote 4-0. Senator Forrester for the committee.

SENATOR FORRESTER: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 521 Ought to Pass. RSA 24:9 requires the first meeting of the county convention to be held during the week of the second Wednesday of December on even-numbered years. A conflict could arise when county commissioners mail their budget statement and attempt to schedule the mandated public hearing in accordance with RSA 24:23. Amending current statute enables having a meeting organized and holding the budget hearing on the very same day without being in violation of the statutes.

The Public and Municipal Affairs Committee recommends House Bill 521 be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill modifies the New Hampshire rail transit authority.

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to move House Bill 218 Ought to Pass with Amendment. House Bill 218, as it came to the Senate from the House, called for the abolishment of the New Hampshire Rail Transit Authority. The Committee shares many of the same concerns as the House expressed regarding the Authority's broad bonding/leasing, acquisition, and eminent domain powers.

Supporters of passenger rail service testified in opposition to House Bill 218, stating that without a study, the State would not have the data to ascertain the economic viability of passenger rail. Those who testified in opposition to House Bill 218 did state, however, that curtailment of some of the Authority's powers would be acceptable to them, so long as the Authority can keep in existence with the charge to undertake, in conjunction with the Department of Transportation, a comprehensive passenger rail service study. The Committee listened and took the testimony offered by those opponents under serious advisement. The proposed amendment to House Bill 218 does align with their interests and their desire to have the study done.

The amendment to House Bill 218, crafted after consultation with a number of stakeholders, will curtail the Authority's broad bonding/leasing, acquisition, and eminent domain powers, but it does permit and encourages the Authority to do the comprehensive rails study.

The Transportation Committee asks for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Lambert.)

SENATOR LAMBERT: Mister President, thank you. I'll be brief about this. I just want to deal with the whole rail issue in one fell swoop, if you don't mind. Look, I'm as passionate on this bill as I am on RGGI, as well, but I'm not going to go as long, for obvious reasons. But, look: My District – I've got a railroad track going from one end to the other. The problem is, there's no people on it. The problem is, I've got a whole bunch of people in my District that go to work in Boston. I've got an office in Boston, as well as one in Nashua, so I'm going to consider myself an expert commuter. If you want to get on the train, you've got to drive to Lowell – get on a packed train, and then go to Lowell. The train will be packed from Nashua, I can guarantee you, because guess what? We've got a bus service now, and it's packed. Get on the 6:00 bus like I do, two buses leave, and they're packed full of people. You know what the problem is? You've got to go north to get on the bus to go south to go to Boston. So, what's wrong with that picture? Anyway.

Enough is enough about that. But, I'm telling you, rail – at $4.00 a gallon for gas, there's a time for rail – rail is now. Thank you very much, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Lambert, seconded by Sen. Prescott.

The following Senators voted Yes: Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Houde, Groen, Sanborn, White, Carson, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, Morse, Stiles, Bragdon.

The following Senators voted No: Gallus, Odell, Kelly, Luther, Lambert, Larsen, D'Allesandro, Merrill, Prescott.

Floor Amendment to HB 218

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the New Hampshire rail transit authority.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Hampshire Rail Transit Authority; Authority Established. Amend RSA 238-A:2 to read as follows:

238-A:2 Authority Established. There is hereby established the New Hampshire rail transit authority for the general purpose of ~~[developing and providing]~~ overseeing and facilitating activities related to commuter rail or other similar forms of passenger rail service. The authority shall be an administratively attached agency, pursuant to RSA 21-G10, to the department of transportation. Pursuant to this authority, prior to the expenditure of any state or federal moneys by the state of New Hampshire, or its representatives, on the construction or reconstruction of any passenger railroad infrastructure, or the operation of passenger railroad service, the department of transportation and the New Hampshire rail transit authority shall first receive approval from the general court for both the capital and operating budget appropriations related to passenger rail service. This section shall not apply to federal money received or expended for planning purposes or studies related to passenger rail service.

2 New Hampshire Rail Transit Authority; Duties. Amend RSA 238-A:3 to read as follows:

238-A:3 Duties. The authority and the department of transportation shall allocate their respective responsibilities for passenger rail service in a memorandum of understanding. The authority shall take all actions that are reasonably necessary to establish regularly scheduled commuter rail or other similar forms of passenger rail service between points within the state of New Hampshire and points within and adjacent to the state of New Hampshire. These actions may include, but are not limited to:

I. Studying the feasibility of new or expanded passenger rail service and making recommendations to the general court as appropriate. Studies shall include potential impacts of expanded passenger rail service on freight rail.

II. Subject to the approval of the general court, the acquisition, lease, possession, use, operation, repair, renewal, construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, modernization, rebuilding, relocation, maintenance, and disposition of:

- (a) Railroad lines and related facilities.
- (b) Railroad rolling stock, machinery, and equipment.
- (c) Real and personal property of any kind.

[H] III. Subject to the approval of the general court, the acquisition, lease, license, possession, use, and disposition of any rights in or related to such property, including trackage, operating, maintenance, dispatching, and other contractual rights and services from railroad companies, other transportation service providers, public utilities, private persons, and government agencies including the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority.

3 New Hampshire Rail Transit Authority: Powers. Amend RSA 238 A:8, IX and X to read as follows:

IX. Subject to the approval of the general court, enter into and fulfill any contracts or agreements with public or private transportation operators, government agencies, or other entities for management, operation, or support of public transit services or as the board of directors otherwise deems necessary.

X. Subject to the approval of the general court, lease the passenger rail system or part thereof, or contract for the use of the passenger rail system or any part thereof with any operator as may be required for operation of the passenger rail service.

4 New Hampshire Rail Transit Authority; Funding. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 238-A:9 to read as follows:

238-A:9 Funding. The authority shall seek, apply for, accept for its use, and use funds necessary for the implementation of this chapter. Pursuant to this section, prior to the expenditure of any state or federal moneys by the state of New Hampshire, or its representatives, on the construction or reconstruction of any passenger railroad infrastructure, or the operation of passenger railroad service, the department of transportation and the New Hampshire rail transit authority shall first receive approval from the general court for both the capital and operating budget appropriations related to passenger rail service. This section shall not apply to federal money received or expended for planning purposes or studies related to passenger rail service.

5 Repeal. The following are repealed:

- I. RSA 238-A:8, VII and XII, relative to powers of the authority.
- II. RSA 238-A:10, relative to bonds.
- III. RSA 238-A:13, II, relative to property of the authority.

6 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill modifies the duties of the New Hampshire rail transit authority. The bill requires the approval of the general court for any expenditures for rail transit.

SENATOR LAMBERT: Thank you, Mister President. I do want to say, my name is on it, as well as Senator Luther's and Senator Kelly's. Senator Kelly's worked very hard on this amendment as well, as has Chris Williams from the Chamber, who's really helped us put this together. And, if I could briefly discuss the terms of the amendment:

Essentially, it changes the language relating to the authority and scope of the Rail Authority by deleting the phrase: "develop and promote passenger rail" and replacing it with: "oversee and facilitate activities related to passenger rail". It adds language throughout the entire statute governing the Rail Authority, which explicitly requires the Rail Authority to first secure legislative approval for any activities beyond simply studying passenger rail. It keeps in place the liability cap; it keeps in place the severability clause; it keeps in place the memorandum of understanding – MOU. But, essentially, I would encourage you to vote with me in favor of this amendment, and I'm sure Senator Luther would like to say a few words.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. Yeah, we are "Team Nashua", so we stand together. Many of my years, I have commuted by rail. When I was in college, in the summers, going into Washington, D.C. and Philadelphia. And, anybody who commutes on a regular basis to Boston by car, if you still have hair left, you know how stressful that can be. So, I think that this – and, I agree with my esteemed colleague: With energy prices, the way they're going, we are going to go past $4.00; we're going to be at $5.00; we're going to keep going. I think this is a very serious option. And, the folks in our area, Greater Nashua, they've been asking for this; they've been very clear about this across the board. So, I stand in support of this amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Yes, thank you, Mister President. Yes, and I do support this floor amendment. I believe that this amendment is an appropriate and reasonable compromise to HB 218 and the committee amendment. I stand with my Nashua colleagues – not because I live in Nashua – and this capital corridor would not be going directly through my District. However, I would support any initiatives for the Manchester Airport, as well, and that's not in my District. But, I do recognize that many of the initiatives that we have, including air travel and rail and other transportation, affects all of our communities in the state.

And, I just want to reaffirm the changes in this floor amendment – what this brings, and the changes that it brings to Senator Boutin's amendment. And, that it does add language throughout the entire RSA on the Rail Authority that the Rail would have to first receive approval from the General Court for any actions. And, it also eliminates the eminent domain language and also the bonding authority, and I think that's important.

I do want to say though that without this floor amendment, the Rail Authority would either be repealed – which was the original legislation – or it will become just a very glorified study committee, which I think will result in New Hampshire losing its ability to leverage federal funding for rail transportation as an alternative transportation.

When legislators created the Rail Authority, they sent, originally, a very clear message to Washington that New Hampshire was committed to alternative transportation, such as rail, which would support business; it would support jobs, and would support economic growth. A study committee, as in the previous amendment, the Boutin amendment, just does the opposite.

In 2010, in January of 2010, there was an economic development research group that prepared a report for the Rail Authority. And, its results were that a proposed service for rail would provide four types of economic benefits: time savings, reduced traffic congestion, improved labor market access, and expanded customer markets. Each of these benefits leads, in a different way, to reduce business and household costs and ultimately to expand business sales, income, and jobs along the corridor. Construction of the rail line and operation of the rail service will also provide additional temporary and full-time jobs. Over 90 percent of these new jobs will be filled by New Hampshire residents.

The New Hampshire Department of Transportation has received and holds now $4.1 million of federal funding for a study of modes of transportation – all modes of transportation – along the capital corridor route and access to the viability of each. Without – and remember this – without the New Hampshire Rail Transit Authority, the State of New Hampshire would not have applied for that funding. And, as most of you probably read yesterday in the Nashua Telegraph... I'm going to quote from the Telegraph: "The Obama administration parceled out $2 billion on Monday for high-speed rail projects in the Northeast, Midwest, and California, repurposing funds rejected in February by Florida's new Republican Governor. These projects will put thousands of Americans to work, save hundreds of thousands of hours for American travelers every year, and boost U.S. manufacturing by investing hundreds of millions of dollars in next-generation, American-made locomotive and rail cars." And, that's a quote from the Transportation Secretary.

I also heard – and we heard this in discussion in our committee – we heard that there were concerns in the committee that taxpayers may have to pay future operating costs, and therefore they could not support the current work of the Rail Authority. In my mind, when I think about that, I feel like that would be just really similar to one of my children coming to me and saying they received a scholarship for college, but then they say no to the scholarship because there might be a future fee in college. Hence, by doing that, they're losing their scholarship; he loses his ability to leverage a good income and employment opportunities for the rest of his life.

Without the changes in the floor amendment, New Hampshire will have a nice, documented, completed study. But, without the ongoing work of the Rail Authority, New Hampshire will have lost the opportunity to build rails and the opportunity to support business, new jobs, and economic growth. I ask you to support this floor amendment that allows the work of the New Hampshire Rail Transit Authority to continue and acknowledges the need to balance the relationship of the Rail Transit Authority with the wisdom and the oversight of the General Court. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Rausch.)

SENATOR RAUSCH: Thank you, Mister President. Well, we learn something new every day, because I've been under the assumption, I believe correctly, the power lies in the Department of Transportation; it's always been there. This grant goes to the Department of Transportation; all grants go to Department of Transportation. Nashua could have had rail a long time ago, working with the Department, if there had been a sense of cooperation, especially with the owner of the line, namely PanAm, instead of a conflict in how we're developing that process, and instead of taking their eye off of the ball and decided we needed a corridor up to Concord instead of Nashua to Boston. If we had kept the eye on the ball, maybe we could have accomplished it; I happen to be in support of Nashua to Boston. But, we lost that momentum. That's with the DOT. I don't have a problem with the Rail Authority, but let's not make them something they are not.

The Department of Transportation controls rail in this state; they do now and they will in the future. They work cooperatively through a memorandum with the Rail Authority, but there is nothing that precludes the development of rail in this state through the Department of Transportation. So, let's not make something out of nothing. We have a Department of Transportation; we can do very well if this isn't even in existence. I support them doing the study; I'm happy to allow that to go along: a lot of great volunteers, a lot of hard work. But, let's not say that without them we could not do rail, because that just isn't accurate. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles for a question of Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Senator. The committee amendment allows the study to go forward. Can't we put legislation forward after we know what the study tells us, rather than...

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, and thank you for the question. I do want to clarify, as well, what Senator Rausch – one of the things that he mentioned. Certainly the DOT is doing a study. But, without the Rail Authority having leveraged their communication and management – the communication within the state on rail with the federal government – we would not have received that money – I should say the Department of Transportation would not have received that money to go on forward with the study.

If we do just the study by itself with the Department, and at the same time, the Rail Authority is not doing their work, then we will not be able to leverage whatever the conclusion is – and, I'm hopeful and optimistic that the conclusion would be that rail would be good for the state – we would have lost our momentum and any leveraging with the federal government to receive any further funding.

What the Rail Authority has been able to do is to be able to – and, remember, it was legislators. So, what legislators, I should say, were able to do by legislating the Rail Authority was to send a very strong, clear message to Washington that we are committed to looking at alternative forms of transportation, in particular rail. So, then we become a player for those resources. Without the Rail Authority managing and without that strong voice, whatever the study says, as I said before, will be a very nice document put on a shelf. But, we won't have any leverage to work with the federal government for funding. And, you know that it also came up during the committee about subsidies – receiving federal subsidies. There is not one mode of transportation in our state that is not subsidized by the federal government.

SENATOR STILES: I think you answered my question.

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. Rc19 for a question of Sen. Rausch.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator Rausch, you had spoken about the ability of the DOT to take over this project even if the Rail Transit Authority is discontinued. But, I'm reading from the hearing notes that you invited Mr. Pillsbury from DOT to speak, and he said that the Rail Transit Authority...He stated that the Department of Transportation Rail Bureau is limited in its size, and therefore the Rail Transit Authority offers a benefit to the DOT; he feels that this bill is not good for the development of rail transit.

I live in the capital corridor – it's called the capital corridor. And, ultimately, I think it's wise for us to develop all the forms of our transportation capabilities. Developing rail does not mean that we're not going to have bus and further highway traffic or trucking traffic; we need to have all of those options, particularly when gas is so high.

So, here you're hearing from your own Department of Transportation, and you're hearing that they are not capable...they do not have, I think, the ability that the Rail Transit Authority offers them. So, I'm wondering why you say that we can just leave it to the Department of Transportation.

SENATOR RAUSCH: They can do it, but they have a group of volunteers to assist them, and they have a memorandum. But, they had done rail way before the Transit Authority, and they are certainly capable of continuing to do rail. So, this does not preclude them whatsoever. They applied for the TIGER grant to go from Boston to Montreal through the capital corridor; of course, it wasn't successful. But, they have applied for grants, and I'm pretty sure that Florida got a $2 billion grant – which they turned down – and I don't think they have a rail authority.

So, the money is out there; you don't need a rail authority. Rail will move forward or not based on demographics. There are demographics that support it in areas; that's what this study is going to do. If the study comes out and says we need rail, the Department is fully capable of pursuing that whether they do it with the assistance of a rail authority or not. They have the ability – they've always had the ability. How many miles and miles of rail do we own in this state? Who controls that? Who takes care of that? Department of Transportation.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn for a question of Sen. Lambert.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Senator; I appreciate it. With or without this commission...I'm looking for a re-clarification; I think I've got lost in the mud somewhere. With or without this commission, does Nashua still have the ability, if they so choose, to go down the path of trying to put rail from Nashua down into Lowell and Boston?

SENATOR LAMBERT: Nashua has the ability, but this helps that ability; the rail commission helps the ability.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, sir.

SENATOR LAMBERT: It's a step in the right direction.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. First, I'd just love to acknowledge the emergence of Senator Lambert today; it's been very exciting, after all these months since November, not hearing a peep out of him, that he's taken flight; I'm excited about that. So, that's very exciting.

I also thought it was somewhat humorous that Senator Luther chimed in and said: "You know, we in Nashua stand together," although during that RGGI bill, it sure didn't look it.

But, all kidding aside, this bill was important to the Merrimack-Bedford area, which represents 85 percent of my electorate. And, it was communicated to me that they wanted to see the Rail Authority continue. And, I've got to say that I had very mixed emotions about that, because as a person who believes in limited government and has a Libertarian-type of streak inside me, I did not want to see the Rail Authority to continue. So, I felt like I was betwixt handling some things some of my constituents wanted and my own personal beliefs.

And so, I recommend against this floor amendment, and I applaud the amendment of Senator Dave Boutin, who put a lot of work into it, and really was able to bridge those two things that were tying me up in terms of my constituents that wanted to see the Rail Authority continue their work and finish it to the end, and yet the Libertarian and conservative part of me did not want to see bonding authority and did not want to see eminent domain authority. And so, I applaud Senator Boutin's amendment and would support the bill as we just amended it, and would ask you to reject the Lambert-Luther...Are you on that? Okay. Never was sure about that. Okay. The Kelly-Lambert-Luther amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Rausch for a question of Sen. Lambert.)

SENATOR RAUSCH: Am I not correct that the Department of Transportation has built a park-and-ride – that, coincidentally, happens to be adjacent to the rail system built out of highway funds to help the rail system which, by the way, was extremely controversial, because highway funds are not to be used for rail – but, did we not in fact build that park-and-ride to help Nashua maybe for intermodal transportation, including rail?

SENATOR LAMBERT: We did, and look at the success rate of it; look at what you did. And, that was subsidized, too. And, look what's happening there: The place is a mob scene; the parking lot is packed. People going to and from Boston every hour and a half and the buses are packed. We need more mass transportation.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Rausch for a follow-up question of Sen. Lambert.)

SENATOR RAUSCH: But, it was designed, was it not, to assist Nashua in implementation of rail to Boston? Somebody dropped the ball, but it's not because we need this piece of legislation.

SENATOR LAMBERT: Well, somebody dropped the ball; I didn't drop the ball. Thank you.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Lambert, seconded by Sen. Luther.

The following Senators voted Yes: Houde, Odell, Kelly, Luther, Lambert, Larsen, D'Allesandro, Merrill, Prescott.

Yeas: 9 - Nays: 15

Failed.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President; I'll be very brief. I won't also ask for a reconsideration of my first vote on the committee amendment, I would just like to add that my predecessor in this Senate seat, in this Senate District, is a strong proponent of the Rail Transit Authority, and I would want to be on record as not supporting what is to turn it into a study committee. So, I will be voting against the bill as amended, and just want it to be very clear for that for the record. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass as Amended.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Lambert, seconded by Sen. Barnes.

WAYS AND MEANS

HB 557-FN-A, relative to the standards and burden of proof with respect to the business profits tax deduction for reasonable compensation attributable to owners of partnerships, limited liability companies, and sole proprietorships. Ought to Pass with Amendment, Vote 4-0. Senator Luther for the committee.

Senate Ways and Means

Amendment to HB 557-FN-A

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Reasonable Compensation Deduction. RSA 77-A:4, III is repealed and reenacted as follows:

III.(a) In the case of a proprietorship, partnership, or limited liability company filing a business profits tax return as a proprietorship, partnership, or limited liability company, a deduction equal to a fair and reasonable compensation for the personal services of a natural person who is a proprietor, partner, or member provided to the business organization, provided, however, that the amount of such deduction shall not exceed such business organization's gross business profits. The purpose of this paragraph is to permit a deduction from gross business profits of such a proprietorship, partnership, or limited liability company of all amounts that are fairly attributable to the personal services of the proprietor, partner, or member. Such amounts shall generally include all amounts reported as earned income on federal tax returns, but shall also include amounts attributable to personal services provided in connection with the operation and rental of real property, the sale of property and services, and other amounts due to services rendered.

(b) A taxpayer claiming a deduction under this paragraph shall bear the burden of proving that at least one or more proprietors, partners, or members provided actual services to the business organization at any time during the taxable period. Once a taxpayer has satisfied this burden of proof, the amount claimed as a deduction shall be presumed to be reasonable, unless the commissioner proves by a preponderance of the evidence that the deduction claimed by the taxpayer is grossly excessive.

3 Applicability. This act shall apply with respect to taxable periods ending after January 1, 2013.

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

SENATOR LUTHER: Well, it's my privilege to introduce the last bill. Okay; I'll be quick here. Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 557 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill deals with the burden of proof with respect to the business profits tax deduction for reasonable compensation. Specifically, it shifts the burden of proof from the business owner to the Department of Revenue Administration to prove that someone is unreasonably compensating themselves.

The committee amendment replaces the bill with the Senate's version, Senate Bill 125, which is currently before the House Ways and Means Committee. The committee amendment also changes the effective date to upon passage. However, it leaves the applicability date of January 1, 2013.

The Ways and Means Committee recommends this legislation be adopted with amendment and asks for your support. Thank you.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Committee on Finance (Rule 4-3).

MOTION TO ADJOURN FROM EARLY SESSION

Sen. ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, a moment of personal privilege. For my colleagues in the Senate, as some of you have been reading in the newspaper, we had a tragedy in Manchester over the weekend where an individual took a child, was holed up with that child, and that came to a very bad, bad situation.

But, I want to say two things: First of all, the Manchester police force did an outstanding job. The Chief of Police who was in charge of this situation was very, very, very confident about his decision-making process, decided that that area would be blocked off for 36 hours, and that every, every effort would be made to get that individual to accede to what would have been a reasonable solution.

With the efforts of the State Police, who were brought in because of the length of service, the vigilance around the area was maintained. It showed a tremendous, tremendous cooperative spirit between the State of New Hampshire and the City of Manchester. The individual didn't come out of it surviving; he made a statement that he would not come out of the situation alive, and as a result, action was taken. But, I think it's imperative for us to recognize, as we go through this process – and I'm referring specifically to the budget process – that our State Police are called upon over and over again by municipalities throughout this state, and they deliver. They come with the great credibility of the State Police, with the authority that we have granted them, and obviously with the expertise that's needed in certain situations. They're always there. The State has never, never abated from its position of aiding the municipalities. The State was there for Manchester; I think we've got to think about that.

This is a different world than it was when I moved to Manchester some 50 years ago; it's a different world we're living in. And, I think a credit to us is the law enforcement agencies that came and delivered for us, for all of us. And, it was in my District, on South Main Street, where this happened. And, many of these events are occurring in urban areas – not just in Manchester. But, remember that our guardians of our safety are our police and fire, and we can't ever forget that; they risk their lives. Those individuals – both Manchester police officers and State Police officers – were risking their lives to protect everyone in that surrounding area. We should really think about that and give great credit to them. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. I had the honor of going up to the Tilton Veterans Home with Senator Barnes yesterday, although I think it was a ploy to keep me away from talking to Senators about medical marijuana. But, it was a great honor to go there; they were dedicating the women's wing for the women veterans who served in World War II; there were some from Korea, I'm not sure if Vietnam, as well. So, I just want to take this opportunity – I'm sure Senator Barnes would agree – to thank our women veterans, especially Senator Sharon Carson, and thanks for their service. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I just want to tell the Finance Committee members, if they check their computers, I believe Friday's schedule will be on the computer when you get there; Shannon left to go do that. There's 12 votes on Friday for departments; I believe one of them is Safety. And, I believe the Senate will be proud of what I'm recommending for the Department of Safety, and I'm sure the Committee's going to look to support that. So, I think you can be proud of what we're going to do in Safety. So, thank you.

Without objection President Bragdon moved that all Rule 2-17's shall be entered into the permanent Journal of the Senate.

MOTION TO ADJOURN FROM LATE SESSION

Sen. Bradley moved that the Senate adjourn from the Late Session.

Adopted. Adjournment from the Late Session.

May 18, 2011

The Senate reconvened at 10 a.m., a quorum being present.

The Reverend Kate Atkinson, guest chaplain to the Senate, offered the following meditation and prayer.

Good morning. Well, in John's Gospel, Jesus is quoted as saying: "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly." So, what does it mean to have life more abundantly? Some might say that it means having an abundance of wealth or possessions or even an abundance of power or recognition or status. But, the abundant life that God offers us, whatever our religious background may be, is a life that has nothing to do with our bank account or the contents of our home or the car that we drive or even the position that we hold. Having life more abundantly means experiencing every aspect of our daily journey more fully, more deeply, more gratefully. It means having a sense of calm and an absence of fear and stress – does that sound good? Abundant life means rejoicing in simplicity, and finding beauty and meaning in the ordinary.

And, this is a prayer – some words from a prayer by the Reverend Virginia Going. Let us pray.

Let me live today. Let me be open to the miracle of this day. Let me breathe the best of today. Let me not miss the heart of today. Let me find the gift of today, hidden like a jewel in rubble of care, duty, and detail. Let me pause to hear the steady beat of the heart of God. Let me live this day aware, open, listening, breathing, alive. Amen.

Sen. De Blois led the Pledge of Allegiance.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS AND PRESENTATIONS

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. We are indeed privileged today to have a cadre of students from the Gossler Park Elementary School accompanied by their City Year volunteers, parents, and teachers. Gossler Park! Welcome. Stand up!

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you. I'd like to introduce Beau Patteson, one of our Senate Pages today. It's quite an honor to introduce him. He was in Cub Scouts with my son, Connor, for years and years and years and is still active in Boy Scouts. His father helped manage Fenton Groen's campaign, and his mother was very active in the Lyme disease bill, and Beau has been very active in politics: coming here to testify in support of – not testify, but be here for home school hearings and also for the Lyme disease bills. And, he actually wants to go into politics, which is something, as a kid his age, I wanted nothing to do with. But, I know he'll be very successful if he decides to do that because he is incredibly charming, incredibly well-thought, and it's an honor to have him here. Thanks.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: It's my pleasure to introduce Liam Sigurdsson. Liam is from Rochester, and he is also home-schooled. His extracurricular activities that he enjoys are reading, church youth group, role-playing games, Lego robotics, soccer, and model-building, and his favorite book is Profiles in Courage. His favorite subject is math – a man after my own heart. And, he says: "In the future, I hope to be a mechanical engineer in the automotive industry." So, welcome Liam Sigurdsson as our Page for today.

Without objection, President Bragdon authorized Senator Luther to use electronic devices on the floor of the Senate.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

COMMERCE

HB 133, relative to the minimum wage. Ought to Pass, Vote 4-1. Senator De Blois for the committee.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 133 Ought to Pass. This legislation will delete the state specific minimum wage language that we have in statute. Currently, the New Hampshire minimum wage of $7.25 per hour is the same as the federal minimum wage. House Bill 133 will add New Hampshire to the list of 26 other states that have no state specific minimum wage and follow the federal minimum wage.

Please join the Commerce Committee and vote Ought to Pass on House Bill 133. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to HB 133. I'm still not sure what this bill is for, since, as was just indicated, New Hampshire's minimum wage is the same as the federal minimum wage.

As my colleagues surely know, the federal minimum wage is a floor, below which states may not fall. States are, however, able to raise the minimum wage higher. We did, in fact, raise the minimum wage higher than the federal floor previously, which I believe was the first time in approximately a decade that that had happened. New Hampshire is the only New England state that does not set its minimum wage higher than the federal rate. Why does New Hampshire want to race to this particular bottom by abolishing the state's minimum wage? The only reason that I can think of, or that I heard, is that it's sending a message. And, I think the message is the wrong one to be sending. I do not agree that low wages are part of the New Hampshire advantage; rather, I think the New Hampshire advantage is more about an educated, skilled workforce. To ensure that we continue to attract these workers, we should not be sending the message that New Hampshire's advantage will come at the expense of the working class. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in opposition to the motion. We're the Live Free or Die State;

we've always presented ourselves as being an independent-minded group of people here in this beloved State of New Hampshire. And, we take the lead many times, in many, many, many areas. Why aren't we continuing to maintain that lead and maintain our presence with regard to the minimum wage? We don't want to race to the bottom; we want to race to the top. A decent wage, decent benefits, are what constitutes a good, productive workforce. What's the thing that New Hampshire manifests? A good, productive workforce. We do this over and over again; that's why companies come here. Our unemployment rate is going down. Mister President, I heard you on NPR this morning – it was like a dream come true – a dream come true. Here we have our unemployment going down because we have a good wage and good benefits for all of our employees. That's the greatest thing since sliced bread! Senator Bradley, I know you loved it – I know you loved it; I could feel it. And, with that kind of publicity all over the state, what are we doing this for? We know that in the business arena, women get paid less than men; we want that to change in New Hampshire. We are the people that can make that happen. By decreasing minimum wage, you're not doing that. Mister President, I ask this body to vote "no" on this piece of legislation. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. I would just remind my good friend from Manchester that the greatest thing since sliced bread, the reason that our unemployment rate is dropping to the 4.9 percent level and that we have added new jobs is because of our pro-business outlook in our state: our low tax rate, our efforts in this chamber to decrease the regulatory burden on our state's businesses. I think the reason why we are seeing businesses start the process of expanding is not because we have more regulations, but because we have less regulations, less taxes, and an outlook that is going to maintain that. That's why we have job growth in our state.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Larsen, seconded by Sen. Houde. The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Groen, Sanborn, Odell, White, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, Morse, Prescott, Stiles, Bragdon.

Amendment to HB 248

Amend RSA 359-K:1, I(c) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(c) Identify potential reforms that could be made to regulations cited above, and develop legislation for the 2012 session to accomplish those reforms.

Amend RSA 359-K:1, II(c)(5) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(5) One representative of the Lebanon-area Chamber of Commerce, appointed by that organization.

Amend RSA 359-K:1, VIII as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

VIII. The commission shall, following a public hearing, submit an interim report on or before October 31, 2011, containing its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation, to the governor, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the house and senate clerks, and the state librarian.

IX. The commission shall submit a final report of its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the parties listed in paragraph VIII on or before October 31, 2012.

Amend section 3 of the bill by replacing paragraph I with the following:

I. Section 2 of this act shall take effect October 31, 2012.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 248 Ought to Pass with Amendment. House Bill 248 as amended by the Committee establishes a commission to study business regulations in New Hampshire, the impact they have on potentially inhibiting employment growth and business expansion, and looking at the costs and benefits associated with the current regulatory environment.

SB 248 is materially different than Senate Bill 92, where 248 is specifically looking at the relationship, as my good friend Senator Bradley just mentioned, the relationship specifically between business and government and where we've reestablished the level of regulation that is impeding the further growth and success of our state. This commission will review New Hampshire's business-to-government regulatory environment to identify regulations which are excessive and contrary to economic growth. It will review New Hampshire's business oversight that falls under the umbrella of environmental and construction permitting regulations, and will identify potential reforms that could be made to regulations cited above and develop legislation for the 2011 session to accomplish those reforms.

There may be a floor amendment to potentially modify the makeup of the committee, of which that suggestion was discussed in detail in committee, and voted down. So, please join me and the Commerce Committee and vote Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 248. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

Floor Amendment to HB 248

Amend RSA 359-K:1, II(c) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by inserting after subparagraph (17) the following new subparagraphs:

(18) One representative of the building and construction trades, nominated by the president of the New Hampshire State Building and Construction Trades Council and appointed by the governor.

(19) One representative of labor, nominated by the president of the New Hampshire AFL-CIO and appointed by the governor.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: It would be awfully hard not to support a commission to study business regulations in the State of New Hampshire, and I certainly support it. But, there's a concern that I have, after further inspection, which is that two of the principle areas – in fact, I think there are subcommittees looking at these – are the construction and environmental issues and labor and workforce issues. But, surprisingly, there's not a representative from labor and workforce or construction housing on the commission, which is a fairly large commission of at least 17 enumerated groups. So, what I'm doing is offering an amendment to add two groups, Mister President: one representing the building and construction trades, the other representative of labor. And so, with this, the idea is – and, I might add that three out of the four groups that testified representing workers and labor said they were completely supportive of the idea behind the bill, but just wanted a seat at the table. This gives them a seat at the table, and what I hope will do will say if there's regulations that should be repealed or cut, great, but know that if you do that, X might happen. So, that rather than do that at the end of the process, we can do that throughout the process and at the beginning. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. I wanted everybody to know that I'm a cosponsor with Senator Houde on this amendment. I believe that a wise person would seek as much information from as many people as possible before making big decisions, especially when it comes to our State's responsibilities between government and business. And, I believe that it's very important that there's labor on this committee as well as the building trades, and that is why I helped sponsor this bill and look forward to the support of this Senate. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR BARNES: Senator Houde, I'm looking at 19 on here: representative of labor. Is there some reason that the AFL-CIO was picked out to be the representative? There are other unions in this state, and I just wonder how you came up with that one.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you for the question, Senator Barnes.

SENATOR BARNES: You're welcome. I'd be more than happy to help you out.

SENATOR HOUDE: And, I'm actually delighted to have the opportunity to answer the question because of my omission in recognizing that Senator Prescott was a – his name is also on this amendment.

SENATOR BARNES: Oh, those things happen when you get older; you'll find that out more as you get older.

SENATOR HOUDE: If you'd like to suggest another representative of labor, I'd be more than receptive to that.

SENATOR BARNES: Well, my question was, why was that one picked rather than somebody else?

SENATOR HOUDE: They were at the hearing; that's why they were picked. And, I think they represent labor fairly well.

SENATOR BARNES: Okay. Thank you very much.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I'm wondering why, if you're having the oversight committee review labor and workforce regulations...At any worksite I'm aware of, there's both management and labor; the very people that are most aware of the effect on labor and issues would be those representing this amendment. So, I'm wondering – the building and construction trades and another member from labor. So, I'm wondering, why wouldn't you have them at the table? Why did you oppose this, and what's the logic behind that?

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you very much for the question; I appreciate it. And, the logic is, this is a commission to specifically study regulations between businesses and government. And, if it develops into any legislation, the Committee felt strongly – with some noted exceptions – that there would be an opportunity, if legislation was presented in the next cycle, that at that point, anyone who had an interest in that legislation would be able to show up and testify. So, specifically looking at this commission, it's really about the process of how businesses are navigating state government in order to get their permitting done or follow the regulations. If they find certain areas where people feel the need to have legislation, that would be presented through normal channels, and then everyone would have that opportunity.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a follow-up question of Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR LARSEN: My question, then, is without a seat at the table, I don't know many businesses that can – particularly in building and construction – that can operate without labor and folks who do the work. So, without them at the table, how do you have those voices at an early stage? You're allowing them to come in at the end when it's all been determined. So, their voice is lost. I don't understand why that is something you see as good.

SENATOR SANBORN: Again, thank you so much for the follow-up question; I appreciate it. I would tend to believe that the business owners in this state have a very strong understanding of how their businesses operate and what they need to make it happen, relative to both on a financial basis and on a human resource basis, because ultimately it is the business owners that are actually managing and running their companies and tend to be the highest authority in knowledge of what to do right and what to do wrong in this state.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles for a question of Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR STILES: Isn't it possible that the commission could invite management in to present to them during the process?

SENATOR SANBORN: Senator, that's a great question. And, as we know, whenever we have commissions that we establish here, the commission itself is empowered to bring anyone to the table that it feels is necessary or contributes to the discussion and the investigation that they so deem. So, if this commission truly wanted to bring anyone, including labor, they absolutely have that power to do so.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. Up in the gallery, we have a school group from the Mont Vernon school system, and that is located very much – should be in the President's District, but I didn't draw the lines. But, it's right next to Milford. But, Mont Vernon is also – I believe this school comes from where we do our voting, so that means I've visited your school before and spent many hours out in the cold waving at people. So, I'm glad to introduce the Mont Vernon School fourth-graders here today.

(The Chair recognized Sen. De Blois.)

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the amendment. This study committee was put together for the business community to review how it does business with government. And, I don't see a need to put special interests at the table at this point. What we're trying to do is look to the regulations that business is conducted and their relationship with government in a fresh, new, and unbiased way. Whatever comes out of this commission will be recommendations; there's no final determination that's going to be made at that point; it's suggestions for legislation. If it does get to that point where bills are introduced based on the information and the ideas from the study group, then special interests will have the opportunity to participate, and their comments. Of course, every study committee can bring the special interests in for questions, information, and suggestions from them. But, at this point, I would like to keep the study committee as free as possible from special interests other than the business community coming together to determine what kind of changes they'd like to see in our relationship with the government.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a question of Sen. De Blois.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Senator. Question for you: At the hearing, was not the testimony of the prime sponsor that legislation would be put in as a place mark, and so this legislation wouldn't have recommendations made until much later than that anyway?

SENATOR DE BLOIS: It could be much later than that, yes.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I think that everybody around here is a special interest. So, if you start eliminating special interests, these are going to be one-man or one-woman conferences, and they're going to be talking to themselves, okay? I want to make that perfectly clear: There isn't anybody who comes here who isn't representing a special interest. We have inundated ourselves with commissions. And, the big deal is: "I don't want to serve on that commission; I don't want to serve on that commission; I don't want to serve on that commission." Who's going to serve on that commission, right? We're going to do it invisibly. I think Lamont Cranston, "The Shadow", will be on all of these commissions. I say to all of you, how many commissions do we need? I've been here for almost 40 years. I served on my first commission in 1973; it was a commission to study the Corrections system! Guess what we're studying in 2011? The Corrections system! So, I think we should be very discrete about these commissions. Let's put commissions together that are needed. The business and industry association is not bashful about telling us what they think should be done for business, Senator; my dear friend, Senator, by the way: Franco-American of the year – I want to congratulate Senator De Blois on that. And, he's representing his special interest, and I understand that. But, please, think of what we're here to do. And, believe me when I say commission after commission after commission, study after study after study, leaves little time to do the people's work. Thank you, Mister President.

SENATOR WHITE: So, are you proposing that you just don't want to see this commission in any form, from your comments?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Yes.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I remind the caucus that when we look at who are the strong supporters of this commission, it actually includes the BIA, it actually includes the Chamber of Nashua, it includes the Concord Regional Chamber, it includes the Chamber up in Lebanon. The business community has been very vocal on this piece of legislation. And, again, specifically asked during our testimony if they felt the need to expand the participants sitting on the commission, and they felt it was good as it was, acknowledging the fact that if the commission members needed to bring other outside groups in in its investigation, it would do so. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Yes, thank you, Mister President. I am compelled to stand just in support of this amendment for a couple reasons of the discussion that I've heard here this morning. We talk about business and supporting business. My definition of "business" involves employers and employees. If you do not have an employer, you will not have a business, and if you do not have workers, you will not have a business; you certainly will not have a successful business. And, to have a commission that is going to discuss what regulations are helpful and will provide for successful businesses and you leave out half of the scenario, which are the workers, I do not see how you can come to any fruitful and successful decisions in this commission. It is just mindboggling. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you very much. First, I want to say that I certainly agree with the comments of my good friend and neighbor, Senator D'Allesandro, about the need for discretion in setting up commissions. However, given that we have this commission before us, I have another suggestion about the makeup of that commission.

Having read through the bill, I see that the commission will be broken into two groups, or sub-commissions, and that one of them has the task of looking at environmental and permitting/construction issues, I believe. And, the suggestion that's in the amendment that's come around to you is to add the Commissioner of DES or designee. And, I make this suggestion based largely on my experience as a member of the Energy and Natural Resources Committee, where I believe the experience of our committee and of representatives of business who have come to our committee, particularly on permitting issues, has been that the representation from DES has been extremely helpful and cooperative. And, I believe that incorporating membership from DES would be the most efficient way for this commission to gather information about, in fact, the details or the facts of the statutes and regulations that currently exist. Since this is one of the charges of the commission, to look at those issues, I believe that it makes sense for somebody representing the expertise that we have at DES to be present as part of those discussions.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I just rise in opposition to this amendment. As I opposed the last amendment, I won't reiterate what's pretty much been discussed. But, the same concept applies, that businesspeople know what they need in this commission; businesspeople asked for the makeup they asked for. I get really frustrated when I hear debate about businesses and what businesses need when I know I do meet a payroll every week – for the record, by the way, none of my employees make less than $15 an hour, since we had a debate about minimum wage; that's the lowest paid person in my office. I wish we could get back to the focus of that this was a business bill brought by businesspeople for a business study, and I feel that we're impinging upon their ability to bring forth the idea factory that they envisioned by fettering it with other groups and interests that will have plenty of time to discuss what's proposed, if anything is proposed, during the legislative process, as has been outlined. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I simply rise in support of the amendment. Often-times the most frequent complaint heard from businesses is the processing of permitting, and so for the Department of Environmental Services to hear where those issues are and to be present in the discussion is only adding to their knowledge base and perhaps their work product. So, I would say it's a good idea to include this; I don't believe that a commission with one added member truly will deter the work of the committee, and I oftentimes know that when you have everyone at the table you get more done than if you've left someone off and later on have to bring it back. So, this is a good amendment; I urge you to support it.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much, Mister President. I also rise in support of this amendment. Being part of the regulatory industry – I'm a professional engineer and work with DES quite often; well, I should say, as little as possible – it is quite an ordeal sometimes to get permits accomplished through our state agencies. And, therefore, I believe that this person should be at the table; I think it would be a good aid to our business community. Thank you very much, Mister President. I ask that the full Senate agree with the amendment.

(The Chair recognized Sen. De Blois.)

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the amendment. We've missed some departments. More amendments need to be presented, like OSHA. The Department of Transportation needs to be there. Of course, the environmentalists are suggested to be here, now. I mean, this committee will be so overwhelming with so many groups at the table, there's not going to be anything to get done, because everyone's going to be there protecting their turf. All we're doing is sitting down to look at the regulations of how business relates to government and discuss how we can change those rules. We're not cutting anybody out; nobody is being left out. We're only getting to the table to say: "Gee, I have an idea, because my business is suffering from this regulation. What do you think about changing it?" And, if the committee says: "Yes, that's one of the recommendations that we agree that we should put into legislation," then everybody has an opportunity to address it. But, the larger you make this committee with special interests protecting their turf, the less we're going to get done. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR BARNES: Senator Prescott, you've been up here before, gone through the process, and I have never seen a commission with 30 people on it before; maybe Senator D'Allesandro has. And, my question to you is, Senator Prescott, I'm sure we're going to pass this amendment. And, where do you suggest this commission meet? Do we have a room big enough for them to meet? Because, there might be some more amendments; as my good friend over here from Manchester has stated, he might have one coming in for the Department of Transportation, or the good Senator sitting next to him might want the Department of Transportation involved. So, where do we put these people, Senator Prescott? Do you have a place over there in Exeter we could put them?

SENATOR PRESCOTT: I have 50 seats in a seminar room at my facility, and I would talk to you about whether we would want them to meet there, Senator.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you very much.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Thank you everyone for the great discussion on this. And, I remind the Senators that this is a commission to bring together the business community to ask them what is impeding their ability to be successful in our state, what is holding them back from being able to hire people. And, I remind the Senators, we have tens of thousands of businesses in our state that are single-person businesses. And, I would suggest to you that they are just as successful as those with hundreds of employees.

We need to hear from the business community because the regulations that our government is imposing on them, they do know best if it's hampering their ability to live the American dream. They do know best if it's a regulation that actually is working, or maybe one that might need some sort of a subtle change to it. So, I ask my fellow Senators to please consider the intent of this legislation, which is about making better opportunities for our businesses and for employment opportunities. Thank you very much, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Larsen, seconded by Sen. Houde.

The following Senators voted Yes: Bradley, Houde, Odell, Kelly, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Larsen, Boutin, Barnes, Rausch, D'Allesandro, Merrill, Morse, Prescott, Stiles, Bragdon.

The following Senators voted No: Gallus, Forrester, Forsythe, Groen, Sanborn, White, De Blois.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 589, repealing written majority authorization for an employee organization to be certified as the exclusive representative of public employees in a bargaining unit. Ought to Pass, Vote 4-1. Senator De Blois for the committee.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 589 Ought to Pass. This bill repeals written majority authorization or "card check" for an employee organization to be certified as the exclusive representative of public employees in a bargaining unit. House Bill 589 endorses the right of the public employees to have a secret ballot in a way which is done in all of our elections.

Please join the Commerce Committee and vote Ought to Pass on House Bill 589. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I realize that you're calling on me only because this will be the last time that I stand today and speak against a bill; I appreciate that.

It endorses one election method over another, Mister President. I might suggest that I oppose the repeal of majority authorization because the presence of two really provides freedom of choice for employees in the process used to determine certification of a bargaining agent. Employees may decide between majority authorization or ballot vote. Majority authorization is the only true test, in my opinion, of a majority, and is actually more democratic than the election process can be. For example, with an election, a majority of 50 percent plus one of those voting not of the bargaining unit, while the majority authorization is 50 percent plus one of the bargaining unit. In a hypothetical case, workers petition to form a union in a workplace of 300, and if 240 vote in a ballot election, 121 would be needed to certify a bargaining unit. With a majority authorization, however, 151 would be needed to certify a bargaining unit.

Signed authorization cards are kept... There was concern raised about what happens to the cards. Signed authorization cards are kept by the public employee labor relations board, and they are strictly monitored and kept confidential from the union and the employer, and the employee, frankly, may revoke their signed card to the labor relations board. I might add, for those concerned about finances, that the majority authorization process is less expensive for the State than the ballot process certification.

Finally, New Hampshire has had the majority authorization law since 2007. Since then, there have never been any incidents of abuse or intimidation, and this legislation is a solution to a non-existing problem and takes away an important right of an employee. For those reasons, I'd urge your opposition to this bill. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn for a question of Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Senator Houde, just trying to make the point to see if you would rise again, today. That's not my question. I'm asking the question if you support card check as a means for voting, will you then be putting an amendment in to suggest we should do card check for our state and national elections?

SENATOR HOUDE: I'm just taking one bill at a time. So, this is what I'm doing. Thank you very much for the question.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Larsen, seconded by Sen. Houde.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Groen, Sanborn, Odell, White, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, Morse, Prescott, Stiles, Bragdon.

The following Senators voted No: Houde, Kelly, Larsen, D'Allesandro, Merrill.

HB 647, relative to withholding of wages. Ought to Pass, Vote 5-0. Senator De Blois for the committee.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 647 Ought to Pass. This bill adds a category to the amounts that may be withheld from wages.

House Bill 647 will allow an employer and an employee to come together around a mutual agreement that will allow an employer to withhold wages. This could be done in a situation where an employee would like to purchase specific goods through the employer but would like to pay by having the cost of these goods withheld from their wages.

Please join the unanimous Commerce Committee and vote Ought to Pass on House Bill 647. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

FINANCE

HB 187, relative to the carry forward periods for the business enterprise tax credit against the business profits tax. Ought to Pass, Vote 6-0. Senator Barnes for the committee.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 187 Ought to Pass. This bill will increase the number of years the business enterprise tax – that's the BET – credit can be carried forward and used against the business profits tax – and that's the BPT – currently from five to ten years. This will offer businesses greater flexibility in using the BET credits they earn. In particular, this will be a benefit to startup companies, as it often takes several years before they turn a profit. Extending the carry forward period to ten years will give them the opportunity to use the credits they earn once they become profitable.

On average, approximately 3,600 taxpayers apply the BET credit against their BPT liability that was greater than the BET they were paying for that period, an average of $15,888,900 a year! This amount represents the average amount of carry forward credit used annually over the last five fiscal years. House Bill 187 will improve the overall business climate in New Hampshire.

The Finance Committee unanimously asks you all to vote in favor of this wonderful piece of legislation. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

Sens. Forsythe and White are in favor of the motion of Ought to Pass on HB 187.

The Chair rescinded ordering HB 187 to Third Reading.

Sen. Morse moved to Lay on the Table HB 187. Adopted.

Sen. Sanborn is in opposition to the motion to Lay on the Table HB 187.

HB 461-FN, relative to repealing the authority for retirement system members to purchase service credit for certain out-of-state service. Ought to Pass, Vote 6-0. Senator Morse for the committee.

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I'd just like to note that I wasn't sleeping. Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 461-FN Ought to Pass. The bill repeals the provision which allows group I and II members of the New Hampshire retirement system to purchase credit for out-of-state service. The New Hampshire retirement system does not anticipate incurring any additional administrative costs in implementing this bill. The system also predicts a decrease in state, county, and local expenditures in '14 and '15.

The Finance Committee asks for your support of the motion of Ought to Pass. Thank you.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 557-FN-A, relative to the standards and burden of proof with respect to the business profits tax deduction for reasonable compensation attributable to owners of partnerships, limited liability companies, and sole proprietorships. Ought to Pass, Vote 6-0. Senator Odell for the committee.

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 557 Ought to Pass. This bill deals with the burden of proof with respect to the business profits tax deduction for reasonable compensation. Specifically, it shifts the burden of proof from the business owner to the Department of Revenue Administration to prove that someone is unreasonably compensating themselves. The bill replaces the Senate's version – Senate Bill 125 – and changes the effective date to upon passage. However, it leaves the applicability date of January 1, 2013.

The Finance Committee recommends that this legislation be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass. Adopted.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill reinstates and repeals certain boards, commissions, councils, advisory committees, and task forces and is a request of the committee to study the list of non-regulatory boards, commissions, councils, advisory committees, and task forces established in 2009, 144:87, II.

The bill also repeals the New Hampshire commission on the status of women contingent on its merger with a New Hampshire nonprofit corporation qualified by the Internal Revenue Service as a section 501(c)(3) entity.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 390 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill reinstates and repeals certain boards, commissions, councils, advisory commissions, and task forces. This bill is a request of the committee that studied the list of non-regulatory boards, commissions, councils, advisory committees, and task forces, established in 2009. House Bill 390 includes their recommendations on which entities warrant continuation and repeals those that have completed their duties.

The Committee also amended the bill to reinstate the Mount Washington commission and to give the commission on the status of women a process to facilitate their transition out of state government and into a nonprofit entity, which will combine several women's initiatives under one umbrella organization.

The Committee asks for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted. Sen. Larsen offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment to HB 390

Amend the bill by inserting after section 14 the following and renumbering the original section 15 to read as 16:

15 Mount Washington Commission; Members. Amend RSA 227-B:3, II to read as follows:

II. One member from each of the following groups, or a successor, shall be appointed through the concurrence of their boards of directors: the Mount Washington Auto Road; the Mount Washington Observatory; [Mount Washington TV, Inc.] Citadel Broadcasting Company; and the Mount Washington Cog Railway.

SENATOR LARSEN: The floor amendment simply renames in statute the current occupant of the TV tower on the top of Mount Washington. Under state law currently, it's named as, I think, the Mount Washington TV Corporation, Inc. And, the new occupants and owners of that tower is the Citadel. So, this amendment corrects statute. And, that was the request of the commission and the request of the current owners of the television tower. So, I ask for your agreement to add this floor amendment to our mutually agreed upon committee amendment. Thank you.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Executive Departments and Administration Committee.

A RESOLUTION urging the Congress of the United States to limit appropriations to the United Nations.

Amend the resolution by replacing all after the fourth clause with the following:

Whereas, the United States has been, and remains, the single largest financial contributor to the United Nations system, paying hundreds of millions of dollars each year that could be used to address many of the nation's challenges, including homelessness, education, law enforcement, poverty, a strong military, and the war against terrorism; now therefore be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring:

That the New Hampshire general court, acting on behalf of the citizens of New Hampshire, respectfully requests that the United States Congress limit appropriations to United Nations operations and programs to amounts no greater than those of the second largest financial contributor to the United Nations system; and

That the clerk of the house of representatives transmit duly authenticated copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the Speaker and the Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, to the President Pro Tempore and the Secretary of the United States Senate, to the members of the New Hampshire congressional delegation, and to the news media of New Hampshire.

HCR 12, urging Congress to withdraw the United States from the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) in accordance with Article 2205 of the agreement. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 5-0. Senator Prescott for the committee.

Sen. Prescott moved to Lay on the Table HCR 12. Adopted.

JUDICIARY

HB 307, relative to the authority of the superintendent of a county correctional facility. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 4-0. Senator Groen for the committee.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I move Inexpedient to Legislate on HB 307. This legislation sought to permit county correctional facility superintendents to recommend a prisoner for release in order to obtain employment, do community service, or serve the sentence under home confinement. This release would have been allowed if the superintendent determines that the person is appropriate for such release.

The Committee was concerned that uniform standards were not promulgated for consistent implementation across the state. As such, the Committee found no compelling reasons to make the requested change.

Therefore, the Judiciary Committee recommends the bill not be adopted. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: We didn't have the opportunity to discuss the previous bill, so I just wanted to briefly comment that the HCR bills, I think... I agree that it was good intent, but I don't think that it really is appropriate before this forum because those are federal issues. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Inexpedient to Legislate. Adopted.

PUBLIC AND MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

HB 258, eliminating certain unenforced election laws. Ought to Pass, Vote 5-0. Senator Stiles for the committee.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 258 Ought to Pass. This bill eliminates unenforced provisions in the election law relating to candidate filing fees and corporate campaign contributions.

The housekeeping measure removes from RSA 655 fees that were previously waived by Chapter 135 in 1998. The provision against corporate campaign contributions was found unconstitutional in the Kennedy v. Gardner case in 1999.

The Public and Municipal Affairs Committee recommends House Bill 258 be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

Amendment to HB 316

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to penalties for failure to file a property tax inventory blank or for refusing inspection of property, and relative to the restoration of involuntary merger of lots or parcels.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 3 the following and renumbering the original section 4 to read as 5:

4 New Section; Restoration of Involuntarily Merged Lots. Amend RSA 674 by inserting after section 39-a the following new section:

674:39-aa Restoration of Involuntarily Merged Lots.

I. In this section:

(a) "Involuntary merger" and "involuntarily merged" mean lots merged by municipal action for zoning, assessing, or taxation purposes without the consent of the owner.

(b) "Owner" means the person or entity that holds legal title to the lots in question, even if such person or entity did not hold legal title at the time of the involuntary merger.

(c) "Voluntary merger" and "voluntarily merged" mean a merger under RSA 674:39-a, or any overt action or conduct that indicates an owner regarded said lots as merged such as, but not limited to, abandoning a lot line.

II. Lots or parcels that were involuntarily merged prior to September 18, 2010 by a city, town, county, village district, or any other municipality, shall at the request of the owner, be restored to their pre-merger status and all zoning and tax maps shall be updated to identify the pre-merger boundaries of said lots or parcels as recorded at the appropriate registry of deeds, provided:

(a) The request is submitted to the governing body prior to December 31, 2016.

(b) No owner in the chain of title voluntarily merged his or her lots. If any owner in the chain of title voluntarily merged his or her lots, then all subsequent owners shall be estopped from requesting restoration. The municipality shall have the burden of proof to show that any previous owner voluntarily merged his or her lots.

III. All decisions of the governing body may be appealed in accordance with the provisions of RSA 676.

IV. Any municipality may adopt local ordinances, including ordinances enacted prior to the effective date of this section, to restore previously merged properties that are less restrictive than the provisions in paragraph I and II.

V. The restoration of the lots to their pre-merger status shall not be deemed to cure any non-conformity with existing local land use ordinances.

VI. Municipalities shall post a notice informing residents that any involuntarily merged lots may be restored to premerger status upon the owner's request. Such notice shall be posted in a public place no later than January 1, 2012 and shall remain posted through December 31, 2016. Each municipality shall also publish the same or similar notice in its 2011 through 2015 annual reports.

This bill removes the penalty of loss of appeal for property owners who refuse to grant consent to assessing officials to inspect their property or who fail to file an inventory form.

This bill also permits the owner of involuntarily merged lots or parcels to have the lots restored to their premerger status.

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 316 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill removes the current penalty of loss of appeal for property owners who refuse to grant consent to assessing officials to inspect their property and who fail to file an inventory form.

The amendment, which had an additional hearing, permits the owner of involuntarily merged lots to apply to the local governing body to have the lots restored to their pre-merger status.

The Public and Municipal Affairs Committee recommends HB 316 be adopted as amended and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: The Chair has ruled that the amendment is non-germane to the original bill.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. And, I wanted to thank Senator Barnes for his work on this and his patience with this bill for pulling the amendment forward.

Sen. Forsythe moved that Rule 3-7 be suspended to allow for the consideration of a non-germane amendment (1855s) to HB 316. Adopted by necessary 2/3 vote.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 341, relative to local spending caps. Ought to Pass, Vote 4-1. Senator Barnes for the committee.

Sen. Barnes moved to Lay on the Table HB 341. Adopted.

HB 382, relative to the maintenance of municipal public cemeteries. Re-refer to committee, Vote 5-0. Senator Merrill for the committee.

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 382 be Re-referred to committee. This bill removes the requirement that municipalities maintain sufficient fencing and gates surrounding municipal public cemeteries. The sponsor believes such a decision should be left to the discretion of the city or town and its voters.

The Committee heard testimony that private, commercial, and public development and construction can pose a threat to the integrity of cemeteries, especially older cemeteries. In addition, the language of the bill as passed by the House could potentially conflict with existing court rulings regarding how cemetery funding can be spent.

The Public and Municipal Affairs Committee recommends House Bill 382 be Re-referred to committee for additional review and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Re-refer to committee. Adopted.

This bill modifies the prohibition on town planning board members serving on other boards or commissions.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 409 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill modifies the prohibition on town planning board members serving on other boards and commissions. It allows that two planning board members may serve together on other municipal boards and commissions. However, no more than one member of the planning board shall serve on the conservation commission, a local governing body, or a local land use board as defined in RSA 672:7 to eliminate the potential for any conflict of interest.

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to move House Bill 541 Ought to Pass. This bill clarifies the ability of the owner of real property whose property is placed in a grantor revocable trust to qualify for exemptions or tax credits.

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT proclaiming the third week of October as New Hampshire history week.

Amend the bill by replacing sections 1-2 with the following:

1 Findings. The general court finds that the commemoration of New Hampshire history is a public good that unites New Hampshire citizens in recognition of the important events, people, places, documents, and artifacts that form the distinctive character of the state; and that the preservation of New Hampshire's historical documents, artifacts, and buildings, as well as its historic areas and archaeological sites is necessary for such commemoration; and that New Hampshire historical societies, heritage commissions, preservation societies, museums, and libraries serve the public by collecting, preserving, and interpreting New Hampshire history; and that educating students and the general public in the importance of New Hampshire history and its preservation promotes civic life.

2 New Section; Observances Proclaimed by the Governor; New Hampshire History Week. Amend RSA 4 by inserting after section 13-o the following new section:

4:13-p New Hampshire History Week. AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires the governor to proclaim the third week of October as New Hampshire history week.

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to move House Bill 585 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill seeks an annual proclamation by the Governor calling for the proper observance of the third week of October as New Hampshire history week. Recognizing important events, people, places, documents, and artifacts helps to form and preserve the distinctive history and character of our state.

The Public and Municipal Affairs Committee recommends House Bill 585 be adopted as amended and we ask for your unanimous support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

HB 588, relative to polling hours and location of polling places. Re-refer to committee, Vote 5-0. Senator Forrester for the committee.

SENATOR FORRESTER: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 588 be Re-referred to committee. This bill requires cities and towns to notify the Secretary of State's Office of changes in polling hours and the location of polling places. The Secretary of State shall post the changes on the State website and may order extended hours of polling if the city or town fails to report the changes.

Concerns expressed during the public hearing included voters who may not have access to the State website or emergency situations which may arise. Committee members questioned whether or not voters would have enough time in such instances to learn of the changes.

The Public and Municipal Affairs Committee recommends House Bill 588 be Re-referred to committee for additional review and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Re-refer to committee. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Sen. De Blois.)

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like to introduce the Jewett Street School from Manchester – all of the students. I'd like my colleagues to welcome them.

HB 594, relative to the application of procedures for discharge or suspension from county employment. Ought to Pass, Vote 5-0. Senator Forrester for the committee.

SENATOR FORRESTER: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 594 Ought to Pass. This bill provides that the procedures for discharge or suspension from employment by county government shall not apply to per diem, on-call, seasonal, part-time, or infrequent employees.

The Committee members heard from county government personnel that the current process to suspend or dismiss these types of employees is cumbersome, lengthy, and costly for counties to administer. The bill seeks to remedy the current process.

The Public and Municipal Affairs Committee recommends House Bill 594 be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 603, prohibiting public works projects and natural formations from being named in honor of any living elected, or formerly elected, official. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 5-0. Senator Barnes for the committee.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 603 Inexpedient to Legislate. Number one: The sponsor of this piece of legislation didn't show up. Number two: No one came in in favor of this piece of legislation, which made it kind of easy for the Committee. This bill prohibits public works projects and natural formations under control of the State from being named in honor of any living elected or formerly elected official.

During what testimony there was, committee members were reminded there are four public works projects currently named after four living ex-Governors. And, a little sidebar for you attorneys in the room: I think it's very appropriate for somebody who's still alive to get that honor, because I think once they pass – and if I were a gambler and if gambling was legal in this state – I would bet that those folks that had passed would not ever have the opportunity to smile and say: "Gee, that bridge is named after me." Think of George Washington and the Washington Bridge in New York. Poor George never knew that bridge was named after him.

The Public and Municipal Affairs Committee recommends this bill be Inexpedient to Legislate. We're going to call the undertaker on this one, I hope.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Inexpedient to Legislate. Adopted.

SENATOR BRADLEY: This resolution, which I believe all of us have sponsored or cosponsored, honors the members of our national military and the intelligence community who carried out the mission that led to the demise of Osama bin Laden.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: When I was flying out of Saudi Arabia, I got to stay in the Khobar Towers – that was back in, I think, 1992, '93. And, two weeks after I left there, the Khobar Towers were bombed and many servicemen lost their lives. There was also the USS Cole. So, although 9/11 was an attack on U.S. soil against civilians, I wanted to remind everyone that, for decades, our servicemen and women have been in harm's way by terrorists. And, I do support this resolution fully to honor them and just to remind people of all the service they've done over the decades in fighting against terrorism. Thank you.

It's been introduced and voted on in the House and we ask for the suspension of the rules so that we can introduce this resolution honoring our military and our intelligence community with a rules suspension and pass it as our colleagues on the other side of the wall have.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. A Rule 2-17: personal privilege. I'd like to first recognize and salut Senator De Blois pour le honneur de Franco Américain.

And then I'd like to say in English, we've been speaking of honoring the living in previous bills, and I would like to rise to recognize one of our own, Senator D'Allesandro, who was presented this weekend with the honorable Walter R. Peterson Citizenship Leader Award. This apparently is the first time the award has been given, and it is to honor Walter Peterson's lifelong commitment to public service and higher education in the State of New Hampshire. And, they write that they're pleased to recognize Walter's generous dedication to public service and higher education leadership in the university leader of conscience tradition. And, they recognize the staunch supporter of Franklin Pierce; Governor Peterson continues to serve the University as President Emeritus, and we certainly wish him well. This award was presented at the annual commencement exercise this weekend, and is intended to acknowledge and honor an individual for his or her extraordinary commitment to public service, selfless contributions to higher education, sense of humor, and high moral character: all characteristics of the award's namesake. There was a medallion given to the recipient, and Senator D'Allesandro is certainly deserving of all these honors, and we again congratulate Senator D'Allesandro. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: I'd like to rise – thank you very much, Mister President – on behalf of my son; he's graduating from UNH this Saturday. I know it's a great time of year to go to graduations. He's going to have a civil engineering degree this Saturday – very proud of him. Thank you very much, Mister President. His name is Rowen – R-O-W-E-N – Rowen Prescott. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: I'm going to have to stand for the same. My son, Patrick, is graduating from St. Anselm's on Saturday, as well. He is the youngest of my four, and they are now all college graduates – or will be as of Saturday. And, he is graduating with a degree in business. And, I'm so proud of him, and that he played basketball all his way through college for Saint Anselm's and did very well. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. De Blois.)

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like to make an announcement. The Franco-American Center has established itself on the campus of St. A's, and we're having a reception to publicly announce the affiliation. So, everyone is invited on May 25th, 6:00, for a reception to enjoy our affiliation that we worked so hard – it took us over two years to iron out the details to allow this to happen. So, if all can manage to put it on your agenda, we'd love to see you and participate in this great event. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I just wanted to, on the Senate floor, pay tribute to the State of Utah. As some of you know, I went out there this past week to look at their insurance exchange. I've got to tell you, they were gracious beyond belief; they gave me access to the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, Senators, so forth. Really good Midwestern values of hospitality; went above and beyond. If you saw some of the printed materials I brought back, a lot of work was put in. They hosted 30 states plus Puerto Rico taking a look at their innovative approach to insurance exchanges. And, I'm just really grateful to the way they treated me like a king, really, and I just want to pay tribute to them.

Without objection President Bragdon moved that all Rule 2-17's shall be entered into the permanent Journal of the Senate.

MOTION TO RECESS TO CALL OF THE CHAIR

Sen. Bradley moved that the business of the day being completed, that the Senate recess to the Call of the Chair for the purposes of introducing legislation, referring bills to committee, scheduling hearings, sending and receiving messages, and processing enrolled bill reports and amendments and when we recess, we recess to the Call of the Chair.

Adopted. The Senate is in recess to the Call of the Chair.

MOTION TO ADJOURN FROM LATE SESSION

Sen. Bradley moved that the Senate adjourn from the Late Session.

Adopted. Adjournment from the Late Session.

May 25, 2011

The Senate reconvened at 10 a.m., a quorum being present.

The Reverend Jason Wells, guest chaplain to the Senate, offered the following meditation and prayer.

I've been thinking a lot about the royal wedding – not the William and Kate one, actually, but the Charles and Diana one. Back when they got engaged in the early '80s, they did a press conference; you might have seen it back then. It's on YouTube if you weren't around then; I wasn't even really watching it at the time. It's on YouTube. And, the person interviewing them in the press conference, at the end, he couldn't contain himself – even though he was British – he couldn't contain himself any more, and said: "You two must be in such love with each other!" And, if you remember seeing it, or have heard, Prince Charles' answer was – well, first of all, he was stunned, like the last thing someone would do is ask him about love in a press conference about his wedding. And he said: "I suppose so; whatever 'love' means."

The more I have been here with you, the more I have been in my own church, I have learned that to lead, to govern, to be policymakers, is an expression of love for the people that we lead and govern and do all of the things we do for. It is an expression of our love. And, I say that not just to have something to pass off in a sense of: "Yeah, yeah, I suppose so; whatever 'love' means." But rather, that our expression of love for the people of New Hampshire should be like the love of two spouses; it should be like the love that we have for our very own children. It shouldn't be an "I suppose so; whatever 'love' means." But the Scriptures, in Song of Solomon, describe love. And, it says that love is stronger, even, than death; it is more unyielding than the grave, and there is nothing that we should ever sacrifice that love for. Even if we give up that love for – as it goes on to say – if we give up that love even for the safety and security of our homes, we are most to be pitied. Will we love the people of New Hampshire that we are here to serve? Let us pray.

Heavenly Father, we ask You to fill our hearts with love for our spouses and for our families. Being filled with that love given from You, may we then be filled to do our jobs and to love, not just New Hampshire, but to be filled with Your love for the people of New Hampshire. Amen.

Sen. Rausch led the Pledge of Allegiance.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS AND PRESENTATIONS

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much, Mister President. I am pleased and honored to introduce to the Senate today two Pages from Senate District 14, particularly the Town of Hudson and from Alvirne High School.

First, we have Miss Heather Martin. She's 18; she's in the 12th grade, and her favorite school subject is English and her favorite book is The Great Gatsby. She is a very active young lady in school: She's in the treble choir; she donates blood to the Red Cross; she volunteers at the soup kitchen; and she is also a tutor for grades two through eight. And, she has big plans for the future; she hopes to go to college to learn marketing and business, and she's also working on options to enlist in the United States Air Force.

Mister President, I'm also pleased and proud to introduce Jason Perrin. He's 17; he's in the 12th grade. His favorite school subject is government, so he's going to have a lot of fun watching us today. His favorite book is The Rebel. And, again, here's another high school student who's very involved in school. He is in the Junior ROTC; he is a Cadet Major. He does mixed martial arts, and right now he is working on options for the Marine Corps, and in the future he wants to be a Marine. So, we have a young man who wants to serve our country.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Well, my guest is really out working; he's finishing his job with the State. But, our own Picasso, Tom Kennedy, is retiring after 26 years of service. "Picasso" has painted almost every building in the state, and I'm sure you've seen him down in the Hall of Flags painting; he's painted this particular area of the state. "Picasso" has been with us for 26 years doing nothing but great work. And, he's told me, Mister President, candidly of course, that up on the ceilings of some rooms, he has his initials inscribed. So, if any of you want to look for them, you can. But, Tom Kennedy is retiring after 26 years as our painter, and he got the Golden Paintbrush last week. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. Up in the gallery I have real longtime friends of mine: Bob and Jean Sutton; they're from the Manchester area, and they own a business, and they've just been friends of mine forever. So, I'd like to welcome them.

And then, I also brought my family; they're with me on the Senate floor here. There's Emily, my wife, and Justin, my little guy, and Randy, my large son – stand up there, Randall. And, I'm glad to have them.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: And, we have a special guest this morning, as well, who will be addressing us. And, Senator D'Allesandro – I've asked if he would introduce our guest to us this morning.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. First, Mister President, I'd like to thank you for allowing this to happen. Our special guest this morning is a former Speaker of the House, former President of the Senate, former Under Secretary of Commerce, former Chief of Staff for Governor Walter Peterson, and a man whose presence in these halls has been noted with tremendous accomplishments. It was Stewart Lamprey who devised central data processing: an innovation during his time. It was Stewart Lamprey who wrote a critique of the legislative process and presented it for our affirmation in the 1970s. Stewart's a successful businessman; he's been an icon in the Republican Party. And, I'd say to you on many, many occasions, life is all about relationships; my relationship with Stewart goes back many, many years. I've learned so much from Stewart about how government works and what government's all about. We should be very proud and pleased to have the former Senate President address us: The Honorable Stewart Lamprey of Moultonborough.

STEWART LAMPREY: I kind of feel like I'm in a dream. And, that dream was 47 years ago when I bounded up this same rostrum – same desk, I believe it is. Same desks, same smiling faces – All Senators smile. And, it's been a pleasure to work with many of you. And, I would like to just take a minute to say thank you to your former President of the Senate, Sylvia Larsen. And, I don't see her – Oh yes; there she is today. She was the most gracious person, and she helped me tremendously, because I'm interested in clean water and she made it possible for me to work closely with people like Dick Drisko on milfoil – got the word in. And, it's been wonderful to work with her.

Of course, my friend, Lou D'Allesandro, goes back many, many years, as he said. The first time I ever met him was when he came into the Governor's Office. And, I had come out to the outer office and said to a fellow that he was fired, that he had misused his office and: "We want you out." And, Lou was sitting there, and I went in when I went back and I saw the Governor, I said: "Who's that guy with all the muscles?" "Oh, he's Lou D'Allesandro." And, I said: "Looks like an interesting guy." And so, that's how we met. And then, he gave me the opportunity in '07 to sit with him, and he asked me to look at a certain agency and see what I thought about it. I came back two days later and said I couldn't get my arms around that agency in two years, never mind this session of the Legislature. "Well, why don't you stick around and see what you can do about the process?" So, for ten weeks I had the pleasure of working with the Finance Committee. And, I'll say, again, Sylvia Larsen was a member of that committee, and she was a good member – great member.

And, Bob Odell – where's Bob Odell? Oh, there he is. The Man of Steel. Great questions; wants quick answers.

And, then there's Senator Forrester. Now, the last time that I met you, you offered me your gloves because you thought my hands were cold. I don't think that I need these any longer; so would you like to retrieve your gloves? Thank you.

So, okay. How is it that I'm here today? Because this has been a crusade of mine for more than 40 years – more than when I was Senate President; it goes back to a realization when I was in the last term as Speaker of the House that you weren't getting good information to make great decisions. And, I think that probably exists today, to some extent. And so, as there is a generational difference between you folks and me, I'd like to just briefly bring you through, up to the point of why I became interested in the processes of the Legislature.

I was a product of the Moultonborough schools; I was in the service from 1942 through '45. I ran for the House of Representatives when I was 25 and I stayed there for a long time. And, after my fifth term in the House, sitting on several committees, I became Speaker of the House. And, that was a wonderful position; I love both the House and the Senate, really. There are my two favorite rooms in the world: House and Senate. And, during the last year that I was Speaker – and, I always was close to the budget – I found that we did not get very unbiased opinions in order to make decisions in the Legislature. And then, this may be hard to believe, but there's been no change in the process of how the Legislature functions relative to its budget in the last 80 years; that's almost as old as I am. A long time – long time. And, what brought my attention to the fact that the agencies only give you what you want to know – they very rarely expand on the missions that they're trying to sell to you. And, it was particularly true of the New Hampshire State Hospital, where I heard rumors that things were not always as they should be over there. So, I went into the State Hospital at 10:00 one Sunday night, and I came out at 4:00 in the morning. And, that was the most horrifying, degrading – I can't think of enough adjectives to add to that, but it was horrifying – what I saw and found over there. The stench was unbelievable; the place was dirty. It was awful. Now, I had been told that we had the best state hospital in New England, and knew that I was being taken down the road of misinformation. Well, there was a nurse over there: Mrs. Murphy. And, if I wanted to know something about that agency, I could call Mrs. Murphy, because she would give me the straight answers. And, that's when I knew that we needed more information.

Okay. I became President of the Senate. And, my first session here, I appointed myself as Chairman of the Finance Committee. So, that was a pretty powerful position. And, still, I was not satisfied. And, when people used to – legislators came to me and said: "What do you think we ought to do?" and I would say: "Where are you getting your information?" And, at that time, we got our information through the attorneys in the State of New Hampshire, because they were the people that wrote the bills; we didn't have anybody to write bills. And, Marion Alexander at the Attorney General's Office wrote most of the bills for the agencies.

So, it was this search for how can we improve our information process. So, I made the mistake of leaving my post here as President of the Senate and I went to Washington. And, boy, I'm going to tell you, that was the biggest mistake of my life. I spent more of your money foolishly than you can imagine. And, I had signoff authority for millions of dollars. And, it wasn't well spent, and I knew it. Walter Peterson asked me – I used to gripe at him, with him. And, he said: "How would you like to come up and run my office?" So, I jumped at the chance, even though it was less than half the pay I was getting in Washington.

But, while I was down there, I came upon a fellow from the budget office who monitored our programs. And, I found that he could ask me questions that were very hard to answer; that he was searching for information to report on how good our division was. It wasn't good when I got there and it wasn't good when I left, and I knew that. But, he was a brilliant guy.

So, when I came back here, I asked Governor Peterson if we could start the process of trying to improve upon the budgets through performance budgeting. Now, you look at this problem, that it's an 80-year-old problem. And, the three items that I would like to briefly touch upon is, one: performance budgeting; two: interagency agreements; three: dedicated funds. For the Finance Committee, this is all – this is just an introduction to where I want to go. But, the civic finance committee looks at the dollars very carefully, and LBA does a tremendous amount of work developing the information necessary to respond to the Governor's submission of a budget in February. The Finance Committee does a wonderful job in analyzing and bringing forth a budget based on dollars and cents. Having observed in '07 in both the House and the Senate, I think there was very little understanding of whether or not agencies are performing in an excellent manner or whether they are running their agencies well, or whether, in some cases, they are operating in less than a satisfactory manner. After the House is finished their work on the budget, it comes to the Senate. There is approximately six weeks to determine how $10 billion, 300 million are to be spent. The Senate then hands the responsibility to seven Senators to bring forth their recommendations to the full Senate. The Committee and LBA work together to bring in this product. But, it was all numbers, and all of the hours that I spent listening, I only heard the word "performance" once in the House and twice in the Senate. It means you're twice as good. I never heard in either the House or the Senate the word "accountability". I submit to you that performance and accountability of the agencies are an integral part of your responsibilities. Define what the agencies' desired performance is in measured units so the determination of an agency's performance could be made; desired outcomes today may differ from when the agency was originally created. I would propose to you that while you're studying dedicated funds that you look at performance budgeting at the same time. I would envision five to seven people who'd study the agencies' efficiency. Reward those that do well; accept the fact that an agency is performing in a satisfactory standard, and help those agencies, in your opinion, that are substandard – even in some cases dismantling and starting over again. And, in other cases, have them under the umbrella of a well-known agency, well-run agency. Again, I want to stress performance and accountability. This would also give the Finance Committee an opportunity to examine the agencies from a performance standard before you receive the budget. I would suggest some of these people would act as post-audit examiners. What good does it do to have excellent audits if the contents are never considered by the House or Senate? After all, the State Constitution reads: "The supreme legislative power," – that's a quote – "within this state shall be vested in the Senate and the House of Representatives." You've got the power. You don't use it as much as you should, but you've got it. Today, there's a great influence asserted by special interest groups through their highly organized lobbyists that have an undue effect on legislation. If you have good information, or could have an item researched and studied, I think you'd have less unintended consequences.

Interagency agreements. There's a method of agency management. Really, are these agreements between the agencies, in my opinion, considered when formulating the budget? And yet, they have a profound influence on how programs are administered. As far as I can see, there is no legislative input or oversight. I'm not against interagency agreements, as I think at times they may be necessary. But, boy, do they add to the bureaucracy. In every program there should be a lead agency that has the final say as to what should happen. For instance, I recently read in the newspapers that the drug programs are administered by a number of agencies. And, I'll bet it winds up being a situation where everybody goes their own way and no one coordinates the activities, even when interagency agreements exist. When there is a need for an interagency agreement, the Governor should name who the lead agency shall be, and that agency should make the final determination within a reasonable length of time. I don't know for sure, but I'll bet if you look at the alcohol programs, you would find a similar situation. I would recommend that interagency agreements have a cap of five years, and at the end of the period, if they are not renewed through the legislative process, they go into the sunset. This would allow the Legislature to define the overriding public policy need where agencies become deadlocked over competing public goals.

John Edgar completed a report in 2008 that is the best overview I have ever seen of the entire budget process. Every Senator should take the opportunity to read it. I wanted to learn more about these interagency agreements, and I heard your then Finance Chairman, Senator D'Allesandro, ask a number of the agencies if they would furnish the interagency agreements. All of the agencies said: "Yes, sir; we can do that." But, to my knowledge, I don't know of any agency that sent over a single agreement. It is my observation that in the past there's been a number of bills entered into the legislative process looking at dedicated funds to finance their programs. Personally, I do not favor any dedicated funds. I think that every program should be examined to determine how much money is necessary to finance a specific program. Although I hate to say it, I don't think these funds are examined as thoroughly as those that require general fund revenues. Every agency, every program should have to stand on its own two feet, and its mission justified in relation to the monies available.

From an accounting standpoint, it must be a horrendous task to audit and report dedicated funds. There's a book out about that thick with all the dedicated funds in it. For instance, there has been $100 million spent on easements, while at the same time, there has been only $1 million spent on clean waters for ponds and lakes. You might include an examination of performance budgeting and interagency agreements.

We have a budget of $10 billion, 300 million. I have come to the conclusion that we have come to the end of developing new ways of taxation and cannot find new revenues. There is an exception here, and I purposely left it out, and that is the word "gambling". It has pluses and it has minuses, but it's out there. If you keep increasing taxes on those already on the books, you may be endangering the very agencies you're trying to help. The results of taxing specific areas will, in all probability, decrease rather than increase revenues. The level of business taxes has reached a level, in my opinion, that is high as you can put them while still retaining the New Hampshire advantage.

If you think there is merit in the above, I would suggest a select committee of House and Senate, maybe one for performance budgeting and interagency agreements, and a separate one for dedicated funds. Bring in the Governor, if you can. After the '08 budget was put to bed, I sent the Governor a letter, and in it I wrote: "During our conversation last Friday, you asked me, 'What should I be doing?'" And, I never had a Governor ask me that before. Now I have a suggestion for a course of action relative to performance budgeting and a system of accountability suitable to fit both the Executive and the Legislative branches.

Now, that's it. I would welcome any questions that you might have. I offer you the opportunity to challenge us. But, before we do that, I'm a little bit remiss because I failed to acknowledge the fact that my beautiful wife is sitting in the background: Cynthia. And, there is Lynn Allen on her right; on her left is a doctor, a psychologist, that takes me wherever I want to go, and boy, do I owe you, Dan. And, he's the hero, because he was in service for 24 years; he practiced in the military. It's a wonderful record. And, my daughter was upstairs – oh, there she is. Thank you for coming. She's a 33-year product of working as a sociologist in the State of New Hampshire. So, that's my story. What do you think?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Thank you. I would like to thank President Lamprey; thank you very much. And, we will take your message to heart.

STEWART LAMPREY: Thank you. I love you all.

Without objection, President Bragdon authorized Senator Luther to use electronic devices on the floor of the Senate.

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to move House Bill 25 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill, as amended by the Senate Capital Budget Committee, authorizes $86,726,794 in general bond funding. This figure is roughly $3 million less than the House version and well below the State Treasurer's recommended cap.

The majority of the savings came from a reduction in the amount of bonding authorized for the Department of Corrections. The Commissioner of the Department testified that he felt the reduction was appropriate and adequate. Additional savings were realized by coordinating electronic record projects in different agencies under the purview of the Department of Information Technology. The total bonding authorized in HB 25, including other federal and highway bonding, amounts to $217,926,555.

The Capital Budget Committee unanimously recommends this legislation be adopted and we ask for your support for the bill as amended. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: This bill, the capital budget, is such a significant bill that it deserves additional comments. I want to first applaud the Chair for a very fair and evenhanded process as we went through the capital budget. But, I also want to just highlight some of the features of this budget which I support, but I also want to point out some places where I think we all ought to take notice.

I am concerned that the Department of Corrections is only receiving $500,000 when they indicated that they are in need of a door opening and closing system for the secure housing unit. That worries me, and I know we have issues with our prison and how we are going to proceed in the next biennium, but I believe that the security in the special housing unit is of utmost importance and I am concerned that we are not addressing the critical repairs to those doors.

I also applaud the continuation of our project, actually, and way back years ago, being in a point where we're all observing things we did years ago, the renovations to our community technical education centers, our vocational centers at our high schools: it used to be we only put money into construction, and now, because of work we did years ago in the Senate Education Committee, those renovations are happening in Pinkerton and Laconia, and those, I think, are worthwhile and important investments which I hope will be continued in our state budget.

The renovation of the Tobey Building is an important step for Concord and I applaud that work and observe that it's $22 million in federal funding, which is important money for our city and will hopefully not only upgrade that department but open up opportunities on Concord's Main Street.

I wanted to note that we put significant money into the Suncook River issue and property acquisition to assist Senator Barnes' and my constituents who are threatened by floodwaters repeatedly during this fluvial erosion problem – I think each of us has learned a new word over the years: fluvial.

Other issues are in here that are good, and I simply wanted to say the work that's been done at Hampton Beach is important; the work that has happened for the electronic medical records in the Veterans Home and other issues, and also at the Hampton dredging: those are continuing investments that the State has made in important capital projects within our state, and I wanted to applaud the Capital Budget Committee for its work and ask for your bipartisan support. Thank you.

HCR 22, declaring that although a trademarked name may include a New Hampshire geographic location such as "Mount Washington," no single business, firm, or association shall have sole authority or exclusive use of the name of such geographic location. Ought to Pass, Vote 3-1. Senator Sanborn for the committee.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Concurrent Resolution 22 Ought to Pass. HCR 22 declares that although a trademarked name may include a New Hampshire geographic location such as "Mount Washington," no single business, firm, or association shall have sole authority or exclusive use of the name of such geographic location. And, referencing my great friends Senator Gallus and Senator Bradley, as some of you may know, the Mount Washington Hotel is one of the charms of our state, and recently they applied for a trademark – not just to trademark the name "Mount Washington Hotel", but to trademark the name "Mount Washington". As you can expect, this caused a significant level of concern for many of our small businesses up in the North Country, who some also use the name "Mount Washington" in their name.

Through much discussion with the Committee, it was discussed that although we don't want to discourage business trade marking – had the Mount Washington asked for a trademark specifically for the "Mount Washington Hotel", the members of the Committee felt very strongly that's something they could support. But, in trying to trademark the name just: "Mount Washington", specifically in their industry of hospitality, we felt that as a Legislature we needed to make a statement to protect some of our treasures.

So, the majority of the Committee agreed to support those who wish to make their feelings known, that New Hampshire doesn't believe that our treasured landmarks should be open for trademark by any sole authority for exclusive use. So, please join the Commerce Committee and vote Ought to Pass on HCR 22. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

The bill also allows building officials and code enforcement officers to issue citations for violations of licensing requirements for fuel gas fitters, electricians, and plumbers.

This bill is a request of the department of safety.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 355 Ought to Pass with Amendment. HB 355 as amended allows the State Fire Marshal to delegate authority to local fire officials and code enforcement officials to issue citations for violations of the fire safety code.

The amendment clarifies that such designees may also issue citations for violations of unlicensed persons who perform actions that require a license. This bill was requested by the Department of Safety.

HB 74, relative to the ticketing and season passes at Cannon Mountain. Ought to Pass, Vote 7-0. Senator Barnes for the committee.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 74 Ought to Pass. This bill makes changes to the requirements for the reduced rate season passes at Cannon Mountain aerial tramway and ski area. It simplifies the process and reduces the confusion among products and hence improves customer service. The Cannon Mountain ski management does not expect any change in revenue.

Please support the Finance Committee's unanimous decision of Ought to Pass.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I just wanted to point out that this is one of the many benefits that keeping Cannon as a State-operated park and operation offers to those who are residents of New Hampshire and particularly those who are of a certain age or military status. This is one of the benefits that would not be there if Cannon were leased to a private agency. That's why I support House Bill 74.

Amendment to HB 191

Amend RSA 135-C:13 as inserted by section 4 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

4 Discrimination Prohibited; Eligibility for Services. Amend RSA 135-C:13 to read as follows:

135-C:13 Discrimination Prohibited; Eligibility for Services. Every severely mentally disabled person shall be eligible for admission to the state mental health services system, and no such person shall be denied services because of race, color or religion, sex, or inability to pay. Admission to the state mental health services system and access to treatment and other services within the system shall be contingent upon the availability of appropriations. The community mental health program responsible for providing services shall conduct a clinical assessment of every applicant for services. The community mental health program shall prioritize delivery of services based on the severity of the individual's clinical needs. Emergency services shall be provided as needed. Services shall not be denied to persons who are conditionally discharged from a receiving facility under RSA 135-C:50, or who are ordered to submit to treatment at a community mental health program under RSA 135-C:45. Eligible persons shall include formerly severely mentally disabled persons who without continued services would probably become severely mentally disabled again. Each client has a right to adequate and humane treatment provided in accordance with generally accepted clinical and professional standards. The treatment shall include such psychological, psychiatric, habilitative, rehabilitative, vocational and case management services which are necessary and appropriate to bring about an improvement, when possible, in the client's condition and which are available within the state mental health services system. If necessary services are not available, ~~[such service shall be documented through individual service plans. When services have been documented to be necessary but unavailable,]~~ each agency responsible for provision of such services shall notify the department of the need for them, and the department shall utilize such information for budgetary planning purposes. The treatment may include housing and such other services as the department may elect to provide to severely mentally disabled persons. Eligibility for services in the mental health system for persons under 21 years of age shall be determined after consideration of the services provided under RSA 186-C, RSA 169-B, RSA 169-C, RSA 169-D, or any other law. The commissioner shall adopt rules, pursuant to RSA 541-A, relative to the eligibility of severely mentally disabled persons to receive state services and the service guarantees for clients in the state system. Amend the bill by replacing section 6 with the following:

6 Effective Date.

I. Section 5 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2013.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect July 1, 2011.

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 191 Ought to Pass with Amendment. House Bill 191 implements recommendations of the Office of the Legislative Budget Assistant's 2010 performance audit report of New Hampshire community health system.

Under current law, mental health centers must provide services to the severely mentally disabled whether the individual can afford it or not. The committee amendment to HB 191 will balance the needs of individuals and the resources of the facilities. Service providers will be able to prioritize care based on individual needs determined from clinical assessment. The amendment also ensures emergency services will be provided as needed.

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 337 Ought to Pass with Amendment. As presented to Senate Finance, this legislation reflected the House's position on education funding.

The Senate Committee amended the bill and simply includes the Senate's position already determined by the passage of Senate Bill 183. As you may recall, Senate Bill 183 eliminates donor towns and fiscal disparity aid, which are two of the most divisive elements of school funding formula, while still maintaining all of the components and base funding of adequacy. It does not change the adequacy formula and ensures that our communities will continue to receive the same level of funding they receive today. Additionally, Senate Bill 183 ties our education dollars directly to the children they are meant to support.

Please support the Senate Finance Committee's motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 478-FN-L, relative to testimony by video teleconference. Ought to Pass, Vote 7-0. Senator Odell for the committee.

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 478 Ought to Pass. This bill authorizes testimony by video teleconference at Department of Safety administrative hearings and in district and superior court motor vehicle cases, providing the ability for the petitioner to provide video testimony.

There are costs associated with software licenses and telecommunication services necessary to facilitate the video teleconferencing, but the towns, counties, and state expect to realize savings with the use of this new technology.

HB 508-FN, establishing a performance measurement system for state agencies. Re-refer to committee, Vote 7-0. Senator Forrester for the committee.

SENATOR FORRESTER: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 508-FN to be Re-referred to committee. This bill was introduced to establish a pilot program for the development of a performance measurement system in the Department of Health and Human Services and calls for all agencies to develop such systems by 2013.

The Committee recognizes the need for measuring how effectively the State is servicing the public and believes this approach could be consistent with the goals of improving governmental practices. At this time, however, the Committee would like to have more discussion on this particular model before going forward.

The Finance Committee recommends that House Bill 508-FN be Re-referred and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Re-refer to committee. Adopted.

HB 520-FN, requiring certain bills to have performance standard notes. Re-refer to committee, Vote 7-0. Senator Barnes for the committee.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 520 to be Re-referred. This bill requires the Legislative Budget Assistant to prepare a fiscal note for any bill changing expenditures of the State by more than $1 million. The performance standards note shall include a description of the measurable outcomes, both positive and negative.

Before expending any money on a program, the Committee believes the Legislature should know how success is measured by that program, like any other good business plan. At this time, the Committee would like to look at this bill more in-depth to determine how best to achieve that goal.

The Finance Committee unanimously requests your unanimous support in Re-referring this piece of legislation. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 635-FN-A, requiring the governor to consolidate certain agency functions and making an appropriation therefor. Ought to Pass, Vote 7-0. Senator Morse for the committee.

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 635-FN Ought to Pass. The purpose of this bill is to save a significant amount of money for the State by offering faster and more efficient services for the state's citizens by eliminating the current silo approach which we have to doing business.

The bill directs the Governor to create a plan to consolidate both back-of-the-office and front-of-the-office operations where savings are available. This goes beyond similar measures already present in the Governor's proposed budget. There was a cost estimate in here of savings of $10 million in the first year and $25 million in the second.

The Senate Finance Committee recommends that House Bill 635 Ought to Pass and asks for your support.

This bill requires that the Department of Health and Human Services and Administrative Services issue a certain request for information needed to determine if a single source administrator for the New Hampshire pharmacy benefits management system is feasible. If the RFI suggests that there would be increased efficiency and savings, the Commissioners shall jointly issue a request for proposal within six months of the report required under this section, and the cost of the RFP shall be borne by the affected groups in the portion to their covered lives. JUDICIARY

HB 254, relative to offers of judgments. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 4-0. Senator Houde for the committee.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I move Inexpedient to Legislate on House Bill 254. This bill sought to change the current system for offers of judgments in civil cases in our courts, and while well-intentioned to increase settlements, there was concern over whether they would in fact have that effect in practice.

The procedure would be similar in process to what is referred to as Federal Rule 68. However, the inclusion of attorneys' fees is a fairly substantial departure from current practices of costs-only, and therefore caused concern.

Others testifying at the public hearing felt that the adoption of this procedure would actually add another layer to our already overburdened court system by resulting in subsequent litigation over what the reasonableness of offers was. Related was a concern expressed about the disclosure of settlement offers, which actually might discourage settlements.

Finally, instituting a "loser pays" system would actually increase the burden for cash-strapped litigants, which is not something the Committee felt comfortable doing, and for these reasons we recommend that the legislation not be adopted and ask for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Inexpedient to Legislate. Adopted.

HB 305, relative to the homestead right. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 4-0. Senator Luther for the committee.

Sen. Luther moved to Lay on the Table HB 305. Adopted.

Recess. Out of recess.

HB 329-FN, requiring parental notification before abortions may be performed on unemancipated minors. Ought to Pass, Vote 3-1. Senator Groen for the committee.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass on HB 329. This legislation creates a requirement for parental notification before an abortion can be performed on an unemancipated minor. This bill does not require parental consent, but it does require the inclusion of a parent or guardian in this life-affecting decision.

At its core, this legislation recognizes and protects parental rights and responsibilities and it recognizes and protects the concern, care, and love that parents have for their children. It is entirely reasonable that parents should have knowledge of and input in a decision that affects the life and health of their daughter and the life of their grandchild.

HB 329 does not ban any abortions, nor does it put an unreasonable restriction on the performance or process of an abortion. The legislation provides a carefully crafted judicial bypass in situations when a young woman believes that she cannot safely approach her parents. Currently, 47 states have either parental consent or notification, and this puts us consistently in line with others.

The carefully crafted wording of this legislation is exactly as passed by the House; it has already been tested based on Ayotte v. Planned Parenthood and Supreme Court decisions on parental consent laws of other states. Therefore, I ask you, my colleagues, to support the bill as presented and provide protection to our minors at a time when they very much need their families' support. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro for a question of Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Thank you, Senator. Senator, there's a fiscal note on this bill; it indicates that the cost is indeterminable. Yet, there's been testimony that the cost of this bill is about $250,000 per year. Is there $250,000 in the budget each year to take care of this?

SENATOR GROEN: Senator D'Allesandro, do you have evidence that was presented that indicates that? As we know, there's testimony on both sides of this issue.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Both the sponsors and the opponents agreed that there was a cost associated with it; the $250,000 number is the number that both seemed to come to accord on. So, that's the only validation I have of the amount.

SENATOR GROEN: Senator D'Allesandro, I have not seen validation of that amount; I do not believe that it will cost $250,000, and I do not believe there needs to be $250,000 in the budget to cover a cost that I don't believe will be there.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro for a follow-up question of Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, sir. Has this ever been reviewed by the Finance Committee to indicate whether or not these costs are in accord with the piece of legislation?

SENATOR GROEN: Senator D'Allesandro, it was reviewed by the Finance Committee on the House side and the cost was determined as indeterminable.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to House Bill 329 as approved by the majority of the Judiciary Committee. I'm especially concerned – and we all should be – that this legislation provides no exception to the notification mandate for victims of rape and incest. We have heard on average that 75 percent of young women under the age of 18 having an abortion have already had the type of parental involvement this law seeks to achieve. Government intervention cannot better family relations. But, that leaves 25 percent without parental involvement, and that's the corps of young women who need our further understanding. We know that some portion of this 25 percent do not live with either parent; perhaps they're in foster care or in group homes, where access to parents is not achievable for a good reason. Maybe mother or dad is incarcerated and not capable of supporting their daughter through a decision-making about an unwanted pregnancy. Other young women are victims of neglect, abuse, and even rape or incest by a parent or close relative or family friend. This legislation places an unreasonable burden upon these vulnerable teens. Why would we force them before a judge when their medical provider is trained and better equipped to understand the difficult dynamics that affect their family situations?

In Concord, headline news has been following a story about Tina, a woman who was raped at the age of 15. I have it here; I'm happy to copy it or let you read it. Tina was raped at age 15 by an adult male from her church and became pregnant. She's 29 now, and the trial to punish her perpetrator is underway in Concord and was a front page story in yesterday's Concord Monitor.

In this case, the victim's mother, her pastor, and the wife of the confessed rapist all knew about the rape. But, instead of helping her or following through on the crime, they shamed and humiliated her, requiring her to admit her pregnancy in front of her whole congregation. Then her mother chose to send her away to Colorado to have the baby and put it up for adoption. Yesterday, Tina's mother testified against her during her daughter's rape trial, suggesting that her 15-year-old daughter consented to sex with a 38-year-old man. Are these the type of parental rights that House Bill 329 is seeking to codify? For this young woman, all of the adults in her life, who might have been presumed to be acting in her best interest, were in fact conspiring to cover up the crime. If only Tina had had access to confidential medical care, she might have been able to trust a medical provider with the truth about her circumstances, and her rape might have been reported to authorities while she was still a teen and the evidence more current.

When I think about House Bill 329 as supported by the majority of the Judiciary Committee, we all need to recognize that in some situations, it forces teens to consult with their abusers or with family members that are complicit in the sexual assaults. I urge you to consider the situations of those 25 percent we know are there in our society: 25 percent who need another way to get through one of the most difficult and trying episodes that a young person can face. I ask you to consider the amendments we will be offering further and urge you to think seriously and carefully about the effects of the bill you're passing. Thank you.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you for taking my question. A couple of weeks ago we voted to protect physicians from public sanction who were tackling the challenges of Lyme disease because we wanted to protect the patient-provider relationship.

Like the physicians treating Lyme disease, the medical providers in HB 329 are providing a legal medical procedure which is constitutionally protected. HB 329 seems to include a criminal penalty for a medical provider who doesn't comply with the notification mandate. And, I'm thinking of a situation where if they did send out the notification and this procedure was performed prior to the 48 hours – maybe 45 hours or something like that – what kind of a criminal penalty will the medical providers face if this bill passes?

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you for the question, Senator Stiles. First of all, the penalty provision, as is the judicial bypass provision, is very carefully written to provide protections in cases where a medical provider does due diligence. And, just let me read from the bill itself: "A person shall not be held liable under this section if the person establishes by written evidence that the person relied upon evidence sufficient to convince a careful and prudent person that the representations of the pregnant minor regarding information necessary to comply with this section are bona fide and true." It simply... If a medical provider is seeking to operate within the requirements of this bill, this law, that person would not be criminally liable. If there are penalties, it is a penalty up to the level of misdemeanor. So, I believe that it is very reasonable; without any penalty, medical providers could simply ignore this law completely.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you.

Floor Amendment to HB 329-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT concerning parental notification of the decision of an unmarried minor to seek an abortion.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Legislative Findings.

I. The legislature believes that, in most circumstances, it is beneficial for a minor to involve a parent in her decision to seek an abortion.

II. The legislature also realizes that not all minors have parents that are supportive, that parental notification might endanger the minor, or that the minor may not have contact with her parents.

2 New Subdivision; Parental Notification of the Abortion Decision of a Minor. Amend RSA 132 by inserting after section 31 the following new subdivision:

Parental Notification of the Abortion Decision of a Minor
132:32 Definitions. In this subdivision:

I. "Abortion" means the intentional interruption of a pregnancy by the application of external agents, whether chemical or physical, or the ingestion of chemical agents with an intention other than to produce a live birth or to remove a dead fetus.

II. "Medical emergency" means a condition that endangers a pregnant woman's life, mental status, or impairment of a major bodily function.

132:33 Parental Notice Required. Except as provided in RSA 132:34, a medical provider shall not perform an abortion on an unmarried minor unless the medical provider first gives notice to a parent or guardian of the minor.

132:34 Exceptions.

I. The medical provider may perform the abortion without notice to a parent or guardian if:

(a) The minor does not live with a parent or guardian; and

(b) A reasonable effort to give notice to a parent or guardian is unsuccessful.

II. The medical provider may perform the abortion, without notice to a parent or guardian of a minor if, in the professional judgment of the medical provider:

(a) The minor is experiencing a medical emergency;

(b) Notice to the parent or guardian may lead to physical or emotional abuse of the minor;

(c) The minor is mature and capable of giving informed consent to an abortion; or

(d) Notification would not be in the best interest of the minor.

III. The medical provider shall not be liable for civil damages or subject to a criminal penalty for a decision not to give notice under this section.

132:35 Notice Letter.

I. The medical provider shall include in the medical record the written statement of a parent or guardian that the person has been informed that the minor intends to obtain an abortion.

II. The postal receipt that shows an article of mail was sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, bearing a postmark from the United States Postal Service, to the last known address of a parent or guardian and that is attached to a copy of the notice letter that was sent in that article of mail shall be conclusive evidence of notice or a reasonable effort to give notice.

III. The medical provider shall not provide notice to a parent or guardian if the minor decides not to have the abortion.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2012.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes procedures for parental notification of an unmarried minor seeking an abortion.

SENATOR HOUE: Thank you, Mister President. I am the one of the 3-1 vote on House Bill 329. So, while I do not support 329, if we're going to have a parental notification law in New Hampshire, I believe we need an approach that is tailored to New Hampshire and that keeps our commitment to limited government.

We've just heard by way of question and answers that 75 percent of young women in New Hampshire already involve their parents. I have concerns about the remaining 25 percent and the unfortunate situation described by Senator Larsen. Senator D'Allesandro clearly brought out the financial implications of this bill, and I believe that there's consensus that the potential costs are up to $250,000 if the bypass is exercised by the number of young women under the age of 18 who would be affected by this proposal, which is somewhere between 40 and 50 a year.

I also don't know that the bill is exclusively about parental rights and responsibilities if, as was pointed out by Senator Stiles' question, there's a criminal penalty for providers – as Senator Groen indicated, a misdemeanor – and since we've tried to protect the relationship between healthcare provider and patient in other contexts, this strikes me as a fairly harsh approach and an intrusion into that relationship.

So, for all of these considerations, and with plenty of other state models to look at, I believe there are less costly, less intrusive, and models better suited to New Hampshire, which is the substance of what I'm offering. Amendment 2052 is a provider bypass, no-cost parental notification amendment, which is based on a Maryland law that's been in existence for three decades. It requires, again, parental notification, but keeps the conversation between medical providers, parents, and teens, where I believe it belongs; no state bureaucrats or judges are involved, reduces the annual cost from, again, the $250,000 number to zero; and again, finally borrows a legislative model that has worked in Maryland for three decades.

So, I thank you, Mister President, and ask for your support for this amendment.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White for a question of Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. Thank you, Senator Houde. Medical provider: Would you consider Planned Parenthood under the definition of your amendment to be a medical provider?

SENATOR HOUDE: There are medical providers that work at Planned Parenthood; yes.

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in support of the amendment offered by my colleague, Senator Houde. And, I must say that I've been told many times that when you get up to speak you don't change anybody's mind; minds are pretty much made up. But, I think it's important that when you get up to speak, you present issues, statements, that have relevance toward the discussion. And, that's the key element: relevance toward the discussion.

There are a few of us here that were with me in May of 2003 when we debated this very topic. The Honorable Senator Barnes was here; the Honorable Senator Larsen was here; the Honorable Senator Odell was here. We were here during an extensive debate. For those of you who are familiar, this is like the movie "Groundhog Day", and I woke up with the same scenario, only eight years have passed and some of you appear ready to repeat the mistakes of the past.

On that similar occasion, we were told that parental notification law before the chamber was surely constitutional. In fact, the best lawyers in Washington, D.C. – which is an oxymoron to begin with – working for the cause of outlawing all abortions had assured us that this would not successfully be challenged at the federal court. Both our then-Governor and our then-Senate President concurred with that. And, let me tell you, those special interest lawyers and their New Hampshire supporters caused the State of New Hampshire to travel one expensive journey to the U.S. Supreme Court and back; actually, it went to the lower courts twice and then to the Supreme Court and then back to the lower courts. Our Attorney General spent thousands of hours defending the unconstitutional law – time that might have otherwise been spent protecting victims of consumer fraud – the FRM case – or pursuing other serious and important matters. But instead, those who opposed the law and those who had warned us of its flaws were proven right, and in addition to the immeasurable state resources spent on this crusade, New Hampshire was ordered to pay $300,000 in attorneys' fees because of the unconstitutional nature of the legislation. That's $300,000 that Senator Morse could use in today's battle of the budget; an additional $300,000 would have brought us a long way.

And, here we are again, pursuing similar legislation that comes out of the national playbook, without regard to how New Hampshire lawyers, who know the ins and outs of our state and our courts, view its constitutionality. And, while I'll be honest to say I don't support this mandatory policy in any form, I can't stand by and watch this chamber be led down the same path and to entangle this state in needless litigation for such an extreme and inflexible agenda.

I know my colleagues in the Majority have pledged to support a parental notification law, and I know one is going to pass today. I simply urge those who support such a law to take action to honestly address – honestly address – some of the legal and policy concerns before a state or federal judge does that for us instead. The amendment before this chamber would do just that. I ask you to consider this amendment as we move forward. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR BARNES: You, Sylvia, and I were mentioned, as we were here in 2003.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Yes.

SENATOR BARNES: The three of us and the rest of us also have been here many times where opinions come up from different people on constitutionality of certain issues. Would you agree with that?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Absolutely.

SENATOR BARNES: Would you agree – and, I haven't gone to Elias Sports Center to get my batting average – but you might agree that you and I and Sylvia probably have about a 500 batting average when it comes to the constitutionality that is brought up by either the one side of the party or the other side of the party? Would you believe once in a while both parties turn out to be correct in what they say?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you for the question, Senator Barnes. I think on occasion, we are correct. As to the batting average, I can't compute it.

SENATOR BARNES: Well, I think it's about 500.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a follow-up question of Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR BARNES: The follow-up is, would you believe that as in 2003 and 2011, I'm going to vote the same way that I did in 2003?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you for the comment, Senator Barnes.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: I do believe that you will vote the same way as you voted in 2003.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator D'Allesandro, earlier you spoke to the estimated cost to have a judicial bypass of approximately $250,000, and in further discussion there was reference to that the House looked at these numbers. But, as I look at the docket to House Bill 329 – which is in each of our binders – it does not indicate that this bill went to either House or Senate Finance.

When I look at the floor amendment we're currently looking at, I don't see a fiscal note because it doesn't cost the State for a physician, in the privacy of an office, to make some decisions about the wellbeing of a young person whose life or wellbeing is at risk. Is it true that there was no fiscal review in House Finance? I'm seeing that after the printing of our bill, House Bill 329, in the docket, it does not indicate that neither House Finance nor Senate Finance looked at the costs of this bill. We have a floor amendment, would you agree, that has no cost to the State?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you for the comments, Senator Larsen. That's correct. In looking at the docket, it never visited House Finance; it never visited Senate Finance. And, as a result of that, everything with regard to the cost is really supposition.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott for a question of Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Question of constitutionality: Is this amendment constitutional, Senator?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you for the question, Senator Prescott. First, let me state for the record, I am not a constitutional lawyer; I attest to that fact. I raise my right hand and say: I swear I'm not a constitutional lawyer. What I can say is the amendment has been in place in Maryland for 30 years, and as a result, its constitutionality has been imprimatured in the State of Maryland.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott for a follow-up question of Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: I also realize that there is a parental consent law in Massachusetts. Do you believe the parental consent law in Massachusetts is therefore constitutional?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you again, Senator Prescott, for the question. I'm led to believe that the law in Massachusetts is constitutional. Again, I'm not a constitutional scholar, but I love getting credit as one; it kind of inflates my ego. Thank you very much.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, sir.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I want to point out that, first of all, the story that Senator Larsen told us about Tina – I want to point out that this happened, I believe, at a time when our state did not have a parental notification law. And, I want to also point out that the judicial bypass in this current bill would have completely met the needs of Tina as would have been addressed in that situation.

I also want to point out that under Ayotte v. Planned Parenthood, the then-parental notification law that we had in effect at that time was remanded back to the lower courts for corrections. And, the correction specifically was to provide a judicial bypass that they defined as adequate, and we've provided that judicial bypass. So, where the Legislature, in 2006, instead of choosing to attach the judicial bypass that the Supreme Court recommended, they chose to repeal parental notification; we are reintroducing this bill and recommending it for passage to simply put in place what the Supreme Court recommended in Ayotte v. Planned Parenthood.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much, Mister President. A lot has been made this morning about the cost and whether or not this has gone to Finance. And, I would just like to bring two things to your attention: Only one individual brought up the cost: that this could cost one-quarter of a million dollars. And, when asked by our esteemed Chair where that number came from, this person referred back to the fiscal note. And, again, the fiscal note said: "We can't determine how much it's going to cost." So, I would make the suggestion to all of you that that number is very suspect.

And, to further that, further my opinion, we had additional testimony from a woman who had worked at the Concord Feminist Health Center. And, when she was asked, again, by our esteemed Chair, about the number of young women who this would apply to under the age of 17, she responded that there are extremely few young women under the age of 17 who actually come in for an abortion and who this law would apply to.

So, again, I am speaking to this possibility of a $250,000 charge to the State. I would suggest that that is an extremely high number and it doesn't reflect the numbers that we were given in Committee. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I just rise in opposition to this amendment. It is not workable from my seat because of the fact that the bypass mechanism would involve providers from Planned Parenthood who have a financial stake in the abortion business. And so, I adamantly oppose the amendment.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I also stand in opposition to this amendment. I have counseled individuals who have been involved with medical providers. And, from their perspective, there was really an agenda to really push the abortion option over any other option. And, they were very – some of these individuals were very frustrated with that; they did not feel that they got a balanced approach. One young woman left there frustrated and went to another center – a crisis pregnancy center – and she did go to term; she was 16 years old. And, that turned out for a very positive result. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. White, seconded by Sen. Barnes.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Houde, Odell, Kelly, Larsen, D'Allesandro, Merrill, Stiles.

The following Senators voted No: Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Groen, Sanborn, White, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, Morse, Prescott, Bragdon.

Failed.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a question of Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you very much, Senator, for taking the question. Thank you, Mister President. We've heard some discussion – we heard a lot of discussion at the hearing about how well this legislation was vested legally. In fact, when – you know I brought in these two amendments at the executive session. And, I think, if I recall correctly, at that time the principal concerns that were expressed that I recall were that changing the legislation in any way would upset the careful balance, how it was drawn, and the constitutionality of it. Is that your recollection as well?

SENATOR GROEN: My recollection is that was one of the principal concerns, but certainly not the only principal concern.

SENATOR HOUDE: I agree, speaking to the legal issue.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a follow-up question of Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Now, I'm not a constitutional attorney; I am an attorney. And so, I have some questions with respect to the vetting of this document. Has the Senate Legal Counsel reviewed this document to determine constitutionality?

SENATOR GROEN: I am not aware if he has.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a follow-up question of Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Has the Attorney General for the State of New Hampshire reviewed this statute to determine its constitutionality, since that office would be the one defending a challenge?

SENATOR GROEN: My understanding is that the House sponsor, the prime sponsor of this bill, did consider that and look at that, but I'm not aware of the process that she went through.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a follow-up question of Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. Has the Judicial branch been consulted with respect to whether this judicial bypass procedure would be comprehensive enough to provide for confidentiality of these proceedings for minors seeking the bypass?

SENATOR GROEN: Senator Houde, what was done on this is we followed the guidelines that the Supreme Court gave to what was a constitutional parental notification bill, and they required a certain judicial bypass process. And, by implementing that process and comparing it with states who have constitutional parental notification bills, we're looking primarily at something that is going to meet Supreme Court – U.S. Supreme Court muster. And, so we looked at what they told us in Ayotte v. Planned Parenthood and we looked at what they had said in other states; we crafted a bill to meet the requirements that was similar to that and has met the requirements previously at a Supreme Court level and felt that that was very adequate to make sure that this bill would meet constitutional muster.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you Senator Groen, for taking my question. Who's "we" and "they"? Were there lawyers involved in the process of the vetting of this?

SENATOR GROEN: You were involved in the Judiciary Committee. I'm not aware of other lawyers involved. But, again, we're looking at this as it compares to exact and actual wording that was recommended by the Supreme Court in Ayotte v. Planned Parenthood and other states who have successfully defended their parental notification laws to the U.S. Supreme Court.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Senator.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. I have anguished over this legislation every time it has surfaced since I've been here, because on its face it appears to be all about parental rights, and in reality what it does is it restricts some individuals' rights.

If I thought we could pass legislation that would disseminate perfect parenting skills, I'd do it in a minute – however you would define them. But, I can tell you, that most of you know that I have served in the schools for over 30 years. And, the students that arrive don't all arrive from those types of families; they don't all come in to us looking like they've come from the typical TV Cleaver Family where mom presents a well-balanced, hot, nutritious meal every night and everyone sits down at the table and discusses the activities of the day and they solve all their problems; that's not the reality for a lot of people.

So, therefore, I have to look at the data and see what the data tells me. And, the data tells me that 75 percent of the young women that are seeking this service come with a parent in hand, and in many cases, it's at the request of the parent. So, that leaves us with 25 percent, and half of the 25 percent have an older sister, an aunt, a grandmother, some other family member with them. So, they have that family support. So, we're looking at 12.5 percent of the young women that are seeking this solution to their problem. For whatever reason, they cannot have these communications with their parents. It could be that they were thrown out of the house; it could be a multitude of different reasons. There could even be a father saying to a daughter: "If any young man lays a hand on you, you let me know, and I'll take him out." And, that puts fear into a young woman's head – and, believe it or not, I was a young woman at one of these times.

So, what does that leave for options? A young woman can go to a court – and, she is a young woman if she's capable of reproducing; I don't care what her chronological age is. So, she can seek her resolution through a court. And, I can tell you, at the age of 15 or 16, I would never have gone to seek out a judge to solve my personal problems if I couldn't talk to my parents about things. So, I don't really think that's a real option for these women. They could go online and they could get some pharmaceutical which they think will take care of their issue; perhaps it will. Perhaps it'll make things worse. Or, perhaps they know someone who's had a little bit of medical experience, has seen a procedure done once or twice, thinks they know everything that can be done, says: "I'll help you out; we'll take care of this". They can ruin the reproductive organs of that young woman for a lifetime.

So, when we look at this legislation, while you think it's providing parental rights, 85.5 percent of these young women already have family support; it's the 12.5 percent that I'm here to defend their individual rights to get professional medical solutions. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill for a question of Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you. Thank you, Mister President. Thank you, Senator Groen, for taking my question. My question has to do with the medical emergency provision of HB 329. I know that pregnancy can be quite hazardous for young teens, can carry significant risks, especially for those with diabetes or obesity, and those are conditions that are so prevalent now.

In the case of medical emergency, a physician can grant an exemption from the notice, as I understand it. And, it may be unusual for a teenager to face a medical emergency without a parental involvement, but that is the circumstance that's addressed by the exceptions in HB 329: when a parent cannot be involved, and yet a pregnant teenager faces a dire health situation. So, I'd like to ask you a question about the definition of medical emergency that's in the bill. The bill says that a medical emergency means: "a condition that, on the basis of the physician's good-faith, clinical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman as to necessitate the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death, or for which a delay will create serious risk of substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function." So, I'd like to understand more about the kinds of impairments that would be included – what would qualify as substantial and irreversible. For example, would the loss of a kidney be considered irreversible damage, or would the expectation be that the young woman would lead a long, healthy life with the one kidney? What about the young woman's future fertility? Would that be an issue that would qualify, or the risk of complications in a future pregnancy? I would just like any clarification you can give about what seems to be a somewhat narrow and perhaps unclear definition. Thank you.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Senator Merrill. I would see that not as a narrow definition, but we – In the case of a medical emergency, we place in the hands of the doctor the opportunity to look at that and decide what that medical emergency is. And, for us to be here in the Senate and say which items constitute a medical emergency and how severe they had to be would not be our place as the Senate; that's why we put the provision of a medical emergency in there, so the doctor could make that decision on what they determined was a serious medical emergency.

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much, Mister President. In times past, there have been questions asked of the Attorney General, saying: "Could you weigh in on this issue before the Senate?" And, usually the Attorney General says: "I really don't want to weigh in on this issue, because it may go to the Court, and I may have to defend the Senate or the House or the State of New Hampshire with a new law." So, they usually say: "You know, you can ask me all the questions you want, but we're really not going to be able to give you much answer." Thank you very much, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 329-FN

Amend RSA 132:32, VI as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

VI. "Minor" means any person under the age of 17 years.

Amend RSA 132:32, VIII as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

VIII. "Medical emergency" means a condition that, on the basis of the physician's good-faith clinical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman as to necessitate the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death or for which a delay will create serious risk of substantial impairment of a major bodily function.

Amend RSA 132:34, II(a) and (b) as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(a) Such a pregnant minor may participate in proceedings in the court on her own behalf, and the court may appoint a guardian ad litem for her. Any guardian ad litem appointed under this subdivision shall maintain the confidentiality of the proceedings. The court shall inform the minor that she has the right to an attorney, that an attorney shall be appointed to her at no cost, and that the court shall provide court-appointed counsel unless the minor specifies that she does not want an appointed counsel to represent her interests.

(b) Proceedings under this section shall be held in closed court, in a court with private access where available. Proceedings under this section shall be confidential and shall ensure the anonymity of the minor. All court proceedings under this section shall be sealed. The minor shall have the right to file her petition in the court using a pseudonym or using solely her initials. All documents related to this petition shall be confidential and shall not be available to the public. These proceedings shall be given such precedence over other pending matters so that the court may reach a decision promptly and without delay so as to serve the best interest of the pregnant minor. In no case shall the court fail to rule within 48 hours from the time the petition is filed, except that the 48-hour limitation may be extended at the request of the minor. A judge of the court who conducts proceedings under this section shall make in writing specific factual findings and legal conclusions supporting the decision and shall order a record of the evidence to be maintained including the judge's own findings and conclusions. If the court fails to rule within the 48-hour period and an extension was not requested, then the petition shall be deemed to have been granted, and the notice requirement shall be waived.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. Before doing so, I just wanted to make it very clear, with my question and answer with Senator Groen, that I was not involved in the preparation or vetting of the language of this bill; I just want to be very clear. Being given the opportunity to address what I think are problems with that bill is where I am with the second amendment that I'm going to speak to, Mister President.

The first thing that it does is it lowers the age of required notice to young women under the age of 17. Senator Carson, I believe – who's not there – had mentioned earlier about the bill and the numbers, had said 17 – I think she meant 18 with respect to the 40 to 50; I just thought I'd add that clarification.

What 17 would do is a number of things: eliminate a policy conflict with other New Hampshire statutes that declare a minor mature and legally responsible at the age of 17. When it comes to criminal liability or delinquency, for example, the law treats teens as adults once they are 17; we should do the same when it comes to decisions regarding unintended pregnancy. It would also, since we're reducing the age to 17 from 18, reduce the number who would presumably exercise the judicial bypass option, therefore reducing the cost, which there appears to be a debate about the cost, but clearly there's a cost. That's the first thing that it does.

The second thing that it does is it removes the word "irreversible" from the definition of medical emergency. I think, unlike my colleague, Senator Groen, on the Judiciary Committee, that the medical emergency exception is actually extremely narrow. It seems punitive to me to say that harm to the young woman has to be irreversible and substantial to a major bodily function to be considered a medical emergency.

Another provision is that it provides private access where possible in New Hampshire courts. Again, "where possible"; I say that because if we're concerned about protecting the confidentiality of the young woman seeking the judicial bypass, we know that it's supposed to be in closed court, but they have to get into the court, and if they're in certain courts that are located in city hall or if they're in courts where their folks work at, these are problematic. So, to provide private access to ensure that confidentiality.

Finally, rather than putting the burden on the minor to ask for an attorney, it changes the paradigm in my amendment so that the court shall provide the minor with an attorney unless the minor specifically rejects that counsel.

So, these are, again, to make a bill that I have concerns with about the constitutionality, remove some of the most serious concerns; these seem to me to be very reasonable, commonsense amendments. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I appreciate the good work of Senator Houde, but I still must rise in opposition to this amendment. I feel that the age of 18 is proper; I think a lot of thought was put into the original bill, and for that reason I oppose an amendment to the bill.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: I just want to respond to the irreversible medical emergency versus what would be not an irreversible... My wife, having carried and given birth to our seven children, I know would testify – no, she wouldn't testify were she here, because she would be petrified to do that. But, she would certainly concur that pregnancy itself was a major impairment to bodily functions. And therefore, if you do not state "irreversible", the pregnancy itself would be reason enough for a medical bypass because it certainly did impair bodily functions, and I can testify that from having lived with her.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, just a point of information with regard to this debate: There was a comment made by one of our colleagues – and I'm sure that it wasn't meant the way it sounded – that one would refer someone to have a procedure because it meant financial reward to the individual. I cannot believe that. I cannot believe that. I think it was certainly not the intent to indicate that. That, to me, is placing a situation before us that, from a moral and an ethical standpoint, violates many of the considerations that I bring forward at this time. I just can't believe that. Women are served for health reasons, and I can tell you that 15,000 women are served by Planned Parenthood: they get cancer screenings, they get physical examinations, they get mental and physical treatment that allows their lives to be better. I want the record to clearly indicate that, because I think my colleague didn't mean what he said. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Groen, seconded by Sen. Houde.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Houde, Sanborn, Odell, Kelly, Larsen, D'Allesandro, Merrill, Stiles.

The following Senators voted No: Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Groen, White, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, Morse, Prescott, Bragdon.

Failed.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I just – As we get ready to take, hopefully, the final vote; I don't believe there'll be any more floor amendments offered – just say that fundamentally, this bill is about whether or not we're going to allow a wedge to be driven between the parent-child relationship or not. Parents need to be involved with their children. We've heard examples of bad parenting; that happens. But, we do not craft laws in this chamber to deal with on the edges or on the exceptions; we craft laws to bring things in the direction that we think they ought to go. And, the direction that they ought to go is communication between the parent and the child. We should not intrude upon that relationship; we should encourage that relationship, we should nurture that relationship, particularly when a major life event is about to occur. That's good legislation; that's what I believe we're doing here.

I also have to speak to Senator D'Allesandro's point: I appreciate you trying to give me an out about what I said about Planned Parenthood, but I will stand by my remarks that Planned Parenthood will oftentimes say that they are acting in the best interest of the child; maybe they are, maybe they aren't. But I am making the point that they are a provider of abortions; I believe they're the largest provider of abortions. That fact cannot be escaped. Parents are not in that position; they are certainly more neutral than someone who is the largest provider of that. So, I appreciate you trying to give me an out about that, but I feel fairly strongly that there is somewhat of an inherent conflict with that organization and the advice they dispense, and I'll stand by that comment.

So, I urge my colleagues to pass this bill and not intrude upon the parental relationship with their child during a time of a crisis pregnancy. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I just want to rise and would say that I hear what Senator White has said, but I would argue that this bill does exactly the opposite. I think that what we've discussed here today, it was very clear that parents and their youngsters – whether they're young men, young women – grow up in families, we all hope, and the premise is that we assume are safe and that they can communicate.

What I fear in this legislation is just the opposite; that what we have done is that we have now, looking at making law that dictates communication. Do we really want the Legislature to legislate laws that would dictate how and when families communicate with each other? And, I believe that that's what this bill does. And, do we really want government to intrude into our family privacy by compelling particular communication between parents and young people and their families? We all want secure families, and Senator Stiles has stated that very clearly. But, there are young people who do not have those kinds of families. I am concerned that this legislation does just the opposite of what Senator White has spoken to. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I'll be very brief; I think the points that I wanted to reiterate have been made by Senator Kelly. The only point that I wanted to make is the one that I made consistently in this hearing, which is: the bill is about parental notification; it's not about a particular abortion provider. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I just rise to remind people that there are many, many good functions in government – many good functions. But, government does not belong in the doctor's office with a young woman or an older woman and the decisions they need to make in there. Government should stay out of those relationships, and that's what we've argued all along. I remind you that this is an intrusion into the private decisions of a woman and her doctor.

Recess. Out of recess.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Groen, seconded by Sen. Houde.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Groen, Sanborn, White, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, Morse, Prescott, Bragdon.

Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 510, requiring marital masters to be New Hampshire residents. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 4-0. Senator Houde for the committee.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I move Inexpedient to Legislate on House Bill 510. This bill would have required that marital masters be New Hampshire residents. This is not, however, a requirement for other judges, and it seems inappropriate to direct the statute at one individual category of judicial officer.

Furthermore, with the passage of House Bill 609 and the establishment of the circuit court system, marital master positions will simply no longer exist once their current terms expire.

For these reasons, the Judiciary Committee recommends that this legislation not be adopted and asks for your support on the ITL. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Inexpedient to Legislate. Adopted.

SUSPENSION OF SENATE RULES

Sen. Rausch moved that the Senate Rules be suspended in order to allow HB 540-FN to be reported out of the Transportation Committee, as the Committee acted after the Senate deadline.

The question is on the motion to suspend the rules. Adopted by necessary 2/3 vote.

TRANSPORTATION

HB 540-FN, relative to motor vehicle inspections. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 4-0. Senator Rausch for the committee.

SENATOR RAUSCH: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 540 Inexpedient to Legislate. This bill changes the annual motor vehicle inspection requirement to a biennial requirement. The bill also raises the fee for inspection stickers from $3.25 to $6.50.

The Committee heard from many different stakeholders on the bill. After the testimony, the Committee invested their own time in researching such things as what other states do, what problems or solutions staggering inspections could create, and most importantly, the safety concerns therein.

Ultimately, the testimony from the Department of Safety weighed heaviest on the decision of the Committee. For example, the Department of Safety testified that this bill could jeopardize the safety of New Hampshire citizens, as 80,000 vehicles a year in New Hampshire fail their annual inspection due to faulty breaks. The Committee felt as though the Legislature should not experiment with the safety of New Hampshire citizens and believes these inspections are necessary and should remain as they currently stand in statute.

The Transportation Committee asks for your support for the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the ITL motion on HB 540. I am a member of the Transportation Committee, so I was there for the testimony and there for the hearings and read the studies; however, I was not, unfortunately, present to vote.

Only a minority of states require annual inspections, and there are many states that require no vehicle inspections. Numerous studies have been accomplished on whether or not it improves safety; most are inconclusive, but there was one study that did say that having a safety inspection program improved safety, however they didn't distinguish between an annual and a biennial program. So, there wasn't any evidence that a biennial was worse than an annual inspection. Whereas, there was a number of states that have biennial inspections that, on average, had as good of a safety record as those with annual.

So, I believe that HB 540 would save New Hampshire residents money while having no measurable impact on safety, and for that reason I recommend to vote "No" on the ITL motion. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I also rise in opposition to the committee recommendation of ITL. New Hampshire's one of only three states that requires statewide testing for both safety and emissions on an annual basis. I believe this was a free-market bill: well thought out, well designed by its sponsor, Keith Murphy; I thought he did a very good job with this. He pointed out to me that 30 states do not require safety inspections at all; that's up from 19 in 1976. So, this is not crazy, un-mainstream type of legislation; a majority of states are in this position, including "snow states" like Connecticut, Michigan, Colorado, New Jersey, Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

So, for that reason, I oppose the ITL recommendation of the Committee and would urge my colleagues to reverse that, and we should pass this bill. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I'll be very brief. I stand in support of the ITL on this. I've talked to quite a few service providers in my area, and they have seen a growing and alarming trend, which is, in the downturn of this economy, people have been putting off maintenance well beyond what should have been. And, one of the things that they see is especially tires, brakes, where literally they are on the edge when they come in for the inspection. And, this is the time where they can say to their clients: "You really need to look at this." If you do it every two years, it could be a real challenge. So, I heard many examples of this in my area. So, to me, that's strong enough evidence that we need to keep this on an annual basis. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the ITL, and like my good friend, Senator Jim Forsythe, and good friend, Senator White, I don't want to belabor all the facts that they've provided about why our state should strongly consider a two-year inspection, and point out the fact that, as many of you know, I'm a man that loves antique cars, and I'm very, very fortunate to have some. And, in our state today, right now today, if you have an antique car, it only requires an inspection every two years. Now, please don't get me wrong; I'm not asking any one of you propose legislation, because obviously I'll fight it vehemently from Senator Houde next year. We have shown and proven over and over again, and to the fact that our state allows cars to be inspected every other year. And, 30 states allow it to happen. This is the Live Free or Die State, and I ask all of my colleagues to please support me in reversing the ITL and passing the bill. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I also rise in opposition to the ITL. I just want to bring to the notice of the Senate that in the early 1970s, the federal government required as a condition of receiving highway funds that states set up state inspection programs of motor vehicles. And, they withdrew that in the mid 1970s because there was lack of evidence that the inspection programs improved safety. So, that in itself, I think, is an indication, and they have not reinstated that as a requirement.

The second thing is, I have received a lot of similar testimony to what my colleague, Senator Luther, mentioned, from companies that are doing the inspections. But, on follow-up with them, I asked them if tires are down to 2/32nds, which is the legal minimum for a tire to pass inspection, and if a vehicle puts on the average of 12,000 or 13,000 miles a year, will it make it to the next inspection? And, they said: "No, it won't." And, I said: "If brake pads are down to 1/32nd of an inch, will that brake pad make it to the next inspection?" And, they said: "No, it won't." So then, logically, should we have six-month or three-month inspections?

So, I would submit that because there's no evidence that motor vehicle inspections improve safety, the function of government should be to do what's necessary and not what's unnecessary. And so, I would urge you to vote down ITL on this bill.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Inexpedient to Legislate.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives refuses to concur with the Senate in the adoption of the amendment(s) to the following entitled Bill sent down from Senate:

HB 33, relative to the care of memorials in Franconia Notch state park. and requests a Committee of Conference.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: Do we get to speak on these as we go along?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Yes we can; I'm sorry.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Odell.)

SENATOR BARNES: Didn't we take care of that on Senate Bill 2?

SENATOR ODELL: We may have taken care of it, but we still need to go to a committee of conference just to make sure we get the details.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: The House has requested a committee of conference based on the changes that we made.

SENATOR BARNES: They didn't know that we had it on House Bill 2 though, did they?

SENATOR ODELL: I think that we're talking about two different bills –

SENATOR BARNES: We did that yesterday.

SENATOR ODELL: We're talking... In House Bill 2 will be the lease arrangements – no, they're not in there. So, no. There's some details that they want to work out on the House side. So, we should go to committee of conference.

SENATOR BARNES: For those folks who haven't been here before, the way this thing gets set up in the past, and maybe you can tell us... I guess what I'm trying to find out is how you're going to do this. Are you going to have Senators that are on these committees – is there going to be a notice sent out so they'll know who they are? I mean, everybody's sitting here today; some folks are taking notes, some are saying: "What's going on?" Are they going to be notified?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: The correct Senate staff will notify people of their committee assignments. These are committees that will be led by the House conferees.

SENATOR BARNES: But, the next ones coming up –

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Yup.

SENATOR BARNES: It's going to be us. So, we're all going to get... Those on the committee are going to get a note.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Correct.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Thank you, Senator Barnes. For the ones coming up, where we do set up the committee of conference, the first-named Senator will be in charge of scheduling things with the Senate staff to make sure that happens.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives concurs with the Senate in the passage of the following entitled Bill, with amendment, in the passage of which amendment the House asks the concurrence of the Senate:

SB 90, directing the legislative oversight committee to study the consolidation of school administrative units.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. A question for Senator Stiles.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: She hasn't spoken, but would you like her to explain why she recommends that?

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you. And, in response to your question, if you recall, when House Bill 67 came forward, which was looking at adding something onto the legislative oversight, we took the language from Senator Barnes, which was Senate Bill 90, and we added that, too, so that we had both of the requests of the legislative oversight to be on one bill, which is House Bill 67. What the House did to Senate Bill 90 was they added language about the school withdrawal process, which was something that this Senate had already ITL-ed.

SENATE NONCONCURS WITH HOUSE AMENDMENT

Sen. Stiles moves nonconcurrence. Adopted.

SB 78-FN-A-L, relative to motor vehicle registration fees.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: It was my understanding that this bill came back from the House with what I believe to be an ill-advised gas tax holiday, and that this in fact, by nonconcurring, means that we are retaining the monies necessary to do bridge repair and highway repair for the next season, during which we hope all of our bridges and highways will be in wonderful shape as a result of keeping our gas taxes. Am I correct in my understanding that this in fact means there is –

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: A vote to nonconcur – the bill will fail.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you.

Sen. Odell moves nonconcurrence. Adopted.

HOUSE MESSAGES

Without objection the Clerk was instructed to read the first complete House Message and thereafter only the title of each bill shall be read.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR LARSEN: In the past, we had a system for notifying committee members of bills on which there was a question of concurrence or committee of conference. It enabled the committee members – and, we actually had a system where all members were aware of what amendments we were concurring on. I would request that we continue that, such that everyone in the room is familiar with what we're concurring on. Certainly if there's a committee of conference it will be obvious what we're conferencing on, but when we're concurring it would be of assistance if the staff would prepare a quick summary, or some method by which we would all be notified of the changes that the House made. And, I just ask you to take that under consideration.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Thank you, Senator Larsen. The system we're trying to use here is that by Monday, all the messages to be dealt with on the following Wednesday will be sent to people via email. The information on each bill is easily available on the Internet and can be looked up and can be discussed with committee members. And then, if there are issues that come up, we can deal with them on the floor or in advance if we need to. So, at this point we want to try that.

SENATOR LARSEN: All right. Thank you.

Adopted. Adjournment from the Late Session.

June 1, 2011

The Senate reconvened at 10 a.m., a quorum being present.

The Reverend Jason Wells, guest chaplain to the Senate, offered the following meditation and prayer.

Religious illiteracy is a growing problem for us as Americans. Surveys and studies regularly show that we are unable to name the Ten Commandments, the five Books of the Torah, or the Buddhist Four Noble Truths. Now, as Senators, you represent the people of New Hampshire; you represent their whole selves, not just their economic and medical or educational selves, but you also represent their spiritual and religious and faith selves. We might relegate the naming of the Apostles or Sacraments or something to religious trivia, but a deeper religious literacy urges us to know the spiritual and moral values that our people hold dear. It is not trivial to ask if we know the Catholic teaching on labor unions, or the Jewish teaching on the death penalty, or a Buddhist teaching about our responsibility to others. There are times when we must take these values into account; there are times when we must let them go in light of the First Amendment. Your job is to listen and discern and know which case is which case – I'm glad that's your job and not mine. The discernment and judgment is never an easy choice, but among the options that are laid before us, not knowing and ignorance is never an option. Let us pray.

Heavenly Father, You have created us as spiritual animals: wonderful creatures with bodies, minds, intellects, and souls. Give us a love of the beautiful and wonderful people of this state, that we might listen, hear, discern, and act on the values and beliefs and faiths that You have laid into their hearts.

Amen.

Sen. D'Allesandro led the Pledge of Allegiance.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS AND PRESENTATIONS

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: I will do a preemptive introduction. The two Pages we have today are from the Town of Amherst in District 11, although I'm going to be a little bit confused here because they're both named Olivia. So, instead of asking Olivia to stand, I will ask Olivia Vordenberg to stand. Olivia is in the 9th grade at Souhegan High School; she lives in Amherst. Her favorite subject is English; her favorite books are the Harry Potter series; extracurricular activities include theater, music, writing, American Sign Language. In the future she hopes to become an English teacher, an actress, and travel the world. This year, nearly 10,000

New Hampshire high school students competed in Poetry Out Loud; in March, Olivia won the competition and represented New Hampshire in Washington, D.C. Welcome.

And, our second Page today: Olivia Cunis; I hope I have that name right. Also from Souhegan High School; also a freshman at Souhegan High School in Amherst. Favorite subject is social studies; favorite book: Rules of the Road. Extracurricular activities include pottery lessons once a week for two hours, theater, member of the Souhegan High School concert and marching bands; in the future, she hopes to go to college and become an elementary school teacher. Welcome to the New Hampshire Senate.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. It gives me great pleasure to introduce a former member of this body and current judge in Franklin, which is of course in District 5: The Honorable Judge Gordon. Judge Gordon, welcome.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I have my father-in-law, Claire Stepnitz, up in the gallery, and am glad to have him with me.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Senator White, this is two sessions in a row, I think, where you've had guests; you're cut off.

Without objection, President Bragdon authorized Senator Luther to use electronic devices on the floor of the Senate.

24 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 2011.

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I am pleased to move House Bill 1 Ought to Pass with Amendment. I'd first like to thank the members of the Finance Committee for all their hard work and dedication in crafting this budget. Senator Odell, Senator Bragdon, Senator Barnes, Senator D'Allesandro, and Senator Forrester, thank you very much.

And, now I ask you all to join me in thanking my assistant. The reality is, I come in at 6:30 and try to leave by 6:00 at night, and she comes in at 8:00 and she tries to leave by some hour that I don't know, because she answers the phone every time I'm trying to leave myself a message back here into the night. But, the reality is, the Senate should be very proud of what Shannon's done in this budget process.

It took long days and nights, and I couldn't be more proud of the efforts displayed by my colleagues with creating this budget. We had an extremely difficult task before us, and each member of the Committee rose to meet the challenge.

Over the last four years, state spending increased over 24 percent at a time when the economy was falling and unemployment was rising. We as a committee refocused state government on its priorities while accounting for nearly $400 million in federal funds not available this biennium and over $20 million in new debt service payments resulting from previous budgetary decisions. This budget spends $4,457,000,000 over the biennium: 11 percent less than the previous two-year period. The budget projects modest revenue growth of 1.3 percent and approximately $30 million surplus, which will increase the Rainy Day Fund to almost $42 million.

In crafting this budget, the Senate made difficult decisions necessary to balance our budget while keeping three principles in mind: Live within our means. The Committee produced a truly balanced two-year budget which represents an 11 percent reduction in spending over the previous biennium without new taxes, fees, or bonding of operating expenses.

Help those who need it most. The Committee worked to restore funding to services for the disabled, for mental health services, for children and adult scholarships to low-income students, and to public safety.

Reform the way government does business. The budget puts priority on spending in order to reduce costs and shrink the size of government, including the elimination of over 1,000 state positions while still maintaining the core services. The budget includes reforms of the State's retirement system and education formula and directs the appropriate departments to begin the process of implementing managed Medicare, the privatization of Cannon Mountain, and the privatization of the Department of Corrections.

In the area of health and human services, the budget is passed by the Governor, and the House appropriated no funding for the DD waiting list. The Senate Finance Committee appropriated $2 million in '12 and $4 million in '13. The Senate Finance Committee restored approximately $20 million for the biennium for the developmentally disabled services. In mental health, the Senate Finance Committee budget restores $10.5 million in '12 and $7.6 million in '13 for services for children and adults that implement reforms similar to the managed Medicare reforms, mental health services are reformed by making changes from a fee-for-service model to a capitated per-member per-month model and coordinating mental health and substance abuse through a mental health home model.

CHINS: The Governor's budget eliminated the truant population from being eligible for this program and reduced community-based services, both of which are the least intensive. The House eliminated the program, saving over $7 million in year '12 and '13. The Senate Finance Committee restored $1.9 million in '12 and $2.3 million in '13, which will allow the 50 most intensive, expensive cases to be served. The appropriation will allow the receipt of federal funds.

Healthy Kids: The Governor's budget eliminated the Healthy Kids board and moved services provided by Healthy Kids into the Department of Health and Human Services. Instead, the House required Healthy Kids program to be rolled into a managed Medicare reform, which is anticipated to start in FY '13. I believe in the budget we moved that up to FY '12. The House appropriated funding for the transition until reform begins. The Senate maintains the House position, but requires reporting for Healthy Kids. We want progress to be reported to the Fiscal Committee.

The State's share of the retirement subsidy: The Governor appropriated no funding in '12 and '13 for the State's subsidy to cities and towns for participating in the New Hampshire retirement system, resulting in increased costs to the taxpayers. The House and Senate share the goal of comprehensive retirement reform, as you'll see later in Senate Bill 3. In the first year, overall rates paid to the cities and towns borne by the taxpayers will be roughly the same after reforms, and zero state subsidy, as would have been the fact in the Governor's budget, should be covered. With reforms in SB 3, in future years, local taxpayers will avoid massive tax increases caused by the current broken retirement system.

Retiree healthcare: The Governor increased premium contributions for retirees and their spouses from $65 to $100 per month. The House budget capped General Fund payments for the purposes of retiree healthcare at $27 million in each year of the budget. They took a savings of $7.9 million in '12 and $11 million in '13. Instead of capping the amount of General Funds available for retiree healthcare, the Senate Finance Committee budgeted the increased premium contributions; they put in a co-pay and went from $65 to $115 per month with additional changes to the benefit plan and co-pays, generating approximately $10.3 million in savings over the biennium.

Senate Finance instructed the Commissioner of Admin. Services to work with Anthem and Compass to offer incentive to retirees for the use of low-cost services and expands other utilization incentives to encourage the use of these low-cost services.

Uncompensated care: The Governor took $20 million in each year from the budget from his account line and used it towards provider payments. The House followed suit by taking an additional $55 million in '12 and $60 million in '13. The Senate was unable to fill the $115 million shortfall for the purpose of funding uncompensated care to hospitals. However, the Commission of Health and Human Services is required to present a plan detailing the disbursement of uncompensated care payments and is authorized to make payments to hospitals in '13 based on the amount of excess budgeted funds available in presenting to Fiscal. Approximately $35 million was set aside for the purpose of funding uncompensated care in 2013.

UNIQUE: The Governor and the House applied UNIQUE funds to the university system and to the community college system operating expenses. The Senate restored $400,000 of UNIQUE money for private college scholarships to low-income students.

This budget is just the first step. It's balanced; it reflects the Senate's commitment to living within our means, helping those in need, and reforming our state government. Reforming state government is a long-term process, not a short sprint to meet the June 30th deadline. We will continue to make reforms over the summer, into the fall, and throughout the next legislative session. We will continue to hold the line on spending and look for additional savings.

I'd like to take a minute to thank all of the staff who were involved in the years of this budget process, especially the staff of LBA. They have gone above and beyond to serve the House and the Senate during this process. We wouldn't have been able to make this happen without their work. Many of them worked all weekend long, into the night, and I want you to know that we all truly appreciate what you do for us.

The support system we worked with, such as Kristy and Jay, who worked with the Senate Finance Committee, their dedication can never be understated. And, to all of the other staff members that helped the Senate Finance Committee, we owe you a debt of gratitude.

The Finance Committee recommends this bill Ought to Pass as Amended, and we ask for your full support. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: It is my pleasure to make a personal "Thank you for coming to the gallery" of the Kensington Elementary School. I also know that we have the 4th graders here from that school, as well as Mrs. Knightly, a teacher: hello; Mrs. Haug, teacher: hello. And, also, a very special person, a selectwoman of Kensington, Stephanie Johnstone. Thank you all for coming; I hope you enjoy it.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Thank you, Senator Prescott. I would also point out that during the discussion on HB 1, there was a group from Senator Kelly's district that passed through the gallery but are no longer there. Let's see; where were they from?

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. Yes, I'm sorry that they had to leave. But, they are from the Mountain Shadow School in Dublin, and they are outstanding students, as are many, many of our students here in New Hampshire. But, what is really, I think, particularly impressive about these students is they get to wake up every single day and they get to see Mount Monadnock.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

Floor Amendment to HB 1-A

Amend the bill by inserting after section 23 the following and renumbering the original section 24 to read as 25:

24 Appropriations and Charges. In addition to any other sums appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 2013, the following appropriations and charges are hereby authorized for the following departments and agencies. Said appropriations shall be a charge against the funds as specified in the individual appropriation:

Accounting Unit	Department/Agency	Fund Source	FY 2012	FY 2013
05-95-95-9500-7136	Uncompensated Care Fund	General Funds	$16,000,000	$16,000,000
Total appropriations and charges as included
General fund			$32,000,000

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. While the amendment is being passed out – I want everybody to have it. I want to make some introductory remarks before I address my amendment. First, to tell all of the members of the Senate how diligent their Finance Committee's Chair was in terms of putting the budget together. I have great respect for that process, and want to say, without hesitation, that the job that he did certainly has to be recognized for its effectiveness and certainly hard work. I want to make sure that everyone recognizes that. And, to truly say to those who supported us, particularly the Legislative Budget Office, no one could have been more responsive to our needs and more willing to serve us any time when we had expressed concerns about the process, and I think that's extremely, extremely important. They're down people, and yet they answered every call, and I certainly appreciate that, having spent time working with them over a number of years.

So, with that aside, Mister President, I'd like to make one comment, and that is: The Senate always does better with the budget, and I think this is an example of us doing better. But, my comments are: We can do better, and we must do better to protect the citizens of the State of New Hampshire. I offer you Floor Amendment 2241s by saying this:

Uncompensated care – the DISH money – is very, very important to all of the hospitals in the State of New Hampshire. It's important because they serve those who have no other place to go, and the services rendered, obviously, have to be paid for. The methodology that's been in place has been the uncompensated care fund, created by the tax – the DISH money: the disproportionate share money. That money, for years, for the last 20 years, has been distributed back to the hospitals and the State has kept the match.

Let me read from a letter that I received from the New Hampshire Hospital Association:

“As you well know, this budget, if passed, will wreak havoc on the health-care infrastructure and safety net in New Hampshire. It will increase the cost of health insurance for businesses and individuals, threaten the availability of essential healthcare services that our communities depend upon, and result in the loss of jobs and economic stability.”

Let's focus on two things: the loss of jobs and economic stability, both of which are primary concerns of everybody in this room: the loss of jobs and economic stability. We are living in one of the most serious economic downturns in the history of our country, and anything that loses jobs and does something to affect the economic stability of any system has to be considered and considered seriously. The action that this amendment provides will restore to these hospitals a portion of the money that they need to pay for uncompensated care. We are taking money and putting into the revenue stabilization account. We don't need money in the revenue stabilization account; we need money to take care of the people of the State of New Hampshire! That's why we have a revenue stabilization account! When the need arises, you use those funds to take care of people! People! We all represent people. We know, as Senator Barnes points out time after time after time, we don't have a full-care veterans' hospital in New Hampshire; we're the only state in the United States without one. Where do our veterans go? They go to the local hospitals; they go to the VA center to get what they can in terms of service. What can't be given there is relegated to the local hospitals, or they have to travel out-of-state. Where do our indigent people go? They go to the emergency room of our local hospitals. How many of you have been to the emergency room in the last month? I was; I had to take my wife to the emergency hospital. I had to wait like everybody else – I don't get any special treatment – all day, because there were so many people there being serviced. I have Medicare. I have the ability to pay. There were others there without the ability to pay. They were not going to be denied service. Who pays? And who will pay? Those who have insurance will see their premiums escalate. They will pay. What I'm asking this Senate to do is to take some of the monies that we have built into the revenue stabilization account and restore them to the uncompensated care for the hospitals that are receiving nothing. We've got to keep these services in place; people need these services. Once we have a system that takes care of everyone, the need for uncompensated care will dissipate. That's the plan; that's the plan of the future. But, it's not the situation that exists now.

I implore my fellow Senators to recognize the fact this is a rainy day. Not tomorrow; today is a rainy day. And, when the rain comes, we have the ability to protect those in need. Let's do it! Let's manifest the courage, the desire, to make the difference. Each one of us can make a difference in the lives of the people we serve – the lives of the people we serve – because that’s why we chose to come here: to make a difference in the lives of the people we serve. My colleagues, I implore you to vote for this amendment. Make a difference. Make a difference in the lives of the people we serve. We serve together. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of this amendment. And, what I wanted to do was talk about the implications for one particular institution: Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center. And, this may sound like a parochial issue in that it’s in Senate District 5, but I assure you that it’s not. Dartmouth-Hitchcock Serves residents throughout the State of New Hampshire, not just those in the Upper Valley. In fact, not just Medicaid patients, obviously, but patients throughout the state who depend upon DHMC for specialized care that is unavailable elsewhere in the state.

So, I want to talk about the background; what’s the situation today? In fiscal year 2010, Dartmouth-Hitchcock served over 43,000 individual New Hampshire Medicaid patients throughout the state, with more than 2,000 admissions to DHMC and 154,000 office visits. The cost of caring for these patients – these Medicaid patients – totaled $88 million. New Hampshire’s Medicaid’s regular payments for the services were just $28 million, leaving DHMC with a $60 million shortfall. Now, under this budget, eliminating the Medicaid uncompensated care payments will push this shortfall to nearly $100 million a year. Dartmouth would be paying to provide the service.

So, I wanted to talk about some of the negative impacts of that $40 million uncompensated care payment elimination. Senator D’Allesandro noted jobs will be lost, stifling the rebound in what is a difficult economy. Something unique to Dartmouth, the ability for them to sustain underfunded services such as the neonatal intensive care unit at CHAD – the event we all go to every year – and the air transport program, the helicopter, which serves the entire region, will be harmed, as well.

Finally, this is clearly a cost shifting. Medicaid losses will go to private payers, which will then...insurance rates will rise. For these reasons, Mister President, I ask for your support of this amendment. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. And, if you’ll allow me to read from a document – you probably all remember this; it was back in February.

“We looked at reducing provider rates, but the federal government has made it clear that it will likely reject reductions to provider rates. So, we chose a third option. We are redirecting $20 million in uncompensated care payments the State now makes to hospitals to help maintain Medicare optional services. As the biggest providers of care, and now the owners of many physician practices, the hospitals would experience a financial impact if we choose to reduce provider rates or cut benefits. Our hospitals provide excellent services to our citizens: the doctors, nurses, the other staff members working at our hospitals, provide high-quality care comparable to that offered anywhere in the country. But, from a financial perspective, the hospitals can afford this change. Hospitals get millions of dollars in tax breaks for being nonprofits, but according to their latest public filings, the top 200 executives of 24 nonprofit hospitals made a collective $60 million. Collectively, the New Hampshire non-profit hospitals generated cash over their expenses of over $200 million. Instead of using the excess cash to reduce healthcare costs, hospitals spend it on advertising trying to attract market share from each other, on buying physicians and laboratory practices across the state, and then increasing overhead charges for patients. They're pouring revenues into multimillion-dollar new facilities. In the last five years, hospitals have launched $500 million in capital projects and another $50 million-worth of projects currently pending before the certificate of need board. Most of these expansions are discretionary, and the facilities are driving up utilization costs. Those are costs that we see in our ever-increasing health insurance premiums. To that I say: "Enough." That was the Governor of the State of New Hampshire.

I can tell you when Senate Finance said we were living within our means and we were going to help those that need it the most, we truly discussed this issue because we saw what the House did. But, when it comes down to it, I don't think it would be prudent to support this amendment when it's not going to the rainy day fund the way we crafted the budget. There's $32 million at the end of the biennium. At the end of the biennium, we've put it into law in the back of the budget that the Commissioner can come to the Fiscal Committee and talk about this issue. But, to budget every single penny to be spent before we deal with the fact that 2011 isn't balanced – there's $22 million the Governor needs to come up with in either cuts or revenues between now and the end of the year. And, the other issue that's lingering in the State of New Hampshire is a fine from the federal government for $35 million on this issue that we're talking about right now.

I don't think it would be prudent to support this amendment at this point in time, and I ask you to vote "no".

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Larsen, seconded by Sen. Barnes. The following Senators voted Yes: Houde, Kelly, Larsen, D'Allesandro, Merrill.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I'll speak to the amendment once it's passed out.

I believe everyone should have the amendment. Mister President, what this amendment does is it corrects a miscalculation in terms of the anticipated revenues from the rooms and meals tax. In looking at the base, rather than taking the gross, we took the net, and as a result of that, $6 million will occur in '12, and about $6,250,000 will occur in '13. Both of these have nothing to do with any increase in taxation but have to do with the correction of a miscalculation. That was brought to my attention a couple of times by an outside entity, and I did speak with the Chairman of Ways and Means about it; I brought it to his attention. With this additional $12,250,000, it seems to me things that were left unpaid for the in budget should be taken care of. Let me go through these items with you, because I think they affect all of us.

The first are the funds for congregate housing. There are 240 people who receive these services. They get help with their meals, they get help with housecleaning, they get help with transportation, and other little services. I received a letter from a 96-year-old woman in my district who said without these services, she would have to go to a nursing home. The next step in a nursing home, obviously, is the end of her life. By receiving these services, she's able to stay in her apartment; she's able to live a good life for what's left of her life. Why should she be denied that? If 19 of these 240 people have to be put into a nursing home, the cost will exceed the appropriation – the cost will exceed the appropriation. If all of these people were to enter a nursing facility, the additional cost would be $9 million in the first year and an additional $9 million in the second year, resulting in a cost of $18 million. And, it costs the State about $40,000 a year – that's our portion of the payment to retain these people in a nursing facility.

There are four cities that receive this support: Manchester, Keene, Laconia, and I think the other one is Nashua. Very, very important to the individuals receiving these services. Most of them are elderly women.

The second restoration would come to the STD program. We know that if we don't address the STD program now, we're going to pay for it later; the cost will be extremely high. I've talked to Dr. Montero about this; this is high on his list. He is our Director of Public Health for the State of New Hampshire. He recognizes the severity of the loss of these funds. They are significant to the health and wellbeing of many of our constituents.

The third item is a restoration to the university system of New Hampshire: $4 million in each year of the biennium. The hit taken by the system is incredible. We graduates of the university system recognize that accessibility and affordability to that institution – to Plymouth, to Keene, to the other schools – made a significant difference in our lives. Many of us base our careers on the fact that we were well educated at a public university that was affordable. We could go there; we could receive the kind of academic support that we needed. Without that, the tuitions will rise, and we're going to create a financial gap between the haves and the have-nots. And, that gap has been growing over the years.

The last thing we do is restore $1 million a year to the community technical colleges or the community college system. We know enrollments at the community college system are up by about 14 percent. Why? Because in this uncertain economy, you must get an education. The education provided by the community technical college system is an enhancement. Once you have an articulation agreement that's been recognized between the two-year schools and the four-year schools, your ability to go on is enhanced; you can transfer as a full junior. So, you've got two years taken care of at a reasonable cost and you can move on to a four-year institution.

We can't deny this opportunity to the people we serve. I remember Senator White saying at a hearing the only time he really recognized the quality of education was when he had to pay for it. This gives an opportunity to pay but also have a place for you to pay – an opportunity for you to pay. We cannot – we cannot – disregard those who are coming behind us; they are our future. We've got two people here – they're our future. Postsecondary education provides an opportunity. Don't deny that opportunity to the people we serve.

I implore you, my colleagues, to vote for this amendment. It's not any new money – we're not asking for any new money. These are funds that will be realized from our existing revenue source and carried forward to take care of little things that we couldn't take care of in the budget process. It's doing a little bit better, and we're all committed to doing a little bit better. And, any time we can do that, we've really done our job as public servants. So, my colleagues, I ask you to support this amendment with a positive vote. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of Floor Amendment 2245, and I want to speak specifically to the issue of funding for the university and community college systems. Maybe I should ask Senator D'Allesandro to do it for me.

Some of you may have read in a Union Leader column over the weekend a bit of information that I know took me aback: According to the Director of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, the cuts proposed to the university system are the deepest of any nationwide. To quote the Director: "That will go down as the biggest cut in the U.S. this year, and arguably, in history."

With all due respect to my colleagues who have worked so hard on this budget and, I believe, made significant improvements, I have to say that I find that quote to be a sad commentary on the state of the budget here in New Hampshire, and a disheartening commentary on the outlook for our public university system, and therefore the economy and the New Hampshire families and students that it serves.

We've all heard about the important role of the university system and the community college in promoting innovative business growth in New Hampshire and providing the workforce for those businesses; I hope that that's widely understood. And, I also hope that there will be agreement that the goal of providing quality higher education to New Hampshire students is a key function of the university system of New Hampshire as well as the community college system. And, I would like to point out that one of the truly positive developments I've seen during my time in the Legislature is the increased collaboration that we're seeing between those two systems, which I think just makes good sense.

I believe that we do offer rich and varied opportunity to our high school graduates. But, I fear that the cuts proposed in this budget and decreases in financial support will make higher education in New Hampshire a bigger financial stretch than ever for our families. We will see further tuition hikes in our schools. The budget decreases called for simply cannot be done without increasing tuition. The modest restoration of funds proposed in this amendment will at least to some extent offset those inevitable tuition hikes and perhaps make a difference for some of our families. It will also say that we recognize the central role of our public universities and colleges, that we're proud of them, and that we do support the goals and dreams of our New Hampshire students. Thank you, Mister President.

SENATOR ODELL: Senator D'Allesandro, thank you. I'm just curious, because I think you said that there was no added money necessary to pay for the things that are encompassed in Amendment 2245. And, I assume then that what you're doing is taking this from the surplus that shows up on the surplus statement out of the $32 million that was there?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you very much for the comment, Senator Odell. No; that isn't what I meant. What I meant was, when we calculated the revenue from rooms and meals, we made a mistake and went from the net rather than the gross. So, there was $6 million more. So, it's not taking it from the revenue stabilization account; it's accounting for additional revenues in rooms and meals in the two years: $6 million in the first year and $6.25 million in the second year. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I do rise in support of this amendment, and know that all of the issues that have been discussed in regard to the funding of five of these issues are important. But, I would just like to, as Senator Merrill addressed some concerns I have in regard to funding for the university system and the community college.

My concern is without some additional funding, and I know this is, again, a moderate additional funding – we are still lacking, I think, some important funding to the university system and the community college. But, you know, without this amendment and additional funding, I feel that there will be a direct negative impact on new jobs and on our economic growth here in New Hampshire. How will we sustain our growth in our economy if we do not have an educated workforce? What is the message that we as state leaders are giving to our young people? Do we tell them: "We don't need you; your education is not important to us"? How will they be prepared to compete in the 21st century? There are consequences to not funding our education system, and in particular, the university and the community college. Any cuts to the community college will certainly affect the educating of today's young people and people who are currently working. So, it's education and training for today's workforce, which is essential for our economic growth. I really feel that these cuts that we have made to the community college do not support business; they're really anti-business. I have manufacturers who contact me on a daily basis. And, what they say to me is: "Manufacturing is growing, in particular, precision manufacturing. I have job openings, but I don't have any trained and educated workers for my workforce." They're looking for students coming out of the community college. They've been working with the community college; the barrier between education and business has been broken, and people are communicating on both sides to make sure that we are providing for our manufacturers the workers that they need. With these cuts and without additional funding, I am really concerned that we are just moving backwards instead of forwards, that all the progress we have made by working together with the community college and the university system and manufacturers is going to be lost, and I am very concerned that New Hampshire will not be prepared to compete in the 21st century. So, I ask my colleagues to support this amendment, if for nothing more than to increase jobs and to work together to move this economy to where it needs to be. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Odell.)

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. The purposes of this amendment are noble. But, I will tell you that nobody has worked harder with the community college system nor the university system, including last night when I was talking to the chancellor about the circumstances that affect the university system. But, I will address the revenue side of this, because this is where we went down the road that got us into this problem. If there's some concern about the way that the rooms and meals tax was allocated in terms of the revenue for fiscal years 2012 and 2013, remember it was in this chamber we started down this road. And, what did we do? The majority voted to bond school building aid. And, unlike what happened last week with Senator Boutin, general fund bonding. Not the school building aid. What did we do? We grabbed the meals and rooms tax as a revenue source so we could float those bonds. The Treasurer has spoken to many of us: "Don't do that again. Please, don't do that again." I'm telling you that we go and say that there's going to be more money in rooms and meals, that is speculation. So far this year, we're off $7.5 million – a little under $750,000 per month. It's an uncertain tax. This is not something where we ought to inflate it over and above the unanimous committee vote in the Ways and Means Committee. And, there was a consensus there that we were on track, we were being responsible, and we were being reasonable. I would point out to you just from yesterday's New York Times, their lead editorial: "The numbers are grim. A month ago, when an initial gauge of first quarter economic growth came in surprisingly weak, many policymakers and economists expected the bad news to prove fleeting. But when revised data was released last week, the growth estimate remained stuck at an annual rate of 1.8 percent compared to 3.1 percent at the end of last year – last year being just five months ago. I point that out because if you look at the revenue projections, whether you take rooms and meals or you take communications tax, what we said is over the biennium the growth would be 1.3 percent – 5 percent below this number that's shown here. We have to be prudent, reasonable, and responsible. I also would tell you from yesterday – I was big on the New York Times yesterday – "House prices are set to hit another low." They're talking about home ownership being as low as it was in the 1960s when I was an economics major in college. That's the changed economy: People are renting and they're not buying. The projection for last month, April, alone, for the decline in the number of deals – that would be signed agreements for the purchase of a home – was projected to fall by 1 percent; it fell by over 11 percent, and shocks the real estate market. Now, to come in and say that after the hard work of the Ways and Means Committee we can just say because we have these needs, which I would love to fill, we're going to increase the revenue projections, I can assure you that is how we caught up and have this problem today; that bonding tied to the revenue stream means every time we take in a dollar in meals and rooms we have to deduct some of it for servicing the debt that we've created right here on the floor of this Senate. So, this is not a good thing to do; I support, and I think are meritorious, the goals of this amendment. But, the fact is, it's not reasonable – absolutely not reasonable – to change our meals and rooms projection for the next two years.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator D'Allesandro, I understood that we are in fact not increasing our growth projections in rooms and meals, but in fact through this we are recognizing that there was an error in the transcription of this, where they calculated gross versus net. Am I correct in that understanding?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you for the question, Senator Larsen. Yes; you're correct.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. And, first let me say to the Chair of the Ways and Means Committee, I applaud his work. I've worked closely with him for a number of years, and on many of these things, we have a corresponding view. I was absolutely opposed to the bonding situation; I voted against that, and as all of you may know, I voted against the operating budget that's in place. I did that because of the articulation by the Chair as to bad business; it's bad business policy to create a bond and then designate a revenue stream to pay for that bond.

But, let me just say this about the rooms and meals: I've followed rooms and meals ever since I've been in this Senate. Prior to that, I followed it in the House. It is the most predictable source of revenue that we have. And, when I chaired Ways and Means, I would project a 15-year program adjusted for rate increases that clearly indicated how we could make the best decisions with regards to rooms and meals revenues. This miscalculation is exactly that; it was a miscalculation. It doesn't mean that I'm increasing the rate or anything of that nature. The real revenues derived correspond with what we have done, and when you add this miscalculation to it, you arrive at $12,250,000 in additional resources.

Now, what I can give you as facts are a) rooms and meals is the most predictable source of revenue that we have; b) when I look at the reserves from tolls collected, they're at the highest they have been in years, which means people who come here are still coming, they're paying their tolls, and as a result of that, if I did a little extrapolation, these people eat, stay in rooms, and, as a result, pay the rooms and meals tax. That's why I think this assumption is a good one. And, as a result of that, I ask my colleagues to do something with that additional revenue that will enhance the lives of the people that we represent. As I said to you, I'm the beneficiary; I'm a university graduate. My daughter is a university graduate. My son graduated from Plymouth State University. I have received the benefits of education in this state. My children have received the benefits of education: K through 12 in the public sector and in the postsecondary sector. I recognize the value of education – I recognize the value of education. And, many of my colleagues in this chamber recognize the value of education. We cannot live with a reduction in funding that's the highest in the United States of America. We have done less for postsecondary education than any state in the union. And yet, we're first in so many, many other things; we're first in our quality of life, we're first in health. We want to stay that way. We have an educated workforce; we've got to keep that educated workforce going. Our university is a land grant university; it's a space grant university; it's a sea grant university – one of the few in the whole country that possesses those three designations – those three designations. We, on the entrepreneurial side, do tremendous things in space. Many of the satellites that go up are taken care of by the R and D at the University of New Hampshire. We have a gem that we must sustain, and that gem must be accessible to all of the people of this state. We know we're desirable by out-of-state people; they want to come to our university system. Please think of that before you cast your vote; think of our community college system. And, many of you have a community college in your district; I have one in mine; there are seven of them throughout the state. The university system, which is the University of New Hampshire, Plymouth, Keene, Granite State College: they're all players; they're all players in the economic wellbeing of this state. So, I ask my colleagues to vote in the affirmative. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I'll make this very brief. I serve under our capable Chairman in Ways and Means, and I do want to point out that it was a unanimous vote in Ways and Means on the revenue numbers. I don't believe there was any discussion in Ways and Means about mistakes on revenue, so I'm a little surprised that this is coming now.

Secondly, if you look at the economy, we just heard today, in the last two weeks, every single economic indicator has been below forecast. We are in very tenuous times, and I think we need to be very careful with our revenue numbers.

And, thirdly, our Ivy League college in this state, I believe, has been able to rein in their budget close to $100 million. If they've been able to do that, I think we can do the same at the state level. Thank you, Mister President.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. What you will have before you very shortly is an amendment to use that very same miscalculation in the rooms and meals revenues to fund the HealthyKids program in the second year of the biennium. As you already heard, we're not talking about renewing and changing our estimates, but in fact correcting an error that was brought to our attention, and I thought brought to some of the leadership in Ways and Means attention. This revenue estimate miscalculation is, again, rooms and meals money. But, what we suggest that we would use to repair the problem of underfunding the HealthyKids program, and in fact eliminating the HealthyKids program in the second year of the biennium. HealthyKids is already a successful managed care program, and no one knows the cost –

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Will the member yield for one moment? As I look at the amendment before us and I listen to what you're saying, I want to make sure that we have the correct amendment?

SENATOR LARSEN: That is correct.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Okay. Got it. Thank you. Continue.

SENATOR LARSEN: HealthyKids incorporates the program known as "SCHIP". HealthyKids is a successful managed care program, and we do not know the cost or the quality or the timing of these proposed managed care programs that are going in. The budget, as it's designed, will eliminate funding for HealthyKids in the second year of the biennium. That will leave 822 children who are currently buy-ins to the program uninsured as a result of this action. These are kids who get coverage and cost nothing to the State or the federal government. Their parents pay the full premium, and it's a reduced-cost premium. What I don't understand is why we would eviscerate a successful, low-cost, not-for-profit, not state government healthcare program covering 10,000 kids and move it to an uncertain future with a State-run program. This program has a partnership with 2,900 partners across the state – healthcare partners – and $3.4 million in hospital discounts. So, they're negotiated for the HealthyKids program. This partnership has been able to negotiate discounts from hospitals and physicians and dental organizations that will not be available to a State-run program. When you shift HealthyKids into a State-run program, that dental coverage is going to go away. So, it makes no sense to cripple an existing healthcare operation that could in fact be the managed care system for all of our Medicaid recipients, and include adults someday, to eviscerate that program before we know where we're going with the next step. The use of Medicaid children in emergency rooms is more than double what kids in the HealthyKids program use. So, we're going to increase our costs in Medicaid for kids who are now uninsured who will have to go to the emergency room because they haven't been in preventative healthcare treatment as is currently offered under the HealthyKids program. So, what you have before you is an amendment to allow HealthyKids to continue in the second year of the biennium to offer to these 835 kids who are not subsidized and not to transfer the HealthyKids Silver, who are in the 9,000 range – 9,000 kids. HealthyKids Gold has been under the Medicaid program, and that covers 77,000 kids. But, one of the things HealthyKids has been very successful at is making sure that we are one of the states with the highest number of children who are insured in the country. And, that is because HealthyKids has offered an affordable product, it's offered a product that is available to people, and they actually help parents walk through what is a very complicated application process to make sure they understand it. And, in the second year, when they need to renew, they help with renewal, because oftentimes a parent with many other pieces of paper on their desks don't renew. They reach out and get these kids back in under an insurance program. So, what you have in this floor amendment is a way to pay for the second year for HealthyKids, and we work with them during that year to see if there's a way they can in fact expand their role as a non-government, not-for-profit, affordable healthcare management system, currently for kids, but possibly for adults in the future. You will also note that being a fiscal conservative such as I am, this bill raises $12 million – accepts $12 million in funds – but in fact does not fully expend that amount, allowing some more to go into the precious rainy day fund. So, I ask for your support for this. I think each of you understands – and some of you have grandchildren in the HealthyKids program – but I think each of you understands the effectiveness of this program and the ability that it has offered for us to move HealthyKids into healthy adults, further saving our state in the long-run investment in a healthy population. Thank you, Mister President, and I will ask for a roll call when it comes time.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I just rise to join Senator Larsen in this amendment. And, you know, I know that all of you here agree that every child should be able to wake up every morning of their life healthy and well, and if they're not, they should have access to healthcare; I don't think that's a question; I think we all agree with that. My concern is, you know, if we have, which we do, a New Hampshire nonprofit, New Hampshire HealthyKids program, CHIPS, that runs efficiently, it provides responsible services, it collaborates successfully in their efforts with schools, with other healthcare facilities and many other entities and they're successful in providing the services that I know are important to all of us, why would we then propose to move this program into state government, when I have heard from many of you that you question really, truly, what the role of government is. And so, why would we move this into state government? So, I would support this amendment and continue to fund HealthyKids in the second year, as it is. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I would just want to point out how hard the Senate struggled with this. The reality of this whole thing is – and I can go back to the Governor's speech, because I study these things all year long to find out where we agree and where we disagree; that's why I study them. That's why I always pull it out the last day, to look at it. The Governor eliminated HealthyKids. For the life of me, I couldn't figure out why we're pulling things back in to government that are functioning out on their own. So, don't think that Senate Finance didn't test every part of this. We went to Senator White about the kids that are under 300 and 400 percent and said: "Do we need legislation to make sure that they can be provided healthcare?" The answer was: "No." We checked with the Department several times;

Katie Dunn testified in front of us at least twice, saying the right way to go was bring this in under the department system. Even that didn't satisfy Senate Finance. As you will see in the back of the budget, they put language in there to make sure that we study this transition. I applaud all of you that are fighting for it. The Governor led the way on it. It's a difficult decision. I applaud him for leading. But, the reality is, that was decided, we need to make a change with managed care in this state, and I would say it's time to move forward. We guaranteed the fact in the budget that we would study this right through the process to make sure it was implemented properly. And, I'm sure if there's a problem there, you will continue to point it out. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I do serve on the board of HealthyKids as the Senate representative, and, like Senator Morse, struggled with this; was very surprised when we heard from the Governor back in February about the elimination, generally would favor private, nonprofit governance over a state agency handling the function. But, I didn't take a position, because it is a complex issue, and I'm not going to take one today. But, I will say, I'm very thankful that the Finance Committee has chosen to keep a tight rein on this situation, because I question two number that have been bandied about throughout the budget: the first one is the supposed $6 million of savings that is going to materialize from this transition. I question that because the managed care model that's used under HealthyKids ensures that that care is generally received in a cost effective facility, whereas Medicaid being unmanaged, at least for the time being, oftentimes that care's going to be received in the emergency room. And so, the disconnect for me is that even though the services may be the same, and even though Medicaid enjoys a much lower reimbursement rate than HealthyKids does, if the setting is different, the fact of the matter is those costs could actually be higher. So, I do question that $6 million number, and I'm going to question it one last time publicly, for the record. And then, the second number I question is the million-dollar performance bonus that's on the revenue side of the Governor's budget, which is derived from meeting certain performance criteria which have never been met in the past and I don't believe are going to be met going forward, because we do have one of the lowest uninsured populations in the country in terms of kids, and so I don't believe those numbers are attainable, either. So, I believe that if you take the revenue side, which I don't think the bonus is going to come in, and you take the cost side, where I don't think $6 million of savings is going to come in, I think there's some problems there. So, I, again, will not take a position on HealthyKids pro or con, but I will, one last time, call into question those numbers here on the Senate floor, and would ask the Finance Committee to keep a very close eye, because I know you checked and double-checked and triple-checked those numbers on the record, and hold people accountable if they don't materialize, because they won't be able to say that nobody questioned these when they came up; I'm questioning them today.

Failed.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. We now have what I assume is a package for HB 1. And, I would say, and applaud the work of the Finance Committee and the Ways and Means Committee. But, it still is a package that I would say is a bit of the good, a little of the bad, and a lot of the ugly. Some of the good is the restoration of some monies for the developmental disabilities and some monies for mental health, compared to the House version. The bill restores some small programs that we actually heard a lot about – the Shellfish Protection Program, the spas and pools protection for our upcoming summer visitors and residents. The bill restores some money to the community technical education programs in our high schools. The bill restores some money to the community college, some money to the university.

The bad part of this bill: We are taking what is, I think, a treasure in New Hampshire, Cannon Mountain, and we are saying it's up for private purchase, lease...not purchase, but lease. And, we're saying that this operation, which has made the State $1 million this year, will in fact be leased out to the highest bidder. We've heard that Cannon Mountain, in fact, is supporting the operation at the Flume. We've got a summer coming up; we're a tourism state. All of those programs that they work so hard to make successful and have succeeded at Cannon Mountain, we're offering it up to the highest bidder.

Another bad feature of this is how we are dealing with our corrections system. While they may be behind bars and deserve absolutely everything they are getting, this is a $4 million reduction that our own Commissioner cannot attest to will be able to be saved, will be able to be accomplished, with the more than 2,000 human beings who are behind bars in our state. We have not listened to our Corrections Commissioner, and apparently aren't going to, but I worry what we are doing to our corrections system. We have some savings we hopefully will achieve over the long run in that we've passed the Justice Reinvestment Act and maybe, over the long run, will be able to reduce corrections spending. But, that takes an investment in our community population. Meanwhile, there are a lot of folks behind bars; there are a lot of needs and overtime costs; any number of things where we are not meeting the need in our corrections system.

And, some of the worst, and what I would call the ugly parts of this budget: I'm very sad what we're doing to our UNIQUE Program, and I know it started right at the beginning of this budget process. But, this was a program that provided scholarships to the most needy kids in our state. And, I know we're in tough times, but we're taking the endowment monies that protected and preserved low-income scholarships to kids across the state – or any adult who is qualifying with income review. We're taking those monies and putting them into offsets from the general fund. We're not doing well by our CHIS kids; Senator D'Allesandro pointed out that we're meeting the 50 most needy kids, but I believe that leaves hundreds of kids unaddressed and who will end up in our local jails, end up as drug addicts, whatever, alcohol abusers, and we are not meeting those needs. You already heard about HealthyKids; it's very unfortunate that we are decimating that program. And, I think the biggest thing is, I think one of our responsibilities is to continue to invest in our state. And, this budget, as every budget, is a picture of what we value in this state. What do we want to invest in? And, one of the things that we have always invested in is education. And, I think we are not addressing the long-term needs of our population to be able to support themselves; higher education is the way people support themselves. It doesn't have to be universities; it can be the community college. It can be the ability to get an OSHA certification in your CTE program, which then encourages you to go on to community colleges. But, those investments are the long-term investments for our state, and I don't think we're meeting our responsibilities here, today. We are also – we've been working very hard to find ways to offer affordable healthcare, and obviously one of those, affordable healthcare in HealthyKids, is being reduced and eliminated.

One of our jobs, too, was to find a way to promote jobs. We want to see job growth in this state, and we have seen it better than some of the Northeastern states. But, our investments in job growth, in preparing people for jobs, I don't believe this budget is meeting that need, as well as leaving some of our most vulnerable still unserved. You will hear, as we discuss House Bill 2, some of the concerns we have for both the developmental disabilities population, for our elderly as we eliminate programs like the RSVP program, the foster grandparent program – I don't even know what's happened to Meals on Wheels at this point. But, some of our investments that keep our elderly well off and functioning in their homes I fear we're doing in.

So, those are the good, the bad, and the ugly. It is a budget which I recognize is made in a very difficult time, and I believe that this state can do better; I believe that we have ways to invest and put our money in those most important issues. And so, that's why I will be voting "no" on House Bill 1. Thank you, Mister President.

For land acquired by the United States under this chapter, reimbursement shall be made upon a valuation determined as provided herein on a permanently continuing basis, and if growing wood and timber was taxable as real estate on the date of acquisition by the United States of the land on which it stood, it shall be deemed to be land hereunder. For all artificial improvements on land acquired by the United States under this chapter, including buildings, structures and other artificial real estate fixtures of any kind, reimbursement shall be made upon a valuation determined initially as provided herein and thereafter annually reduced by 2-1/2 percent so that at the end of 40 years reimbursement therefor shall have terminated. On land and improvements thereon acquired by the United States under this chapter the initial assessed valuation of the land and improvements for purposes of reimbursement shall be the locally assessed valuation thereon for the tax year in which acquired as adjusted by the assessors and the commissioner of revenue administration acting as a joint board, so as to make such valuation proportional to the value of all other property in such town or city subject to taxation. For purposes of this section the joint board may subdivide such assessment equitably between land and improvements thereon or between real estate acquired and that not acquired, if the official assessment was not thus subdivided. The valuations of improvements thus determined shall thereafter be annually reduced over a 40-year period as above provided. On land, and artificial improvements, the valuations initially established as above provided in a town or city shall be reviewed by the commissioner at least once in every 5 years and more frequently if reasonably necessary and be changed as necessary to make them proportional with the assessed value of all other taxable property in such town or city. The amount of the reimbursement due to each town and city hereunder shall be determined by the commissioner and certified by it to the state treasurer not later than 30 days following the establishment and approval of the tax rates of each town and city under this chapter. The commissioner shall reduce the amount of reimbursement thus determined by any amount paid or due that town or city for that year by or from the United States, another state, an interstate flood control agency or other source, because of such loss of taxable valuation. The governor is authorized to draw [his] a warrant for the payment of such reimbursements out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. Provided, however, that reimbursement payments for loss of taxes on account of the acquisition of railroad or public utility property shall be reduced to the extent that such railroad or public utility property is relocated and reconstructed in the same town or city as a result of such acquisition, and thereby is included to that extent in the list of taxable property in said town or city as relocated.

II. Notwithstanding paragraph I, the commissioner of revenue administration shall reduce the amount of reimbursement thus determined by any amount paid or due the state on behalf of a town or city for that year by or from the United States, another state, an interstate flood control agency or other source, because of such loss of taxable valuation. Any subsequent payments received by the state from the United States, another state, an interstate flood control agency or other source shall first be applied to outstanding amounts due the state, and any remainder shall be apportioned to the towns.

(2) Deny the application, and issue written findings in support of the denial; or

(3) Extend the time for rendering a decision on the application for good cause and with the written agreement of the applicant.

(c) Where no request for additional information is made, the department shall, within 30 days of receipt of the application for a permit or [75] 30 days of receipt of an application for a permit that will require a [~~variance of the minimum standard of RSA 483-B:9, V or a~~] waiver of the minimum standards of RSA 483-B:9[;],

[~~(1) approve or deny the application[, in whole or in part, and issue a permit; or~~

~~(2) Deny the application, and issue~~ with written findings in support of the [denial; or

~~(3) Extend the time for rendering a decision on the application for good cause and with the written agreement of the applicant] decision.~~

(d) Within 5 business days of receipt of a permit by notification filing, the department shall issue a written notice to the property owner or agent stating that the notification has either been accepted or rejected. If the department does not respond within the 5-day period, the property owner or agent may submit to the department a written request for a response. A request submitted electronically by the applicant shall constitute a written request provided that the applicant has previously agreed to accept electronic communication. If the department fails to respond to the written request within an additional 5 days the property owner or agent shall be deemed to have a permit by notification and may proceed with the project as presented in the notification filing. The authorization provided by this subparagraph shall not relieve the applicant of complying with all requirements applicable to the project, including but not limited to requirements established in or under this chapter and RSA 485-A relative to water quality.

[(d)] (e)(1) The time limits prescribed by this paragraph shall supersede any time limits provided in any other provision of law. If the department fails to act within the applicable time frame established in subparagraphs (b) and (c), the applicant may ask the department to issue the permit by submitting a written request. If the applicant has previously agreed to accept communications from the department by electronic means, a request submitted electronically by the applicant shall constitute a written request.

(2) Within 14 days of the date of receipt of a written request from the applicant to issue the permit, the department shall:

(A) Approve the application, in whole or in part, and issue a permit; or

(B) Deny the application and issue written findings in support of the denial.

(3) If the department does not issue either a permit or a written denial within the 14-day period, the applicant shall be deemed to have a permit by default and may proceed with the project as presented in the application. The authorization provided by this subparagraph shall not relieve the applicant of complying with all requirements applicable to the project, including but not limited to requirements established in or under this chapter and RSA 485-A relating to water quality.

(4) Upon receipt of a written request from an applicant, the department shall issue written confirmation that the applicant has a permit by default pursuant to subparagraph [(d)] (e)(3), which authorizes the applicant to proceed with the project as presented in the application and requires the work to comply with all requirements applicable to the project, including but not limited to requirements established in or under this chapter and RSA 485-A relating to water quality.

[(e)] (f) All applications filed in accordance with the rules adopted by the department under RSA 483-B:17 and which meet the minimum standards of this chapter shall be approved and a permit shall be issued.

[(f)] (g) The department may extend the time for rendering a decision under subparagraphs (b)(3) and (c)(3), without the applicant's agreement, on an application from an applicant who previously has been determined, after the exhaustion of available appellate remedies, to have failed to comply with this chapter or any rule adopted or permit or approval issued under this chapter, or to have misrepresented any material fact made in connection with any activity regulated or prohibited by this chapter, pursuant to an action initiated under RSA 483-B:18. The length of such an extension shall be no longer than reasonably necessary to complete the review of the application, and shall not exceed 30 days unless the applicant agrees to a longer extension. The department shall notify the applicant of the length of the extension.

[(g)] (h) The department may suspend review of an application for a proposed project on a property with respect to which the department has commenced an enforcement action against the applicant for any violation of this chapter, RSA 482-A, RSA 485-A:17, or RSA 485-A:29-44, or of any rule adopted or permit or approval issued pursuant to this chapter, RSA 482-A, RSA 485-A:17, or RSA 485-A:29-44. Any such suspension shall expire upon conclusion of the enforcement action and completion of any remedial actions the department may require to address the violation; provided, however, that the department may resume its review of the application sooner if doing so will facilitate resolution of the violation. The department shall resume its review of the application at the point the review was suspended, except that the department may extend any of the time limits under this paragraph and its rules up to a total of 30 days for all such extensions. For purposes of this subparagraph, "enforcement action" means an action initiated under RSA 482-A:13, RSA 482-A:14, RSA 482-A:14-b, RSA 483-B:18, RSA 485-A:22, RSA 485-A:42, or RSA 485-A:43.

367 Minimum Shoreland Protection Standards. Amend RSA 483-B:9, II(d) to read as follows:

(d) No fertilizer, except limestone, shall be applied to vegetation or soils located within 25 feet of the reference line of any public water. Beyond 25 feet, [low phosphate, slow release nitrogen fertilizer or limestone,] slow or controlled release fertilizer, as defined by rules adopted by department, may be used ~~[on areas beyond 25 feet from the reference line].~~

368 Minimum Shoreland Protection Standards. RSA 483-B:9, V(a) through V(b)(2)(A)(ii) is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

(a) Maintenance of a Waterfront Buffer.

(1) The waterfront buffer shall be those protected shorelands within 50 feet of the reference line. The purpose of this buffer shall be to protect the quality of public waters while allowing homeowner discretion with regard to water access, safety, viewscape maintenance, and lot design.

(2) Within the waterfront buffer all of the following prohibitions and limitations shall apply:

(A) No chemicals, including pesticides or herbicides of any kind shall be applied to ground, turf, or established vegetation except if applied by horticultural professionals who have a pesticide application license issued by the department of agriculture or as allowed under special permit issued by the division of pesticide control under rules adopted by the pesticide control board under RSA 541-A, or fertilizers of any kind except those specified in RSA 483-B:9, II(d).

(B) Rocks and stumps and their root systems shall be left intact in the ground unless removal is specifically approved by the department, pursuant to RSA 482-A or RSA 483-B:11, II or unless rocks are removed to improve runoff control or the planting in the waterfront buffer, and stumps that are removed are replaced with pervious surfaces, new trees, or other woody vegetation.

(C) No natural ground cover shall be removed except as necessary for a foot path to water and access ways as provided under RSA 483-B:9, V(a)(2)(D), (viii) and (ix), for normal maintenance, to protect the waterfront buffer, cutting those portions that have grown over 3 feet in height for the purpose of providing a view, to provide access to natural areas or shoreline, or as specifically approved by the department, pursuant to RSA 482-A or RSA 483-B.

(D) Starting from the northerly or easterly boundary of the property, and working along the shoreline, the waterfront buffer shall be divided into 50 by 50 foot segments. Owners of land within the waterfront buffer shall measure, calculate, and maintain the tree, sapling, shrub, and groundcover point score in each of these segments in accordance with the methods and standards described in subparagraphs (i) through (ix).

(i) Tree and sapling diameters shall be measured at 4 1/2 feet above the ground for existing trees and saplings, or by caliper at a height consistent with established nursery industry standards when nursery stock is to be used, and are scored as follows:

Diameter or Caliper Score

1 to 3 inches – 1

3 to 6 inches – 5

6 to 12 inches –10

12 to 24 inches –15

Greater than 24 inches- 25

(ii) Shrubs and groundcover plants shall be scored as follows:

Four square feet of shrub area – 1 point.

Ground cover planted in the form of sod or mat – one point for every 50 square feet.

Shrub and groundcover shall not count for more than 25 points in each full segment.

(iii) Dead, diseased, or unsafe trees or saplings shall not be included in scoring.

(iv) If the total tree and sapling score in any 50 foot by 50 foot segment exceeds 50 points, then trees, saplings, and shrubs over 3 feet in height may be removed as long as the sum of the scores for the remaining trees and saplings in that segment does not total less than 50 points. If for any reason there is insufficient area for a full segment, or the segment contains areas incapable of supporting trees and saplings, such as areas of rock, ledge, or beaches, the point score requirement for the remaining vegetation in that partial segment shall be reduced proportionally to that required of a full segment. Vegetation shall not be removed from any segment which fails to meet the minimum point score for that segment. Owners are encouraged to take efforts to plan the maintenance of their waterfront buffer areas including the planting of additional non-invasive vegetation to increase point scores within segments, thus providing sufficient points to allow the future removal of vegetation as may become necessary while still meeting the requirements of this paragraph.

(v) The department shall approve applications pursuant to RSA 482-A or RSA 483-B that include the planting of trees, saplings, shrubs, and groundcover as necessary to at least maintain either the existing point score or the minimum score required. The department shall not approve any application that would result in a combined vegetation score of less than the minimum score required where the segment initially meets the minimum score or would result in any reduction of the point score where the segment does not initially meet the minimum score.

(vi) Owners of lots and holders of easements on lots that were legally developed prior to July 1, 2008 may maintain but not enlarge cleared areas, including but not limited to existing lawns, gardens, landscaped areas, beaches, and rights-of-way for public utilities, public transportation, and public access, and may repair existing utility structures within the waterfront buffer. Conversion to or planting of cleared areas with non-invasive species of ground cover, shrubs, saplings, and trees is encouraged but shall not be required unless it is necessary to meet the requirements of subparagraph (g)(2) or (g)(3), or RSA 483-B:11, II.

(vii) Normal trimming, pruning, and thinning of branches to the extent necessary to maintain the health of the planted area as well to protect structures, maintain clearances, and provide views is permitted provided such activity does not endanger the health of the plant.

(viii) When necessary for the completion of construction activities permitted in accordance with RSA 483-B:6, a temporary 12 foot wide access path shall be allowed. On those properties accessible only by water, this access path may be maintained provided it is stabilized with a surface that will infiltrate stormwater. On other properties the access path shall be completely restored and replanted with vegetation upon completion of construction except as allowed under subparagraph (ix).

(ix) A permanent 6-foot wide foot path as well as access to any docks, beaches, structures, existing open areas, and the water body, configured in a manner that will not concentrate storm water runoff or contribute to erosion, are allowed.

(b) Maintenance of a Natural Woodland Buffer.

(1) A natural woodland buffer shall be maintained within 150 feet of the reference line. The first 50 feet of this buffer is designated the waterfront buffer and is subject to the additional requirements of subparagraph (a). The purpose of the natural woodland buffer shall be to protect the quality of public waters by minimizing erosion, preventing siltation and turbidity, stabilizing soils, preventing excess nutrient and chemical pollution, maintaining natural water temperatures, maintaining a healthy tree canopy and understory, preserving fish and wildlife habitat, and respecting the overall natural condition of the protected shoreland.

(2) Within the natural woodland buffer of a given lot the vegetation, except lawn, within at least 25 percent of the area outside the waterfront buffer shall be maintained unaltered or improved with additional vegetation. Owners of lots legally developed or landscaped prior to July 1, 2008 that do not comply with this standard are encouraged to, but shall not be required to, increase the percentage of area to be maintained in an unaltered state. The percentage of area maintained in an unaltered state on nonconforming lots shall not be decreased.

369 Impervious Surfaces. Amend RSA 483-B:9, V(g) to read as follows:

(g) Impervious surfaces.

(1) ~~[Subject to subparagraph (2),]~~ No more than 30 percent of the area of a lot located within the protected shoreland shall be composed of impervious surfaces, unless a stormwater management system designed and certified by a professional engineer that will not concentrate stormwater runoff or contribute to erosion is implemented.

(2) If the impervious surface area will exceed 20 percent, but is less than 30 percent, a stormwater management system shall be implemented and maintained which is designed to infiltrate increased stormwater from development occurring after the effective date of this paragraph in accordance with rules established by the department under RSA 485-A:17.

(3) If the impervious surface area will exceed ~~[20]~~ 30 percent and the ~~[natural]~~ tree, ~~[and]~~ sapling ~~[cover]~~, shrub, and groundcover in the waterfront buffer does not meet the ~~[50-point minimum]~~ point score requirement of RSA 483-B:9, V(a)(2)(D) in any segment, then such segment shall be planted, as determined by rule of the department, with ~~[native]~~ trees, saplings, shrubs, or ~~[natural ground cover]~~ groundcover in sufficient quantity, type, and location either to meet the minimum score or to provide at least an equivalent level of protection as provided by the minimum score and shall be maintained in accordance with RSA 483-B:9, V(a).

370 Waivers. Amend RSA 483-B:9, V(i) to read as follows;

(i) The commissioner shall have the authority to grant ~~[variances]~~ waivers from the minimum standards of this section. Such authority shall be exercised ~~[subject to the criteria which govern the grant of a variance by a zoning board of adjustment under RSA 674:33, I(b)]~~ if the commissioner deems that strict compliance with the minimum standards of this section will provide no material benefit to the public and have no material adverse effect on the environment or the natural resources of the state. Waivers shall also be granted to accommodate the reasonable needs of persons with disabilities.

371 Nonconforming Lots of Record. Amend RSA 483-B:10, I to read as follows:

I. Except when otherwise prohibited by law, present and successive owners of an individual undeveloped lot may construct a single family residential dwelling and appurtenant accessory structures on it, notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter. Conditions may be imposed which, in the opinion of the commissioner, more nearly meet the intent of this chapter, while still accommodating the applicant's rights.

372 New Paragraph; Nonconforming Lots of Record; Merger. Amend RSA 483-B:10 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

III. Consistent with RSA 674:39-a, a municipality shall not merge adjacent nonconforming lots in common ownership without the consent of the owner.

373 Nonconforming Structures. RSA 483-B:11 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

483-B:11 Nonconforming Structures.

I. Except as otherwise prohibited by law or applicable municipal ordinance, nonconforming structures located within the protected shoreland may be repaired, replaced in kind, reconstructed in place, altered, or expanded. Repair, replacement-in kind, or reconstruction in place may alter or remodel the interior design or existing foundation of the nonconforming structure, but shall result in no expansion or relocation of the existing footprint within the waterfront buffer. However, alteration or expansion of a nonconforming structure may expand the existing footprint within the waterfront buffer, provided the structure is not extended closer to the reference line and the proposal or property is made more nearly conforming than the existing structure or the existing conditions of the property.

II. For the purposes of this section, a proposal that is "more nearly conforming" means alteration of the location or size of the existing footprints, or redevelopment of the existing conditions of the property, such that the structures or the property are brought into greater conformity with the design standards of this chapter. Methods for achieving greater conformity include, without limitation, reducing the overall square footage of structural footprints, enhancing stormwater management, adding infiltration areas and landscaping, upgrading wastewater treatment, improving traffic management, or other enhancements that improve wildlife habitat or resource protection.

III. An expansion that increases the sewerage load to an onsite septic system, or changes or expands the use of a septic system, shall require a subsurface approval issued by the department.

IV. Under paragraph I, and except as otherwise prohibited by law or applicable municipal ordinance, primary nonconforming structures may be entirely demolished and reconstructed, with continued encroachment into the waterfront buffer, provided the replacement structure is located farther back from the reference line than the preexisting nonconforming structure.

374 Rulemaking. Amend RSA 483-B:17, IV to read as follows:

IV. Procedures and criteria for the size[~~]~~ and placement[~~, and construction~~] of small accessory structures such as storage sheds and gazebos, which are consistent with the intent of this chapter, between the reference line and the primary building line.

375 Penalties. RSA 483-B:18, III is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

III. Persons violating the provisions of this chapter and damaging the public waterway who, after notification by the department, fail to make a good faith effort at remediation and restoration shall be subject to the following:

(a) Upon petition of the attorney general or of the municipality in which the violation occurred, the superior court may levy upon any person violating this chapter a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed $5,000 for each continuing violation. The superior court shall have jurisdiction to restrain a continuing violation of this chapter, and to require remediation.

(b) The commissioner, after notice and hearing pursuant to RSA 541-A, may impose an administrative fine of up to $5,000 for each offense upon any person who violates this chapter. Rehearings and appeals relating to such fines shall be governed by RSA 541. Imposition of an administrative fine under this section shall not preclude the imposition of further civil penalties under this chapter.

(c) Notwithstanding the $5,000 fine limit in subparagraph (b), the administrative fine for each repeat violation of this chapter may be multiplied by a factor of 2 for every previous violation committed by the person or entity.

376 New Paragraph; Shoreland Advisory Committee. Amend RSA 483-B:21 by inserting after paragraph VII the following new paragraph:

The primary focus of this committee is to address residential shorefront owner input and perspective relating to shoreland development regulated under the ~~[comprehensive]~~ shoreland water quality protection act under this chapter and the regulation of shoreline structures under RSA 482-A.

380 Approval to Increase a Load on a Sewage System. Amend RSA 485-A:38, II-a(c) to read as follows:

(c) When applicable, the proposed expansion, relocation, or replacement complies with the requirements of the ~~[comprehensive]~~ shoreland water quality protection act, RSA 483-B.

381 Repeal. RSA 483-B:9, V(c)(1), relative to subdivision of land within the protected shoreland, is repealed.

383 Department of Health and Human Services; Hospitals for High Intensive Neonatal and Pediatric Care; Contracts and Rate Setting. Beginning July 1, 2011, the department of health and human services shall only contract with New Hampshire hospitals which provide high intensive neonatal and high intensive pediatric care unless the commissioner of health and human services finds that the high intensive neonatal and high intensive pediatric care needed is not available in New Hampshire, in which case, the department of health and human services may contract with an out-of-state hospital to provide such care. On or before August 1, 2011, the commissioner of health and human services shall develop a new rate structure for high intensive neonatal and high intensive pediatric care for New Hampshire hospitals which provide such care.

Such plans shall be focused on reducing the cost structure of the area agency and community mental health systems without reducing quality or quantity of mandated services; maintaining the delivery of care in a community setting; and taking into account the needs of the systems to prepare for any future enhanced increase in the Medicaid population. Savings to the state general fund in the amount of $1,800,000 for the biennium shall be identified, measured, and reported to the commissioner of the department of health and human services before January 1, 2012. SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 2 Ought to Pass with Amendment. I'm very proud of the work we accomplished in crafting the trailer bill. As you know, HB 2 contains the legislative changes necessary to make the budget work. We have built HB 2 with discipline. As this was presented to us from the House, it was the largest HB 2 that anyone can remember. We worked hard to include only the sections necessary to making the budget function and worked with policy committees to address any issues that were best addressed in the committee, not in the budget. That being said, I will spare you from reading everything in HB 2.

You will notice several programs or laws that have been suspended for the biennium. We have done so with purpose. These programs reflect the priority that we are currently unable to fund but hope to do so in the future. With hope that the economy grows in strength, specifically the use of UNIQUE funds, which returns it to its current operation in the next biennium. Additionally, we're restoring funds to UNIQUE for scholarships for low-income students.

HB 2 reflects many of the reforms that are being implemented in this budget, including Medicaid managed care reform, and holding the Commissioner accountable for progress of this program that ensures the care is better coordinated and more efficient. We similarly require accountability on the transition of HealthyKids program. The Commissioner of Corrections is given the authority to begin privatizing the Department such as nursing or pharmaceutical operations in addition to relocating prisoners in Concord. These are tools available to the Commissioner to achieve savings that this budget demands.

This implements the long-discussed lease of Cannon Mountain. Out of respect and sensitivity to the World War I Veterans Memorial located near Profile Lake, we ensure continued and uninterrupted access. Through this lease, we have set aside funds for search and rescue operations within Fish and Game that have been underfunded. While the management has done a tremendous job, the State and its taxpayers cannot afford to keep up with the capital demands of a ski area and should not be in the business of operating Cannon Mountain. This lean budget requires that government do only what is necessary, and this decision reflects that.

Appropriations made to New Hampshire Public Television should be made directly to them and not from general funds.

To address the increasing cost of healthcare, the Commissioner of Administrative Services will continue to work closely with the Legislature to develop incentives for retirees to use lower cost services with the current programs already in place today. Additionally, we institute an increase in co-pays and changes to the design plan without making drastic cuts to benefit levels of our retirees.

In hopes of stimulating job growth, HB 2 increases the amount of net operating loss generated in a tax year to $10 million starting in July of 2013. To prevent the continued expenses of property that the State has no plans to keep long term, we put teeth into the provision requiring the sale of the Lakes Region facility by giving the City of Laconia the first right of refusal and Belknap County the second.

We have included the Senate's position on retirement reforms that are critical to the state budget. The House and Senate share the goal of comprehensive retirement reform in Senate Bill 3. In the first year, overall rates paid by the cities and towns will be roughly the same after reforms, and zero state subsidy as they would have been without the reform, and with a 25 percent state subsidy. With reforms in Senate Bill 3, in the future years, local taxpayers will avoid massive tax increases caused by the current broken retirement system.

While there are always a limited amount of resources available, we have intentionally set aside funds with the hopes of appropriating additional funds for the purposes of uncompensated care. That being said, the future remains uncertain. We have approximately $35 million in surplus, but we don't know how revenues will continue to perform. We also don't know what will happen with the pending $35 million fine from DHS payments.

Lastly, we can't be certain that FY '11 will be balanced. House Bill 2 contains the authority for the Governor to take steps towards balancing '11, but we aren't there yet. A $35 million surplus is conservative and the right thing to do in this time of uncertainty. And, again, I'd like to thank my colleagues and their staff for their hard work. I hope that you too will be proud of the reforms contained in this difficult and conservative budget, and I ask for your support of House Bill 2.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: I believe that there are some guests in our gallery. Senator Boutin, can you tell us who they are?

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. I'd be honored to do that. I had the pleasure of joining the students from Dunbarton Friday morning. And, they did a fabulous Memorial Day celebration. And, I want to welcome the fourth grade elementary school students from Dunbarton. Thank you for coming today.

Sen. D'Allesandro offered a floor amendment.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

Amend the analysis by deleting paragraphs 87, 88, and 98 and renumbering accordingly, and inserting the following new paragraphs:

145. Delays the elimination of the motor vehicle registration surcharge from July 1, 2011 to July 1, 2013 and decreases the amount of the surcharge in each fiscal year.

146. Replaces certain general fund appropriations with highway fund appropriations and makes additional general fund appropriations.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I'll speak to the amendment once it's passed out. And, as I said to my colleague and fellow Marine, who's not here: "We're not in the process of retreat, we're just advancing in a different direction." That was the famous quote of General Chesty Puller at the Chosin Reservoir when we moved forward. Semper Fi, mate. We keep it going.

This amendment before you takes an idea that was brought forth by a fellow Senator, and I thank him very much for allowing me to use his idea. And, the idea is this: We take the motor vehicle registration surcharge and we delete it over the next two years, and we delete it in the first year and do away with it in the second year. In the first year, under this plan, it will produce $3.1 million; in the second year, it'll produce $10.8 million. What we do is take the monies, restore the highway fund, take the general funds that supplementing the highway fund and bring them back and use them to cover certain unfunded items that I think were very important in the budget process.

Now, in the first year, this is what we fund: We restore the remainder of the House reductions to the adoption services. That's very critical, because we do run into a problem; if we don't maintain the adoption subsidy, we run the risk of losing some federal funds.

We restore funds to the Department of Corrections. We restore funds to the Department of Revenue Administration because we have revenues associated with auditors, and if we don't have the auditors, then we don't get the revenue. That revenue is penciled in at about $40 million. Most of that money is generated by the out-of-state auditors. Each one of those has a number associated with them in terms of revenue produced. We can't lose that. So, we restore to the Department of Revenue Administration $1 million. Then, we restore the reduction to Alzheimer's and related disease caregivers. And, all of us recognize the fact that if these caregivers aren't in place to give respite to those who are taking care of people with Alzheimer's and other related diseases, you know the problems that ensue and the costs associated with that.

In the second year, we address CHINS, which by the way were addressed in the budget – I compliment the Senate for doing that – and we would be able to serve about 100 students CHINS with what the Senate did. Some of those students are extremely dangerous. Some of them create life-threatening situations if they are brought back into their home. So, what we do in the second year is we appropriate $1.2 million to take care of CHINS; that gets a federal match.

We continue our appropriation for the adoption subsidies; we restore funds to Corrections; we continue restoring funds for auditors at the Department of Revenue Administration; we continue with our Alzheimer's and related caregiver program; and then we restore funding for employment-related childcare, because everybody needs a job, everybody wants a job, and if you don't have someone to take care of your child, you can't get a job. So, we restore monies that were disappropriated for that purpose. That falls in line with our basic premise, and our basic premise has always been economic recovery, job creation. We don't want to eliminate jobs, we want to restore jobs and we want to create jobs. People who don't have the subsidy for taking care of their children can't get a job. This allows them to get a job. This surcharge disappears at the end of the biennium; hopefully things will be restored. And, to my colleagues, I might say: For the month of May, we arrived at our revenue projections! We made it! Congratulations, everybody. Your spending limits must have been terrific. But, we made the number – we made the number here in New Hampshire, and that's a good thing; that's a good sign, and we always like to look at the cup as being half full. So, we are moving forward. June is another month which I think we will make the number in.

By restoring these items, what we do is we create a situation in New Hampshire where things that we couldn't fund we now can fund. And, certainly CHINS – we know the gravity of that situation. Adoption subsidies: We for years have said: "One thing we want to do is get more of the children who are in state custody adopted." We provide a subsidy; it's $20.39 a day in most instances; if you adopt a special needs child, you get a little bit more. These children are provided a home; they're provided a place where they can be where they can feel good about themselves, where they can recognize who they are, where they can move forward. That's a great thing. We have spent years and years and years trying to promote adoption in this state, and we're doing a better job of it all the time. We restored money to Corrections. Again, Revenue Administration: We recognize the fact that without the auditors, we can't collect the money. I don't have to give you a reiteration about Alzheimer's and disease caregivers. It's something that those of you who have been with anyone – My dad died with Alzheimer's; I know what it was like to be with him at the end, when you didn't know what they were going to do, where they were going to go, how they were going to get there. But, you needed somebody there, and you need people there on a 24/7 basis in order to give that care. Respite care, we know the value of that – we know the value of that environment. And, again, from the employment side: Doing something related to employment in terms of taking care of children. All of these things can be accomplished. It reduces the surcharge, it does away with the surcharge, but it does some meaningful things in this biennium. It just makes a document that we have produced a little bit better; it's a little bit better. And, what thesis hasn't had an amendment? You know, what proclamation doesn't deserve to be touched up? So, we're amending it; we're amending a document that says: "Here we have something that we worked hard to produce; here's a little something that makes it a little bit better." It makes it better for the people we serve; it makes us better when we walk out of this chamber, we feel good about ourselves in light of the fact that we've served more people; we've given more to the people that we represent.

Mister President, I ask my colleagues to support Amendment 2242s, and with that, thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise against this amendment, as I did several months ago, and for a different reason this time, in the sense that we put this fee in place, and originally, it sunsets at the end of June – finally – and the fee wasn't used for the right thing in the first place. If you put a $30 surcharge in place and you used it all for highways, you would have had massive, massive job growth in New Hampshire. Is it the right thing to do? It's a million-dollar tax on my home community, and they didn't even know it. But, now we're taking it and using it for other things. And, I do have the same passion as Senator D'Allesandro. But, I've been through it. We've been through the budget. I asked everyone when we got done this to come in with a different idea, cut something in the budget. I wasn't going to support increases in taxation to get there, increases in bonding to get there. You know, we talk about the Department of Corrections, how we cut so much. It's an increase; it's a 2 percent increase. I challenge you to look back to what they had in '10 and what they had in '11. I mean, it's growth, when everybody else is shrinking. I mean, it's one department to point to, but I mean, it was hard enough to build this budget when everyone was receiving cuts, and probably the ones that took it on the chin more than anything because they were general funds are the university system and the community tech system, and we said we were going to look at them last, and there wasn't anyone in the Senate that wasn't praying for revenues to come in higher. But, there's a reality. And, if we go and we put taxation on the same people that are telling us they can't afford it now, what are we doing? I strongly believe in the Senate President's comments: We need to live within our means. This would be producing more means. I don't think it's appropriate at this point in time. I still think you have to realize we haven't balanced '11, and we still have that issue that we're going to be fined $35 million, which is coming any day. And, we need to figure out how we're going to pay for these things. And, some of the things discussed today, rightfully so, may be discussed in the committee of conference, in order just to bring the budget where we presented it today. And, I thought we did a lot of good in that budget. And, one other thing I'd like to address, because we didn't get higher education, but we surely did, in kindergarten through 12, make strides in the Senate. It's not in this bill, but as we say the Senate didn't invest, we did. We did it properly. In the operating budget, we funded those trailers that are in all the communities for kindergarten. We funded in capital the money that was supposed to go back to the communities. We got the Perkins Grant back because we spent $1 million to add to tuition and to transportation. We did great things in this budget with very little money, and we made a real difference. I think it's time to take the package and send it on to the House and then get forward with the committee of conference that they're going to request.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Rausch.)

SENATOR RAUSCH: Thank you, Mister President. My colleague did a great job on explaining the finance of this amendment, but what he failed to tell you is that this is a diversion; it is a terrible situation when we're abusing what we're here to do, and that's to protect the Constitution. Article 6-a: registration fees and gas taxes go to the highway fund. Diversions are not supposed to happen. This body talks all the time about diversion, diversion! This is a diversion! We're here to protect that. If you want to fund these, put in another tax. But don't put in a tax that by the Constitution goes to our highway fund. I sat here over the last few weeks and heard about: "Well, this doesn't go to the highway fund." Not everybody realized registration fees are a part of 6-a; they go to the highway fund; they need to stay there. We talked about diversion for years. Ad hoc committees; one committee after another: "How do we stop diversion?" We believe Safety should be funded from the general fund. We've got $80 million in diversions from the highway fund. If you want to fund things, fund Safety from the operating budget, not from our registration fees. I don't know what happened in the House; I had a mental relapse – prime example of norepinephrine not working on our synapses – they did away with waivers on the 28 percent! This circumvents that. And, one of the people who authorized it was the one who proposed the 28 percent! This has got to stop. Article 6-a – it's a registration fee; it stays in the highway fund, and I'm going to protect the highway fund. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. My distinguished colleague gave us some medical terminology, and I'll have to go to my Physician's Desk Manual to work on that.

SENATOR RAUSCH: Do that.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: I shall! I shall! That's mandatory. Mister President, I just want to make a few comments with regards to Corrections, because I think when we talk about increases, we ought to say why.

There are two outstanding suits: the Lawman Suit, which was put in place many, many years ago, which still hasn't been settled, and the Holiday Suit. The Holiday Suit forced this state to spend $20 million – forced us to spend $20 million – because we were out of compliance in taking care of people in the secure psychiatric unit. That's something we were forced to do. Did we want to do it? I don't think so. Were we forced to do it? We were forced to do it because the courts demanded that we do it. When the courts demand that we do it, we usually make do and we make it happen. That's why Corrections increased. We closed the Laconia facility, moved prisoners from Laconia to Berlin and to Concord. For those of you who have visited the Concord prison – and I'm sure some of you have – you know what it's like. So, the increases were brought about because of court action against the State of New Hampshire.

With reference to the diversion: I support my colleague's concept. But, difficult times present difficult problems, and you've got to come up with solutions. This is a solution – a very temporary solution – that does something to address needs. You can debate whether it's the right or the wrong thing to do, but one must do something. You have to do something. When you see a need, when you recognize the fact that dangerous children may be out in the community, that creates a need that has to be addressed; we've got to address it. There are 250 of these kids – there are really 500 of these kids. I looked at the Manchester school system; we have 16 of these kids in our school system. They cost us – or will cost us – $1.6 million a year, if indeed CHINS aren't taken care of. So, when you see a need, you've got to address the need, you've got to work on addressing the need. And, in the big picture of things, I've said constantly, we're just trying to do better; we're trying to make life better for people so that people can live a good, solid, productive life. That's the name of the game. I mean, that's why I serve in the public venue. That's why we're here – all of us. And, I recognize that, and I commend everybody for doing that. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I think many of us heard that one of the biggest issues that our constituents were frustrated about was this car registration surcharge. This was a huge issue. And so, this is not minor. I do applaud the sentiment of this bill as far as meeting these needs, but there's a problem. And, I think we're seeing this through many of these amendments. This is Keynesian thinking. And, if we know anything about Keynesian thinking at the federal level, it doesn't work; you cannot create jobs and build an economy by spending, spending, spending and taxing more, and I think we need to see it for what it is. Thank you, Mister President.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

Amend the analysis by deleting paragraphs 106-109 and renumbering accordingly, and inserting the following new paragraph:

144. Makes a supplemental appropriation for family planning services.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I'm going to go a little bit in the opposite direction and speak to what the amendment would restore, and then I'll talk about how it would do that. What it would do is restore family planning funding, which is, in this budget, cut by 57 percent in 2012 and 64 percent in 2013. While my amendment does not restore all of the funding, even to the level proposed by the Governor, which was already funded at a reduced level, these are important allocations that would not only serve people, but save money, as well.

Unchanged, this budget cut will affect not only Planned Parenthood health centers, but community health centers and community action programs across the state. For Planned Parenthood of Northern New England, it would mean the likely closure of one or more of its health centers, now located in Claremont, Derry, Exeter, Keene, Manchester, or West Lebanon. But, more than offices, this will impact people; specifically, it will impact low-income women and teens with no other source of insurance. According to the Department of Health and Human Services' impact statements, between 13,000 and 20,000 clients will be affected; I'm sure Senator D'Allesandro would want me to note there are over 5,000 in Manchester alone. He's not here, but he would want me to note that. One in six women in New Hampshire now get their annual exam, including cancer screening, at a family planning center. In fact, 60 percent of the women who visit family planning clinics consider it their only source of medical care. Family planning investments are among the most cost effective programs for saving State healthcare dollars. These programs provide much more than birth control; they offer cancer screenings, as I said, basic exams, and disease prevention. The average family planning visit costs less than $100, and the average cost of a Medicaid birth? Over $11,000. Cutting off access to this basic healthcare will significantly increase Medicaid and welfare costs. These funds have been critical in helping New Hampshire reduce its teen pregnancy rates; we are now the lowest in the country, but the City of Manchester and Coos and Sullivan Counties still have teen pregnancy rates that are double the state average. But, I heard the Chair of Finance yesterday when he said that there will be no new taxes or fees tolerated. So, here's my plan: If you'll look at pages 90 to 91 of House Bill 2, there are sections starting with 309 that reduce fees – they reduce fees for things like the rooms and meals operator license renewal fee, transfers of animals and birds, condominium act application fees, marriage license fees – that's one of my favorites that we're reducing. So, what I'm saying, Mister President, is that my plan does not increase fees. It takes away the reduction of fees. We decided that that didn't make sense in other contexts: the cigarette tax; we didn't decrease that fee – the gas tax; we didn't decrease that fee. Let's not decrease these fees. And, frankly, I think it's a small amount of money that's going to make a huge difference. It made sense in those other areas, and it makes sense here. Thank you, and as such, I ask for your support for this amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White for a question of Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. Out of this $206,000 you're proposing, you said that this would fund Planned Parenthood centers as well as community healthcare centers. Do you know what the percentage breakdown would be between the two of them; how much to Planned Parenthood versus how much to the community healthcare centers?

SENATOR HOUDE: I don't Senator White. Thank you for the question. It may be on a prorated basis. I could certainly get you the answer to that, though. I don't know it off the top of my head.

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

Replace paragraph 127 with the following:

127. Makes certain appropriations for the department of resources and economic development which shall be a charge against the state park fund established in RSA 216-A:3-i.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I'll wait for everybody to get it.

Mister President, this amendment takes Cannon Mountain and restores it to its original position. It replaces paragraph 127 with the following: "Makes certain appropriations for the department of resources and economic development which shall be a charge against the state park fund established in RSA 216-A:3-i."

We've had lots of discussions about Cannon Mountain and the privatization of Cannon Mountain. Cannon Mountain is one of the great natural resources we have in the State of New Hampshire. For the past two years, Cannon Mountain has been managed magnificently by an individual who's put his heart and soul into making Cannon Mountain the attraction that we all believe it could be. It's one of the last public venues that we have – public venues – for skiing. And now, with the completion of the entire package, with the purchase and development of Mittersill, we have a complete package in a park that's really dedicated to the veterans of the State of New Hampshire, but really dedicated to all of the people of the State of New Hampshire. It's a gem. And, when you look at the park in its entirety, it not only includes Cannon, but it includes the Flume and all of the things that are so attractive to us as we drive up 93 and enter that park.

Cannon's had two very, very good years. My family uses Cannon; they consider it one of the great ski areas in our state. Affordability and accessibility are things that we are very proud of in New Hampshire. We try to keep the prices as low as we can so that citizens of the state who enjoy the winter activities can take advantage of them. It's a good family environment; it's a good family venue; it's something that we should treasure. It's a beautiful situation. Privatization, at this time, really doesn't make sense to me. It's a treasure that we really should hang on to, and we should cherish. We had a lot of testimony about this during the monetization hearings; we had more testimony on this during the budget negotiations. But, it's a gem that we should keep.

You know, jewels are very, very valuable in this life. And, one of the things you like to do is hold on to the jewels, because the jewels have enormous value to the family. And, the family is the State of New Hampshire. It's all of us; all of us own a piece of Cannon Mountain. All of us can enjoy Cannon Mountain: We enjoy the tramway; we enjoy skiing; we enjoy the summer activities. That's New Hampshire; that's part of us. It's the part of New Hampshire that we cherish; it's the part of New Hampshire we don't want to give away; it's the part of New Hampshire that all of us have, I think, have to love and be very, very respectful of. With this amendment, we maintain our Cannon Mountain. It's something that I believe in, something that we should do, and hopefully others here will be of the same opinion. Once you give something away, you can never call it back, because it never looks the same. After it's gone, you may pine about it, but it never comes back the same way. We've spent money on Cannon Mountain; people have enjoyed Cannon Mountain; our youngsters enjoy it; our adults enjoy it. It's a jewel of the State of New Hampshire. I don't think New Hampshire is in the business of giving its jewels away. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. As somebody who knows Franconia Notch State Park pretty well, having climbed all of the seven 4,000-footers that are serviced through Franconia Notch State Park multiple times, I think I can speak from a little bit of experience about how beautiful it is, how wonderful it is, and how nothing will change if a private company runs the ski area, providing we do our homework and make sure that when Cannon is leased, it's done in a way that is acceptable to the State of New Hampshire.

I thought about a month ago with all of the discussions about Cannon that it was time to take a little walk. I've climbed Cannon every way possible: up the cliffs, up the trail, and, most recently, up from Mittersill, on the ski trails. We talk about a gem that Cannon Mountain is; I was rather shocked to have seen what I consider a very lackadaisical approach in the construction and the erosion resulting of it. I'd be happy to take anybody on a tour of the mountain, or we can go upstairs and I'll give you a virtual tour on my computer. Large-scale erosion. Now, I've also climbed Saddleback and Wildcat and Waterville Valley on the trails – all run privately – I've never seen the kind of environmental problems that I saw at Cannon. Unfortunate, to say the least. I was also given the last several years' operating statements by a friend of mine who – it took him a lot of effort to get DRED to release these statements over the last five or six years. If anybody who supports this amendment can tell me why Cannon is not depreciating its capital resources and then claiming they made $1 million last year, I'd like to know. Any one of us that own a private business would depreciate. Just a conservative estimate is that probably tempers the so-called million-dollar profit by somewhere in the range of $250 to $500,000 – a wee mite of a problem. I'd also like to know from the sponsors of the amendment why in fiscal year 2008, heating, fuels, and electricity accounted for nearly $700,000 and $70,000 of like expenses in the summer, and then – perhaps it was coincidental to discussion of privatization a few years ago – that number flipped to $104,000 in the winter and $757,000 in the summer. I don't get it, except for the fact that the depreciation's not there. I'd also like to know why benefits for the ski school cost $30,000. I have another friend that I hike with that was an instructor at Wildcat this past winter; he was paid $9 an hour. So, when we talk about not giving anything away, I would say there is no better time to do this than the present. I wish that my good colleague from Manchester – and, I'd be glad to take you on a hike – I took Clara Monear on the same hike a couple of years ago and she made it; Senator, you'd make it, too. I wish you had the same passion for producing revenue for the State that you do for using surplus, because quite frankly, quite frankly, some of the worthy causes that you talk about – congregate housing, uncompensated care, sexually transmitted disease, HealthyKids, the community college, I think we all agree they're worthy causes. But, what really has convinced me that privatization is a good idea are the numbers. In 1997, prior to the lease of Sunapee, there were 110,000 skier visits per year. Since 2000, those numbers have increased to over 200,000 visitors per year, every year. And, in 2011, which was a pretty good snow winter, we had 288,000 visitors. At a time that we need to actually get that rooms and meals tax increase, Senator, you wanted to spend twice, we really ought to increase the rooms and meals tax revenue by drawing people to the State of New Hampshire who love to ski at Cannon, as I do. Last year: 131,000 skier visits in Cannon. Now is the time to let a real-world operator who will put their own money into Cannon to run it and do it right for the skiers, for the crazy snowboarders like me, and for the hikers that like to hike it, and for the forest of us that love Cannon Mountain.

I've also heard a little bit of discussion about the veterans' memorial. So, I decided after I climbed Cannon I'd go tramp around the base and see what I could find. There is a memorial for Sergeant David Stymat – he's known as "DJ" – he was a tram operator in the National Guard; he was killed in action in Baghdad. So, on the slopes above the face of the tram, and there's a beautiful plaque embedded into a stone right on the edge of Profile Lake. That's all I could find. You know, we need to do a better job of honoring our veterans if Franconia Notch State Park is for our veterans. And, I think that with all of our efforts, we ought to be able to do some of the things that have been done at our veterans' cemetery, where every service of the military has a monument. It could be done through a not-for-profit cause. We have to find the land to dedicate it. But, that has nothing to do with running the ski area. We're running a ski area now, and DJ the tram operator who was killed in action in Baghdad is appropriately honored.

This amendment funds a top priority for you, Senator D'Allesandro, something that I care deeply about as somebody who goes in the mountains pretty frequently. We take $50,000 from the proceeds and put it into the Fish and Game search and rescue fund – something that's long overdue, that's never been done; it's about time it is done so that we're not stealing money out of dedicated funds paid for by boaters, hikers – not hikers, excuse me – anglers, and hunters; it's long overdue to have this money go into the search and rescue fund.

So, I salute Senator Morse and the Finance Committee for doing this; it's long overdue. This ski area – or snowboarding area – will be better for it as Sunapee has been better for it over the last 15 years. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I rise reluctantly in support of this amendment, not because I don't believe that leasing Cannon Mountain is a good thing; I think it is. I've seen the slideshow that Senator Bradley has on his computer, and I'm very, very concerned. But, I rise for a different reason, and that has to do with a subject that Senator Bradley touched upon, and the fact that we have a war memorial on Cannon Mountain at Profile Lake.

I looked in HB 2 on page 98 on lines 32 through 34, which basically ask that any proposals received has to take into consideration and require that public and private access to and use of World War I's veterans' memorial will remain the same. I don't believe that's strong enough language. This land was bought in part by the schoolchildren of New Hampshire who saved their pennies and contributed to what they believed was a worthy cause to honor the dead, fallen soldiers from the State of New Hampshire during World War I. And, it is my understanding that there are ashes that are also scattered in that general area. I think we really need to take a look at this land surrounding the rock with the memorial and figure out exactly what constitutes this memorial. And, I do believe that we can invest and we should invest in preserving that. So, again, I would just hope that those that serve on the committee of conference will look at this language and put some stronger protections in for this particular area. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. I want to address my good friend Senator Carson's comments. I'm on page 98, line 32, and I happen to think a little opposite of what Senator Carson thinks. I think the wording is gone over, and I think it's adequate to take care of it. If I didn't think it was adequate, I wouldn't have voted for it and I would have had it changed. And, I will say this: I made a little bit of noise about it during committee, and I think the whole committee – the other six members of the committee – agreed and put this together. And, I do not think it is improperly said, and I have not had one veterans' organization call me and tell me it's not correct. So, I just want to make it perfectly clear that, in my opinion and the committee's opinion, the wording is correct to preserve that World War I monument that was purchased by the children of this state. And, if it hadn't have been, by God, I'd be up here saying: "The heck with ya! I'm not voting for it." Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Just to respond to my distinguished colleague, Senator Bradley, I commend him for his walks up and down the mountains; I think that's a wonderful thing. God bless you, and may he regard you as you walk among those mountains; you deserve it. It's with great affection that I say that.

But, I say this: I've never spent money twice; never had that opportunity. My wife thinks I'm a very fiscal conservative, and I try to be a fiscal conservative when I approach every issue. It's my belief that privatization is not always the answer; it just isn't always the answer. There are some things that we do better in the public venue, and I think the most significant thing we do in the public venue is take care of the public in need. And, that's why I think this is such an important issue. I lived in the North Country when I first started in the business of education; I taught at Kennett High School up in Conway, New Hampshire. I would go every day, and I would ski either Cranmore or Black Mountain. And, there's nothing more enjoyable to me than being out on a winter day sucking up the sun and that great clean air that you get at the top of a mountain; it's the most invigorating – most invigorating thing you feel. And, to my colleague, it's like doing a forced march of 20 miles, coming back and taking off that pack and lying on the floor of my domicile and saying: "God, I made it again." Take those deep breaths. So, this, as I say, is a very important thing for the people of our state. It's a very important thing. And, I haven't seen the financials; I'd be happy to look at them. I appreciate your going into that and looking at them. The only thing I know is this resort has received accolades over the last two years for the way it's been run. My son tells me that the locker room is 100 percent better than it was. The terrain is much better to ski. My grandchildren go; they enjoy it. My son goes with his entire family; they enjoy it. He buys season tickets because he thinks it's the right place to go; he gets a great deal of enjoyment out of it. I can think of many people who came before Senate Finance who expressed that same feeling. This is a gem for the State of New Hampshire, and we should retain it. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I want to tell you, the one thing about being Finance Chair is you carry a lot of weight, and this is one subject where it's getting heavy. The fact is, the privatization is the right thing financially; there's no doubt in my mind. I made it clear yesterday: We don't have the money to invest in the prisons that we're going to need, and we certainly don't have the money to invest in ski areas, which is the only way it's going to compete in the future, and I think the operator understands that, to be honest with you, because they saved $400,000 out of that surplus this year to invest in the capital when we probably should have paid off the 2011 debt that we still have.

But, Senator Carson, I want to make it clear that we put redundancy in this bill to make sure that when the lease document's built, everyone's involved. The reality is, if you look at Sunapee's lease, which we did, that's where the true document's built that includes everything here. But, we built a study committee with seven members, we have it reporting to Capital Budget Overview, and we have DRED involved in it. The only thing Senate Finance did, because government works in strange ways, is we removed their whole budget in 2013 in order to make sure it happens. And, that's what they're trying to add back right now. And, I can assure you, if we add it back, nothing will get done, because that's how it works around here. We're all well-intentioned, but we just don't get it done. And, I want to see something get done in several areas in this government right now – this isn't the only one – and I tried to make sure it would happen, and I tried to do it with the greatest of security, and I made sure I contacted the veterans when we were drafting this language, and Senator Barnes knows that. So, I think we've put everything we need to in this bill to protect those monuments and to protect the people in the State of New Hampshire, quite honestly, so that that asset doesn't go bad. But, I think we can do a better job, and that's what we will do when we pass this bill, not this amendment.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Larsen, seconded by Sen. Houde.

Floor Amendment to HB 2-FN-A-LOCAL

Amend paragraph II of section 220 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. The legislative accountant shall allocate the original $3,000,000 special legislative account into 4 separate and equal subaccounts. Individual subaccounts shall be established for the senate, the house of representatives, the joint offices, and the office of legislative budget assistant. Beginning in fiscal year 2012 and each year thereafter all unexpended and unencumbered appropriations shall be transferred to the appropriate subaccount. Any subaccount with a balance in excess of $125,000 at the end of the fiscal year shall transfer the excess to the general fund.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 394 the following and renumbering the original section 395 to read as 396:

395 Appropriations and Charges. In addition to any other sums appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 2013, the following appropriations and charges are hereby authorized for the following departments and agencies. Said appropriations shall be a charge against the funds as specified in the individual appropriation:

Accounting Unit	Department/Agency	Fund Source	FY 2012	FY 2013
05-95-93-9300-7100	Developmental Services
	Waitlist	General Funds	$2,500,000	$2,500,000
Total appropriations and charges as included
General fund			$5,000,000

2011-2247s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

Amend the analysis by inserting the following new paragraph:

148. Makes an additional appropriation for developmental services.

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. And, I would like to speak to Floor Amendment 2247s while it's being passed out. This floor amendment provides additional funding for the developmentally disabled waitlist. The funding would come from the balance of the non-lapsing funds from the Legislative Branch.

We as legislators succeeded in past legislation to fund 100 percent of the DD waitlist, which, as we know, provided resources and enhancements and a quality of life to those on that waitlist. So, you know, I have to assume, and I think I know, that it is the will of this body to provide services and funding for the developmentally disabled in our communities. And, I feel that even if we are able to appropriate just enough funds for one more person, even if it was just one more person – and I think you'll see the funding here is for more than one person – but even if it was for just one more person, I think it is the responsible action for us to take today. And, I think of a person like Jennifer – and I know that many of you met wonderful people in your community who spoke to you about their services and the needs for services and what the cut in this funding would do to their lives. I met Jennifer; she's trying to get through Keene State College as a student. She is in a wheelchair – wheelchair-bound. She can't walk, she can't feed herself, and she can't talk. But, she has a computer that we fund, statewide, that is in question going forward, or at least that is her story to me. And, she writes with this computer with her eyes; she looks at a letter and that's how she writes. She wrote me a letter, and it was a beautiful letter. She told me that as a child, in order to speak, because she wants to speak so badly and to communicate and express herself – and, believe me, when you read what she writes, it is very expressive – that her parents would go through the alphabet and she would nod, and that's how she learned to communicate. She is a bright woman, and she asked me if I would speak on her behalf and others like her to make sure that they can feel confident that they have the services they need that I know we all want to provide for them.

So, I offer this amendment. And, I know that it doesn't bring us up to 100 percent, but I'm trying my best. And, I ask you all to support the amendment with the non-lapsing funds from the Legislative Branch. Thank you so much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I urge you to really carefully consider Senate Amendment 2247. We have already seen that some of the developmental disabilities waitlist will be funded. But, it is apparent that while they ask for funding for 447 people on the developmental disabilities – predicted to be on the waitlist, the funding was only at 40 percent. So, 264 people who are disabled in our communities will not be served. We funded 40 percent; 60 percent go unserved. There's also, apparently, an additional 30 people with acquired brain disorders who will be unserved. We've made a halfway attempt at solving the problem of: "What do we do with the developmental disabilities waitlist?" But, we can do better. We have a lapsing legislative account of $3 million – special legislative account. We can use some of that money for developmental services and meet the needs of our most critically needy community. I think everyone here has people they know personally, people who count on the services so that they can go to work every day, so that they can care for their special needs child. There are kids graduating every year with special needs who end up aging out: aging out of the places where they get services in our schools. Without our funding the developmental disabilities waitlist, we end up with, once again, a community of people waiting for services, with parents trying to figure out how to go to work every day, and our not meeting a need that I think everybody in this state would recognize is one of our most prime responsibilities. I encourage your support for Amendment 2247 and for fully funding the developmental disabilities waitlist. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. My understanding of the account is the $3 million is already being lapsed; that would leave $3 million, potentially, for purposes of this amendment. Unfortunately, the way this amendment is drafted, as I understand it, it actually expends $5 million over two years when there's only $3 million to possibly be able to spend. I think we all know that the DD waitlist is a high priority. Why it wasn't funded in the Governor's budget or in the House budget remains a mystery to me. The Senate Finance Committee has made a good-faith effort to restore $2 million in the first year and $4 million in the second year. While I'm sympathetic to the purpose of this amendment, as it's been explained to me, there's not $5 million to lapse, and we would have a very real problem if we passed this amendment. So, I ask that we vote it down.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I just want to respond, Senator Bradley, to my understanding of this non-lapsing fund. And, I know that you would join me in wanting to be able to do this. So, this is what I'm trying to work out with all of you as my colleagues here. What I understand is that today there is a balance for $4 million, and that would be as of June 30, 2011. And so, we would have to give back $1 million, because I think that's what you're referring to, which means that for this year to 2012, we would have a leftover of $500,000, which would then go back into the year 2013, plus other non-lapsing funds throughout that year to equal the $2.5 million. And, this is what was explained to me through LBA. So, just for the record.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: I would just, in almost answer to your question, Senator Kelly, tell the body that the $3 million in question is not an annual appropriation. And, I think that's where the problem with your amendment lies, in that there's simply not enough money, as it's been explained to me.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. Yes, I would like to speak to 2246s as it's being distributed. Since I was not able to receive a majority on the previous floor amendment, I would like to bring this one forward using the same funding, which is the non-lapsing fund from the Legislative Branch. And, as I stated in that, today there is a balance of $4 million, which would be there on June 30th of 2011. We'd have to give back $1 million, because it is capped at $3 million. It leaves us $500,000, which would go into the next year. And then, throughout the next year, we would add other non-lapsing funds throughout the year from this branch, and that would give us $5 million over the next two years. And, I know that there has been a lot of work done in the Senate and Finance regarding mental health, especially after we had experienced the drastic cuts we did from the House, and I truly appreciate all of those efforts. However, we know it wasn't enough, and there are still people without service. And, I think that the cuts that we're going to be feeling are going to be picked up, as we know, by people who end up going to emergency rooms, because where else are they going to receive the care? Extra costs to emergency rooms go where? Simply, they go and increase our healthcare premiums, and I don't think that's what this body – the direction we want to go. I've done a couple – two or three ride-alongs with police officers in my district. And, they said the biggest problem that they have are the mentally ill. And, what do they do now if there aren't enough services from our community health services? They will be going to the county jails. And, I would argue that the county jails are much more expensive to taxpayers than our community health services. So, even though this funding may not bring us up to the top, again, it moves us in that direction and compensates for the funding that we don't have, even with the capitated plan that the Senate brought forward.

I also heard from many of the Senators here and in Finance as I listened to the discussions and the testimony that moving forward with the capitated program was a reform. Well, I question your definition of reform compared to mine. When I was a college student, 19 and 20 – which was just yesterday, of course – I joined the service corps, which was a group of college students who worked throughout the country, mostly in New England, and that's where I went, to work in summer camps; we actually lived in tents in the woods. And, school bus loads of the mentally ill from institutions came and stayed for two weeks at a time. And, these were people who had been institutionalized their entire life. And, they came and they lived with us. And, we hiked together, we had cookouts together, we went swimming in the lake together, and that was beginning of what I call "the reform". I'm not convinced that we've ever finished the job. But, I feel that the cuts that have been made are only moving us backwards, back to institutionalization like our hospitals, probably nursing homes, and county jails. I also was manager of a group home; it was a group home for people who had been institutionalized, as well, with a variety of handicaps. And, there was a gentleman whose name was Bob, and he had lived his life at the kitchen table until his mother passed away, and then he lived in the back of a nursing home. And, he was brought to us, and he was 55 years old. And, he was so grateful to live in a group home, to be a part of the community, to be in the community, and participate and be in a home. But, he was told that if he could not get himself from his room to the outside, he would have to go back. And, he had never, ever left a wheelchair without assistance. And, we worked with him every day, and eventually he was able to pull himself up into his wheelchair and get outside in the amount of time that it needed, and he lived the rest of his life in that group home. That's where we need to go. I am really concerned that a lot of the mentally ill in our community are going to end up in county jails or back in nursing homes if we can't fund every single bit that we possibly can find in this budget. And, I feel that this non-lapsing fund is an opportunity for us to move this just one step forward, and I truly ask for your support. Thank you so much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I spent a little time talking to my own community mental health center; Concord of course ends up being a pretty active center because of the existence of the state mental hospital here. And, talked through with them what the capitation means for them. Capitation, although it sounds good, is apparently a very slow-moving process over at the Department of Health and Human Services. They have been told that they may have to adopt some risk corridors; I've never heard of a risk corridor before. But, apparently they may have to do things like have the first four days at New Hampshire Hospital be paid for by our community mental health centers, and then for any days thereafter, they would be picked up by the State pay. But, there's no certainty yet in how this capitation process works. But, they assured me that there is incentive to serve people less. And, unlike a medical hospital that has some incentive to offer increased services, no one is over-served in mental health by most reports. The capitation encourages serving people as little as possible. And, the submission to CMS has not occurred, so there is a lot of question; we are being advised that the capitation of course is not based on the true cost of serving someone but in fact what we're willing as a state to pay. So, if costs exceed what we anticipate paying, there will be a reduction in what's available to people, which puts people more out on the street. I think all of us would recognize, particularly those of us who live in cities, there's already a huge under-served population of people in the mental health world, and there is an increased population in jails and other places where they are not getting adequate treatment. So, I rise just to support Senator Kelly's amendment and recognize that we have large and unmet needs in our mental health community which we could manage to the lapse and accomplish savings through our own legislative account and help to pay for the needs of those who are most severely in need in our state. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly for a question of Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR KELLY: Senator Larsen, would you agree that the Legislative Branch could manage to the lapse so the dollars could be there in the second year?

SENATOR LARSEN: That is the intent of this amendment, and I think it's entirely possible. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: I'd like to speak to two things. One is the legislative account. If you remember correctly, the Governor asked us to lapse the whole account – all $4 million of it – to help balance 2011. In working it out with the House, I think the prudent thing to do was to set the account at $3 million. We've put that into four different buckets: LBA, we've given them part of it; we have a general fund part of it; and then 750 to each the House and the Senate. You that have led before understand that that is not a lot of money based on the legalities that could face this body or the House during any one of the sessions. So, I think it was the prudent thing to do. And, we contributed our share of lapse to 2011.

On top of that, on mental health, I think the Senate can be very proud of its position. The House cut $26 million from the budget in mental health. The Senate insisted upon the Department coming forward with a plan, and you can use words like "capitation" and "managed care" and everything else. But, we didn't vote on this budget until the very last minute, until they came forward with a plan that we were convinced would make a difference in mental health, and we put $18 million back into that budget out of the $26 million. I think we made great strides with the Department, and we also put language in the back of the budget to make sure that they meet with us to go over their managed care implementation every time Fiscal meets. I don't think we could have put a better plan in place for a part-time Legislature that's working full-time. So, I think we've done a good job of it.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Houde, seconded by Sen. Larsen.

The following Senators voted Yes: Houde, Kelly, Larsen, D'Allesandro, Merrill.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

Amend the analysis by inserting the following new paragraph:

148. Delays the elimination of the motor vehicle registration surcharge from July 1, 2011 to July 1, 2013 and decreases the amount of the surcharge in each fiscal year.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. This amendment will reduce the motor vehicle registration surcharge to $20 in fiscal year

2012, $10 in fiscal year 2013, and eliminate it completely on July 1st of 2013. Over the biennium, this phase-out will provide $5 million to the cities and towns in betterment aid that can be used for needed road and bridge improvements. The amendment will shore up the highway fund with an additional $13 million, which will be key as we prepare to begin discussions regarding the 10-year plan. And finally, the additional revenues will free up $22 million in general funding dollars that can be used to fund some of the most pressing outstanding budgetary issues such as uncompensated care for hospitals and higher education. As many of you know, I grew up in Exeter, and the Exeter Hospital there is the place where my brother was born, my sister was born – and I was born in Florida, on vacation, and I haven't stopped working since. And, I'm working today for my district. I really have a compassion for the people at home. And, the reductions currently projected for uncompensated care reimbursements will have a huge impact on the services my hospital provides. I know that many of you have hospitals in your areas, and the people they serve need them to be there. And, the role the hospitals play in the region's economy is very vital to jobs, one of the things that we always talk about here. This amendment will allow the committee – meaning the Committee on Finance or the Committee on Fiscal, or whoever – to be able to restore portions of that much-needed spending, not only for the hospital in my district, but for hospitals around our state. And, I look at a person for higher education who graduates, he gets a job, he buys a car, he gets his insurance, he rents an apartment; he might even buy a home from HUD, because it's a great opportunity. And, without a higher education, the economy is going to have a tough time getting rolling again. So, higher education is important. And, I've just highlighted those two items: uncompensated care, higher education, our community college systems – this is why I'm bringing this amendment forward. It's going to be raised that, you know, Russell Prescott is bringing a plan forward to raise funds, and in the Exeter Newsletter it said: "Prescott plan to raise funds is scuttled." I hope today it doesn't happen. However, this happened last week when I brought it before the Finance Committee; it was scuttled. There's a phrase at the end of this by the Honorable Senator Lou D'Allesandro from Manchester: He supported Prescott's amendment. Thank you very much, Senator D'Allesandro. And, he says: "It will be brought up again." You were right! I'm looking forward to a reasonable, responsible budget, because we have the obligations at home. We ran to cut taxes, we ran to create jobs, we also ran to maintain the needs of our state. And, you could say that higher education isn't one of the neediest things in our state, but it is a need. And, there's opportunity here to phase out our surcharge on the registration of our cars, keeping our promises of cutting taxes, and an opportunity to bolster up the highway fund, taking care of our needs of our state is the safety of our roads, an opportunity to bring $5 million to our towns so that they can use it to make our roads safer and bridges safer. The other opportunity is, the highway fund, by the Constitution, can fund the Department of Safety. And, we can free up $22 million out of the general fund to take care of those neediest things in our state. Our Finance Committee and this Senate have worked so hard on the budget; unfortunately, we can do more. There has to come a line somewhere, and I've kind of said that we need to look at what the people have sent us here to do: take care of the needs of our state and also cut taxes and create an environment that builds jobs. As I said before, you graduate from college, get a job, you buy a car, you get insurance, you can even buy a house if you have a good job, and higher education is very, very important for this state and the success of our future. I am almost pleading with this Senate to say this is reasonable, this is responsible; this is something that when you go to the pump to fill up your gas and you spend $100, this is $20 once a year. I know it's more money out of our economy, but it's going back to our economy, and it's going to take care of the healthcare systems in our towns, through our hospitals, and it's going to take care of higher education and free up those funds to do it. I'm looking forward to a little bit of a debate here. If you guys would, you know, give me the opportunity to respond to anything that you have for questions about this, I would appreciate the opportunity to make this pass, because it's the right thing to do. I'm doing it because that's how I ran for office and that's how I'm going to go back to my district and say: "I've come up here to fight for you." And, I hope that you would agree with me and pass this amendment. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator Prescott, I agree with you that it makes sense to put money back to our cities and towns to be able to do betterment projects, to put monies into the highway fund and offset some of the funds that we used from general funds that are currently being used in the Department of Safety, to free those up. What I don't get out of your amendment is, you had mentioned you wanted to help the university or some of the other programs, but I don't see that in your amendment. Am I missing something?

SENATOR PRESCOTT: It would give it discretion, to...whether it's in the Fiscal Committee or the Finance Committee, or in the committee of conference's decision-making in the next couple of weeks, to use the $22 million that is freed up because the general fund is no longer funding the Department of Safety. That is how it would happen.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thanks. So, it could happen in conference committee...probably would be the next step, if we were to agree to these added funds...adding these funds back in?

SENATOR PRESCOTT: That is correct.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: And, I also believe, Senator, that in an open dialogue, on the Senate floor, is the place where we discuss this type of change in the budget. As you recall, people may be upset that the surcharge has gone up in the past; maybe it was because we weren't having a nice open dialogue in the light of day, saying: "This is what we would like to do." And, that way, people are prepared for it; they understand what is going to be funded for, and they know that it's going to go to the highway fund, they know it's going to go to the general fund, as well as back to their hometowns for the needs of our state. So, thank you very much for the question.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Rausch.)

SENATOR RAUSCH: Well, I don't think I'm going to give my 6-a speech again. But, it is in violation of Article 6-a. So, instead, I'm going to give you my analogy to heartworm disease. It starts out as a mosquito bite. It goes through a series of molts, which this will do. And, it ends up as a large, bloodsucking worm in the right pulmonary artery, obstructing blood flow to the lungs and eventually killing the host. And, that's what this is going to do; this is the bloodsucking worm that is going to stop funds going into the highway; we're not going to have an infrastructure, structure, we're not going to have roads or bridges; I say kill the mosquito now!

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: I couldn't top that if I had the rest of the day. But, I will say this: Like Senator Prescott, I ran on something, too. He talks about phasing out this tax; the phase-out that I ran on was the thing phases out on June 30th. I guess the lesson I'm going to take here is that once a tax is on the books, even if there's a sunset in it, the sunset turns into either Antarctica or Alaska, and it goes on forever. It's time to let go of this money. This thing was wrong, as Senator Luther testified earlier in the day; it seems like it was hours ago. A lot of noise about this when I campaigned. And, this Senator is going to make sure that this tax goes away on June 30th, right on schedule.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: If I believe that the highway fund was going to be increased by $17 million, would I not vote for this amendment?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: If you are in favor of the amendment, you'll be voting "yes"; if you oppose the amendment, you'll be voting "no".

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

Floor Amendment to HB 2-FN-A-LOCAL

Amend the bill by inserting after section 394 the following and renumbering the original sections and effective dates accordingly:

395 Retirement System; Political Subdivision Costs; Expenditure Authorized. On or before August 30, 2012, the state treasurer upon approval of the fiscal committee of the general court may expend funds on a one-time basis in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2013 should retirement reforms not produce savings in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2012 that match a 25 percent state contribution towards retirement costs for political subdivisions in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2012. Said amounts shall be distributed to political subdivisions, and may be paid on the warrant of the governor, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

Amend the analysis by inserting after paragraph 147 the following new paragraph:

148. Requires distributions to political subdivisions if specified retirement system savings are not realized.

SENATOR BRADLEY: All right. Thank you, Mister President. I've got to do my duty, and I apologize for breaking the rules. David Ortiz just hit a homerun; it's now 4-4. And, our mission today should be to take that tie off Senator Barnes. That's the misery tie when the Red Sox lose, but it's tied 4-4 right now.

Let me briefly describe this amendment with several other cosponsors, and really credit Senator Boutin for bringing this issue to the Finance Committee and to all of us as Senators. This amendment makes it very clear that if the retirement reforms are such that they don't match the 25 percent aid that cities and towns expected, that the Treasurer may, on the approval of the Fiscal Committee – so, it is discretionary, and given the discussion that we had today about the so-called “surplus”, it should stay discretionary – may make a contribution to the cities and towns to make up the difference for any shortfall in that account. So, that's what this amendment does. It keeps our promise to property taxpayers over and above anything else, that as a result of what we're doing here, both in Senate Bill 3 and in House Bill 2, that rates for retirement... We'll do everything we possibly can to ensure that they do not go up, and in fact they should come down.

It is important to adopt this amendment today, quite frankly, to send a pretty strong signal from this body to our friends on the other side of the wall that we're serious about passing Senate Bill 3. The games that are being played by our friends on the other side of the aisle... Enough is enough; pass Senate Bill 3. This will help us send a strong signal that it's time to do so.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR WHITE: Senator Bradley, part of the reason you brought this amendment, as I understand it, is, do you think we're in danger of perhaps not being able to come to a conclusion on Senate Bill 3 with the House?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Well, thank you for the question. The landscape keeps changing in every meeting of the committee of conference, unfortunately. And, some issues that are of ancillary concern, I think, in particular part-time employees and a so-called “spiking formula”, seem to have created a bee in the bonnet of certain House members, and we just haven't been able to resolve them. And, I am increasingly concerned that heels are getting dug in by our friends in the House and that we need an amendment like this with the balance of Senate Bill 3 that is in House Bill 2, including two of the provisions that the House insisted on: the higher employee contribution rates for Group II members as well as changes to the special account that would move that money into the balance of what's known as the corpus. We have made every effort to try to blend a position that is in the best public interest to everybody involved, and yet it seems that we're having difficulty.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White for a follow-up question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR WHITE: Was it not part of the House's plan to keep the towns whole, you know, with the 25 percent that the Governor had removed back in February during his Budget Address, was it not part of the House's plan that either SB 3 or its companion, the House's 580, had to pass in order to accomplish this lack of downshifting, and if we lose that bill in conference, are we in trouble with what they intended?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Yeah, we would be in trouble with what the House intent has been.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in favor of this amendment. This does keep one of my promises, taking care of the needs of our state, not downshifting the costs of the retirement system, which all that does is just increase our property taxes in the towns where I live. I know that this amendment is the last moment and the last minute, but I understand the urgency of just being able to work on our feet in a time when we need to take care of the needs of our state. This was never talked about in a public hearing; this wasn't talked about in a time when we could have enough time to make a decision slowly. However, based upon commitments I've made to the people at home and the people that I've talked to over and over and over again about SB 3 and the retirement, I don't think I've worked harder at home on any subject other than retirement reform. And, this amendment is going to keep whole the people at home in terms of a tax problem when they get their tax bills on their property. If we don't pass this, then I think that we've dug too deep a hole in the trials that we are trying to get done, trying to pass, legitimate reform for our retirees, because we need to make sure we shore up our retirement system, and without making sure that the people at home are understanding it's not going to impact their property taxes, I think we've really hurt our chances of getting retirement reform completed. These are the promises I've made at home; I've been in meetings with Troopers, fire, police, and also the unions at home. I believe this is the right thing to do. And, like I said, this is probably what I've worked hardest on and one of the greatest commitments I've made to my district is this amendment. And, it is quick; it's fast. But, it needs to be done, and I'm going to be prepared to vote for it, as I was prepared to vote for my last amendment, to keep my promises to my district. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Senator. Thank you, Mister President. Thank you, Senator Bradley, for taking the question. I understand the point that's being made with respect to, in part, negotiating with the members across the hall. But, we heard a lot today, earlier, about the fact that 2011 isn't balanced yet; we've heard some concern that all of the funds that might exist in the rainy day fund at the end of 2013 would be going to the uncompensated care allocations. And, so I'm just curious where this fits into the priority list of things should there be any money that exists in 2013.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Very good question. Clearly, on line 5 of the amendment, the word, "may" is used, not "should" or "shall". We've had debates about “may”, “should”, and “shall” quite a few times this session. It doesn’t set a priority. What it does is authorize the possible expenditure of funds should it materialize. In my view, if we pass Senate Bill 3 with the current understanding – especially that we have accepted the House position on employee contribution rates – that we’re going to have kept our commitment to the cities and towns. So, to a certain extent, this is belts and suspenders. The reason why it says “may” and not “shall” is that, similar to all the other conversations we’ve been having this morning about the rainy day fund, about the possible $35 million, about fiscal year ’11 not being balanced, it should stay as “may”.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Senator.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you. This is somewhat of a “Sophie’s Choice”, because I was on city council for eight years, and I know, and came here with the express intent of keeping property taxes low. But, the more I’ve thought about this amendment, the more I see problems with it that may in fact lock us into long-term problems. We have been spending the past few months trying to offset employer cost increases. But, what about employee cost increases that we are forcing on our employees? But, the real issue, too, is if you’re going to set priorities for what you spend money on, would this be what you want to spend your money on? If we come upon a scenario – say an injunction ties up Senate Bill 3 and all those savings that the budget incorporates. Then we use all of our rainy day funds to offset and send it back to cities and towns. My priorities might be, at the end of that time, to look at the DD waitlist and see what there are families waiting, or look at the university and say: “We’ve seen your costs go up and tuition so dramatically”; to look at the CHINS situation and see children who are not being served, or look at our adoption problems, or Alzheimer’s care, our women’s healthcare, our uncompensated care. If we put this language in, I am concerned that it could mean there would be a lot of pressure to put all of what could be excess funds into offsetting employer cost increases while not addressing the most serious needs. So, I was tempted by this, but I think I cannot support it. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR WHITE: In an effort to get Senator Larsen on board with this, could we perhaps answer this question and maybe alleviate her concerns: Is there anything in this bill that would prevent the conversation that she just mentioned, that we would have about priorities, about the DD waitlist, about uncompensated care, all the things we’ve discussed... Since she used the word “may”, wouldn’t we be able to have that conversation; isn’t this just enabling legislation?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Yes, I believe you’re correct, Senator White. And, quite frankly, in the absence of this authorization to be able to consider making this expenditure, it would not happen. So, this allows us to consider it in the future.

Recess. Out of recess.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I just wanted to clarify, as a result of the questions that we’ve had, what my concern is with this amendment is not that we would be making a provision – even a permissive provision – for giving funds back to taxpayers; who wouldn’t support that? It’s that it does so, apparently, at the exclusion of the other options that we talked about today, such as uncompensated care, and other things that I'd like to show equally reflected as a priority. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I think there are two things that concern me about this amendment. First of all, I think the Senate, in its position, and through its Chair of its Finance Committee, has said: "This is what will happen to funds at the end of the biennium." And, he specifically laid out a plan. This does two things that concern me. First of all, the permissive language, and secondly, we as legislators have always complained that in the absence of the legislative body, we give ten people the right to make key decisions with regard to the State of New Hampshire. That complaint has been heard over and over again. Here we are saying, not only make a decision, we're saying: "You may make this decision, and this decision would specifically do this." I think that's inconsistent with good policy at this point. We've had a committee that's worked diligently to put a budget together. We've had sentiments expressed as to what would happen to the revenue stabilization account if and when the revenue stabilization account occurs. I think this is contrary to that mission and contrary to the work that has been done. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Boutin, seconded by Sen. Houde.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Groen, Sanborn, Odell, White, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, Morse, Prescott, Stiles, Bragdon.

Yeas: 19 - Nays: 5

Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Mister President, I don't think they need an introduction; we thanked them earlier, but they were probably too busy still working on everything that everyone here has asked them to do. But, this is the Legislative Business Office, and we – they've done an incredible job in supporting you as Senators and supporting the Senate Finance Committee during this most difficult time. The reality is, many of us stayed here 'til 8 or 9:00 last night just to work out that last issue that we debated. And, I can tell you, I honestly believe our budget is balanced before we drafted that amendment, and that that amendment only supports the Senate's position on retirement, which we asked the House to get done by the time we finished this budget. And, we've done other prudent things in here, and I think that was prudent. And, LBA worked with us last night to make sure that was done, and other people stayed 'til almost midnight to make sure things were done. So, I want to thank Jeff and his staff for an incredible job. It's not going to be any easier in the month of June, I can tell you; we're already hearing rumblings. But, we appreciate everything you've done for us, truly. Thank you.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Thank you all very much.

Sen. D'Allesandro offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment to HB 2-FN-A-LOCAL

Amend the bill by inserting after section 394 the following and renumbering the original section 395 to read as 396:

395 Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Community Based Care Services, Bureau of Behavioral Health, Services in Region 6. The department of health and human services shall contract with the community mental health provider designated under He-M 426.04 to provide all Medicaid services to Medicaid-eligible persons with severe mental illness and severe and persistent mental illness in region 6, for all such persons that the community mental health provider provides residential support services to, as of July 1, 2011. The sum of $1,650,000 shall be allocated from accounting unit 05.95.92.920010.7010 (general funds) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2012 for this contract.

Requires the department of health and human services to contract with a certain provider to provide Medicaid services to Medicaid-eligible persons with severe mental illness in region 6 and allocates moneys for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2012 for such contract.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I rise as a cosponsor along with Senator Morse of Amendment 2268. While it's being passed out, let me say that we have labored over this particular situation, really from the beginning of the budget process. And, we were told repeatedly that this situation was taken care of a number of times. Through the process, we eliminated section 31 of House Bill 2, which would have, in essence, crippled Harbor Homes. It was eliminated. And, again, our premise was, in eliminating that section, we would be taking care of Harbor Homes. I've talked with the Chair of Finance about this on numerous occasions; we've come up with a solution to this situation; that solution is before you in this amendment: Amendment 2268s. This amendment does not ask for any new money. It takes appropriated money and moves it in the proper direction. Harbor Homes was established in 1980. Harbor Homes has been providing services for homeless, for people in need of Medicare services, for people who have severe mental problems. It has been providing this service from 1980 to the present day. It specifically addresses veterans. It has two such establishments within the confines of Harbor Homes that caters to veterans. And, I think it's very important that we recognize that because of the serious problems veterans have on returning from Iraq, from Afghanistan, and from other posts around the world. We know those problems are severe; Harbor Homes deals with those problems. They have been dealing with them; they have been using HUD to get Section 8 vouchers; they have been using Medicaid to combine with this to make this program work. As a result of that, people are being served; they're being served well. They're recognized by HUD as doing outstanding work; they're recognized in the community for doing outstanding work, and without this amendment, that could be jeopardized. Now, my two colleagues from the Nashua area, I'm sure, are aware of Harbor Homes, aware of the service that's being done, and what would happen – the catastrophic events that would happen if indeed we didn't take care of this. So, I have to be especially, especially thankful to my colleague, Senator Morse, for working with me, and, I must say, working tirelessly, because as I said, there were times when we said it was done, it was done, it was done, and it wasn't done. So, this makes it done, and it takes care of a situation that needed taking care of. I ask you to support this amendment and move it forward. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther for a question of Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Senator, I've met with them at Harbor Homes; they do great work. Can you explain to me – I'm looking at the language here; I'm trying to understand where this money exactly is coming from.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you for the question, Senator Luther. We have appropriated monies in that particular account that's been funded – that's all that says, that that money goes in the proper direction and is matched with Medicaid so that these services can continue to be rendered. But, the money's already appropriated; there's no new money here.

SENATOR LUTHER: Okay.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Yeah, and I want to make that perfectly clear; there's no new money. But, I think what happened in the Senate – you know, we're pretty honorable people here, and we were challenged to the fact that when we met on a Thursday with the public, over a month-and-a-half ago now, we were told that Harbor Homes was going to be in the budget; they did the best job of coming and speaking. We did not lobby for one group at all in this budget; we sent them all to the Department. But, when I talked to the lobbyists, I told them that I was told both by the Department and by other authorities in this building that this group was going to live on. Then, about a week ago, the Senate was faced with the fact that nothing was done, and it all of the sudden became a Senate problem with an appropriation, which wasn't going to happen, because the budget was closed. So, what the Senate did was they struck some lines from the budget that allowed the Department to eliminate this group, and now, what Senator D'Allesandro has worked with me on is changing some of the funding for the next year. We're not interrupting managed care, which kicks into gear next year in July; this brings them to that point. I would hope they can work their issues out between now and then. I would have hoped they could have worked their issues out before this, but we've all received letters in Senate Finance in the last day from federal sources telling us that they haven't worked their issues out. So, this is our way of making it happen. So, I think Senator D'Allesandro has done a great job of bringing this forward, and I support this totally.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Barnes, seconded by Sen. D'Allesandro.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Houde, Groen, Sanborn, Odell, White, Kelly, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Larsen, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, D'Allesandro, Merrill, Morse, Prescott, Stiles, Bragdon.

The following Senators voted No: (None).

Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. As we wrap up this budget process, it's probably good, again, to look at the good, the bad, and the ugly. This House Bill 2 – I was spending some time trying to find the good. I guess my happiest moment's when I come upon that we adequately fund education and keep our education funding fairly level. It's good that we fund kindergarten and found a way to continue that process so that we keep our obligations to educating our youngest to succeed in school.

It was easier to find the bad and the ugly. The bill repeals juvenile prevention and incentive grants, it eliminates alcohol abuse prevention and treatment funds set aside from liquor revenues, the retirement special account is fully emptied in order to offset employer responsibilities. Now, by emptying the special account, that means in fact that there will no longer be cost of living increases to any retiree, particularly those elderly teachers who have needed those cost of living increases. And, the thought that we will somehow put general funds into a cost of living increase is pretty slim these days. We've certainly debated Cannon Mountain and the lease; that's in House Bill 2, as well. We've increased medical costs for retirees and required them to pay in more. Now, these are the same retirees who are not going to have any cost of living increases. I received one accounting from a retiree in Portsmouth who's showed with just a certain percentage of cost increases annually their retirement costs are going to increase, but they won't have an accommodating cost of living increase to help offset those costs.

Some of the ugliest things: the suspending of funding for the DD waitlist, raising the health insurance costs for employers by taking uncompensated care funds and using them for general funds. The bill leaves 800 children and families with no HealthyKids insurance, even though they're willing to pay 100 percent of the cost. The bill still leaves a number of kids under the CHINS program, and the bill suspends family support services, Alzheimer's funding, congregate housing, RSVP program for retired senior volunteers, and the foster grandparents. That's just a list of some of the reasons why House Bill 2 is not one which I can support, and I think the bad outweighs the good. Thank you.

SENATOR LUTHER: Yes, thank you, Mister President. Well, I know we may – and, I just want to make a quick comment on HB 1 and 2. I know this is – we sort of already did HB 1. But, we may disagree on some issues, but I think on unbalance, this is the most severe downturn in the economy that we have had since the Great Depression. And, as a freshman, I look at the amazing work that was done in the Finance Committee, where our Governor zeroed out developmental disability and Finance was able to put millions of dollars back into that, basically helped the most vulnerable people in the population. And, I sit in incredible respect and regard for what the Chairman of the Finance Committee has done and the Finance Committee as a whole, and I just want to applaud them for the amazing work that they've done.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I think that there are a couple of things that we should note that speak to the Senate as a body, and the quality of the Senate, and the reason why I as a public servant can say to you: "I'm doing what I love, and I'm loving what I do." Now, I don't agree with everything that was done. But, let me tell you the one thing that makes me feel good about being a New Hampshire State Senator. When people heard the public hearing on our budget, people came up to the Chair and they came up to me and they said: a) "We were treated with courtesy; that didn't happen to us on the other side. You were courteous to us, you listened to us, and you let everybody speak." We extended the afternoon session and we extended the evening session so that everybody had a chance to speak. I mentioned Roberta was there. Roberta's at every budget hearing that I have ever been at, and I've been around here a long time. Roberta was one of the last people released from the Laconia State School. Roberta has a little part-time job here in the City of Concord. But, Roberta comes, and we listen to Roberta. And, we listen to a woman who was cast away – who was thrown away. And, that's how we used to treat these problems: We'd ignore them and hide them. But, we didn't do that. Roberta got to speak. And, she's very proud of the fact that she gets to speak, and she gets to express her concerns. That only happens in the New Hampshire State Senate. That's the wonderful thing about the process. We try to help people. Do we do enough? Some people will say yes, other people will say no. The fact that we listened is the key. Changes were made; that's the second important ingredient. What's left undone is the challenge that all of us must face as we leave this body, as we go back to our districts, as we go back to our homes. What undone can be done as we move forward? And, that's the challenge that we all face. But, they key word as we leave here having disagreed, but not being disagreeable. We live to fight another day, we respect one another, and we give people the opportunity to express their concerns. That's the purpose of democracy; it's the purpose of a legislative body. It's why we're here. It happens every two years; this, a very, very difficult period. But, let me say that we did it; the process is not over, but the respect that we paid to the people of the state is fundamental, and when people walk out of here, whether you're for it or against it, the most important thing is that I've been heard; my voice has been heard, and I recognize that one voice can make a difference. It can make a difference in our lives and in the lives of the people we serve. This goes on to the next step; the next step will again be brought back to us. But, I say this without one moment's hesitation: The courtesy extended by this body to the people who testified before this body is exemplary of how the democratic process works. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I'm only going to speak for a moment. I just want to sum up: I am not going to be able to support HB 2; I'm going to oppose it. I believe that a budget – any budget: a business budget, a nonprofit business budget, a family budget – all of those that I've certainly put together in my lifetime – reflect our goals and our values and our purposes. I also believe that the State budget needs to do the same; it needs to reflect what I believe is most important to the people of New Hampshire, and I believe that jobs and growing the economy is the priority. The cuts to the university system and the community college are not, in my mind, nor do I see them, as pro-business, and I see them as having a negative effect and impact on our economy and on job creation. I've always believed that the purpose of government was to provide the tools and the resources so that individuals can take care of themselves, each other, and their communities, and I believe that education and training is that resource. As well, I am concerned about meeting the needs of those who look to us for assistance in order to live a life of dignity and respect and need government's assistance to do that. Senator Morse has correctly stated on a number of occasions that numbers do not lie, and he's right, because those numbers are real. I think he would also agree, and just as important, that there are people behind those numbers, and they are real. We are in this economic recession not because of a history of state spending and not because we have not produced in the past a disciplined State budget, but because of a national recession. And, we can debate the cause of this recession, but we cannot debate the fact that the mentally ill, the disabled, our educators, our firefighters, and our police officers did not cause this recession. Yet, I see this budget, as proposed, asking them to make too many sacrifices to balance the budget. And, for these reasons, I cannot support HB 2. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. Today, I am fulfilling, in voting for this budget, a promise that I made to my constituents back home, in promising that we would live within our means. And, the examples that I used during the time I was running for office and that many of my constituents reiterated to me was that New Hampshire citizens have to live within their budget. Some make more money than others, but all have to live within their budgets. And, on a home budget basis, my wife and I have seven children, we've had times where we had to cut back on what we thought were essential needs: We homeschooled our children. We liked to budget about 5 to $600 dollars a year to educate four to five homeschoolers at a time. Big budget, but we managed it somehow. There were times when we couldn't spend that much; we had to cut back. And, my wife would go to the library and pick up books or do other things; she'd borrow them from friends. We had to cut back. In the last two years, in our business – I have a small business, and it's in construction, and I think everybody knows that construction is tough. A year ago, we had a 15 percent across the board pay cut, and myself, personally, a 50 percent pay cut. I'm not complaining; we went into the business knowing it was a risk. But, we had to take and make the appropriate cut at the time. And, with confidence, I believe that times will turn and things will get better. But, we had to live within a budget. I'm very proud of what we're doing today as a Senate; we promised our constituents that we would live within the budget and not pass our desire to spend more to the citizens that we serve, and we're keeping that promise, and I'm proud of you guys. Thank you very much.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass as Amended.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: We have thanked an awful lot of people this afternoon: staff that helped Senator Morse prepare the budget, the LBA. I think on the hottest day of the year, we deserve to thank all the remaining staff that we haven't thanked, a great deal of thanks to our two Pages who are here today, wonderful Clerk's staff, the fourth estate, our Sergeant-At-Arms, our Doorkeeper, and all our friends in the gallery! Thank you very much for all your hard work today.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Boutin.)

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. I don't know if this is a Rule 44, Rule 2-17...I don't know whether it's in order or out of order. But, I would like to ask the President if we could have the remarks of Senator D'Allesandro printed in the permanent journal.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BARNES: What's the score?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Well, we passed the budget, Jack, but we're losing 5-4 in the top of the ninth. But, there's always hope. J.D. Drew will be up in the bottom of the ninth.

Without objection President Bragdon moved that all Rule 2-17's shall be entered into the permanent Journal of the Senate.

COMMERCE

HB 276-FN, relative to wine manufacturers. Ought to Pass, Vote 4-0. Senator Prescott for the committee.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 276-FN Ought to Pass. This will permit wine manufacturers to sell wine at annual fairs or similar events. It also will eliminate the requirement that wine provided as samples by a wine manufacturer be purchased from the liquor commission.

The Committee received no testimony in opposition to the underlying bill. HB 276 was Recommitted to committee a couple weeks ago so that we could hold a public hearing on Amendment 1888s, which would have established an auction permit, allowing the permit-holder to ship wine sold at auction into the state. The Committee was split on the last-minute amendment due to concerns that it could include unintended consequences. The Committee suggests that stakeholders introduce the amendment as a stand-alone bill next session so that it can get a full vetting by the Legislature.

Please join the unanimous Commerce Committee and vote Ought to Pass on House Bill 276-FN before it went back to committee. Thank you very much, Mister President.

Sen. D'Allesandro offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment to HB 276-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to wine manufacturers and relative to auction houses.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 4 the following and renumbering the original section 5 to read as 6:

5 New Section; Auction Permit. Amend RSA 178 by inserting after section 17-a the following new section:

178:17-b Auction House.

I. The commission may issue a permit to any person authorized as an auction house in this state or any person currently licensed in its state of domicile as a public auction house. The holder of any permit under this section shall be authorized to auction wine to individuals and licensees. Auction shipment applicants shall be subject to all requirements under RSA 178:3.

II. An auction permit holder may ship directly to New Hampshire consumers over 21 years of age in packages clearly marked "Alcoholic Beverages, adult signature (over 21 years of age) required." All shipments shall be made by a licensed carrier or other carrier approved by the commission, and such carriers are required to obtain an adult signature. Any shipments made to a person less than 21 years of age, shall be guilty of a class B felony and shall have such permit revoked. No auction houses or carriers shall ship into any New Hampshire city or town where alcoholic beverages are not lawfully sold or prohibit direct shipments of wine.

III. No auction house shall ship any wine to a New Hampshire resident that is currently approved for sale within the state of New Hampshire. No licensee shall purchase or sell wine at an auction house without first obtaining written approval from the commission.

IV. Except with written permission from the commission, no auction house shall ship not more than 12, 9-liter cases or equivalent of wine to any one New Hampshire consumer in any calendar year.

V. For the purpose of this section, an in state auction house may obtain wine to be auctioned from within or outside of New Hampshire. All wine shall be shipped directly to or delivered to the auction house for auction.

VI. In addition, auction houses shall pay a fee of 8 percent of the auction hammer price of the wine shipped to any one New Hampshire consumer not to exceed $400.

VII. Auction houses shall file a report on or before the tenth day of each month in which a shipment was made and pay the additional fees provided in section VI, covering all shipments by the auction house made during the preceding calendar month. Such reports shall be made in a manner and form required by the New Hampshire liquor commission division of enforcement and licensing. Shipping records shall be maintained for at least 3 years by the auction house.

VIII. The New Hampshire liquor commission may assess a $250 penalty for failure to report to the commission any shipment.

IX Upon notification by authorities in another state which imposes a reciprocal enforcement policy, a New Hampshire permit holder making illegal direct shipments to consumers in said state shall be subject to action by the liquor commission.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Permits wine manufacturers to sell wine at annual fairs or similar events.

II. Eliminates the requirement that wine provided as samples by a wine manufacturer be purchased from the liquor commission.

III. Establishes an auction house permit.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Amendment 2254s – I want to be brief with regard to this amendment. It's actually a revenue producer. It was supported by the wine industry, supported by the liquor commission, and supported by everybody who came and testified for it. It's the same amendment that we had.

I have some comments here from the liquor commission. New Hampshire currently receives no known revenue whatsoever from wine sold at auctions throughout the country. This measure will permit New Hampshire to participate, regulate, and grow the wine auction market, while at the same time generating additional revenue. Only wines not available in New Hampshire can participate in the program, to introduce exclusive and collectible wines currently not available to the New Hampshire market. The fine wine and wine collectible market is one of the fastest-growing segments in the wine industry worldwide. New Hampshire is long known for its innovations; it has not participated in the prosperity and opportunities of this market. This proposed provision balances the need for appropriate enforcement and regulatory controls with a business-minded perspective to the marketing of finer and more exclusive wines. The proposed wine auction amendment would permit many of New Hampshire's finer restaurants and hotels who are seeking rare and fine wines to obtain them without a prohibitively high level of taxation or fees. As I said, everybody supported this amendment; it did get a hearing. I realize it came about late in the game, but a) it's a revenue producer; b) everybody supports it; c) it's good for New Hampshire, and at a time when we need good things, it seems to me we ought to move them forward. Anybody who's opposed to good things happening, I have a problem with. That, Mister President, is my sentiment on this amendment. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: You may not be as rosy as Senator D'Allesandro was.

SENATOR SANBORN: Well, I'll never be as rosy as the good Senator, because he just has a gift of gab and a way with words. But, if my understanding is correct, as I read this, this is the exact same amendment which was not unanimous when it was in the Commerce Committee. We have significant fundamental problems with this amendment, which is why we voted it down in Commerce. By limiting the amount of taxation and revenue – although any revenue's better than no revenue, Senator; I completely agree with that – this cuts a special deal, which shouldn't be happening. It provides the ability for the liquor commission to begin holding auctions. As most of us believe in free markets, if the auction companies want to come to New Hampshire, they should come. But, I'm not sure it's yet another venture that our state liquor commission should be operating in. It was last-second then, it is last-second today. We have firmly expressed what Senator Prescott has said, Senator White will say, and others, that virtually every paragraph of this amendment actually needs real work to make it good. And, we've asked that it be Re-referred and be returned to us next year, and we can look at it on its merits. But, as someone has said before, this is legislation that is before its time. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Not everybody's for this, Senator D'Allesandro, because I rise in opposition, as well. I've got to tell you that this was the only time this year that I felt somewhat abused as a committee member. I don't mind coming up here in the snow, I don't mind coming up here in the heat, I don't mind coming up here in the rain. But, the fact of the matter is, this bill had been banging around in the House for a couple of months; it had been banging around in our committee for a couple of months. And then, when we were ready to bring it to the floor, on Tuesday night, in caucus, an amendment shows up. And so, the suggestion is: "Bring it back to the Committee." I was offended that we had to bring it back to the Committee. The time had come and gone. I hate to oppose a bill just on process alone, but just on that alone, it was inappropriate to have this, regardless of the merits, and then it did need some work on top of that. So, I am opposed, so there is at least one person in the State of New Hampshire who is opposed to this bill – I'm that guy – and I would ask you to not support this amendment.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Odell.)

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. I, too, am opposed to this from a standpoint of revenue, fairness, and equality. There's a man sitting in a jail cell in New York State who was from New Hampshire – ran Tyco. And, what did he try to do? He tried to send a painting he bought for hundreds of thousands of dollars to New Hampshire because he wanted to escape the tax on sales in New York. And, what happened? That painting wasn't in that box that came to New Hampshire; the painting went to his fancy apartment. Remember the shower curtain at $8,000? What this bill does is, I would have to go out and buy all my Cabot at $9.99 for a 1.5 liter, get up to $5,000 before I could escape the tax. But, somebody who's wealthy, or a fancy restaurant, can go out and buy a $5,000 bottle of wine, and anything above it then becomes non-taxed. How can we tax some people, like me, struggling to buy my Cabot Pinot Grigio at $9.95 per 1.5 liter, and we allow other people – and we're talking about raising money; we're only going to raise the money on under $5,000 purchases and anything above that we won't tax. That's unfair, that's not right, that's not the New Hampshire way. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. De Blois.)

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to this, as well. It needs a lot of work, and we spent a lot of time on this in the Commerce Committee. This bill just isn't fair to investors. And, most of the time, when people are buying these wines at auction, they're for investment, they're not for drinking. When you spend $10,000 for a bottle of wine, you don't have it for supper. I can't afford to have it for supper! But, I think that this should be Re-referred because it needs more work at this time.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you very much, Mister President. Mister President, thank you. We're a control state; we've been an control state, really, since the Depression. So, we, the State of New Hampshire, are in charge of spirits and wine. We opened up wine to grocery stores a number of years ago and we allowed grocery stores to participate. We also had an antiquated law where you could only have one beer license; we changed that, too. We changed that so that you can have more than one beer license now; that's why we have Market Basket and De Moulas, because you could only have one license. So, they created two companies. That's pretty good business. Now we can have as many licenses as one wants. It seems to me that when we have said: a) we're a control state; b) we have liquor commissioners, and we ask them: "Do you support this legislation?" and they say: "Yes". What do we have them for? Why do we have a liquor commission if we are going to decide how to run the business? We're going to decide! We're not all entrepreneurs; we're not all liquor barons! But, we go to the liquor commission, and we say to the commissioners, we say to the head of enforcement: "Would you please tell us if you think this is the right thing to do?" And, they say: "Yes." And, we say: "Well, would you even go one step further; would you help us write the legislation, because you're going to have to enforce it?" And, they do that. Then it comes to us and we say it needs more work! Que caso? Where is the work going to come from? Where are the barons here? Where are the wine guys? Where are they? My basic training is in education; I was a teacher. I think I can help with education matters. But, I don't know any vineyard owners in here, and I don't know if we have connoisseurs of wine or not, but here's a situation where we can make some money for the State of New Hampshire. Why is it that we're all – it appears – we're against making money? When did making money become sinful? You know, when is it against common process – a common process called the entrepreneurial venture – to make money? And, we say to liquor: "We want more money! We want more profits!" We say that every year. We want more profits. We have made them an independent entity so that they can give us more profit. Is there anyone that wants to reject the profits? I don't know. But, I think – what I'm saying is, we're in a tough situation; here's a chance for us to make some money; it seems to me we ought to do it. The Commissioner's for it, enforcement is for it, the wine producers are for it. You know, I don't know; I haven't brought it up to my local priest, but I'll check with him. Thank you, Mister President.

2011-2162sAMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows a school to demonstrate compliance with the input-based school accountability standards by furnishing evidence that it has received full accreditation from the New England Association of Schools and Colleges.

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 130 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This legislation establishes an additional method of demonstrating that a school has provided the opportunity for an adequate education in accordance with the input system under RSA 193-E:3.

As amended, HB 130 clarifies that all schools will continue to participate in both the input accountability system and the performance-based system. However, if a school has received full accreditation from the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, that school will be in compliance with the input accountability system. As well, HB 130 as amended reorders the sequence of RSA 193-E for clarification of the process for demonstrating accountability for the opportunity for an adequate education.

Therefore, the Education Committee recommends that House Bill 130 Ought to Pass with Amendment and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 130

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

Amend the bill by inserting after section 1 the following and renumbering the original section 2 to read as 3:

2 School District Election Dates. Amend RSA 671:2 to read as follows:

671:2 Election Dates. School district officers shall be elected either at the town meeting as provided in RSA 671:22-26 or at an annual meeting of the district held between the dates set forth in RSA 197:1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no election for school district officers shall be held in conjunction with the biennial election. The prohibition in this section against holding an election for school district officers in conjunction with the biennial election shall not apply to the election of the board of education members of the Concord union school district as provided in 1961, 355 as amended by 1983, 123, or any successor charter thereto, or to the election of the Laconia board of education members as provided in section 9:01 of the city charter of Laconia as amended by 1975, 357.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows a school to demonstrate compliance with the input-based school accountability standards by furnishing evidence that it has received full accreditation from the New England Association of Schools and Colleges. The bill also extends an exception from the statutory school district election date requirements to any successor charter adopted by the Concord school district.

SENATOR LARSEN: I think most of you have seen this amendment, but it is one which is important for school board elections in Concord. The floor amendment will correct a cross reference error that resulted from the enactment of House Bill 1497 in the 2010 session. There was an attempt to find all references to the City of Concord school charter and to change those following a charter commission review of other issues. In essence, after the charter commission in Concord has been meeting for 11 public meetings, they submitted their report, which was a pretty much unanimous report to the Attorney General. And, the Attorney General found that there was a technical failure in the 2010 House Bill 1497 because it missed a reference to the City of Concord's charter. So, we need this assistance to be able to hold staggered three-year school board elections and to have the reference simply say that these staggered terms are offered to the Concord Union School District as provided in 1961 RSA 355, or any successor charter thereto. It was a drafting problem, a technical error, which I hope, and it sounds like there's some agreement that we can help repair this; we can help resolve the many, many public meetings held in the City of Concord as we attempt to return the school district charter to the City of Concord voters. Purely technical, and I really appreciate the assistance from a number of you and your support for this amendment.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe for a question of Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Senator Larsen. I just want to confirm...or, could you confirm that Laconia is not affected by this amendment?

SENATOR LARSEN: Laconia is not affected by this amendment.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

Amendment to HB 164

Amend RSA 193-E:2-a, IV(b) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(b)(1) The “common core state standards” developed jointly by the National Governors Association Center for Best Practices and the Council of Chief State School Officers shall not be adopted or approved, without prior approval of the general court.

(2) This subparagraph shall not apply to the English language arts and mathematics common core state standards which have been approved, in principle, by the state board of education prior to the effective date of this subparagraph.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 1 the following and renumbering the original section 2 to read as 3:

2 State Board of Education; Report on Review of English Language Arts and Mathematics Common Core State Standards. On or before December 31, 2011, the state board of education shall submit a report to the speaker of the house of representatives, senate president, and the chairmen of the house and senate education committees on the board's review of the English language arts and mathematics common core state standards and the relevance of those standards to the delivery of public education in this state.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires prior approval of the general court for the adoption, approval, or implementation of the common core state standards in any school district of this state, or as part of the New Hampshire curriculum frameworks, or as part of an adequate education. The bill also requires the state board of education to submit a report on the board's review of the English Language Arts and Mathematics common core state standards and the relevance of those standards to the delivery of public education in this state.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 164 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This legislation requires legislative approval for the adoption of the common core state standards in New Hampshire.

Currently, the Department of Education has the sole authority to adopt said standards, and this legislation would transfer the final say on the adoption of these standards, and this legislation would transfer the final say on the adoption of these standards to the General Court.

This legislation was amended to approve the adoption of the English and math standards, which have already begun to be implemented by New Hampshire schools and was previously adopted by the State Board of Education. All other parts of the common core standards must be approved by the Legislature pursuant to adoption. House Bill 164 also sets a minimum standard which can be increased and implemented at the local level to ensure local control remains in place.

Therefore, the Education Committee recommends that House Bill 164 Ought to Pass as Amended and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

Sen. Stiles moved to Lay on the Table HB 164.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Forsythe, seconded by Sen. Barnes.

HB 429, permitting a child 16 years of age or older to withdraw from school with parental permission. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 3-1. Senator Prescott for the committee.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much, Mister President. I move House Bill 429 Inexpedient to Legislate. This legislation permits a child 16 years of age or older to withdraw from school simply with parental written-note permission. Present statute provides the opportunity for students under the age of 18 who wish to withdraw to develop an educational and long-term plan with the school administrators and, more importantly, their family, with their input.

Therefore, the Education Committee recommends that this bill be Inexpedient to Legislate because I had one of my fourth grade classes mail me handwritten letters about that thick on how they wanted to stay in school. This is kind of a signal to those fourth grade students, that staying in school is a good thing. And, if you're over 16, if you want to get out of school, there is an opportunity to do an alternate method of getting a diploma, and I'm all for that, rather than letting permission just to leave school because their parents say it's okay? I don't think that's good for our future of this New Hampshire state, because education is very important; high school diploma and on from there is what we want to have for our students to know that that's what New Hampshire Senate believes in. I hope and I pray that this Senate agrees with the Education Committee. Inexpedient to Legislate: Do not lower the dropout age. I thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition of the ITL motion. I believe this is a parental rights issue; I think I've been pretty consistent whenever we've had parental rights issues in advocating them. I think it's not good for the Legislature to drive a wedge between the parent and the child. The current law, although it does allow for moving around, so to speak, some of the rules, the ultimate decision is not left to the parent because there is a superintendent override available. So, I strongly would support an Ought to Pass motion on this bill, and would ask my Senate colleagues to do the same.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I simply rise to say this measure of all the things we did has made one of the most significant differences in education in New Hampshire. We as a state, and I think of Concord, having been here as long as I have, Concord had a dropout rate of 25 percent – Concord High. Now, most of us think of Concord being a pretty educated community, and yet that was our record not so long ago. And, we have gotten the dropout rate down below one percent because of this. Senator Boutin and I, and I understand Senator Sanborn later, attended the community technical education systems in our high school over at Concord High. Those kids were enthusiastic to be in their school; they were enthusiastic that they were getting OSHA degrees; they were getting degrees to be culinary artists. They were able to say they saw a path for both education and a career. We have many, now, alternatives we didn't ten years ago; alternatives, whether it's charter schools, whether it's alternatives in the community technical education programs, or for your own pattern of self education through some alternate education. We can get people graduated through the minimal degree of high school level such that there's some hope of those people helping themselves. It makes no sense to rescind that law, and I think we ought to be applauding ourselves, our teachers, and our communities that have helped support these kids such that that kind of a dropout rate is reduced so dramatically to under one percent. We are a model for the nation, and we should be proud of it. Thanks.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I've been a teacher for 50 years. I coached at the high school level; I coached at the college level. I've told you on more than one occasion that my basic job was convincing students not to drop out of school, to finish your high school education, and if need be, go on to college. I tried to place all of my athletes in college because I knew that it was the best path for them to take. There were parents who would say: "I want my kid out of school so that they could get a job in the mill." Well, those jobs aren't available any more; Seal Tanning has closed; the Waumbec has closed; the shoe factories are closed, where you went to work for $5 an hour. People need an education. A democratic society is built on an educated public. Parents and teachers – parents supporting their children and bringing their children the best opportunities available to them. I was on the school board in Manchester for ten years; I chaired the curriculum and instruction committee. I gave my time to my community when we had a dropout rate of 30 percent – 30 percent; three out of every ten students dropped out of school. When they drop out of school and they don't find a job, they become trouble with a capital "T". I go up to the state prison and find many of Hillsborough County's finest without a high school education, with a drug and alcohol problem, suffering. Education could have made the difference. We made a decision in this state; we made a decision. We made a courageous decision. We've left the agrarian society of the past and moved into the technological society of the 21st century. And, we said to our children: "Finish high school. There's another opportunity for you." We shouldn't be backtracking. Regression is not part of this game. If we want to go to regression, we'll go to another part of the world; they want to catch up with us. We have something that we can be proud of here. If we backtrack, then we're creating a cardinal sin. And, a cardinal sin is a grievous offense against the Lord; I got that from my Baltimore Catechism, and Sister Nathaniel would be proud of me for saying that. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of HB 429 for many of the same reasons that Senator White does. But, I do want to acknowledge, especially since there's people that worked on it, that there were a lot of good parts to SB 18. But, removing parental authority was not a good part of SB 18, and that's what this bill seeks to remedy: the ability of the parents to have the final decision. The good part is that SB 18 put a plan in place where the parents would work with the superintendent, come up with alternative learning plans that could meet the needs of that family where the school wasn't; that's an excellent part, and I think I acknowledge the comments from Senator Larsen, that that's what really has helped, I think, and also putting different programs in place. But, in the end, it's the superintendent's decision whether or not to approve that program. That works fine as long as you have superintendents that are willing to work with the parents, but when you don't, that can cause problems. The parent should be the final decider if you believe in parental rights.

HB 429 sought to keep that good portion, to keep the working with the superintendents, but then allow parents to make the decision if the parents wanted the child to withdraw. However, if this bill does fail, one of the things that I mentioned to the sponsor about this is, the way it is, you either work with the superintendent or you withdraw. They should come back and work on it to have the parent go through the process, try to work with the superintendent, and then if that fails, give them the authority to withdraw and/or appeal. So, this bill could be improved to hopefully meet some people's concerns, but I do still support this bill. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. I keep hearing about a democratic process. Well, I want to talk about a Republican process – or, something different; I'm sorry. Bottom line is: I hope you all read the Union Leader this morning. There was an editorial in there that mentioned the greatest town in the State of New Hampshire: Raymond. The superintendent was talking about the dropout rate in Raymond. The newspaper, whoever wrote that, either she didn't tell him or he didn't call me so I could tell him, this, I think, piece of legislation, that I voted against when it came on the Senate floor last time around – and, my good friend over here is giving me the smile, because he was the sponsor of that bill, or cosponsor of it; thank you very much for being a cosponsor of it. You ought to show your superintendents that article, because it shows what Raymond – what the superintendent in Raymond did to help keep your kids in school. Raymond's dropout was big – you hear all this about big dropout rates; that's the reason I sacrificed my body and ran for the school board; that's probably why Peter up there ran for school board, so he could straighten out the dropout rate in Milford. This has been a big help. I had schools tell me when I voted no, and I have two schools, I have two towns that are plaintiff towns: Allentown and Pittsfield. Both of those schools told me: "Don't you dare pass that bill; we'll have all the bozos and bozettes disrupting our classes. We have enough problems with those people now! Don't you vote for it." But, guess what? I went there two, three, four weeks ago, I talked to the Raymond school board recently, and they said: "You'd better vote for this." And, the people in Pittsfield and Allentown said: "Jack, it's working; for God's sakes, vote for it. Vote to keep it where it is." So, that's what I'm going to do. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. I would just like to refer to the parental involvement. SB 18 did bring parents into the process, to have them work with the student to complete their education. There are many, many opportunities for them to do that: They can go and take a GED, they can do extended learning opportunities, they can do internships, they can even go to work for six months, come back, and complete it through adult education, or they can home school. All of those opportunities are out there, and I can't imagine a parent in the world that doesn't want their kid to have at least a high school education.

- (7) RSA 9-C:4 Interagency Recycling and Product Purchase Committee

Amend the bill by inserting after section 15 the following and renumbering the original section 16 to read as 18:

16 State Government Waste Reduction; Procurement. Amend RSA 9-C:8 to read as follows:

9-C:8 Procurement. The division shall fulfill its responsibility as the state's procurement agency in a manner consistent with and in advancement of the policy principles of RSA 9-C:3. This shall be reflected, in part, in the division's procurement specifications and the information required from vendors and bidders. The division shall keep all state agencies that make purchases through it informed of the requirements of this chapter and shall work with such agencies ~~[and the committee]~~ in furtherance of such requirements. The division shall put in place the necessary contracts to facilitate the purchase of those materials, supplies, and products identified by the ~~[committee under RSA 9-C:4, II(b)]~~ division when they are of a type normally procured through the division, as well as other materials, supplies, and products containing recycled materials for which there is a demand. The division ~~[in consultation with the committee]~~ shall also arrange for the pickup of recycled materials, where feasible, at those state agencies that purchase through the division.

17 State Government Waste Reduction; Reporting. Amend RSA 9-C:10 to read as follows:

9-C:10 Reporting.

I.(a) ~~[The committee]~~ Each agency shall prepare a form, with assistance from the director of the division, that shall be used to report on agency success in complying with this chapter. The head or governing board of each department or other primary state agency shall complete the form to the extent that the information requested is applicable to the agency, and return it to the ~~[committee]~~ division by September 1 of each year beginning in 2009. Information concerning administratively attached agencies, as identified by the ~~[committee]~~ division, shall be included within the report of the primary state agency. The form shall require the reporting of information in sufficient detail to allow the ~~[committee]~~ division to prepare its annual report under paragraph II. When possible, the ~~[committee]~~ division shall rely upon information already recorded by the division through the procurement process.

(b) The primary state agency shall certify on such form that the agency is in compliance with each policy provision of RSA 9-C:3, I and if not, the reasons for non-compliance and the agency's plan for compliance.

II. The ~~[committee]~~ division shall submit a report on compliance with this chapter by November 1 of each year beginning in 2009 to the governor, the legislative committees of jurisdiction, the department of environmental services, and the state library that shall include, but not be limited to, both detailed and summarized information, as best can be determined, on:

(a) The waste materials that were either recycled or otherwise disposed of by state agencies during the prior fiscal year by type, quantity, disposal cost or sales revenue, and agency.

(b) Purchases made by state agencies during the prior fiscal year of those types of materials, supplies, and products identified by the ~~[committee under RSA 9-C:4, II(b)]~~ division as being available with recycled material content, by type, recycled material content, if any, quantity, cost, and agency. ~~[Where possible, the committee shall rely upon information recorded by the division through the procurement process.]~~

(c) The response given by each state agency to the certification requirement under subparagraph I(b) relative to its compliance with each policy principle of RSA 9-C:3, I.

(d) Any recommended changes to state laws, policies, or practices that would advance the policy principles of RSA 9-C:3, I, including any offered by state agencies under paragraph I.

(e) The actions taken by the division to fulfill its responsibilities under RSA 9-C:8 as the state's procurement agency.

~~[(f) The activities of the committee during the past year, including a copy of the document prepared by the committee under RSA 9-C:4, III.]~~

III. The legislative branch shall devise its own method of reporting compliance with this chapter and shall not be considered a state agency for purposes of reporting under this section.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the committee recommendation of Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 390. House Bill 390 reinstates and repeals certain boards, commissions, councils, advisory committees, and task forces, and is a request of the committee to study the list of nonregulatory boards, commissions, councils, advisory committees, and task forces established in 2009.

The amendment brought forward repealed the interagency recycling and product purchase committee and the citizens trade policy commission. This bill is a final step in a long process of reviewing chartered and statutory committees in state government. The Senate ED&A Committee will be following and assisting the review committee in tightening up procedures so that information which comes out of the statutory and study committees reaches the appropriate lines of communication, and also that the information is readily accessible.

The ED&A Committee voted unanimously in favor of House Bill 390 and asks for your support in its adoption. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 565, establishing a dental hygienists committee within the board of dental examiners. Ought to Pass, Vote 5-0. Senator Luther for the committee.

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the committee recommendation of Ought to Pass on HB 565. HB 565 moves the ball forward relative to the issue of dental hygiene that has come before the Legislature over the past several years. HB 565 establishes a dental hygiene committee to advise the board of dental examiners about issues specific to dental hygiene. The committee will have the authority to develop and propose rules related to hygiene for the board's consideration. The board of dental examiners supports this legislation and has stated that it intends to work collaboratively with this committee to bring better focus to hygiene issues. To make sure that the Legislature is updated on the progress of this collaboration, the board of dental examiners is required to issue a report on the activities of the committee by October 1, 2012. We believe that a strong dental team which values all of its members, including dental hygienists, is the most effective and efficient way to provide dental services in New Hampshire. I urge the Senate's adoption of the Committee's 5-0 recommendation of Ought to Pass. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Just very quickly, we spent a lot of time on this, and it's been an issue that's been before the Senate many other times. I would just say that dental hygienists have been shown to be a preventative force for good dental care, and maybe the force by which we can improve dental access in our state. This bill is a step forward; it's not as big as they would like us to have taken, but I think it's one which we all ought to keep an eye on, because as there are fewer and fewer dentists to treat more and more people, we know that one of the best ways to prevent severe dental problems is through good hygiene, and anything we can do to open up the doors for more hygienists to have the ability to treat helps all of us. So, I just say, in the future, we've got to keep an eye on this and keep an open mind towards improving this kind of preventative service. Thank you.

Amendment to HB 623

Amend RSA 21-I:52, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. No person shall be appointed or promoted to, or demoted or dismissed from, any position in the classified service, or in any way favored or discriminated against with respect to employment in the classified service because of the person's political opinions, religion, religious beliefs or affiliations, age, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, or race. [In addition, no person shall have any such employment action taken on account of such person's sexual orientation.] Additionally, except as provided in paragraph I-a, there shall be no preferential treatment or discrimination in recruiting, hiring, or promotion based on race, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, or religious beliefs. Nothing in this section shall require the appointment or prevent the dismissal of any person who advocates the overthrow of the government by unconstitutional and violent means. No person shall use, or promise to use directly or indirectly, any official authority or influence, whether possessed or anticipated, to secure or attempt to secure for any person an appointment or advantage in appointment to a position in the classified service, or an increase in pay or other advantage in employment in any such position, for the purpose of influencing the vote or political action of any person, or for any consideration. No employee in the state classified service shall hold any remunerative elective public office, or have other employment, either of which creates an actual, direct and substantial conflict of interest with the employee's employment, which conflict cannot be alleviated by said employee abstaining from actions directly affecting such classified employment. Determination of such conflict shall be made by the personnel appeals board after the parties are afforded rights to a hearing pursuant to RSA 21-I:58. The burden of proof in establishing such a conflict shall be upon the party alleging it. No action affecting said employee shall be taken by the appointing authority because of such public office or other employment until after a full hearing before and approval of such action by the personnel appeals board. If an actual, direct and substantial conflict of interest, which cannot be alleviated by abstention by the employee, is found by the personnel appeals board, the board must approve any action proposed by the appointing authority; and the employee shall be given a reasonable amount of time to leave the employee's public office or other employment or otherwise end the conflict before the appointing authority initiates that action.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to support the ED&A committee recommendation of Ought to Pass with Amendment on HB 623. HB 623 is a bill to clarify and protect civil rights that we all hold dear. Civil rights are violated when a person is denied equal protection under the law on the basis of his or her race, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, or religious beliefs. Such discrimination can be the result of refusal to hire a person, or such discrimination can be the result of preferential treatment of one person that violates the civil rights of another person. This bill simply states what should be obvious to all of us: that discrimination, whether by denial of the rights of a person or by preferential treatment of one person over another, has no place in New Hampshire hiring or admissions. HB 623 therefore prohibits discrimination in recruiting, hiring, promotion, or admission by state agencies, university system, the community college system, and the postsecondary education commission.

The amendment brought forth amends the wording of the existing law to be consistent with the wording proposed in the new section of the law and makes the classifications consistent with federal law.

I urge the adoption of the Committee's 4-1 recommendation of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

Amendment to HB 462-FN

Amend the bill by inserting after section 1 the following and renumbering the original sections 2-4 to read as 3-5, respectively:

2 Application. The provisions of RSA 100-A:16, III-a as inserted by section 1 of this act shall not apply to a binding contract or a binding collective bargaining agreement in effect on the effective date of this section, to the extent required by the contract or agreement, before the termination of such contract or the date on which the collective bargaining agreement terminates, or while the terms of the existing contract remain in force as a result of either the operation of law or the status quo doctrine, or a provision in the existing contract because the parties have failed to agree to a new contract or a contract extension, on or after the effective date of this section.

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 462 Ought to Pass with Amendment. House Bill 462 modifies the method of calculation of the retirement system employer assessment under RSA 100 for excess benefits paid for retirees. This bill will also phase in the required payments over a four-year period. It also creates the retirement system, put an interactive estimator on the retirement system's website so that retirement system employers can evaluate their probable cost for individual members. As amended by the Senate Finance Committee, section 1 of the bill shall not apply to New Hampshire retirement system employers with a binding contract or a binding collective bargaining agreement until termination of the agreement.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 489 Ought to Pass. This bill establishes the health information organization corporation, which will have a distinct legal existence from the State. The corporation will establish and maintain the organization for the electronic exchange of health information. This bill also requires the Commissioner of Health and Human Services to enter into a contract with the health information exchange to administer the grant for the New Hampshire information exchange planning and implementation project.

HB 490-FN, adopting the interstate compact for juveniles. Ought to Pass, Vote 7-0. Senator Forrester for the committee.

SENATOR FORRESTER: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass on House Bill 490. This legislation adopts the most recent version of the interstate compact for juveniles. Model legislation enables the State to provide uniform treatment for juveniles who may have run away or moved. The reciprocity enables family courts to provide consistent and continued treatment for these youngsters as they cross state borders. The Judicial Branch states it does not expect the new version of the interstate compact for juveniles to result in a change in the way juvenile cases are processed and does not anticipate a fiscal impact from this bill. Also, the judicial council assumes this bill will have no impact on indigent defense expenditures.

The Finance Committee recommends that this be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 505-FN, making charter schools eligible for grants for leased space. Ought to Pass, Vote 6-1. Senator Barnes for the committee.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 505 Ought to Pass. This legislation authorizes chartered public school to be included in the application process to receive school building aid. Currently, chartered public schools must factor leasing costs into their budget. Yet, the school building aid fund provides leasing assistance to vocational schools as well as building aid for public schools. In this legislation, the chartered public schools would be provided a mere 30 percent of their lease cost. But with the school building aid fund currently in a moratorium, this legislation would have no fiscal impact on the State. Although chartered public schools would not immediately benefit from this bill, the passage of this legislation opens doors to federal grants that would otherwise be closed. And, the Finance Committee, almost on a unanimous vote, voted the approval of this piece of legislation. I ask for your support so we can move along and move out of this building, because it's getting pretty hot in here.

HB 519-FN, relative to New Hampshire's regional greenhouse gas initiative cap and trade program for controlling carbon dioxide emissions. Ought to Pass, Vote 6-1. Senator Odell for the committee.

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 519-FN Ought to Pass. House Bill 519 reforms New Hampshire's regional greenhouse gas initiative. Furthermore, this legislation clarifies how the monies in the greenhouse gas initiatives fund may be used.

Please join the Finance Committee's recommendation of Ought to Pass on House Bill 519-FN. Mister President, I know that Senator Bradley has an amendment, so I can carry on for some time, or...I think I'm getting done. So, thank you, Mister President.

Amend the bill by replacing section 17 with the following:

17 Contingency. If any 2 New England states participating in the regional greenhouse gas initiative end or agree to end their participation in the initiative or if a New England state which has at least 10 percent of the total load of the New England states participating in the regional greenhouse gas initiative ends its participation in the initiative, sections 11-15 of this act shall take effect upon the date that the commissioner of the department of environmental services certifies to the secretary of state and the director of the office of legislative services that such states have terminated or have authorized termination of their participation in the initiative or such state has terminated its participation in the initiative.

This bill replaces the greenhouse gas emission reduction fund with the energy efficiency fund, lowers the rebate threshold for auction proceeds to $1, and allocates the remaining proceeds received by the state from the sale of allowances to core energy efficiency programs funds by system benefits charges. The bill also requires the legislative oversight committee on electric utility restructuring to monitor and report on certain core energy efficiency programs.

The bill contains a contingent repeal of New Hampshire's regional greenhouse gas initiative cap and trade program if 2 or more New England states withdraw or agree to withdraw from participating in the initiatives or if a state which has at least 10 percent of the total load of the New England states participating in the initiative withdraws or authorizes withdrawal from participation in the initiative.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. I was just enjoying the cooler air in the back room; I apologize for being out of the room. This just makes a clarification to the contingency section that says in House Bill 519 that...the way it's written now, if we adopt it, that if any two New England states participating in the RGGI program end their participation, or if one of the larger New England states that constitutes 10 percent of the load leave the program, New Hampshire would leave the program. And, the fact of the matter is, this is a very reasonable amendment; I thank Senator Sanborn and others for bringing it to those of us who worked on this compromise in terms of House Bill 519. Quite frankly, if two other states leave, or if 10 percent of the load from New England leaves, this program is all but over. It just – it won't hold together; and, at that point in time, we really should be out of it regardless of the political side that you're on – whether you're pro-RGGI or anti-RGGI. If that were to be the case, we really should leave, at least in my view. And, secondly, this enables us to have the reforms that we talked about and where the money is dedicated to: a very important issue for a number of us. And so, I encourage people to support the floor amendment and move this bill forward. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. Thank you, Senator Bradley. I just wonder if you could tell me what the maximum – or rather the minimum total load might be from combining two states that decide to withdraw.

SENATOR BRADLEY: I believe that, for instance, New Hampshire is just slightly under 5 percent; Vermont and Maine would probably be a little bit smaller; Rhode Island might be a little bit larger; Connecticut and Massachusetts – Massachusetts is over 10 percent; I think Connecticut is about 8 percent. I'm doing that from memory, but I think that's relatively accurate, and I see my good friend here, Senator Forsythe, nodding, so maybe I'm right.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass on House Bill 51. This legislation clarifies the qualifications required of members for screening panels for medical injury claims. Specifically, the bill provides that panelists are to meet the same standards for impartiality as those serving on juries. A reference to excusal for cause does exist in the statute regarding qualification of panelists, but does not enumerate those things that might lead to bias as the statute on juries does. As such, the Judiciary Committee feels this is a reasonable reference and recommends that this be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

(b) That a person has a criminal record, including the content of such record, without reporting that the record has been annulled, if the journalist or reporter does not have knowledge of the annulment.

XVII. No person or entity, whether public or private, shall be subject to civil or criminal penalties for not removing from public access or making corrections to a report or statement that a person has a criminal record, including the content of such record, if thereafter the criminal record was annulled. This provision shall apply to any report or statement, regardless of its format.

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

SENATOR HOUE: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 82. This legislation makes various changes to the statutes concerning the annulment of criminal records. The legislation addresses several issues, including when a journalist is libel and what one's responsibility is with respect to records existing on the Internet or elsewhere, post-annulment. One of the challenges for people is when a record is annulled but the charge and verdict have been reported to the press. As one person so aptly said at the hearing: "You cannot un-ring a bell". Our statutes were adopted before the age of Facebook, postings on the Internet and YouTube, and this is a step toward acknowledging this reality.

The final language is the result of work by the Attorney General's Office and those representing First Amendment concerns. One item not included is the court's responsibility with respect to records and what their personnel can or should disclose regarding annulled records, much being the result of technical computer issues, which could not be resolved by the time the Committee had to vote. They will continue to work on this and come back at a later date, but the Committee felt half a loaf was better than none. Therefore, we recommend that this be adopted with amendment and ask for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 110, requiring professional safety and security services personnel to report certain criminal offenses. Re-refer to committee, Vote 4-0. Senator Carson for the committee.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 110 be Re-referred to committee. This legislation sought to require that all security and safety personnel must report felonies to law enforcement officers.

There was a great amount of discussion at the public hearing regarding felonies: when an act rises to this level, the timeframes for reporting, and for other concerns. The Committee was also aware that only one town seems to be having an issue, as many of our other colleges and universities are working within a negotiated memorandum of understanding with respect to reporting.

In addition to providing time for the Committee to resolve some of their concerns, this will also give the two parties more time to reach a conclusion on their own memorandums of understanding. Because of our concerns, we ask that the bill be Re-referred. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Re-refer to committee. Adopted.

Amendment to HB 141

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the treatment of cable television as a protected utility service.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Paragraph; Prohibited Practices and Security Deposits; Certain Specific Acts Prohibited; Exception. Amend RSA 540-A:3 by inserting after paragraph I the following new paragraph:

I-a. The provisions of paragraph I shall not apply to cable television service.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2012.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill exempts cable television from utility services that are protected from interruption or termination by landlords.

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass with Amendment on HB 141. This legislation clarifies which utility services are protected from interruption or termination by landlords. Specifically, and in response to a New Hampshire court case, it removes cable television from the list.

While the bill was amended in the House executive session, the Committee had concerns with the unintended consequences of that amendment. Because we were more comfortable with the bill as introduced in the House, the committee amendment takes the language back to that version, which leaves the statute intact otherwise.

The Judiciary Committee recommends that this be adopted with amendment and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

HB 145, permitting the audio and video recording of a law enforcement officer while in the course of his or her official duties. Re-refer to committee, Vote 4-0. Senator Carson for the committee.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 145 be Re-referred to committee. This legislation sought to permit the video and audio recording of a law enforcement officer while in the course of his or her official duties.

Testimony in the hearing indicated that there was concern over the breadth of the bill as introduced in the House, but also concern over the limitations of it as amended by the House. The Committee members were therefore hesitant to adopt this bill in either form for fear of creating a problem rather than solving it. Specific concerns included whether private citizens would be subject to taping as a result of merely being present at the scene of an event or near a public official being filmed, and the lack of clarity with respect to limits on taping of public employees in private spaces, like their offices. Because of these concerns, we decided it best to keep it in committee so that we can continue to look at the various issues.

Therefore, the Judiciary Committee recommends that this be Re-referred to committee and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I just urge... Sometimes when we Re-refer bills I get concerned that they're going to go into a black hole or nothing is going to happen. This bill's pretty important to me. I'm not going to oppose the Re-refer motion because I guess there were complications. But, there's been several situations over the last couple of years involving public officials, law enforcement, etcetera, being video or audio recorded or both, and I think there's kind of some room for abuse of the citizenry. There was a situation in Nashua where police came to the home of someone to look for this fellow's son; his home had signs on it that said: "Recording in progress"; you know, they were posted on the property. The police seized his audio and visual equipment in spite of those signs. When it got to a judge, the judge threw it out, and yet the police department would not return the equipment, and their quote in the newspaper was: If we do a drug bust and the judge throws it out, we don't give the person their drugs back. So, we're not going to give the audio equipment back either, because the law was being broken in their eyes, and even though a judge threw it out, they still wouldn't give the equipment back. I could give other examples, but the point is, I'm sensitive to this issue, and I would urge those on the Judiciary Committee to bring a bill that we can vote on and Ought to Pass next session. It's an important issue, and I would hope you would address it to the best of your ability.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to assure Senator White, the Judiciary Committee takes every Re-referral that we make very seriously. It is the intent of the Committee to do the work to resolve the issues and come back with a piece of legislation in January that, hopefully, we can all support and we can all vote for. Thank you.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Re-refer to committee. Adopted.

HB 158, relative to the misuse of social security numbers. Re-refer to committee, Vote 4-0. Senator Groen for the committee.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I move that HB 158 be Re-referred to committee. This legislation sought to create a course of action for the misuse of social security numbers.

While the Committee is well aware of problems with identity theft and wants to help address abuses, we are not convinced that this bill is ready to move forward. Testimony at the hearing suggested this was directed more at requiring tighter regulation of illegal workers, but members of the business community testified that reporting requirements already exist.

Therefore, the Judiciary Committee recommends that this be Re-referred so that the issue can be further reviewed, and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Re-refer to committee. Adopted.

HB 259, requiring the supreme court to adopt rules of evidence for the judicial branch family division. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 3-1. Senator Carson for the committee.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move Inexpedient to Legislate on House Bill 259. This legislation sought to require that the Judicial Branch family division adopt rules of evidence.

While there appears to be a perception that forcing the courts to adopt these rules would permit parties to submit anything they wish and the court must accept it, this actually is not the case. Adoption of the rules of evidence would actually make cases for the pro se litigants much more complicated and difficult. Also, in 1995, the New Hampshire Supreme Court ruled that the Legislature cannot require the courts to adopt rules based on the constitutional separation of powers.

Therefore, the Judiciary Committee recommends that this not be adopted and asks for your support of the ITL recommendation. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 511, relative to retired judges over 70 years of age. Ought to Pass with Amendment, Vote 3-1. Senator Luther for the committee.

Amendment to HB 511

Amend the bill by inserting after section 1 the following and renumbering the original section 2 to read as 3:

2 Applicability. Section 1 of this act shall apply only to cases filed on or after the effective date of this act.

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass with Amendment on HB 511. This legislation clarifies that retired judges over 70 years of age shall not serve as judges in any judicial capacity except as judicial referees. This is consistent with the language in our Constitution, and merely makes the statute parallel. The committee amendment clarifies that this shall not be applicable to any currently pending cases, as we have one on which all of the sitting judges have been recused.

While many of us feel that the constitutional language where the age of 70 is now obsolete, the place to address that is with a constitutional amendment. In the meantime, the Judiciary Committee recommends that this be adopted with amendment and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you very much, Mister President. I will be brief. I'm delighted that the amendment has been adopted, because it shows the situation that could arise. When we disqualify any judge over the age of 70 from serving on a matter to which all other judges are disqualified, it would be rather problematic to have justice be served in that situation. That being said, what's to say that there aren't situations like that that arise in the future, and the Judiciary will rather have its hands tied.

There are arguments pro and con this. The Legislature has obviously taken the court up on its invitation to change the statute that's been in place for 33 years, allowing these judges to sit on cases, and I would just hope and reiterate for the record that a constitutional amendment, perhaps, is appropriate; former Senator Letourneau, I know, would support that, and I know that Senator Groen has articulated his support for it in the committee hearings. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 597, revising the child support guidelines based on an income shares model of calculating child support. Re-refer to committee, Vote 4-0. Senator Carson for the committee.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 597 be Re-referred to committee. This legislation sought to revise the child support guidelines based on an income shares model, and was the result of recommendations of the 2009 New Hampshire child support guidelines report.

The Committee had some concerns with both the substance and potential operation of the bill. For example, we were troubled with cutting off the guidelines at three children. There appears to have been no data available to the researchers for families with more than three children. We were also concerned about the percentages allocated for upper income brackets. And, while we had an amendment offered that would have made the guidelines perspective only, some families wanted the guidelines implemented upon review of existing orders. Since the adoption of these guidelines could have significant implications for child support payments, the Committee asks to have the bill Re-referred, and welcomes your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Re-refer to committee. Adopted.

Recess. Out of recess.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Without objection, I would ask the Senate to stand and observe a moment of silence to pay our respects to former Governor Walter Peterson, who passed away last night – former Governor and Speaker of the House. I'm sure we will all keep his wife, Dorothy, and the Peterson family in our prayers in their time of grieving.

The Senate observed a moment of silence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Good morning. Thank you, Mister President. It's a pleasure for me to introduce my two guests: my husband, Art – do you want to stand and say good morning? – and my son, Patrick. They're here today in support of the work that we do, but also, as well, we are all three heading out to Seattle later today to be with our son, Justin, who will be completing an MBA degree in sustainable business from Bainbridge University in Seattle.

JUDICIARY

HB 146, relative to the right of a jury to judge the application of the law in relationship to the facts in controversy. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 2-2. Senator Houde for the committee.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I move Inexpedient to Legislate on House Bill 146. This legislation started out as a jury nullification bill; in other words, requiring the court to tell the jury that they could not only determine the facts but also the law, potentially acquitting a person whose conduct otherwise constituted an offense. But, it was substantially amended by the House.

By way of background, it's a fairly basic tentative law that the jury determines the facts and the judge determines the law. The jury then applies the facts to the law to reach a verdict. The House amendments, essentially, are a recitation of what already can happen with respect to instructions to the jury: not only that the jury determines the facts, as I said, and the law as applied to those facts, but that if, in a criminal case, the prosecution proves beyond a reasonable doubt all of the necessary elements of a crime in order to convict, that they should convict, by implication that they do not have to. As you can see from our split vote, we were not in agreement as to whether this adds to our jury system and the administration of justice or not. Some, myself and Senator Carson, felt it was unnecessary and would only result in activist juries. Our colleagues felt, however, it was an important reminder to the jury of their rights to reach their own conclusion. The current situation is that this can already happen in our courts, that juries are given instructions and the lawyers in the case can request specific instructions be given. Therefore, one half of the Judiciary Committee members recommend that this bill not be adopted. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like to make a motion to Re-refer this back to the committee.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: In order to do that, you have to vote down the Inexpedient to Legislate motion and then I would recognize a motion to Re-refer.

SENATOR CARSON: Okay. Thank you.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: I will keep that in mind, should the opportunity arise.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: I am one of the – thank you, Mister President. I am one of the Committee that voted Ought to Pass, and actually we did have an Ought to Pass motion, which failed 2-2.

After a lot of study on this issue, the background on this, from my perspective, is that there is a longstanding tradition, a common law tradition, going back to the 11th century, in British common law, which is extensively used in our country as the basis for our law. And, that is the concept of jury nullification. And, I just want to say that a jury does not have a right to judge the law in the sense that they cannot say that the law is or isn't constitutional or should or should not be applied in another case. They look specifically at a given case, and there is an opportunity for the jury, as my colleague stated, and is common law practice, that a jury can judge that the application of the law in a specific instance is not justice, and they can choose not to apply the law specifically in that case. The question comes as to the informing of the jury of that right to do that, and that's really the issue of this law. The current instructions to the jury that are given are that the jury must consider all the facts in the case and must be, you know, in agreement on the facts of the case, and that then if those facts would indicate that the jury should convict that they should convict on that basis. And, that term, the difference between 'should' and 'must' is supposed to inform the jury of their right for jury nullification. And, considering that cases are tried by juries of peers and not juries of lawyers, I think that that simple term 'should' instead of 'must' is not adequate notice for that. I also want to note that this process cannot ever be used to convict, it can only be used to acquit. So, a jury cannot say justice would not be served if we acquitted this person, so we're going to convict him instead. It can never be used in that instance; it can only be used to acquit. So, I believe that there's a longstanding tradition. This is a situation where the only request in this bill, the only application is that juries be notified of this, that the judge be instructed to notify the jury of this right and that the defense counsel have an opportunity to notify the jury of this right.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the bill as well, and with the comments of Senator Groen. And, I would just ask my colleagues to defeat the ITL motion so instead we can Re-refer it, because I trust in the Judiciary Committee and Senator Carson would definitely take a second look at it and work on it over the summer. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I also rise in opposition to the ITL motion for the same reasons that have been outlined by my two colleagues.

Amendment to HB 147-FN

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Homicide; Capital Murder. Amend RSA 630:1, I(f) to read as follows:

(f) Another before, after, while engaged in the commission of, or while attempting to commit an offense punishable under RSA 318-B:26, I(a) or (b)[-]; or

(g) Another, who is licensed or privileged to be within an occupied structure, or separately secured or occupied section thereof, before, after, or while in the commission of, or while attempting to commit, burglary as defined in RSA 635:1.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill provides that a person is guilty of capital murder if he or she knowingly causes the death of another, who is licensed or privileged to be within an occupied structure, or separately secured or occupied section thereof, before, after, or while in the commission of, or while attempting to commit, burglary.

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass with Amendment on HB 147. This legislation expands crimes which can be charged as capital murder to include murders which occur during home invasions, such as the recent tragic and horrific crimes in Mont Vernon. Our homes are sanctuaries and merit the protection that this legislation affords to our citizens. Adoption of this bill sends a clear and unambiguous message that we as a society will not tolerate these horrendous crimes, and we will prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law.

The committee amendment, which is endorsed by the Attorney General's Office, refers to the definitions within the existing burglary statutes, where there was a large amount of established case law, which will strengthen the prosecutions under this standard.

The Judiciary Committee recommends that this be adopted with amendment and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: Yes, thank you very much, Mister President. Having been a cosponsor of this legislation and not being a lawyer, I went to our good friend Rick, our counsel for the Senate, and had some conversation about this piece of legislation. And, listening to Rick, he had a couple of items that he thought might tighten this piece of legislation up and make it a better piece of legislation. He took the time and effort to get with the prime sponsor of this bill, who happens to be the Speaker of the House, who happens to represent the Town of Mont Vernon, where this atrocious thing happened. And, Rick also working with the Attorney General's Office to tighten this up, and the prime sponsor, the Speaker, on this amendment, thought that it was a great idea and that it did make his bill better. And, the Committee heard the person who brought the amendment in was the prime sponsor, the Speaker. So, that amendment had the blessing of a number of legal people, which I am not, but they tell me that it makes this bill a very good piece of legislation. And, I hope that we can get the majority of us to pass this piece of legislation. I want to thank Rick for your effort with the Speaker and with the Attorney General's Office. Thank you.

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator Luther, because you're on the Committee, I wanted to ask you about the committee amendment. While I know it was prepared by the Attorney General's Office, or at least that's what I'm being informed, when I read it, it appears that it will apply the death penalty to anyone who is privileged to be in an occupied structure, and licensed, as they say. The reference to occupied structure – "separately secured or occupied section thereof" – to me, does not indicate a residence. And so, it would then be an occupied structure...It would appear to me that it could be someone who is licensed to go into an office building and be, perhaps, a plumber, and be fixing that structure; he's licensed to be there, he's in an occupied structure. And, if he were to be murdered because someone's in there trying to steal copper, the death penalty would apply. So, if we're talking...This bill, I understood, was home invasion: residence of a human being who occupies their home. And, if I read this, the committee amendment applies to a far broader section than homes. Could you reply?

SENATOR LUTHER: Yes, Senator. Thank you for the question. This language was added by the AG's Office to be consistent with the wording. I'm not a lawyer, so, defining this – and I may defer to somebody else – I can't answer your question legally as to exactly what "occupied structure" means.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

Sen. Barnes is in favor of the adoption of the Committee Amendment to HB 147-FN.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to 147. In so doing, I would note at the outset that this bill is not a referendum on the death penalty. In fact, there was a commission put together to look at the death penalty in New Hampshire, a commission that, it will come as no surprise, was fairly evenly split in their conclusions after a rather thorough review. 147 is about whether or not we should expand the limited number of categories the death penalty is currently applied to.

As Senator Luther indicated, there really are no words that can express the horror of the tragedy for the Cates family or the tragedies we heard from several other family members of victims during the hearing. Our expressions of sympathy are surely inadequate to their experience of pain and loss. What became clear to me listening to the testimony, however, is that the families of victims do not speak with one voice or in unison. In one victim's family's words: "While it may not be the intent, the consequence of grading certain murders as worse than others by the nature of being eligible for the death penalty where others are not, is insulting. Isn't the loss of their loved one just as bad and deserving of this punishment?"

We in the Legislature draw lines, though. We make distinctions all the time, and we're being asked to do so now. I rise in opposition to the expansion because I just don't know of any helpful bright lines to balance when we would want to use the death penalty sparingly on one hand against the unfortunate certainty that another heinous crime will come along that would suggest we use it again and again on the other.

For these reasons, and until we can figure out what that line is, I oppose expansion. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. I also rise in opposition to the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. I was a member of the commission to study the death penalty in New Hampshire that was established in 2010. For a year and a half, we heard testimony from family members of murder victims, death penalty exonerees, religious leaders, judicial, corrections, and law enforcement personnel, and many other citizens. We studied data that, to my mind, eliminated the suggestion that the death penalty serves as a deterrent. We learned the details of the capital punishment process in New Hampshire, starting with the personal decision of the Attorney General as to whether or not the State will seek the death penalty in each individual case.

We heard testimony reminding us of the very human kinds of error and differences in attitude that can alter the course of a death penalty case. And, we heard from family members of murder victims about the unfairness of the murder rating system that was mentioned by Senator Houde that says this category of murder is worse than this other category; this kind of murder should be “death eligible”, as the term is used; this one shouldn’t. For those family members, the worst murder is the one that took away their child, their parent, their spouse, their sibling.

I believe that HB 147 would add to this State rating of murders in response to a specific recent crime that was truly horrific. I understand the strong emotional component of this reaction. However, I would point out that during our commission deliberations of whether the death penalty should be expanded or made narrower, even strong death penalty supporters agreed that our current list of death eligible crimes, in several cases, added in reaction to outrage from society, bear reexamination, and many pro-death penalty commission members and witnesses spoke to their support for a narrowly drawn capital murder statute.

In addition to, I believe, perpetuating this futile exercise of weighing one murder against another, expansion of the death penalty can only increase the opportunities for the kind of arbitrariness, human error, and political factors that plague the application of the death penalty, a process that by definition is a life and death situation.

So, I urge my colleagues to refrain from expanding the death penalty and to defeat House Bill 147. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Senator. I want to thank you for your time on that commission. Can you tell this body what the final vote of the committee was on the death penalty? I’ve heard a number, but I didn’t sit on the committee and I don’t know if the number I heard was correct or not.

SENATOR MERRILL: Sure. The final split in terms of the question of whether to retain the death penalty in New Hampshire or not was 12 in favor of retaining, 10 against.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Senator. Those are the numbers that I heard, also. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. Like my neighbor here, Senator Houde, I also agree that this bill is not about whether or not we have a death penalty, but whether or not – and, in his words he says: “expand it”; in my words I would say: “make it more consistent”. I actually oppose the death penalty for a number of reasons. However, I think the current law is a little bit inconsistent: Why is a police officer’s life more valuable than the Mont Vernon family’s life? So, I don’t want to use my opposition to the death penalty to keep the law as it is and fight expansion when it’s as inconsistent as it is. Thank you, Mister President. I will be supporting this.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I, unlike, perhaps, others in this room, have actually been the recipient of a home invasion; I guess recipient isn’t quite the word. But, in my post-college years I was the victim of an invasion into my bedroom – a burglary. Luckily, there was no murder committed or attempted murder. But, I know the violence that it feels, that you have been invaded; your personal space has been invaded. So, I am very sympathetic to and understanding of the emotional reaction of wanting retribution and revenge, and understand the strength of people’s feelings about that. I do not, however, believe that this expansion will prevent the acts that we are all reacting to in the heinous events in Mont Vernon. I do not believe that those perpetrators would have thought about it a second thought and thought: "Well, it's punishable by capital murder." And so, it is one which I do not believe will prevent future events such as these.

I also continue to have issues with the way this is drafted, and question if in fact it is tight enough, even if I believed it would deter such terrible events from happening in the future. That's why I am voting "no" on this bill. Thank you.

This bill permits a teacher or other person entrusted with the care or supervision of a minor or pupil to use reasonable force to end a disturbance, to maintain safety, or to remove the pupil or minor from the premises.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to support the Judiciary Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 375. House Bill 375 allows teachers or persons otherwise entrusted with the care or supervision of a minor or pupil to use reasonable force if he or she believes it is necessary to end a disturbance, to maintain decorum or safety, or to remove a pupil from the premises. This legislation provides civil and criminal immunity for acts in good faith that comply with the reasonable force use described.

Amend section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

1 Physical Force by Persons with Special Responsibilities. RSA 627:6, II(a) is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

(a) A teacher or person otherwise entrusted with the care or supervision of a minor for special purposes or pupil may use reasonable force against any such minor or pupil when and to the extent that he or she may reasonably believe it necessary to end a disturbance, to maintain decorum or safety, or to remove such minor or pupil from the premises when the minor's or pupil's behavior or continued presence on the premises would constitute a danger to that individual, or to other children or adults present. Conduct which is justifiable under this subparagraph constitutes a defense to any offense. The fact that such conduct is justifiable shall constitute a complete defense to any civil action based on such conduct.

This bill permits a teacher or other person entrusted with the care or supervision of a minor or pupil to use reasonable force to end a disturbance, to maintain safety, or to remove the pupil or minor from the premises under certain circumstances.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. Amendment 2271s is adding 14 words that further clarifies when reasonable force should be used, while providing the protections of both children and adults, and maintains the language of the committee amendment for the adult from civil action when, in their opinion, such force is necessary.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: The floor amendment, as I understand, refers back to what the law was prior to this bill amending the law. And, that is that previously, the law said that necessary force could be used. And, House Bill 375 changes that to "reasonable force". And, the reason for that is necessary force would often be construed as force that was required to protect the safety of the students or the teacher or other person assigned to be in charge. And, when you have that narrow a definition, then any force that would reasonably be used – and, again, there's a very clear definition of reasonable force – any force that would be used to maintain order or discipline in the classroom, which we all recognize is essential to be able to have an atmosphere than can be conducive to educational instruction...force that would be used to maintain discipline and just maintain that atmosphere of decorum would then not be allowed with this amendment. And, I'm stumbling on the words; I'm sorry about that. But, that's...What we need to do is allow teachers and others in charge of students to use reasonable force to maintain order in the classroom, not just if safety is at risk or a life is at risk, but to maintain order and decorum. And so, I would urge that this amendment be defeated and that we leave it as it came out of the committee with the committee amendment.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR BARNES: I'm sorry I didn't talk to you sooner about this, Senator Stiles. But, I'm on line 5. What is a minor? What age is a minor?

SENATOR STILES: A minor...The language for minor is put in there because we are covering students that are under 21, which is sometimes above the pupil stage.

SENATOR BARNES: But what is...In this bill...

SENATOR STILES: 21 and under.

SENATOR BARNES: This minor means under 21.

SENATOR STILES: Under 21.

SENATOR BARNES: The only reason I ask that is we have children staying in school now 'til 18, so I just wanted to make sure...I thought a minor was 16 or 18...

SENATOR STILES: No. In this case, it's for 21. And, thank you for your question. And, I'd like to bring to your attention that this amendment does leave the word "reasonable force" in there, which was in the original amendment, and the only words that it adds is: "would constitute a danger to that individual or to other children or adults present". So, it clarifies that the time that the reasonable force should be used is when there is a danger to another individual.

SENATOR BARNES: Senator, thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you very much, Mister President. I rise in support of Senator Stiles' Amendment 2271. I don't actually think I need to clarify what this bill is about; I think Senator Groen did a very good job of explaining what this bill is about. It's taking us from a position of protecting students to a position of using force to maintain order; that strikes me as a bridge too far. Therefore, I think Senator Stiles' amendment brings it back to a place that the statute was intended to have us go in the first place.

Here are some concerns that I was going to speak to the bill, would it have been a motion of Ought to Pass un-amended, and so, the amendment...I'll speak to that, in support of it. I think this creates a particular danger for children with special needs. By eliminating the establishment of a relationship between teacher or child and school employee, and subjecting a child to discipline by someone who is not a teacher or has knowledge of the special needs of those children or knows how to effectively deal with them, I think we're opening up a can of worms that is inappropriate for us to open up. And, there are significant unintended consequences as a result. Again, this bill is more, in my opinion, about control than it is about protecting oneself; I think teachers are fully equipped with legislation currently to use necessary force to do so, and to protect other students.

Some of the unintended consequences: If this bill, 375, un-amended, were to become law, then a school employee could grapple with a child – or a non-employee, but someone who's responsible for the supervision of them off-site – could grapple with a child over a cell phone or shove a child who doesn't take his seat. A cafeteria employee could physically force a child to stand in line or pick up his tray, and a hall monitor could be permitted to grab a child by his lapel and physically escort him to class. These may be things that people want who are supporting this legislation, but I think not, when we realize what the implications of it are beyond some sense of maintaining order and discipline in the classroom. Thank you, Mister President.

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I, too, have a guest. I have Tracy Uscinski, she works in my business and helps me out a lot, and quite frankly I couldn't be here in the Senate if it weren't for her. So, I'd like to introduce Tracy.

Floor Amendment to HB 542-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to exceptions for objectionable material in public school courses.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Paragraph; State Board of Education; Duties. Amend RSA 186:11 by inserting after paragraph IX-b the following new paragraph:

IX-c. Require school districts to adopt a policy allowing an exception to specific course material based on a parent's or legal guardian's determination that the material is objectionable. Such policy shall include a provision requiring the parent or legal guardian to notify the school principal or designee in writing of the specific material to which they object and a provision requiring an alternative agreed upon by the school district and the parent, at the parent's expense, sufficient to enable the child to meet state requirements for education in the particular subject area. The name of the parent or legal guardian and any specific reasons disclosed to school officials for the objection to the material shall not be public information and shall be excluded from access under RSA 91-A.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2012.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires school districts to adopt a policy allowing an exception to specific course material based on a parent's or legal guardian's determination that the material is objectionable.

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. And, I hope not many of us are products of the public school system here, because we don't know when to vote "yes" or "no", including myself.

HB 542 was a bill asserting parental rights. It was very broad in principle, but it had some issues. This amendment greatly limits the scope of the original bill and addresses the unintended consequences that bill may have caused. It is meant to address an issue that was a prime motivator for HB 542. In several school districts, children are required to read books, such books as The Crack Cocaine Diet, or watch politically motivated movies. When complaints were made to school boards, they were ignored. I want to say, however, this is an issue for a minority of school boards. Most boards have a policy on objecting to material. However, this policy's not required.

This amendment would require boards to adopt a policy allowing exceptions to specific course materials. Parents and schools would have to work together on a replacement to meet state standards. It respects a parent's privacy by exempting name and reasons for the objection from the right to know laws. It was developed with the help from the School Boards Association, although they can't support it. It provides a balance between parental rights and the school boards' ability to meet standards.

The effective date is based on a recommendation from the School Boards Association to give boards time to adopt it. And so, I ask for your support for parental rights and a vote for this amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: I am in strong support of this bill as amended. Besides Bedford, in our school system, Hollis-Brookline, there was also an extremely offensive book, and I have had many constituents who have contacted me, and also the Reps in my district, very concerned about this. And, I think this bill as amended is very important that we pass. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. I would like to thank Senator Forsythe for working on this, because actually what it does is it brings it to the local level and asks them to address the policy at the local level.

The question is on the motion of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill authorizes a school district to call a special meeting to address changes in the amount of education funding to be received from the state. This authorization is repealed effective July 1, 2012.

SENATOR STILES: I'd like to ask the Senate to move Ought to Pass on this amendment. This legislation authorizes a school district to call a special meeting in the event of changes in the amount of state education funding. This legislation allows for a school district to call a special meeting in response to statutory changes resulting in reductions or increases in distribution of state revenues for education pursuant to RSA 198:41. This bill also states that the warrant must specify and a public hearing must be posted and held on the amounts of appropriations proposed. The amendment before you contains specific language in regard to warrant articles as well as sets the timeframe by which these communities can call a special meeting as on year ending July 1, 2012. Therefore, the Education Committee would recommend that House Bill 650-FN-L Ought to Pass with this amendment and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR BARNES: Yes. Thank you very much, Mister President. Thank you, Senator Stiles. This means, what we have here, that that school board isn't going to have to go in front of a judge to get permission, right?

SENATOR STILES: That's correct.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a commission to study youth sports concussions and other concussions received while at school.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. What I'm looking at is Floor Amendment 2239. Thank you. Essentially, what 2239 does is strips the text of 136 as it was originally introduced out completely and replaces it with a commission to study youth sports concussions and concussions received while at school. I think this may sound familiar with people in the Senate; we passed it previously, I believe, on a voice vote. There must have been some misunderstanding about this bill in the House, and this would give an opportunity to explain why in fact what was alleged is that people are already looking into this issue is in fact not the case. There was a young woman who testified to have receiving three concussions before she was diagnosed properly. It strikes me that if things are actually being done, that situation would not have happened. There was no objection from – and in fact support for – this bill from the New Hampshire Interscholastic Athletic Association, support from physicians and healthcare providers, support from legislators; I'm not sure what happened, but I'd like to take another bite at the apple, Mister President, and this is what that would endeavor us to do. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in support of the amendment offered by Senator Houde. We all know that concussions are a very serious situation with athletes – male and female athletes across the board. I talked with Pat Corbin of the NHIAA about this; he was in support of this. I also made a call to a friend of mine who's the team physician for the New York football Giants, a man that I played with years and years ago. He sent to me all of the protocols that the National Football League has in place with regard to concussions because of the severity of the concussions being, really, occurring in the National Football League, and the treatment that goes with them. Now, we know that youngsters at all levels, in contact sports, run the risk of having a concussion. What this does is it studies the issue. And, it deserves study. The thing that we want to do is provide the best possible protection for all of our young male and female athletes who are involved in athletic contests, and this allows for that. This is a premise that's being accepted across the country – across the country. And, I think Senator Houde is correct: Our colleagues across must have had a sleep day and not studied the bill properly. And, that happens on these warm days, when you don't have an opportunity to thoroughly invest in a piece of legislation. But, it seems to me this is very appropriate at this particular time. We should get ahead of the curve and we should protect our student athletes by making sure that everything is done to protect their health and safety. This takes us one step further in arriving at that goal. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR BARNES: Thanks, Senator. I should have caught this earlier, but I didn't. I'm looking at the list of folks that are members of this commission, and I don't see anybody from the House or the Senate on there. And, the only reason I bring it up, I think there's a necessity for that, because I've seen it in the past, we do this and all of the sudden it comes here and everybody's sitting here with no answers to questions that might be asked.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you for the question, Senator Barnes. This is the recommendation of the committee that looked at this bill and heard this bill in the Senate. I'm happy to add members of the Legislature to it, or certainly the House, when they take up the bill, could add legislators to it, as well.

SENATOR BARNES: Well, I thank you for that, but I have seen in the past where we've run into a problem when there's nobody from the Legislature on these commissions. I personally think it should be added to this.

SENATOR HOUDE: I would support adding it, Senator Barnes. And, I would say that when this issue was addressed in the House, an amendment was introduced that would have added members from the Legislature to it. And so, that wasn't the issue that I think they failed to study or realize.

SENATOR BARNES: Well, this is a good piece of legislation. I'd hate to come back here in December and January and ask questions and nobody knows some of the answers because somebody from this body wasn't on it to answer those questions.

SENATOR HOUDE: Yes, and I would volunteer myself if a legislator were designated.

SENATOR BARNES: You hear that, Mister President?

SENATOR HOUDE: Reluctantly.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Even though I realize the Senate President is having a bad day, I do support this amendment, but I have to ask the question: Is this a germane amendment? Trying to be consistent with Senate Rules.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Yes, thank you, Senator White. I, in looking at it, realize it is a non-germane amendment, and before we vote we will have to take a vote to suspend the rules to adopt a non-germane amendment. That will require two-thirds.

President Bragdon ruled Amendment 2239s non-germane.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Boutin.)

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. And, I want to echo the comments of my good friend and fellow Senator from Manchester. I have heard from a number of university athletic trainers, I've heard from high school coaches, I've heard from parents throughout my district that...And, in fact, over the last month or so, there have been a number of special reports on TV speaking to this issue and the severity of it and the problems that our athletes are facing when they have concussions, and that those concussions...or, the incident of that first concussion is not recognized and dealt with. And so, I wholly support this; I have no clue why the House opposed it. But, in concluding my remarks, Mister President, I would like to ask, in order to address Senator Barnes' question, which I think is a good question, could we Table this and come back with an amendment this afternoon to add House and Senate members?

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill changes the carry forward periods for the business enterprise tax credit against the business profits tax.

SENATOR SANBORN: My fellow Senators, I move Amendment 2267 and ask you to consider Ought to Pass. As you all may know, when we talk about jobs being the most important part of our state, we talk about an expanse of the economic base is what we need to do to help work us out of this recession. But, one of the many challenges we have in trying to create jobs or expand the economic base is trying to find investors to come to our state and help make good technologies and provide them the ability to get a reasonable return on their money. You know, we look at a company like Lansing, who operates out of the Pease Air Force Base, which spent seven or eight years investing money into creating a medical technology. And, before they actually became profitable, they had somewhere upwards of 400 employees. With our tax structure in New Hampshire, with the business enterprise tax, through that entire time, they continued to pay business enterprise tax on all those employees, acknowledging they were still losing money. We do have a process in here which allows us a credit against business profits tax to business enterprise tax on investments. What this amendment does is increases the timeframe from five years to ten years by which a company can essentially look back and recover some of those investments once they do become profitable. Now, this amendment is slightly different than what came over from the House, where what passed in the House was essentially rolling this process in over a five-year period. This amendment looks to create it in one fell swoop. Now, recognizing our state's facing some serious financial challenges, as we're all fully aware, this amendment actually will not start until 2014. So, on the date in 2014 is when our companies in New Hampshire will be allowed to begin to look back and increase that timeframe from five years to ten years, which is presently in statute, and let's go try and create some jobs. And, I ask you to support that. Thank you very much.

SENATOR LARSEN: I'm curious as to the fiscal effect I anticipated even under the past bill as introduced; it appeared that there would be a credit of $15 million. Could I ask a question of Senator Sanborn?

SENATOR SANBORN: Senator Larsen, I'd be happy to; thank you very much. The fiscal note, as reported from DRA, has been through several iterations. In 2014, their suggestion today, it could be in the vicinity of $35 million.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a follow-up question of Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I fear that this is feel-good legislation; it says that we want to attract jobs, that we want to get businesses here, but by not making it effective to 2014 – and, I recognize the state's financial situation right now – but by making it effective in 2014, how does that create jobs now, which is when we need them?

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you so much for the question. And, if you ask me, Senator Larsen, I would put it in right this second. So, if you'd allow me to make that amendment, I would be happy to, if you would support it. Acknowledging you might not, when companies look to invest in our state, especially companies that understand they're going to be investing for some time before they become profitable – Again, I look at Lansing, the company that spent eight years investing money into medical equipment, and now they're one of the best employers our state has. Creating a company in New Hampshire takes time; creating a technology or process takes time, and, admittedly so, I would truly love to see it today and celebrate something we could turn to the business community with, but we all understand that today we don't have that money. So, at least showing the business community that we do hear them, that we're trying to create the processes and procedures by which we recognize their ability to recoup their investments once they do become profitable, I do believe is an important step.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. In response to Senator Larsen's concerns, bringing a company into the state is not something that happens overnight. Were we to pass this legislation even with an effective date of July 1st of this year, it's not like on July 2nd a bunch of companies would come moving in. However, I have in my district a venture capital person who worked with the Governor's office and worked with Jeff, especially, for a long time in the Governor's office. And, we have already in the State of New Hampshire a capital asset program. And, the federal government has a provision where you can turn that program from what it is now into a VC type of program. And, this venture capital person had people who were willing to lever up our cap money by about a 10-1 ratio. But, when he spoke – and, there were other states in play on this – and when he spoke to the VC guys that he knew that were willing to look at states that would adopt this, this was one of the considerations they looked at. Tax structure is important, particularly when there's going to be a lead time for a long time with losses. For those of us who own businesses now, we already know that the BET is always, with BPT, there's always an offset; it's always there, always has been from the day BET was created. If you don't have profit, you essentially lose the effect of that offset. And, companies are not going to want to pay the BET – which they're going to have to whether they're making money or not; if they have a payroll, they're going to pay BET, with or without a profit. They're not going to be willing to make that investment in a state like this when they can go to another state that does not have that tax structure.

So, I disagree, I guess, to sum up, with the assertion that it's feel-good legislation. You have to send the signal now, because a company that wants to relocate has to look at land acquisition or lease acquisition, they have to look at just a lot of factors to get the process started, and it could take a couple of years. But, sending this signal now, having this bill on the books will get that ball in motion. And, I'd conclude by saying attracting a business is like pushing that big ball that chased Indiana

Jones in the first movie: You have to get it rolling. And, to get it rolling, it takes a lot of effort and a lot of push. But, that's what we're trying to do here, is get it rolling. So, it's definitely not feel-good legislation. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I stand in strong support of this bill as amended. We have, in this state... There was another bill that I've sponsored on the loss carry forward. We have some of the most restrictive structures, tax-wise, in the country. And, that sends a clear message to businesses: "We are not open for business in New Hampshire." And, these are not feel-good; these are solid messages to businesses. We heard a lot yesterday about growing jobs, growing the economy. This is a key bill to do that. And, I heard, when I was in the first few weeks we had tours of businesses in our district and elsewhere, and one of the first things I heard was, businesses said: "It is wrong that I have to pay an enterprise tax when I am not making a profit; that is wrong." And, they made that very clear. And, I'm bringing that message here, and I think we need to send a message throughout the country that New Hampshire is open for business. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. I want to applaud Senator Sanborn for bringing this forward. I'm probably the only member in this body – because I don't think Senator D'Allesandro was in the House when this came through the House – and the BET was the grandchild of Governor Merrill, former Governor Merrill. I voted for it. Boy, oh boy. Over the years, have I had businesspeople, including myself, saying: "How in the world can we tax people when they're losing money?" And, I don't understand why it's taken all this time, with all the smart people that have come through this room and the room across the way, to not have changed this many years ago. So, thank you, Senator Sanborn; I'm sure there's lots of businesspeople out there that are there now and that will be in the future that say "thank you" to you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. Just want to clarify that this is not a credit for taxes that businesses paid when they had a profit. This is a credit for taxes that businesses paid when they had a loss. And, for taxes they paid when they had a loss, the credits ought to be carried forward – I think should be carried forward indefinitely, but ten years is a good change from five.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Larsen, seconded by Sen. Barnes.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Houde, Groen, Sanborn, Odell, White, Kelly, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Larsen, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, D'Allesandro, Merrill, Morse, Prescott, Stiles, Bragdon.

The following Senators voted No: (None).

Yeas: 24 - Nays: 0

Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

Sen. White moved to remove HB 590 from the table. Adopted.

HB 590, expressing the position of the New Hampshire general court that the offering and acceptance of federal grants-in-aid relating to matters not included among the defined powers of the federal government is unconstitutional under the state and federal Constitutions and establishing a committee to review state participation in federal grant-in-aid programs.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I would urge the adoption of the committee amendment, and then when we follow, the bill as amended. This bill was brought in in the House with frustration that grants-in-aid were in some ways, some people felt, unconstitutional. And, that's one of the reasons that this has been amended to just simply a study committee; that might have been a little too hot to handle. But, the fact of the matter is there is a problem with grant-in-aid process, particularly under the federal stimulus that we had over the last few years. Grant-in-aid, very often, is a situation where the federal government will bait us into a program with the promise of some up-front money, but then we're on the hook for a lot of rules that perhaps we didn't anticipate, and we're on the hook for perhaps unintended consequences. Sometimes the temptation of taking that up-front money can be too great to resist, and sometimes we leap before we look. I think this is an important study to have, because, again, there are unintended consequences, and I often, even when I was on the outside, before I became a Senator, I used to often comment to other businesspeople that it amazed me that the federal government can have a very small stake financially, but they always get 100 percent of the rule-making, and that used to frustrate me. So, I think this needs to be studied, I think it's a serious issue. The House bill, as it came over, again, I understand there was some broad constitutional language that some people would be uncomfortable with; that's fine. The amendment will take us back to simply a study, just because you may have objected to the House bill as it came over here. The issues are real and they deserve consideration, so I'd urge passage.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. And, I also rise in support of HB 590 as amended. I think the best example of why this is a big issue is No Child Left Behind; it's a program that I think Democrats and Republicans both agree has failed, and it's a program that was enacted by offering money to the states to enact the program. But, it's a complex issue, it needs to be studied; there's no simple solution. So, I hope we will support HB 590. Thank you, Mister President.

The pending question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I simply rise to bring up some of the points that were made in the committee. I'm glad that this is just a study, but as we discussed this, there was no one who could even say what a federal grant-in-aid was, because there is no such thing. There are federal grants and there are some which we accept because otherwise we would not receive federal monies for Medicaid, we would not receive federal monies for highways; there are so many federal programs that if you look at our budget, billions of dollars come in because of federal assistance. So, I see two members of the Senate, and I'm fearful that, being on Internal Affairs, that may put me sitting on a committee which is going to be studying something which I do not believe needs to be studied. However, because it's a study, it's better than passing the bill. Thank you.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: I assure you, Senator Larsen, I have two eager volunteers already, who may have already spoken on this issue.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

Sen. Kelly is in opposition to the motion of Ought to Pass as Amended on HB 590.

Sen. Odell moved to remove HB 348 from the table. Adopted.

HB 348-FN, transferring the duties of the racing and charitable gaming commission to the lottery commission and abolishing the racing and charitable gaming commission, and prohibiting new electronic gaming devices without statutory authorization.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Odell.)

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. I would encourage my colleagues to support the committee amendment, and then Senator Groen will bring forward an alternative amendment, a friendly amendment, which we also should vote for.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White for a question of Sen. Odell.)

SENATOR WHITE: I just want to make sure that I'm clear, that you want us to accept the committee amendment, and then you're going to overlay a pending floor amendment, potentially.

SENATOR ODELL: That is correct, Senator White.

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you.

The pending question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

Sen. Groen offered a floor amendment.

Amend the bill by replacing section 25 with the following:

25 New Paragraph; Racing and Charitable Gaming Commission; Authorization of Electronic Gaming. Amend RSA 284:6-a by inserting after paragraph V the following new paragraph:

VI. The racing and charitable gaming commission shall not authorize the use of any electronic gaming device in connection with the acceptance of wagers on running or harness horse racing, whether live or simulcast, or simulcast dog racing, the type of which was not in use prior to January 1, 2011, unless specific authorization for such electronic gaming device is enacted by the general court. Electronic gaming devices shall mean and include all electro-mechanical instruments and devices used for the purposes of gaming, other than wagering on live or simulcast horse racing or simulcast dog racing, whether in physical presence or through the Internet, and such shall include, but not be limited to, video slot machines and other gambling devices which function or are designed to function to emulate a video slot machine or historic racing machine. This section shall not be interpreted to prohibit licensees under RSA 284 from replacing equipment used in the conduct of wagering on live or simulcast horse racing or simulcast dog racing, which type of equipment was in service prior to January 1, 2011 with updated or new equipment which are the functional equivalent of the machines which are being replaced, provided the equipment is not an electronic gaming device as described in the previous sentence. This section shall not be interpreted as prohibiting licensees from accepting account wagers in compliance with applicable rules and regulations.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 26 with the following:

27 Racing and Charitable Gaming Commission; Lucky 7; Authorization for Dispenser Devices. RSA 287-E:21, III-a is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

III-a. Lucky 7 tickets may be sold by dispenser devices approved by the commission and located at the regular meeting place of, or at a facility owned, leased, or utilized by, the licensee for its activities, provided that the commission shall not authorize the use of any lucky 7 dispenser device which was not in use on or before January 1, 2011, unless such device dispenses a paper or cardboard ticket which has a manual break-open feature and specifications for such dispenser device are contained in the rules of the commission. Any permitted lucky 7 device shall not be in the nature of a slot machine and the outcome of any wager involving a permitted lucky 7 device shall be determined solely by and on the cardboard or paper ticket.

28 Racing and Charitable Gaming; Definition of Bingo. Amend RSA 287-E:1, I to read as follows:

I. "Bingo" means any game, by whatever name called, in which a prize is offered to the person first covering squares in a predetermined design on a card marked into squares for that purpose. "Bingo" shall not include any game involving a slot machine or any other device in the nature of a slot machine.

29 Effective Date.

II. Section 23 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2012.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. Amendment 2172s provides additional housekeeping language to the committee amendment. At the request of Racing and Charitable Gaming Commission, this amendment increases the holding period for video recordings from 30 to 90 days. Other language adds clarity to the description of bingo games, holds current limits on the number of bingo games per licensee per week, and prohibits the licensing of bingo-type slot machines without legislative approval. Finally, this amendment also clarifies that while replacement and new electronic "Lucky 7" dispensing machines will be allowed, those machines cannot be of a video slot machine-type, again, without legislative approval. This amendment has been carefully vetted by various stakeholders in and outside of the racing and charitable gaming industry. I urge adoption of Floor Amendment 2172 to House Bill 348. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

MOTION OF RECONSIDERATION

Sen. Merrill, having voted on the prevailing side, moved to reconsider SB 161, the bill having been previously adopted.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: Can you refresh us on what 161 is?

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. Senate Bill 161 made numerous changes to the administrative rulemaking process. And, as it turns out, to get ahead a little bit, but another bill, House bill, that was actually already gone to Enrolled Bills, also has dealt with rulemaking, and in one instance, one bit of policy, there's a one-word conflict that needs to be resolved. And so, that's why it seemed that we needed to initiate this process of reconsidering 161.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: So, parliamentarily speaking, the motion we need to consider first is reconsideration of the vote last week to concur. If you then want to get to committee of conference on this, which is what Senator Merrill is requesting, we would then need to...

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: What committee did that come in front of?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: That went to the ED&A Committee.

SENATOR BARNES: And, the Chairman of the Committee is going to say something about this?

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. This was brought to our attention after we had already voted, that there was an issue with some of the language. And, I have no problem with taking it back and fixing it.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: The parliamentary situation is this: We need to vote to reconsider. We then need to re-vote on the motion last week of concurrence, which Senator Merrill would like you to vote "no" on so she can introduce a motion to ask for a committee of conference.

The question is on the motion of reconsideration. Adopted.

Sen. Odell moves nonconcurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I disagree with this motion of nonconcurrence and would urge my colleagues to concur, and do intend to call a roll call on that.

Recess. Out of recess.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. At least it's good to see you in a better mood now; I think we've gotten rid of your headache, anyway.

I want to concur with the House, because quite frankly, this contains the 10 cent-a-pack cigarette tax cut, which I've heard from all kinds of border stores that it's very important to them; it will stimulate business for them, it will give us a New Hampshire advantage over the border states, it will be revenue-neutral; in my opinion, I know there's been great debate about that; even my colleague, Senator Odell, had great debate just a few minutes ago here in this chair. But, I believe it will be revenue-neutral. I did have contact with some of the people who arrived at that 10-cent figure, and I said: “Where did that number come from?” And, they said: “If we went higher, it wasn't revenue-neutral; if it was lower, it was of no use”. And, that 10 cents was supposedly a well thought out solution. So, I'm urging my colleagues to vote “yes” for small businesses, particularly along the border stores; vote “yes” for the New Hampshire advantage, and to concur with the House on this bill for those reasons.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise to support the nonconcurrence. We have the lowest tobacco tax in New England. Every one of the states that surrounds us – Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut – all have much higher tobacco tax. The budget was built with this money in it; it's a $15 million situation. And, it seems to me that retaining the New Hampshire advantage, which we do, is really what we should be doing. If you reduce the tax by 10 cents, who's going to take up the slack? It's going to be the tobacco companies; they're the ones that are going to be the beneficiaries, not the little retailer; the retailer's in a positive position as we speak – they're in a very positive position. And, we're meeting our goals, our goals based upon what we have in place as we speak. So, I think it's exercising good judgment to nonconcur and to move forward. We have bigger and more pressing issues to deal with than talking about a 10-cent decrease in the tobacco tax. We've got big things to think about. We have the budget; we have the lives of all of the people that we represent. Those are the things that we should be considering as we move forward. And, when we go to conference, we'll stand our ground and make sure that the people are served. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Odell.)

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. I'll be brief and just suggest to you that the testimony before the Ways and Means Committee was equaled; we had one study that said that this would be revenue-neutral; we had another study that said this would be a deficit-creating piece of legislation. So, we had competing dialogue in terms of the economic impact of this 10-cent reduction. Thank you.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: If I believe that the cigarette tax should be lowered, would I vote "no" on the pending motion?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Could you repeat the question, please?

SENATOR BRADLEY: If I agree with Odell – Senator Odell – that the cigarette tax should stay where it is, would I vote "yes" on the pending motion?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: If you are in favor of the pending motion, you will vote "yes"; if you are opposed, you will vote "no".

The question is on the motion of nonconcurrency.

A roll call was requested by Sen. White, seconded by Sen. Barnes.

The following Senators voted Yes: Bradley, Houde, Groen, Odell, Kelly, Luther, Larsen, Barnes, De Blois, D'Allesandro, Merrill, Prescott, Bragdon.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a commission to study youth sports concussions and other concussions received while at school.

SENATOR HOUDE: I appreciate your consideration...I appreciate the chamber's consideration at Senator Barnes' inquiry and to cross all the t's and dot all the i's; you'll see that new members in (a) and (b) have been added: one from the Senate and one from the House.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn for a question of Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you so much; I appreciate that. Just looking to see if I see your name in here under the Senator who will be serving?

SENATOR HOUDE: I won't take that question, Mister President.

President Bragdon ruled Amendment 2280s non-germane.

Sen. Houde moved to suspend Rule 3-7 to allow for the introduction of non-germane Amendment 2280s to HB 136-FN. Adopted by necessary 2/3 vote.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass as Amended. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

Recess. Out of recess.

HB 648, relative to eminent domain petitions by public utilities. Re-refer to committee, Vote 4-0. Senator Luther for the committee.

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I move HB 648 be Re-referred to committee. This legislation sought to amend the eminent domain statutes and was filed in response to the proposed Northern Pass project.

The Committee heard hours of testimony and received literally hundreds of phone calls, letters, and emails about this legislation; we all know that on our committee. It is perhaps the most contentious and complicated piece of legislation we heard in Judiciary this session. The adoption of this legislation would obviously affect the homes and properties of individuals where the Northern Pass project would go, but could also potentially affect other electrical transmission projects and rates. These are no small considerations, and the Committee was and is genuinely concerned with the dynamics involved with this legislation.

Sentiments expressed at the hearing and in subsequent conversations go well beyond the scope of eminent domain. We need additional time to review proposed amendments and be certain that whatever we recommend is very carefully and thoughtfully balanced in light of the genuine concerns on both sides. While we understand that many wish this to go forward immediately, the few months afforded the Committee members to continue work on this should not otherwise affect the process. For this reason, the Judiciary Committee recommends that HB 648 be Re-referred to committee and asks for your support.

I just want to add a couple of comments – personal comments – as well, beyond this: that this has been a tremendously challenging bill for those of us on the Committee. And, we've all received – we've gotten this, the “no trespass”, and I think we're very sensitive to the property rights issues. And, I have received – I'm sure many Senators have received – really very disturbing letters, emails about the experiences that they've had with helicopters, people knocking on their doors, demanding, really making demands – and these really are inexcusable if they are true.

Also, I must also consider the long-term needs of this state. And, as some of you are probably aware, and one of the concerns that I have is Vermont Yankee is probably going to go offline; that will take a considerable amount of generation out of the grid. In addition, quite a few of the oil-fired plants could go offline, as well. 45 percent of the electricity generation in New Hampshire comes from natural gas. As you know, natural gas is at an all-time low. As that price rises – and, it will rise – it's going to have a very significant impact upon the electricity costs in this state. And, I do think that the overall plan of having this line is helpful, long-term, to the region. This is hydro – hydro is the cheapest by far of any of the renewable energies: probably a couple cents per kilowatt, or whatever it is. And, the cheapest by far of the renewables. It also has no emissions, and I think that that needs to be considered. So, I would just say this has been a big struggle for us on the Committee; we heard from many folks, and I'm looking at both sides of this issue. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to oppose the Re-refer. There is just too many “what-ifs” that occur with the fact that we may have a problem with our electrical grid later on. If in fact natural gas is at an all-time low, shouldn't we all be investing in natural gas, since we're guaranteed that it's going to go up and up and up? I don't think anybody here would make a bet on that, and yet we're saying that natural gas is going to be our demise, coming in the future, for electric power for the State of New Hampshire. If I were a betting man, which I'm not, I certainly wouldn't bet on natural gas going up just because Northern Pass shouldn't come through, or should come through.

I just want to say that I have had zero companies in this whole state contact me – not one. Not one company contacted me about this issue. Not one. That's amazing. We've been talking about Northern Pass since January, and not one company has come to me and said: "We should make sure that we get Northern Pass to come through," or, "We should make sure that Northern Pass doesn't come through". But, I tell you what has happened in the last six months, is a lot of people have been concerned about their rights to their private property. And, that's what I'm standing up here, opposed to this Re-refer, because I believe something needs to be done to make sure that people's rights are protected. So many individuals have contacted me and said: "Please stand up for our private property rights. Please do us the courtesy of at least looking at this to postpone what seems to be a real drive to get something done without having the House and the Senate have their opportunity to have their ability to talk about this issue". So, having it Re-referred and putting it off and kicking it down the road is not the answer. I believe that we need to deal with it today; I hope that we do overturn the Committee's recommendation of Re-refer and have some reasonable conversation about this imminent so-called... "Our electrical grid's going to go down if we don't Re-refer this bill". So, thank you very much, Mister President, for the opportunity to speak.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forrester.)

SENATOR FORRESTER: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the Committee's recommendation of Re-refer on House Bill 648, relative to eminent domain. And, I'm asking you to join me today in turning down this Re-refer so that I can bring forward a motion of Ought to Pass with a floor amendment. The amendment will place a one-year moratorium on eminent domain for transmission lines, and you might have a draft in front of you. Passage of this amendment will send a message to private property owners that we will defend the Constitution and defend their most basic right to own property and not live in fear that it will be taken by a private developer for profit.

In 2006, the Legislature and the voters amended the State's Constitution to enhance protections against the use of eminent domain. The House voted 277-61 to adopt CACR 30; the Senate voted 24-0 to adopt this; New Hampshire voters enacted on a vote of 85 percent to 15 percent.

As amended, Article 12-a reads: "No part of a person's property shall be taken by eminent domain and transferred directly or indirectly to another person if the taking is for the purpose of private development or other private use of the property." It would seem to follow the language in the Constitution would be enough to assure private property rights. But, when folks from PSNH state publicly that they will use eminent domain as a last resort for their private project, clearly, they don't believe the Constitution applies to them. While public purposes sometimes require the taking of private property by eminent domain as a last resort, it is completely inappropriate that New Hampshire citizens should live in fear of takings by private projects for private gain. And, you know, early on in the process, I had one of the representatives from PSNH come to my office to talk to me about this project. And, she said to me... Well, actually, I said to her: "Well, you shouldn't have to worry about this, because I read in the paper that you've got the property all lined up with the private property owners, that you've made your deal". And, she said: "No, we still need to hold this over their head to make them sell their property". Really? Really? Is this what we're going to let them do to private property owners in the state? Private property owners should have the right to decide, and they shouldn't be forced to accept a private project for the private gain of others that will forever negatively impact their lives and property values. This legislation needs to be acted on now to assure landowners that their property will not be taken unless they want to sell it. The proposed project is having a negative impact on property values and property sales now; this is why we need to act on this now. The North Country economy is fragile, and the uncertainty caused by this proposed project is causing further harm. This legislation is about protecting private property rights and the simple belief that in New Hampshire, one's home is their castle, and their property should not be threatened without dire need driven by unquestionable public good, and certainly not for the profit of another. A few weeks ago, I was told that PSNH is more powerful than the Senate. And, I have to tell you, I was shocked to hear that, and I couldn't believe it. But, you know, I tell you, there is a perception out there that that's the reality of it.

House Bill 648 is before us because of Northern Pass, but the bill is not before us to stop Northern Pass. Rather, it is before us to stop Northern Pass from bypassing Article 12-a of our Constitution. Senators, not so many months ago, you took an oath to defend the New Hampshire Constitution. We are here to defend the Constitution, not throw it under the bus. I ask you to vote against the Re-refer and let me bring in my amendment for consideration. Thank you.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR BARNES: If this body votes to go with the Committee's recommendation, does that mean that Senator Forrester will not be able to bring her amendment forward?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: The recommendation we're considering right now is Re-refer. If that were to pass, there would be no further votes; if that were to fail, there would be opportunities for amendments.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you very much.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: You're welcome.

SENATOR BARNES: Everyone heard that, I hope.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles for a question of Sen. Forrester.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you for taking my question. Would you believe that these details could be all worked out with a Re-referral?

SENATOR FORRESTER: I believe that they probably could, but I don't think a Re-referral is necessary. I think we need to act on this now. I think we need, as a Senate, to send a message right now to private property owners that we will stand for them. And, I don't think we need a Re-referral.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Jeanie, thank you for expressing your opinion. Senator Prescott, if you have not been contacted by any one company, I'd be glad to send you the hundreds of phone calls, emails, messages from companies and individuals that I've been barraged with for months on this issue.

We all know this is incredibly complicated. This might be as complicated as anything we've addressed since we've come here – as complicated as the budget. How do we find a way to protect the core values of what makes us New Hampshire, embrace our Constitution, and represent every single person who has asked us to represent them? Now, I also honestly have to say, I need to give a shout-out to everyone upstairs, everyone who's wearing orange and Public Service and everyone involved. For although at times it's been heated, everyone has been professional and polite and understands some of the ramifications we're being faced with. I think it's incredibly important that we separate the Northern Pass project from protecting people's rights under eminent domain. House Bill 648 is about eminent domain for public utilities – not just one project, but every single project. I'm going to ask you to vote down the Re-refer, and will be presenting an amendment that clearly shows this body, this Senate, is going to create a path and a roadmap by which we need to prove to the people of New Hampshire – and every single one of them – that they do have rights under the Constitution, and it is our right to help protect that. I believe it is this body's obligation to help set the course in five, six, or seven different vehicles under which this legislation – which, again, I say is fundamentally flawed – need to be addressed to protect everybody. So, again, I ask you for your consideration for Jeanie and I; our amendments are different, but we have very similar intentions, and I appreciate your time. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. I also rise to urge you to vote “no” on the Re-refer. I think today we have to send a clear message on private property rights. My interest, however, is in protecting private property rights, not in stopping Northern Pass. Bringing this power in will help New Hampshire by lowering prices and providing diversity in our energy supply. However, this project, or any project, must respect private property rights. So, we need to take a look at eminent domain laws very, very carefully; that's something that takes time. Senator Sanborn has talked about the amendment he introduces; the original bill does have flaws. He and myself and Senator Bradley worked until late at night last night working on that – a good statement of purpose – to say what we want to do about private property rights and eminent domain laws. So, I would urge us to bring that forward and vote “no” on this. And, although I originally cosponsored the bill with Senator Forrester on putting on a moratorium, I do oppose that. I think it sends the wrong signal to the business community to do that right now, because it singles out a single project. Also, additionally, PSNH has promised not to use eminent domain for another year, and I believe they've gotten the message; they've seen the debates that we've had, they've seen our resolve for private property rights, and I believe they're going to work with us on this as we revise the eminent domain laws. But, I do believe we need to have a healthy debate, and we have to do that now. And, I urge you to vote “no” on the Re-refer.

What I do want to say in conclusion is, no matter what happens, I know that the Senate is going to continue to work hard on private property rights, and no one has worked harder on private property rights, protecting private property rights with respect to this project, than Senator Forrester, and I know that she's going to continue that work. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White for a question of Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Senator Sanborn. Both yourself and Senator Forsythe have mentioned that you believe the underlying bill that we have in front of us has fundamental flaws. Could you outline a couple of those fundamental flaws for me?

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you for the question, Senator; I truly appreciate it. You know, from the get-go, the first issue with the bill, it provides no definition of "system reliability". To enable any utility – because, again, remember, I focused this on eminent domain, not a specific project. One just needs to declare the need to protect system reliability without a definition. So, if we passed this bill today, tomorrow, what's to stop any utility for declaring the need for system reliability?

Number two: I believe that we need to look at how we protect people and their ability by reaffirming whether or not a taking is a single parcel or the entire parcel. I think we need to look at this bill, which doesn't talk about how we take state property, municipal property, county property – it's not even discussed in the bill. There are so many issues with this. And, again, I applaud the House, and I'm not here to disrespect the work that they have done. But, there are so many questions that are still open in this legislation as we have looked at it that it needs to be addressed, and I believe the Senate can help make that path. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. This indeed has been a very compelling debate. And, I think for all 24 of us, we would all agree on a couple of basic premises: A person's property is a person's property. And, that was reaffirmed after the Kelo decision in the United States Supreme Court, by this Senate – and, many of you served in it – on a 24-0 bipartisan basis. Congratulations to those of you who were there and who worked to make that happen.

I think we would also all agree – and, I remember working with a lot of you for a long number of years: Senator Larsen, Senator Barnes, Senator D'Allesandro, on an electric system that did not have the highest average electric cost in the nation. And, the fact that when we did have those highest average electric costs in the nation, we stuck out like a sore thumb; it was terrible for our business environment. We all worked together as Republicans and Democrats not, as legislators that were responsible to the people of New Hampshire to fix a problem that had festered for 25 years and to get us out of federal court with the state's largest utility. That's what we did – that's what we did together. And, just like ten years ago, we have the opportunity today to create a win-win. It's not easy; there's going to be a lot of discussion that we have to get there to do it. But, I'm standing up today to say that those of us who are going to support this initial motion of Re-refer know that we have got to strengthen significantly our eminent domain laws, much as my good friend from Henniker has outlined.

But, let's look at the bill. The bill that was passed by the House cedes authority on reliability for use of eminent domain to out-of-state regulators. When in the world did we think that was a good idea for New Hampshire? And, the moratorium: It won't work unless it absolutely tanks this proposal. If it does, the problem goes away, people can sell their property. But, if it doesn't, it's nothing more than a feel-good piece of legislation, because people, if they want to sell their property, are still going to have to disclose it to a realtor and all those types of things that they're on the route or the alternate route. It feels good, but I question whether it does what it's intended to do. I will also tell you that the process of a public utility getting eminent domain at the Public Utilities Commission is by no means an easy process: it's difficult, it's cumbersome; it will be litigated to death. It will take forever. So, this project is not going to move forward, regardless of what we do today, at the Public Utilities Commission any time soon.

What we should be thinking about is how we create the win-win: Taking our time to do something that's rational, something that protects property rights, and something that protects the energy future of New Hampshire. My good friend from Nashua outlined the fact that Vermont Yankee: A lot of people want to shut it down. Salem Harbor: Units 1 and 2, I believe, are on the shut-down list in Massachusetts. All of the coal plants in New England with the exception of the Bow power plant don't meet the new EPA standards; that's going to be very expensive to upgrade. The oil plants that are here that provide peak power are expensive to operate. So, we're over the natural gas barrel, if you will. And, the one thing I learned from the debate that we had about restructuring our state's electric utility is don't put all your eggs in one basket. Don't deny opportunities for competition in the energy market. You know, we all thought we were really smart when we passed that legislation ten years ago, after a huge amount of work and a gigantic settlement. We all breathed a sigh of relief. And then, you know what happened? California went to blank in a hand basket, and I think you all know what I mean. The price of power skyrocketed because their plants were old, they were unreliable; the price of natural gas was through the roof. It didn't snow, there was no hydro-facilities that were producing enough electricity, and there was lack of balance in pricing. And, that's why the natural gas industry would love us to pass a moratorium on eminent domain; the same people that used eminent domain to get a pipeline in northern New Hampshire. So, let's look at the big picture, do our homework – as we did ten years ago – in passing good legislation that – guess what? – It's still good legislation today, ten years later. I know we can do it; we did it before, we'll do it again. I urge you to vote for Re-refer. Thank you.

SENATOR BARNES: I'm not going to ask you the score, because they don't play 'til tomorrow. So, you're all set there.

The question I have for you, Senator Bradley, and you brought it up about these power plants closing and what's going to happen. A lot of conversation has gone on, and I plan to address that later if we don't get a Re-referral to go and talk about Senator Forrester's amendment. How much of this power that these lines are bringing in is coming to New Hampshire? I've heard no answer to that. I've heard the question raised at two functions I've gone to, but there was nobody there from Public Service to answer that question, and I hadn't seen it in the paper.

How much of that energy that you have been talking about, with those plants closing down, is coming to the State of New Hampshire through this project?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Well, we're going to have to do a little bit of electricity 101.

SENATOR BARNES: Okay, I'm ready.

SENATOR BRADLEY: After the great 1964 power outage, our nation socialized, if you will, the risk of blackouts by creating power pools. And, New England is in a power pool. And, think of it this way: It's like a lake. You live in Raymond; I live in Wolfeboro. Water comes in from Wolfeboro and water comes in from Raymond. I don't get your water; you don't get my water. But, the water goes into the lake and produces the entire lake. Electricity is like that. And, New England, in our power pool, has precious few interconnections, either to the south of us or to the north of us. And so, while this power, in theory, is being shipped to Connecticut, where there are even more difficulties in siting generation than in New Hampshire, if it happens – and I'm pretty skeptical that it ever will happen, or that it should – but if it happens, it is a benefit, if you will, to New England. And, that's a result of what happened after the 1964 blackout.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a follow-up question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BARNES: I don't think I got an answer. Can you give me a real answer of how much of that power is going to be coming into the State of New Hampshire?

SENATOR BRADLEY: All right. Let me try to explain...

SENATOR BARNES: Forget the lake up in Wolfeboro.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Let me try to explain electricity 101 differently.

SENATOR BARNES: Oh, good.

SENATOR BRADLEY: If you plug in your light or your computer at that outlet right back there, there's no guarantee, Senator Barnes, that the power is coming from the Bow power plant, from Seabrook, from one of the wood-burners up north; it goes into the grid. And, that's what happens with electricity.

SENATOR BARNES: So, the answer is, we really don't know, and there's no way to tell, unless we go to electricity 202. Thank you, Senator.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Electricity 101 is the answer.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Senator.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Let's go to electricity 202. I do have an answer for your question; it's about 10 percent that they're committing to New Hampshire, and below-market rates. But, we do have to understand this: that we are in ISO New England, which means all of New England is one grid. Electrons pass state borders; they don't know when they cross, like a car, toll booths, or whatever. So, we have to look at the whole network. And, if you... Basically, we've seen over the last few years, the grids in this country are at great risk. So, we have to do some work in this area.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR BARNES: I want to talk about your electricity 202, Senator.

SENATOR LUTHER: Yes.

SENATOR BARNES: I asked the good Senator over here, who is very well-versed on power. Now, I know you're a very intelligent man. He couldn't give me an answer; he couldn't come up with that 10 percent number. Where did you get that 10 percent number that the rest of us don't have? Where did it come from?

SENATOR LUTHER: I stood a PSNH person up against the wall and I demanded an answer. I got it from PSNH.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a follow-up question of Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR BARNES: I asked for a meeting for all Senators... That'll come up later. Okay. Thank you. PSNH gave you that answer?

SENATOR LUTHER: Yes.

SENATOR BARNES: Well, that's interesting. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Senator Barnes, I, in this case, stand with Senator Luther. And, I've also heard that there are discussions ongoing as to what the benefit to New Hampshire will be. And, you're right, Senator Barnes; there has been a void of conversations as to where the power's going to go in electricity 101 or 202. But, we do know that there are conversations; we do know the conversations would indicate the power presented to New Hampshire will be less than what our current market rates are. And, there are some just suggestions that the savings could approach $20 million to the ratepayers of New Hampshire specifically. But, I will remind us, this is not an issue relative to Northern Pass. I believe that's a discussion we need to discuss at another day. This is a discussion about eminent domain. So, thank you very much, sir.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forrester for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR FORRESTER: Back to 101. We heard Senator Luther say that we were going to be purchasing 10 percent, or 10 percent would be coming from this. I learned through this process that, actually, New Hampshire exports power. Why would we be getting 10 percent from this project if we're exporting power now?

SENATOR BRADLEY: This is what a public process is all about. And, this is why there is going to be ample opportunity at the site evaluation committee, the Public Utilities Commission, and federal regulators to look at the details of this proposal. I would hope that a significant amount of the power is going to be available in the way that Senator Sanborn indicated, or Senator Luther indicated, for lower cost rates in New Hampshire. But, until the paperwork is filed, and until people have a chance to push the envelope, if you will, I think it's a little bit premature to say it absolutely will happen. Should we be – you and I, and anybody else, if this project's going to move forward – be demanding from Public Service better public benefits? Absolutely. But, this debate today is about the use of eminent domain, and it's about how it may impact our future energy markets, and it's about making sure that we have no unintended consequences. And, I could go back and spend a lot of time here, and I'm sure my good friend from Raymond would remember some of the discussions that we had about unintended consequences in decisions that were made in the 1980s that led, in the 1990s and early part of the 2000s, to the highest electric rates in the nation. I don't want to go back there. I want to get it right; I want to get it right for property owners, I want to get it right for businesses and consumers, that, quite frankly, need low-cost power. And, I think that's what we're trying to do, and I think the Re-referral creates that win-win opportunity to do it right for the State of New Hampshire and every person and business here.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forrester for a follow-up question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR FORRESTER: Low-cost power: I keep hearing that. Do we have an idea what benefit New Hampshire's going to get, really, with low-cost power?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Again, the application hasn't even been filed, in my understanding, and it's probably a year away from being filed. It will be litigated at the Public Utilities Commission in a docket that interveners from all across the spectrum will be able to make their case heard, whether it's going to be approved or not, and also at the site evaluation committee, and from federal regulators. That will be the time to demand – of course, we can do something about it right here and now, as you are, and I am – of Public Service that there be better public benefits. One of the reasons I join you in skepticism about this project is I don't think there have been a great list of public benefits for New Hampshire. I think it should expand, quite frankly. There is no question about that in my mind. But, we're talking about eminent domain and, in my view, the broader energy picture, that I want to make sure at the end of the day that we're not making decisions here today that put us over a barrel in the future when it's very difficult to turn the energy picture around. I mean, think of the pain that we're all experiencing at the gas pump right now. Well, guess what? That's decisions made a long time ago: not to drill in ANWR, not to drill off the coastal shores, not to do a lot of things that have raised the price of gasoline. Let's not do that here.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forrester for a follow-up question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR FORRESTER: Well, with my proposed floor amendment, it would be a one-year moratorium. How does that affect the project?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Well, the problem, Senator Forrester, as I indicated before, I don't think it's going to work, because unless it absolutely tanks the project, the same uncertainty for property owners is going to be there even if we pass this bill and it is in law; you'll have to disclose it on your, you know, if you're trying to sell your property. And, I don't think it solves the problem; I wish it would.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BARNES: Senator Bradley, this is an easy one. It's a "would you believe?" Would you believe that I think that if Public Service had had that meeting with all 24 of us Senators, to brief us and answer our questions, this debate wouldn't be going on right now? What I asked for never did happen; it's unfortunate. But, would you believe that I think a lot of this conversation wouldn't be happening here today if we all had have been better informed by PSNH of what was going on? Yes or no is as good answer.

SENATOR BRADLEY: I think there's a lot of answering that they will have to do to you, Senator Barnes.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you very much, Senator.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: I'll make it quick, Mister President. I just wanted to continue towards the energy 401, now. But, yeah, the power is fungible because it's on the pool. So, even if we don't buy any of the power, the power that other people would have bought we can then buy at a lower price, etcetera. So, it should save money; how much is a good question and needs to be answered. I also want to point out this potential project is one of the few if only projects or energy sources that would not be subsidized. However, like Senator Sanborn, I want to again remind us this is not about this particular project; this is about private property rights. I personally believe eminent domain shouldn't be used for the line to connect to the grid, and we need to show respect for the private property owners, and I am hoping that will start to happen now that we're having this conversation. Thank you, Mister President.

Sen. Stiles called the question. Without objection President Bragdon closed debate with remaining speakers.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. First of all, as a member of Senate Judiciary, I would like to offer my good wishes to our Chairman, who ran what ended up being a fairly difficult public hearing and very, very lengthy. And, I'd like to point out here today that the discussions that are taking place here on the floor pretty much mirror what happened during the public hearing. While it started out discussing eminent domain, it devolved into a discussion about the Northern Pass. I would like to ask my colleagues, how many of you have read the statutes concerning eminent domain? How many of you have read the administrative rules dealing with eminent domain? We have some problems with those statutes and with those rules that we as a body need to address. We need to strengthen that procedure to protect our property rights here in New Hampshire. And, I would just like to conclude by saying I am very disappointed in PSNH; I've seen this tactic used before in my community, in a project that went through my community. And, one of the things that I would like to do is to be able to address that type of behavior within either our administrative rules or within legislation. And, I'd also like to point out that during the Committee discussion, we even discussed whether or not we need to pass another constitutional amendment that deals with the taking of land by public utilities. This is not an easy subject, and the Committee is determined to do the work; we have even discussed having public meetings up in the North Country, because in many of the emails that we received – and I know that I have received – people felt that they didn't have an opportunity to really say the things that they wanted to say. We are very sensitive to all citizens who come to us, and I think they deserve that opportunity. And, again, I just would like to be on the record saying that as a member of the Committee, we have talked about doing that. And, I'm hoping that we can Re-refer this bill, that we can do the work that needs to be done to protect the private property of every citizen in the State of New Hampshire. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR BARNES: If you have these meetings, do you believe that you will be able to get Public Service to participate, or are they going to thumb their nose at you like they did at me?

SENATOR CARSON: Well, thank you for the question, Senator, and I will make a very strongly worded suggestion that they participate in these hearings.

SENATOR BARNES: You will make the suggestion, but that doesn't mean they'll do it.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. Very briefly, I'll try to answer Senator Barnes' questions about the pool. I think the answer is quite simple: New Hampshire gets 10 percent of the energy that comes through this line if it comes. And, the reason I say that is because this is a pool: water flows into the pool, New Hampshire gets 10 percent of their electricity from the pool, so anything that goes in, they get 10 percent. Now, I want to remind all of us that if we're 2 percent short of power come a hot July day, and that power causes a brownout or blackout, all the people of New Hampshire are affected by that, along with the rest of our pool. Now, going on from that, we here, I believe, are all strong advocates of private property rights; I am. I just want to read the amendment that was passed in 2006, read the exact wording for our...just for the record: "No part of a person's property shall be taken by eminent domain and transferred directly or indirectly to another person if the taking is for the purpose of private development or other private use of property." So, I think the key there is for use of another as private use property. We have to uphold this constitutional provision and the people's will in passing it to the full extent of the law. Now, where are we right now with eminent domain? Our current law allows private property be taken by eminent domain when a utility proves through a very rigorous process that such taking is justified. I support that concept of eminent domain usage for utility purposes, narrowly construed, when needed, to provide not only for system reliability as is stated in the law, but for reliable and long-term supply of electric power. And, I think that herein comes the issue that we haven't addressed is: How do we define that long-term need? Who defines it? How long is the period of time we look out? Those are questions that need to be answered. This is good for New Hampshire citizens, to make sure that we have an adequate supply of reliable power at a reasonable cost; it's good for New Hampshire citizens, it's good for long-term business success and prosperity, which I would say is also good for New Hampshire citizens, and it's good for our state government and our budget to have a good, strong business community. The current situation: Northern Pass, LLC is not a utility. Under our current law, they can't apply for eminent domain. Northern Pass and its parent company have not gone through the rigorous process that's required to determine whether they can use eminent domain on this project. Yet, we heard substantial testimony that Northern Pass representatives have used the threat of eminent domain to bully private landowners into selling land for this project. I think that this practice is reprehensible; I think it's bad business. I believe that they created the firestorm of opposition by not following the due process of law. So, we need to balance the constitutional mandate to protect property rights with the long-term needs of our state and of our citizens. The use of eminent domain for utility projects is established in our state law. It's use has to be carefully applied to ensure the proper constitutional balance with our new constitutional amendment. Most of our eminent domain law predates deregulation of our utility industry. We need to carefully study our law in the light of our current utility and regulatory status and our recent constitutional amendment. Now, with that, it's obvious that I would recommend Re-refer, and I do. And, the reason that I will vote against this initial recommendation of Re-refer, though I voted for it in committee, is because I believe that we need to give, and I need to give, my fellow colleague, Senator Forrester and Senator Sanborn, an opportunity to present their amendments; I think it's part of the open process that we value here in the Senate. And, so in the initial vote, I will vote against the Re-refer to allow that process. Thank you, Mister President.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR BARNES: I asked a parliamentary question about an hour ago, so I'd like to bring it up one more time. If this group votes to non Re-refer, that allows our two Senators to bring their amendments forward. If we vote to Re-refer this, it's dead and buried; those amendments will never see the light of day.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: If the motion to Re-refer is adopted, the debate is over. If the motion to Re-refer fails, there will be opportunity for other amendments.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Sen. Boutin for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR BOUTIN: If the Re-refer motion passes, will those Senators' amendments be able to be heard by the Committee during their study?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: During the interim period before January, I'm sure the Committee will be open to –

SENATOR BOUTIN: So, they will not die. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee recommendation of Re-refer to committee.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Larsen, seconded by Sen. Barnes.

The following Senators voted Yes: Bradley, Houde, Odell, Kelly, Luther, Carson, Larsen, Boutin, De Blois, Rausch, D'Allesandro, Merrill, Morse, Stiles.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forrester.)

SENATOR FORRESTER: Thank you, Mister President. I just want to remind all the Senators that this Sunday afternoon at 2:00 in Meredith we are having the ribbon-cutting for the late Carl Johnson for the sign on Johnson Bay. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, as you mentioned at the beginning of our session, New Hampshire lost one of its great public servants last evening, with the passage of Walter Peterson: our former Governor, our former Speaker of the House, but most of all, public servant.

Now, what does the word "public servant" mean? Public servant means that you give more, and ask for nothing in return. And, that's what Walter Peterson was: a man who gave more and asked nothing in return. My life was made better by my association with Walter Peterson.

In this life, we meet very few people that we can call truly great, great Americans. Walter Peterson was a great American. No man that I have met ever did more for this state, and for many, many people, than Walter Peterson. I worked with Walter Peterson for ten years at Franklin Pierce University. I worked with him when I was President of Daniel Webster College. I spent many, many hours with Walter Peterson; he'd come to my home, we'd sit down at my kitchen table, we'd talk about things; we'd talk about life. And, Walter always was thinking about how he could make life better for somebody else. I don't think there's a cause in New Hampshire that Walter didn't contribute to. I don't think there's a place in this state that Walter didn't visit, as the Governor, as the Speaker, as the President of Franklin Pierce, as the President of the University of New Hampshire, as the Chancellor of the Community College System.

You know, Walter was always giving. He always had time for you; always had time. And, we know time's a very precious thing. Walter lived 89 years; it wasn't enough, because we always wanted more of Walter Peterson. You know, one of the great things about this political life is, I was told early on in the process that when you speak, you should always want people to want a little bit more when you leave. Well, we all want a little bit more of Walter Peterson, because that piece of Walter that we have and that we shared was so precious that we wanted to hold onto it. But, all of us know you can't hold onto life, because life has a finite value, and we're only here for such a short, short period of time. But, in Walter's lifetime, he did so much. He left a legacy. And, in my opinion, the legacy is this: Do what you can for others, because in the long run, you'll get it back a hundredfold.

As I said, Walter made my life better. But, I'm sure he affected the lives of everybody in this room, and really, everybody in this state, by making their lives just a little bit better. If we believe that there's something after this, Walter is there, and his presence will be felt as long as we're alive. Men like Walter come along once in a lifetime – once in a lifetime. You know, I said that about my dad, but I say it emphatically about Walter, because he set a model for all of us: a public servant, a community activist, a giver – a giver – well beyond anything that any of us know about. He was a giver.

His wife, Dorothy, is the greatest – just a tremendous woman. His children, Andy, and his daughter, Meg, you know, went through a tough life; this politics is a tough business. And, let me tell you that Walter was able to keep it all together during some very, very difficult times. But, I know that if he were here today, he would say that hey, he loves all of us, there's enough love to go around, and let's think positively about the future, and let's carry with us the great work that Walter has done, and let's try to replicate the work that Walter has done. In any way we can, let's try to make life better for the people that we associate with. Thank you, Mister President.

Without objection President Bragdon moved that all Rule 2-17's shall be entered into the permanent Journal of the Senate.

Out of Recess. Call Senate to Order.

MOTION TO ADJOURN FROM LATE SESSION

Sen. Bradley moved that the Senate adjourn from the Late Session.

Adopted. Adjournment from the Late Session.

June 8, 2011

The Senate reconvened at 1 p.m., a quorum being present.

The Reverend Jason Wells, guest chaplain to the Senate, offered the following meditation and prayer.

Just one moment ago, President Bragdon let me know about something you all may have already heard: that just recently, Private First Class Michael Cook, a graduate of Salem High School, a child of New Hampshire from Senator Morse's District was killed in Iraq. I'd like for us, before we continue today, to honor his sacrifice with a moment of silence.

When religious people of just about any kind encounter the mystery that is death, when we look at that image of death and new birth and new life that comes after it, almost every religion looks at that symbol of the setting sun, and its rising the next day.

According to the old Greek myth, it was Hercules in his final labor who had to go to the Garden of the Hesperides, way out in the west, on the west, past the horizon, the place where the sun sets. He would go to the Garden and retrieve the gleaming golden apples that shine like the setting sun.

There's a Christian hymn for all the Saints that has the marvelous verse in it that says: "The golden evening brightens in the West. Soon, soon to faithful warriors come to their rest. Sweet is the calm of Paradise, the blessed." If it's Private Cook, if it's you or somebody else in this room, I know all of us and all of you have made sacrifices and made much hard work during this session and season. Last week, I was emailed three Senate Calendars in my email; I know how hard you all have worked, and I know how much – no matter what vote you've taken on either side, I think everybody has taken a beating for no matter what vote you took on any issue. The work has been difficult. But, soon, soon to faithful Senators comes their rest. Remember that soon it will be time to go home, it will be time to sit on your porch to drink the refreshing beverage of your choice, and to sit and watch as the session ends, as the day ends, to watch the sun set. Let us pray.

O, Lord, support us all the day long, until the shadows lengthen and the evening comes, and the busy world is hush, and the fever of life is over, and our work is done. Then, in Your mercy, grant us safe lodging and a holy rest, and peace at the last. Amen.

Sen. Merrill led the Pledge of Allegiance.

And, I think on all of our behalf we wish the Peterson family peace and some solace in the love that he and respect he gained over the years he served our state. Thank you.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives concurs with the Senate in the passage of the following entitled Bill, with amendment, in the passage of which amendment the House asks the concurrence of the Senate:

SB 172, relative to performance-based school accountability criteria.

SENATE NONCONCURS WITH HOUSE AMENDMENT

Sen. Stiles moves nonconcurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. I just rise... We tabled 164 without any discussion. This version of the bill adds the language from 164, dealing with common core standards. This bill would limit the adoption of common core standards to make it so it needs legislative approval. Common core standards are national standards, and I supported the House position, and I would ask that we concur. Thank you, Mister President.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Thank you, Senator Forsythe. And, I apologize; I neglected to ask Senator Stiles for an explanation of the changes.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. The House amended the bill by adding the language for the common core standards, which we had tabled. In review of this, the performance-based accountability will not be implemented until 2012 and 2013, and the task force charged with coming up with that criteria will give another report in November of this year. So, the sponsors of the bill felt that there was no immediate need to pass this legislation, and would give the task force the opportunity to review all of the criteria again and come forth with their final recommendations. And, therefore, we ask you to nonconcur.

The question is on the adoption of nonconcurrence. Adopted.

Without objection the Clerk was instructed to read the first complete House Message and thereafter only the title of each bill shall be read.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives concurs with the Senate in the passage of the following entitled Bill, with amendment, in the passage of which amendment the House asks the concurrence of the Senate:

SB 28, establishing an exemption from the licensing requirements for nondepository first mortgage bankers and brokers for persons providing loans for certain seller-financed transactions.

SENATE CONCURS WITH HOUSE AMENDMENT

Sen. Prescott moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. As passed by the Senate, the bill exempts seller-financed transactions that occur no more than three times in one year from a licensing requirement under the nondepository first mortgage bankers and brokers. As amended by the House, the House simply inserted clarifying language that the final regulations issued by U.S. Department of HUD – Housing and Urban Development – will supersede this law if they are in conflict. Given this clarifying amendment, the Commerce Committee recommends concurring with the House. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

Sen. Groen asserts Rule 2-15 on SB 28.

SB 120, relative to alcoholic beverage advertising restrictions.

Sen. Prescott moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. As passed by the Senate, this bill allows licensees to advertise liquor and beverage prices separately from any other advertisement or promotion, but also allows a local opt-out by the legislative body of any city or town. As amended by the House, the prohibition of advertising for exterior signs is expanded to public rights of way. Additionally, the House includes a temporary local opt-out by the governing bodies of cities or towns. Given that the amendments allow for local control, the Commerce Committee recommends that we concur with the House. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

Sen. Sanborn asserts Rule 2-15 on SB 120.

SB 189, relative to the definition of mortgage loan originator.

Sen. Prescott moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. As passed by the Senate, this bill brings state law into compliance with new federal rules and granting an exception from mortgage loan origination status to those performing purely clerical administrative tasks in doing so under the provision of a licensed person. As amended by the House, the exception is more clearly defined in the House's amendment. Commerce recommends concurring with the House position for this clarification. Thank you very much, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

SB 157-FN, relative to the division of weights and measures and fees for licensing weighing devices and the definition of service technician.

Sen. Carson moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. The only language that was added by the House requires that the Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture, Market, and Foods to make an annual report to the House and the Senate regarding consumer complaints, inspections, and audits, and the Committee agreed that that was acceptable, and so we will concur with the House.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much, Mister President. Putting aside whether good or bad sides were taken on the performance of the Department of Agriculture in their just-given, probably less than two years ago, the opportunity to take care of weights and measures, as it has been done for 100 years, I believe, prior to about 20 years ago. Whether they did a good job, whether the people in Commerce are for it or the people in the public feel better protected or not, is really different than why I'm standing. There's two sides of that argument. We need not to lose sight of our goal of what our duties are, and that is for weights and measures is a government process. Protecting both sides of Commerce and the public is our goal, and that's protecting both the business interest and the public interest.

The history of this is 100 years ago, I would assume that state government took care of weights and measures, as Article 1, Section 8 of our U.S. Constitution says that we should take care of weights and measures. I think we've been doing that for a long time. Twenty years ago or so, inspectors were removed from the budget in a process of a budget, not a process of a bill. And so, we lost inspectors, we lost control of the Department of Agriculture over this process of weights and measures. And, in 2009 – and that was done without a public hearing, by the way. We're always talking about open honest government – years ago, that was done in the budget; it was not done in a public hearing as a bill. In 2009, House Division I Finance was approached by the Department of Agriculture with this issue, and they were kind of taken aback a little bit and said, you know: "I thought government was supposed to take care of weights and measures." So, Representative Scamman at the time championed changing the direction of weights and measures back to where it originally was, back to the original intent. And, Senate Finance put it in the budget. I don't know who sat on Senate Finance in 2009, but Senate Finance put inspectors in the budget and put control of weights and measures into the Department of Agriculture, back where it was. And, that's just a little bit of a history.

And, I kind of shift a little bit, if someone came to me in 1960 as a bill, and I was a sitting Senator, and said: "Let's take weights and measures out of government control and let's give it to the private sector," I would probably say: "No". And, setting aside whether they're doing a good job or bad job, let's keep our eye on the ball. What is the goal of government? The goal of government is to protect the public interests and protect commerce; that's the goal of government. And, I think that's where we need to stand on this bill, and I urge the full Senate to overturn the concurrence with this new bill that's going to reverse the whole thing back to the private sector; whether they're doing a good job or not is secondary. And, whether the Department of Agriculture is doing a good job or not is secondary. I believe it belongs in the State responsibility, is to take care of weights and measures – I just want to reiterate that: We're talking about weights and measures. When you take our U.S. Constitution, it says the government shall have control over weights and measures. We're going to give it back to the private sector? I'm interested in overturning this concurrence and say it's nonconcur, and let's go to a committee of conference, because we don't want to go far one side – 20 years ago – far the next side – two years ago – and then again back to the other side today. Let's find the middle ground. Let's take some circumstances that could happen if we pass this bill. Let's say that someone goes into a scale, finds out it's wrong; they repair it, they recertify it and say: "Hey, everything's great." There's no notification to the State of New Hampshire that that takes place, there's no signing an affidavit with penalties of law if they didn't do a good job, none! None! We should not pass this bill at all. The public interest is at stake. Let's get it done by reversing this bill, making it nonconcur, and all I'm asking for is a little bit of collegial acceptance for one more meeting – a little committee of conference. I implore this great Senate to stand up for weights and measures: a government's responsibility. Thank you very much, Mister President. Good day.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR BARNES: Good afternoon.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Best to you.

SENATOR BARNES: Senator Prescott, if this piece of legislation went to that little committee of conference you're looking for, do you think it would address the concern that I brought up in caucus today about being at a gas station Saturday – a very busy gas station – with a sticker on there that said 2009 on it?

SENATOR PRESCOTT: That is an amazing story – to see an inspection taking place more than a year-and-a-half ago, you're saying, Senator?

SENATOR BARNES: The sticker said 2009.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: I would think that we could be able to get some little tweaking to this bill, get it to a committee of conference, and take care of that, and I would appreciate your support.

SENATOR BARNES: I... Well. I'll be quiet. You've answered my question.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much, Senator Barnes.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. And, while I can appreciate the comments of my esteemed colleague from Exeter, I vehemently disagree with his comments. We have discussed and debated the merits of this bill twice in this chamber: first as a policy and second as coming out of Finance. All this does is that it asks that this department start to keep a record of complaints; that's the only difference between what we passed and what the House passed. I think at this point, to open this bill up to reinterpretation because there's some sort of a middle ground someplace, I don't think we're going to be able to do that at this point in time, and I would ask my colleagues to please support the majority of the ED&A Committee and just concur with this bill. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I also serve on ED&A that heard this bill, and I respect the comments of the Senator from Exeter, but I also do disagree. Of all of the hearings, as a freshman, that I've heard, I have never heard a department that had the weakest defense of their performance. We've talked about the issue that, what about car inspections? Should we pull those back and have the state inspectors go out and do those? And, we don't trust people to do that? This is an issue of performance, and they made accusations about problems, and when we asked them to cite that, they had no records. They made all these comments, all unsubstantiated. And, again, I just think that this department has shown that they cannot do the job, and that's why we need to deal with it through this concurrence. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott for a question of Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Would you think that the car registrations rank as high as weights and measures, especially since it's really not even in the Constitution?

SENATOR LUTHER: Well, let's put it this way: If we've talked about extending car registrations in the past; that's an issue of safety – severe safety. Every car in this state, if we trust that those gas station owners, those service station owners, are going to do their job. I think it's very important.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much, Senator Luther.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to encourage the independent spirit that we've heard today. We debated this issue when it was a bill leaving the Senate. But, I find that there are few issues that touch more people's lives than weights and measures. It sounds like a very dry topic, but when you're at the grocery store, your items are being weighed and measured; when you're at the gas station, your gas is being measured, and that small amount of variance that is allowable is equal to millions of dollars in the pockets of gas station dealers across the state, by those who are measuring and who are paid for by the gas station owners to measure. The question was raised in the debate: "How come the Department didn't do a better job?" I was on the Finance Committee; I was on the division in Finance that reinstated these inspectors because, over the years, we had heard of so many violations. It took them half a year to hire the new inspectors, so they had a year-and-a-half to inspect all the weights and measures in this state. You have now decimated this – and, I assume by concurring – you will now eliminate these inspectors. There was an inspector who spoke very powerfully in the ED&A Committee – acknowledged that he was a Republican, a conservative Republican – he didn't really believe in a lot of government, but he believed in the power and the necessity of measuring a fair market and making sure that the consumers of our state receive a fair amount for the price they're paying. Right now, we've got the foxes watching the henhouse again, and we are returning it back to a system of those whom I pay to inspect are going to tell me whether my weights and measure is fair. It is not fair – it will not be fair. There's a reason why the Department of Agriculture did not have a full-blown inspection program, and that's because they had a year-and-a-half to do it. Do they have records? Yes. Do the records show that there's more than 60 percent failure in the measurement of gas in our state, and every single person in this room and across this state of driving age is probably acknowledging that they are not getting, at times, a fair measure. This is an important part of government that touches everyone's lives. I think it's only fair to send it to a committee of conference and we can hash this out further with the House. But, I think we make a big mistake today in retracting what had been a restoration of fairness to the marketplaces of New Hampshire. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles for a question of Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR STILES: Could you tell me who licensed the private inspectors?

SENATOR CARSON: The Department did. The Department was in charge of licensing these private inspectors.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe for a question of Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Senator Prescott. I take issues with constitutionality quite seriously, and you mentioned weights and measures in the Constitution; I believe you mentioned the federal Constitution. That governs what the federal government does; what about the New Hampshire Constitution? Is weights and measures mentioned in that?

SENATOR PRESCOTT: The reason why I mentioned the Article I, Section 8 is because it is precedent. You know, way back when, you know, a couple hundred or more years ago, that was written in our U.S. Constitution. It's very important, so I mentioned it. If you can find it in the New Hampshire Constitution, I'd be glad to read it, but I don't think you can find it. However, we do swear an oath to the U.S. Constitution. Now, that doesn't mean we have to swear an oath to this bill, but it does mean that we have to uphold our Constitution, our U.S. Constitution. And, if we're willing to uphold the U.S. Constitution, and it's their job to be in charge of weights and measures, well we darned well should be, as well. That's my point: We should be in charge of weights and measures.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator Carson, can you tell me who pays for the service technicians to come and inspect a weight or measure?

SENATOR CARSON: The business owners –

SENATOR LARSEN: Yes, thank you.

SENATOR CARSON: – just as the business owners pay the State to come out and inspect.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: May I introduce a guest?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Yes, you may.

SENATOR WHITE: We have Representative Ken Hawkins up in our gallery, and I just want to say, after a marathon SB 3 session, I just want to introduce him and welcome him to our gallery. He's a Representative from Bedford and has been for a long time, and has worked on the pension reform issue before the pension reform issue was cool. And, I just really, really appreciate him and wanted to introduce him.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Thank you, Senator White. We have received a message that the House has passed the conference committee report on Senate Bill 3; we'll be taking that up after we finish the concurrences that we're doing right now.

(The Chair recognized Sen. De Blois.)

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the concurrence on this, and the constitutionality that Senator Prescott speaks of is not going to be violated by passing this bill. Simply, this department is set up to inspect the inspectors, and random checks can tell whether the devices are out of balance or not, and you have a 50/50 chance of a balance being under or over. So, it's not only in the favor of the consumer or the dealer; it's a 50/50 tossup. So, I don't believe that that argument is valid, and I urge the concurrence on this bill. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much, Mister President. Putting aside whether it's a good or bad performance over the last two years, I do implore that this Senate overturn this concurrence motion. You can argue both sides, whether it turned out well or turned out bad the last two years, or turned out well or bad the last 20 years; this is not the issue. The issue is that we need not to lose sight of our goal of government's responsibility on weights and measures and where the charge should be. The charge should be with our state government, protecting both sides, both commerce and the public, and the businesses interests and the public interest.

There have been business owners in this state asking for this to happen. They are concerned that they are getting a fair shake, not only on when they purchase a product, but when their scales are inspected, are they getting a fair shake? Is it unbiased? Is there profit to be made or not? And, when you have a state inspector, you do not have bias; you do not have profit; that's how you register those two together. I implore – I mean, how much more can I say to this full Senate how important this issue is to our future? I ask that you overturn the concurrence with this bill amended by the House and we ask for a nonconcurrence, Senate committee of conference: real easy. I mean, how much is this going to take out of your hide? Honestly? Nothing. And, what are we here to do? We're here to take care of the role of government, and this is it. One more meeting is all I'm asking: a little bit of love. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn.)

Sen. Sanborn called the question. Without objection, President Bragdon closed debate with remaining speakers.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson for a question of Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR CARSON: Senator Prescott, what's at issue here is the language that was added by the House, which is requiring the Commissioner to issue a report to the House, to the Senate, and... Is that what your issue is? That you don't agree that they should be issuing a report? Because I just... That is really what we're talking about here, and you want to go to a committee of conference because you don't agree with them having to issue a report?

SENATOR PRESCOTT: I disagree with the whole bill as of right now, Senator Carson. The reason being is, a lot has come about since the time that we passed this bill earlier this year – a lot of new information. From a 30,000 foot view, and that's where I'm coming from, not from where you have been, in a committee, in what Senator White calls: "the weeds". That's where you've been – couldn't see the forest through the trees – that's where you've been; I think that's where the Committee has been. And, I don't mean to be disparaging. But, you look at it from a 30,000 foot view, the public's going to go: "You're going to put weights and measures from the government's responsibility into the private sector? Okay." That's why I am against concurrence with this bill, because it's weights and measures; we're losing sight of the goal and the purpose of government. And I pray, again, please nonconcur; vote down this concurrence. Say "no" when it's asked for the vote and let's go to a committee of conference and cure this problem, this disease. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. De Blois for a question of Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Senator Prescott, does the Department of Safety inspect elevators, or do they do the work to ensure the safety of the public in buildings?

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Inspect elevators... That would be grain elevators? Is that a weight and measure?

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Any kind of elevator needs to be inspected every year. Right now, the private sector is licensed to inspect them, reports to the Department of Labor, and we pay the fee for that. How about the liquor commission?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Is there a question in here somewhere, Senator De Blois?

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Yes, sir. Yes, sir. I'm setting up the example so that the question can be slipped into it.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Please repeat the question.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: The liquor commission licenses barrooms. They don't serve liquor; they don't do that portion of it. But, they inspect the licensees, the same way with car registrations. So, wouldn't this be the same thing, that we put the trust in the private sector to do the job, report back to us that they've done the job. Aren't you satisfied with the integrity of the Department to get this work done, like they do with any other entities, like elevators, liquor, you name it?

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much for your question, Senator De Blois. When I go to the barber, like once every 25 years, I know exactly how much hair they cut off because I can see it on the floor. When it comes to going to the gas station, I don't know how many gallons is put in my tank other than looking at the measure. And, that needs to be in charge by the State of New Hampshire. Thank you very much, Senator De Blois, for the question.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

Sen. White asserts Rule 2-15 on SB 157-FN.

SB 170, relative to the New Hampshire Medical Malpractice Joint Underwriting Association.

Sen. Carson moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. There was just some very simple language added in the House that stated that if insurance companies will not be assessed in the event there is a shortage of funds in the JUA as a result of the $25 million being put into interpreter status if the tax should be greater than $25 million. And, we agreed with that language.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

Sen. White asserts Rule 2-15 on SB 170.

SB 67, establishing a committee to study school vouchers and school choice.

Sen. Stiles moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. The House expanded the study to include implementation of a tax credit plan partnered with our business community. This is a study committee, and we ask that you concur.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

SB 82-FN, extending the state board of education's authority to approve chartered public schools and relative to the funding of chartered public schools approved by a school district.

Sen. Stiles moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. The House amended the language to clarify that it applies to pupils who are full-time students and residents of the State of New Hampshire. It also clarifies that nothing in the bill would alter or modify the funding of the virtual learning academy school, and we ask for your concurrence.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

SB 194, transferring all real and personal property from the former department of regional community-technical colleges to the board of trustees of the community college system of New Hampshire.

Sen. Stiles moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. The House amended the bill by adding some restrictions that the sale of the real property would require approval of the long range capital planning and utilization committee and the Governor and Council; also, to provide that the State shall retain the right of first refusal in any property sale of real property. They also added that this act shall take effect on the date the community college provides written documentation that the survey of the property has been completed and that they have secured insurance on all land, building, and personal properties on its Concord property. Therefore, we recommend that you concur.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

Sen. Carson asserts Rule 2-15 on SB 194.

SB 144, relative to extending certain permits and approvals.

Sen. Odell moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Odell.)

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. Senate Bill 144 as passed by this chamber had a section dealing with dredge and fill permits, wetlands, and the House took that paragraph out and that important language was placed in Senate Bill 38. The remaining part of the bill simply extends the period of time that a permit is in place on a subdivision of land from four years to five years, and that developments start within 24 months rather than the current law, which would be 12 months. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

Sen. Bradley asserts Rule 2-15 on SB 144.

SB 154-FN, reforming and renaming the comprehensive shoreland protection act.

Sen. Bradley moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Good afternoon, Mister President. I move that we concur with the House amendment to Senate Bill 154. As I think we all know, Senate Bill 154 was the shoreland protection act reform that passed this body twice on a unanimous voice vote. The House chose to add House Bill 519, which is RGGI repeal, to the shoreland protection act. I would move that we concur so that...because we all know where we are, and the sooner this bill gets dispensed with the better for the shoreland protection act and RGGI reform. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. I need to explain a rule of the House. A rule of the House is any bill that has been passed by the House is germane to any Senate or House bill. How's that for a description of what "germane" is? And then, I'll explain to you what a Senate rule is that we voted for. Senate rule is that "germane" is what the House passes and what the Senate passes. So, it's okay for us to pass this, even though I think it's shenanigans; even though I think it's, you know, not straight above board; it's okay, because that's the rules of the Senate and that's the rules of the House. However, I don't think that's good for the Senate. The Senate, if that bill were here in the Senate, it would be non-germane to put RGGI on this bill. Obviously, it should be non-germane. What the bill is is about shoreland protection, and I am for that reform. So, now I'm torn: I'm for the bill and against the so-called germane amendment from the House. It would never be germane here in the Senate if it started here, but since it was begun in the House, now it comes back to the Senate, it's okay, it's all of the sudden germane? That's not right. It's just not right. So, I'm in a quandary. Here I go: If I want to do shoreland protection, which I want to vote for, and I don't want to vote for repeal of RGGI because I know that 100 percent of my colleagues voted for the reform of RGGI last week. Why would I change my mind in seven days? So, this is a very disdainful vote. So, where do we go? I think we go back to where shoreland protection is, right now, in our House Bill 2; it's an amendment in House Bill 2. I say we don't concur with this bill, we reverse the recommendation, and we nonconcur and be done with it. Because, I want to vote for shoreland protection changes; it's in the budget. I'm okay. I don't want to repeal RGGI because last week 24 of us voted to change RGGI. Why would I change my mind this week? So, I recommend to this full body, if you vote one way, continue this way by nonconcurrency on this bill. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I would urge concurrence on this bill. To Senator Prescott's comment, I would mention that before we voted unanimously to amend RGGI, 15 of us in this body voted for a straight-up repeal; I'm excited about the opportunity to do that again, and will ask for a roll call on this.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much. I would just remind my good friend from Kingston that while he may not like the process, it was my bill, and I guess it goes without saying that I should be the one that would be complaining the most about the process, and yet I'm not. And, the reason I'm not, Senator, this bill had a full-fledged public hearing in Chairman Odell's Energy and Natural Resources Committee, it had another public hearing in Senator Morse's Committee, and I believe two public hearings in the House. And so, while we may not like the fact that my bill is getting torpedoed – let's call it what it is; it's getting torpedoed – I'm still okay with that because the shoreland protection act is in House Bill 2. And, you could stand there and make the same arguments about its being germane to House Bill 2. The fact of the matter is, let's try to pass the shoreland protection bill and not worry about it.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

A roll call was requested by Sen. White, seconded by Sen. Barnes.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Groen, Sanborn, White, Luther, Carson, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Houde, Odell, Kelly, Lambert, Larsen, Merrill, Prescott, Stiles, Bragdon.

Sen. Bradley asserts Rule 2-15 on SB 154-FN.

SB 146-FN, relative to requiring submission of a reduced spending alternative as part of the biennial budget process.

Sen. Morse moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I ask the body to concur with the House. All that was changed in here is that the House increased from 5 percent to 10 percent that when they produce a budget, they produce it from actual reductions of 10 percent when they produce the maintenance budget. I think it's a great way to go, and it'll help us with a great budget tool. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator Morse, we had a discussion previously on the 5 percent, which was your original bill. You've now gone through months and hours with our departments working through a budget, and you know the budget we're passing and what stress it places on our departments. To now ask them to present a 10 percent annual reduction every year to show their 10 percent reduction on an annual basis, are you not concerned that puts the departments under even more stress with the reductions we've done to them in terms of staffing and other demands?

SENATOR MORSE: I'm hoping what this does – and, this is from actual; this is from actual. Remember, in law right now, we have a maintenance budget that is so fictitious, it goes and it creates a budget where you add back everything, and it's never meant anything during the process to us in the Senate or the House. It might have done a little for the Governor. But, for us to have the departments come back, which the Governor does get a lot of notes that we don't get to see during his budget process, and that's how the departments think they can build a better budget. I'm hoping this 10 percent reduction helps us to get to that area. What the House didn't agree with was that 5 percent would show enough, because they believe, like back home in our school districts and our towns, that often when department heads don't agree with us, they'll cut out something like the band, which no one would cut out in their community. By going to 10 percent, I think the House is trying to get it to a position that reality will come in and they'll be suggesting things that do need to be cut. It'll all be part of debate, Senator.

SENATOR LARSEN: That I understand. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

SB 51, relative to the establishment of a state leadership team to address issues concerning certain adults with developmental disabilities who may present a substantial risk to the community.

Sen. Bradley moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. Normally, I'd explain what changes were made in the bill, but on a hot day, the fact that the prime sponsor, Senator Merrill, is okay with it, is good enough for me.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

SB 93, relative to pharmacist administration of vaccines.

Sen. Bradley moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much. The House amendment removes a sunset provision that the only opponents of the bill had a question about when we adopted the bill; they have approached me and said they have no interest in the sunset provision. So, I would move we concur with the bill.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR KELLY: Senator Bradley, I just wanted to clarify: I understood in the Committee on Health and Human Services, which I served and you Chaired, is that we were not opposed to the pharmacists administering different vaccines or additional vaccines, but our concern was – and we heard this often during the hearing – was that there was really a lack of communication between the pharmacists and the physicians. And, I think the purpose of the sunset was for them to get that together before we gave our 100 percent okay to this new process, and it was a protection for the consumers. So, I would just ask my colleagues to nonconcur and go back to a committee of conference and continue to let the House know what our reasoning was for the sunset.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Senator Kelly, I appreciate the question. The only reason I'm moving to concur is that the New Hampshire Medical Society came to me after the House hearing and said they really didn't care whether there was a sunset in the bill or not. And so, that's why I recommend concur.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly for a follow-up question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR KELLY: Yes, thank you. I just wanted to clarify, my question, though, wasn't what the medical profession had felt, but that the sunset was our recommendation in order to move forward with communication. So, it was more coming from the Committee; I don't think I was looking to the medical profession to see if that was okay whether they had a sunset or not; it was more an incentive for them to really get together in the communication which, what we understood was, there is an Internet system available, it just has not been implemented, and that we were concerned about the safety for consumers.

SENATOR BRADLEY: And while I appreciate that, I think that we'll be able to monitor that through the pharmacists and through the Medical Society.

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

SB 151-FN, relative to contracts of the department of health and human services.

Sen. Bradley moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much again, Mister President. This bill came as a result of Governor Lynch's proposal a couple of years ago to try to consolidate state contracting with providers. The House put some goalposts in there and calls for a certain level of savings to attempt to be realized. I think it's a good amendment, and I would urge concurrence.

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I just have a question on this particular concurrence as well, in that my understanding was the premise here on SB 151, as we heard in the Committee, was to develop a plan so that we could move forward, make sure we had the pieces together, make sure that the outcomes were correct. And, instead, I think what we have concurred with is the House that is saying: "We're not going to develop a plan; we're going to require that it be consolidated." And, my concern, once again, is that we're not going through the process to end up with a good, successful, sustainable product.

SENATOR BRADLEY: And I appreciate that, Senator Kelly. My understanding is that the language is such that these are goalposts that are established by the House amendment, and, again, given the magnitude of the dollars that get spent through the Department of Health and Human Services by contracting with independent contractors, this is an idea that will help us with our budget quandaries and something that we should proceed with.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

SB 63, relative to the list of bail bondsmen and prohibiting law enforcement and corrections officers from indicating preferences for bail bond companies.

Sen. Houde moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. This bill as introduced seeks to level the playing field with respect to the bail bondsperson business, and the House version just did so in a different way. So, taking from Senator Bradley's cue, Senator Barnes concurs with this concurrence, so I'd ask for your support.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

SB 64, removing the oath requirement for criminal complaints filed by police officers.

Sen. Houde moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. The bill as introduced would have expanded the offenses that could be initiated by unsworn complaints of a police officer. Currently, the law provides violation-level offenses. As such, the bill would have included all misdemeanors. The House amendment scaled that back a little bit and said only Class B misdemeanors would be eligible; we think that's a reasonable incremental step, and so I ask for your support on the concurrence.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

SB 2, relative to adoption of spending caps by municipalities.

Sen. Barnes moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. My two friends in front of me have made the point: I talked to the prime sponsor of this piece of legislation, very important piece of legislation that came through the Committee, and I thought he might have had some problems with it, but working with the House members over there, he is very satisfied that his concerns and his bill is a great bill for us all to concur on and move on.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

SB 129-FN, relative to presenting photo identification to vote in person and relative to the election fund.

Sen. Barnes moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: The major change from what came over from this body – Thank you, Mister President. I'm sorry I didn't start out correctly; I guess I'm in a hurry. The main difference from what we passed here in this body and sent over to the House is that the House put the provisional ballot into the piece of legislation. And, I think, and members of the Committee – not all members of the Committee, because it was a 4-1 vote in the beginning, and I'm sure I'm going to hear from her a little bit later – decided that that wasn't a bad way to go. The Secretary of State came into our committee, and – I don't think it was himself, I think it was Dave Scanlan that came in, his assistant, deputy – and talked about taking photographs and all that good thing. And, the House figured that that's going to be too expensive and that the provisional ballot was a good way to go. And, having looked at it and talked to my committee members, we would suggest and hope that we can get concurrence, and yes, I will take a question from Senator Merrill, mother of a great Major League ballplayer, Sam Fuld.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill for a question of Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. Thank you, Senator Barnes. My understanding of SB 129 as amended by the House is that it says a person without the photo ID at the polls will be able to vote with a provisional ballot, but then go on to have to take a number of steps. And, I just wanted to make sure I was clear on those steps. As I understand it, again, the person who does not have the photo ID would need to produce that photo ID or else have verification that for other reasons they needn't have their picture taken, for example, for religious reasons. And, I also understand that there's language that says that a person can obtain a voucher for the $10 it would cost to go get the non-driver's license ID, which of course, I think, is a good thing. However, as I understand it then, the person who in fact needs to go get one of those non-driver's IDs and wanted to have it paid for would first have to go to the town or city hall and get a voucher for the $10, then go to Motor Vehicle and get their ID, then bring it back to the town or city hall, and all within three days. Am I correct in that, Senator?

SENATOR BARNES: I don't see it in here, but I maybe missed that as I read the bill. I don't see what you're talking about in this piece of legislation from the House. What page is it on? I'm sure I missed it; I'm sure your eyes are better than mine.

SENATOR MERRILL: It'll take me a minute to get to all the language, but I'm happy to do it. Would you like me to still pursue finding the language so I can read it to you?

SENATOR BARNES: Go right ahead. I understand what you're saying, and perhaps it's in the bill, perhaps it isn't in the bill.

SENATOR MERRILL: I believe it is, having read it earlier this morning.

SENATOR BARNES: I trust you.

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you very much, Senator Barnes.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I'd like to oppose concurrence, and believe that this bill, as we argued it when it was passing the Senate, continues to be a significant impediment to one of our most fundamental rights, and that is the right to vote.

The House heard this most recent amendment, and if you look at the report from the House, it states that the Secretary of State testified extensively about the bill, and from the testimony and his deputy's testimony in the subcommittee the day before, it was made clear that the bill's provisional ballot requirement is unworkable because New Hampshire's uniquely short statutory and constitutional timeframes between the state's primary election and general election and between the general and the legislative summons. The Secretary of State pointed out it will profoundly affect the recount process for the worse, by inviting protracted battles over the counting of provisional ballots. More frightening, though, was the Secretary's sense that the bill actually opens up the system to new and different types of election fraud instead of combating it. The Secretary of State, the State's chief election officer, said that if this Committee wanted to pass photo ID, it would be prudent for it to pass something else, not this legislation. Why are we concurring with this? Probably the most disturbing thing the Committee learned was that the provisional ballot is not a secret ballot because it removes safeguards, so it would be easier to see how an individual voter voted. You're losing the secrecy of your vote. Here's what the Committee did not get to discuss: They never got to discuss a whole lot of questions about the bill. They didn't discuss whether it was constitutional under Part I, Article 11 of the New Hampshire Constitution. They were not able to analyze its constitutional basis and a list of substantial and genuine questions remained in the House committee on this bill. But, there seems to be some directive here that this body, and the House is following, some playbook to eliminate a voter's ability to go to the polls and freely vote. This is an impediment to voting; it remains an impediment to voting. It deserves to be challenged on its constitutionality, and I urge each of you who swore to your constitutional protection of the right to vote and to protect that right to stand up and say "no" to this. You are sending people with a provisional ballot to have to go back, find some authority to give them some recognition that they do in fact live in New Hampshire – these are people who might be in wheelchairs; these are people who are elderly. You have not acknowledged that students have a right to vote through passing this amendment. These are significant impediments to our most fundamental right. It's unbelievable that we seem to be closing our eyes to all of these concerns in passing this today, concurring – concurring and agreeing. Our own Secretary of State says it's unworkable. Don't do this today, folks; it's wrong. And, it will be found unconstitutional, I predict. But, you have a chance to say "no" right now. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR BARNES: Senator Larsen, a couple of would-you-believes: Seeing you brought the Secretary of State's name into it, would you believe that I've been, over the years – and, you and I have sat here together for a couple of years – you don't look that old, but you're getting there –

SENATOR LARSEN: I'm getting there.

SENATOR BARNES: I have always defended the Secretary of State; I'm the guy that's put him up for nomination, because I think the world of him; I think he's the best Secretary of State in the country, and he's done a lot of great things. But, do you believe that you and I have heard discussion sometimes from your party when I have brought up: "The Secretary of State thinks this thing stinks," you guys go against the Secretary of State; I can't tell you the bills, but there have been numerous times over the years we've been here – not today or yesterday. But, the Secretary of State: We all respect him. But, you know something? Bill isn't always right in some of our opinions. Great guy, does a great job; I love him and I always will. But, he isn't the guy that gets elected by the people, he gets elected by this body.

SENATOR LARSEN: And, would you believe that I know you have respect for the Secretary of State, but an even higher respect should be for our constitutional right to vote.

SENATOR BARNES: Okay, my other would-you-believe.

SENATOR LARSEN: All right.

SENATOR BARNES: Son of a gun, you read my notes here, didn't you? I knew I shouldn't have walked out of the room. I believe – and I'm going to ask you if you believe – that no one is going to be denied the right to vote in the State of New Hampshire when we hopefully concur on this piece of legislation?

SENATOR LARSEN: I don't believe they'd be denied; I believe they'll be deterred. There was a sign posted in the most recent special election, and it was reported that people actually turned away because they didn't have their voter ID, they didn't have their photo ID, and they left the voting place before they even walked in the door. So, I believe there'll be a deterrence factor, as well as perhaps a denial...It won't be denied because you'll just be given a provisional ballot and you have three days to come back with your documents.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. Two things: One, I wanted to be able to direct Senator Barnes to the language in the bill that's relevant to the issue of how many steps a person would need to take after voting by provisional ballot. On page 2, starting on line 20, is the language that says: "By noon of the third business day after the election, a voter who has cast a provisional ballot may appear in person before the city or town clerk and present a valid photo identification." On page 4, starting in line 6, it says: "A person who requires a photo identification card for photo identification purposes may obtain a voucher from his or her town or city clerk or the Secretary of State exempting the person from the ID card fee. Upon presentation of the voucher to division – that's the Motor Vehicle division – the actual cost of issuing the card shall be paid by the Secretary of State, etcetera." So, unfortunately, the language of the bill is not such that it's an easy step by step reading. But, those are the pieces of the bill that outline the steps that would need to be taken.

I just wanted to get back to the basic issue at hand with all the versions of this photo ID legislation that have been presented. And, that is that these bills are purported to address a problem which I still believe is nonexistent in New Hampshire and which we saw no evidence of or heard no evidence of in our hearings, and that is the idea that we have a problem with voter fraud here in New Hampshire. I've seen no evidence, heard no evidence to that effect, and for that reason, my preference would be a simple nonconcur because I didn't support either version. But, I would add that it's also my understanding that, you know, from a number of sources, including the League of Women Voters, the town clerks, and the Secretary of State, as has been noted, that the Senate version was preferable. And, I'll stop there.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR BARNES: No, it wasn't a question; it was a thank-you for pointing that out, the first part of your statement.

SENATOR MERRILL: You're welcome.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. I rise against the concur motion for nonconcur and request a committee of conference. The Senate position is a voter ID bill with picture, not with a second, minor, junior, provisional...whatever else you want to call it ballot. How about a real ballot, and a voter ID and a picture? How about just as easy as registering to vote, and absolutely easier when the voting place has a camera and gives them their own ID? So, it's easier to register to vote than it is for the... No, the other way around: It's easier to vote on the Senate version than it is to register to vote. That's the Senate's position. And, we will have all eyes on New Hampshire soon: Presidential Primaries are coming up, and we're going to have a minor, secondary, junior, provisional ballot, and people are going to not vote that day if they don't come back and prove themselves that they are who they are. However, I do believe in voter ID, because it takes care of voting integrity. That's why we just need a simple photo. Secretary of State says $75,000 is what it would take to have a camera at every polling place. That's not what the House said, but that's not the House wanted to hear from the Secretary of State, either. $75,000 is what it would cost for 7,500 polling places, because I know I can buy a camera for $100.

Next thing is: We will be sending people away from the polls if this gets confused, and saying that: "You need to come back with an ID", or we tell them that: "You're really not going to get the real ballot today, you're going to get the secondary one." We will be sending people away. And, I will not vote for this. I don't believe it's the Senate's position. And, if we don't get a committee of conference on this, we gave up our chance to work on this bill this year. Think about it. We gave up our chance to work on this bill this year. If we wait 'til next year to pass a voter ID bill that's the one that the Senate believes in, which is what we passed just a little while ago, then we don't have the votes to override it, but maybe we do; maybe we like vouchers. But, if we don't have the votes to override a Governor's veto, we did not gain, and we did not do the people's business. Again, I am asking, vote not to concur – vote nonconcur and request a committee of conference. It's important that we get a bill that the House and the Senate agree upon that does not have vouchers. Because there's two things that can happen: One, they really don't vote that day until they come back and prove that they can change their secondary ballot into a primary ballot – I don't know how that process works. And, two is, they'll be turned away, and I certainly don't want that. That doesn't preserve the integrity of the voting process. A simple voter ID does; not a provisional ballot. You go to the polls, you vote that day. Same thing with same-day voter registration, except it's easier, because with voter registration you have to show an ID. It's easier to vote with the Senate's position, and I ask this full Senate to know what they're doing today is vote down this concur – overturn it, make it nonconcur and request a committee of conference – and let's stick to our position. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR BARNES: It is a beautiful afternoon.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: It sure is.

SENATOR BARNES: Let's get moving on with it, right?

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Yes, sir.

SENATOR BARNES: Would you believe...

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Oh my goodness! I thought you had your three would-you-believes all used up! The strikes are out.

SENATOR BARNES: Would you believe that I don't think you have talked to the Governor about a veto, and when I vote in this chamber for the last 20-plus years, I never vote worrying about what the Governor may or may not do, Senator Prescott, and you have been here long enough, and I think I've heard you say that on occasion, and all of a sudden you have changed your position on that: You're worried about the Governor's veto. That's a sad way to sit here and vote, I'll tell you that. The Governor doesn't scare me with his veto pen or without his veto pen. I'm going to vote the way I think is right for the people of New Hampshire; if he thinks it's wrong, let him do what he has to do, or she – whatever the case may be.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: I believe you, Senator. And, this is what I believe about you: You definitely don't worry about whether the Governor's going to veto a bill. But, I believe that you could take a second look at this and vote for a simple committee of conference, Senator Barnes, because it's important to the people of New Hampshire to know that the process has integrity and they don't get turned away with a secondary ballot, then have to come back and prove it later on. That's what I believe about you, and I think it's sensible that you can make that decision today. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. After that fairly longwinded speech from my good colleague, Senator Prescott – who actually I agree with, for the most part, on this – I won't belabor it. But, I do want to say that for those of us who will vote against the concurrence, we would rather see a committee of conference; I will support overriding the Governor's veto and adopt the Senate position.

(The Chair recognized Sen. De Blois for a question of Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you very much. I'm confused; I just want to clear up the inconvenience that you feel we're giving the voters at the polls. It's my understanding that election time comes once a year, is that correct?

SENATOR LARSEN: No.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Well, September, November-ish time?

SENATOR LARSEN: Okay. There are various elections at various times of year.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: So, I'm confused. From November to September, there's about ten months, isn't it?

SENATOR LARSEN: That number probably adds up to 11 months, but okay.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Eleven months: Better. A person has 11 months to get his ID to come to the poll for one day to vote. Is that an unreasonable request?

SENATOR LARSEN: It is if you just moved here in April and you want to vote in November; you don't have 11 months to register. But, the real issue –

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Oh, April to November...that's how many months –

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Senator De Blois, let her finish her answer.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Oh, I'm sorry, Mister President.

SENATOR LARSEN: Well, the real issue is we have same-day voter registration right now; we encourage people to go to the polls. We encourage students to become responsible individuals and vote. We currently accept students voting in our voting booths. We encourage every member of the public to come vote right now. We are a first-in-the-nation primary state that people look up to and look towards, and they look towards how we speak when we vote in our primaries. What are they going to see now when they see voters walking away like: "Oh, I didn't have my ID; I have to go home," when they see people perhaps being brought in wheelchairs or assisted to vote in a voting booth being turned away, being told: "You can have a provisional ballot, but you get to come back in three days and prove to us you are who you are, and oh, by the way, you have to go to the Department of Motor Vehicles and get a voter ID from your state government", which might be miles from where they live. You have put such impediments into both people who are disabled, elderly people, students; you are putting up every barrier possible. And so, I think it's a very wrong bill.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: I don't agree with that. But, my follow-up question would be that we are providing for these people that are short-lived residents of New Hampshire; we have a provision for that.

SENATOR LARSEN: They could be long-term residents who might not have IDs –

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Let him finish the question.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: But, long-term residents, don't they have the ability to go and register and get their ID for ten months – you said 11 – for 11 months a resident of New Hampshire has sufficient time, in my mind, to get his ID. And, if he procrastinates until the day of election, we're making a consideration for his procrastination. So, I urge the Senate to concur with this bill.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: You can answer the question if you find there was a question there to be answered.

SENATOR LARSEN: There are people who perhaps don't have identification, whose birth certificate is so far in the past or in another state that they cannot receive it without – I had to write for mine, and it takes days to get that; it costs $30 at least to get a birth certificate in many places. You are putting impediments to a fundamental right; the right to vote is our most primary and fundamental right, and what ensures our democracy continues into the future. Those impediments are wrong; they will be found wrong, and I think it's wrong that we're passing this bill. I don't think the Senate version was much better, but it was slightly better. It's very wrong to be doing this today, and I think it will be found that way in the courts.

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. Our Constitution does indeed give a right to vote. However, it does not say that we can't require proof of citizenship and of residency and that's all that this bill does. It occurs to me that seeing as it appears that getting an ID is a great impediment to voting, I would suggest that seeing as we do have some problem with underage drinking on campuses that we probably should require students to get an ID in order to be able to buy alcohol.

Sen. Barnes called the question. Without objection, President Bragdon closed debate with remaining speakers.

The question is on the motion of concurrence.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Houde, seconded by Sen. Barnes.

The following Senators voted Yes: Forrester, Bradley, Groen, Sanborn, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, Morse, Stiles, Bragdon.

The following Senators voted No: Gallus, Forsythe, Houde, Odell, White, Kelly, Larsen, Merrill, Prescott.

Yeas: 14 - Nays: 9

Adopted.

SB 97, relative to the application of the community revitalization tax relief incentive.

Sen. Odell moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Odell.)

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. This bill, introduced by Senator Stiles, deals with buildings destroyed by fire or act of nature. As we passed the bill, we had the words of: "occurred prior to the adoption of the provisions of this chapter"; the House changed it to: "occurred within 15 years prior to the adoption of the provisions of this chapter". Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of concurrence. Adopted.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives has adopted the recommendation of the Committee of Conference to which was referred the following entitled Bill:

SB 3-FN-A-L, making comprehensive changes to the state retirement system.

June 6, 2011

2011-2289-CofC

10/04

Committee of Conference Report on SB 3-FN-A-LOCAL, an act making comprehensive changes to the state retirement system.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Findings; Intent. The New Hampshire general court makes the following findings of fact and states the following intent and purpose for this act.

I. Immediate action is necessary to make the New Hampshire retirement system (NHRS) viable and solvent.

(a) NHRS is the successor to the State Employees' Retirement System. NHRS was created and established as of July 1, 1967. The NHRS was intended to and does establish a defined benefit pension plan qualified under Section 401(a) of the United States Internal Revenue Code (IRC). The NHRS plan is a governmental plan within the meaning of Section 414(d) of the IRC.

(b) As a defined benefit pension plan, the provisions of NHRS describe benefits which will be made available to members as vested deferred retirement benefits payable on retirement or on events such as disability or death. Benefits pursuant to the NHRS are payable after a period of years during which members accrue creditable service. Members are deemed to be in vested status for those benefits after 10 years of creditable service.

(c) As a governmental plan, the NHRS is only available to governmental employers.

(d) The NHRS is funded with contributions from members, through mandatory payroll deductions, and with contributions from the governmental employers, all of which are raised through taxation. Such contributions are held in trust by the NHRS Board of Trustees; funds held by the trust are held and invested on behalf of all members.

(e) As a defined benefit pension plan, the NHRS requires actuarial calculations in order to determine benefits which are payable as well as funding obligations.

(f) The benefit calculations which are required by the NHRS generate funding obligations which are complex and depend on numerous variables with consequences that occur over a period of many years, in some circumstances in ways that are not foreseeable.

(g) The NHRS has an estimated unfunded pension liability of $3.72 billion and an estimated unfunded medical insurance liability of $976 million.

(h) In 2007, legislation was adopted to require the state and other public employers to pay down over 30 years the unfunded accrued liability, which was approximately $2.7 billion at the time. While that plan is now being implemented, large increases in the amount of the unfunded liability result in the current $4.7 billion total, uncertainties in future market returns, recommendations by NHRS actuaries to lower income earning assumptions, rapid increases in medical costs, increases in life expectancy, and slower growth in public sector employment require prudent legislative intervention to ensure financial viability of NHRS.

(i) Financial viability of the NHRS is essential to the operation of state government and local government performing its constitutional and statutory obligations. Therefore, the stability of NHRS is an important, immediate, and fundamental necessity.

(j) The Pew Institute has concluded that unfunded pension and health care liabilities are a nationwide problem, estimated at over $1 trillion. Additionally, the level of direct federal debt in excess of $14 trillion means that federal funding to the states will have to be significantly reduced in the near future. Thus, the state cannot expect assistance from the federal government in meeting NHRS obligations, and indeed it is reasonable to anticipate a loss in federal funds.

(k) The NHRS plan (and its trust) was created by the New Hampshire legislature and can be amended or terminated by the New Hampshire legislature at any time. Notwithstanding the general court's power, it is the general court's intention and public necessity to protect the reasonable interests of the members who accrue benefits under the NHRS plan, of the employers of those members, and of the citizens of New Hampshire.

(l) It is the legislature's intention that its actions taken at this time will not prevent future legislatures from acting to make any and all laws necessary and proper to preserve the public security, order, health, morality and justice, including further changes to the NHRS.

(m) The legislature's ongoing power to amend the NHRS is a fundamental power essential to government, and cannot and will not be surrendered by the legislature or irrevocably transferred away from government.

(n) The legislature finds that members who are deemed to be in vested status should be treated differently than members who are not deemed to be in vested status.

(o) The legislature finds that pension entitlements must be viewed in terms of benefits which have accrued up to the time when valuation is determined, and that such entitlements can be essentially expressed as a dollar value by taking into account the time value of money.

(p) The legislature finds that participants who are deemed to be in vested status in the NHRS have a reasonable expectation that the value of benefits which have accrued to them will not be taken away, although they may be changed prospectively.

(q) The legislature intends that the present value of accrued benefits for members who are deemed to be vested will not be diminished financially, as determined based upon an actuarial determination.

(r) It is the legislature's intention that benefits of members who have already retired will not be significantly diminished or impaired.

(s) The legislature does not intend that the rate of future benefit accruals is or should be protected.

(t) It is the legislature's intention that changes to the NHRS are and will continue to be constrained by the Internal Revenue Code tax qualification requirements imposed by Code Section 401(a) and related guidance; that is, changes will be made, or will not be made, in order to protect the NHRS qualified status.

II. Making NHRS viable and solvent through the actions to be undertaken pursuant to this legislation is a matter of extreme policy importance to the state.

(a) On average, benefits currently constitute an additional 52 percent increase to the cost of state employee salaries.

(b) These benefits paid by the NHRS are significantly higher than are paid in the private sector and cannot be sustained. Public employees are increasingly not cost-competitive with private alternatives to providing state and municipal services.

(c) Absent the actions to be taken pursuant to this legislation, it is likely that the state and its political subdivisions will not be able to afford to continue providing governmental services directly, but will have to provide these services through private alternatives.

(d) Public employee contributions to their pensions have not been increased for many years.

(e) Public employer contributions have been increasing significantly, erratically, and unpredictably in amounts that are undermining state and local government budgets, the public policies reflected in these budgets, and the ability of the state and local government to perform core constitutional and statutory obligations.

(f) Public employees provide state and municipal services which are essential to residents and visitors. Without changes to address the unsustainable increases in the costs of public employee benefits, however, the state and local governments will be forced to reduce the number of public employees, and shrink public service, in order to fund these growing benefit costs. The general court finds that such a result would be detrimental to the ability of state and local government to protect the lives, health, morale, comfort, and general welfare of the public.

(g) Increasing employer contributions would result in significant harm to the state's economy.

(h) Taxes to fund employer contributions are imposing an unreasonable burden on taxpayers.

III. This act contains the minimum actions necessary to assure the viability and solvency of the NHRS.

(a) The changes to be made to the NHRS at this time pursuant to this act are essential to assuring the solvency of the NHRS, addressing its structural problems, and balancing reforms fairly among employee classes, while minimizing the impact on present employees, especially those closest to retirement.

(b) The legislature specifically finds after many public hearings, hours of studying the issue, and hours of debate, that this act constitutes the minimum actions necessary to assure the viability and solvency of the NHRS.

(c) The response of public sector employers to significantly increasing premium contributions has been to reduce their number of employees. Without significant reform to the NHRS, this trend is likely to escalate.

(d) Absent this legislation, public safety, public education, and other elements of the social safety net will be increasingly compromised and unable to provide services to the public.

(e) This legislation represents the minimum reform necessary to continue to provide appropriate public safety, public education, and other governmental services.

(f) Where public sector employers have raised taxes to pay for increasing pension contributions, there has been an adverse effect on job growth and retention.

(g) Raising taxes to pay for increasing pension contributions, would discourage business from relocating to this state and encourage businesses to move from New Hampshire or expand their operations in other states.

(h) The legislature specifically finds after many public hearings, hours of studying the issue and hours of debate, that raising taxes to address NHRS' issues would be harmful to the state's economy, the quality of life of its citizens, place New Hampshire at a competitive disadvantage to other states, and would be against the public interest.

(i) The financial viability of the NHRS must be preserved, as it serves an important public purpose. The general court expressly finds that the changes made in this act are reasonable and necessary, and are the minimum adjustments possible to the retirement system and to public employee retirement benefits to accomplish the important public purpose of preserving and maintaining the ability of the state and local government to provide retirement benefits to public employees.

(j) The changes set forth in this act have been deliberately designed to adjust the system fairly among employee classes, to introduce changes in a way to minimize the impact on present employees, especially those closest to retirement, and to improve the long-term fiscal health and sustainability of the retirement system.

2 Retirement System; Definition of Earnable Compensation. Amend RSA 100-A:1, XVII to read as follows:

XVII. "Earnable compensation" shall mean:

(a) For ~~[aH]~~ members who have attained vested status prior to January 1, 2012 the full base rate of compensation paid, as determined by the employer, plus any overtime pay, holiday and vacation pay, sick pay, longevity or severance pay, cost of living bonus, additional pay for extracurricular and instructional activities ~~[or for other extra or special duty]~~, and any military differential pay, plus the fair market value of non-cash compensation paid to, or on behalf of, the member for meals or living quarters if subject to federal income tax, but excluding other compensation except cash incentives paid by an employer to encourage members to retire, supplemental pay paid by the employer while the member is receiving workers' compensation, and teacher development pay that is not part of the contracted annual salary. Compensation for extra and special duty, as reported by the employer, shall be included but limited during the highest 3 years of creditable service as provided in paragraph XVIII. However, earnable compensation in the final 12 months of creditable service prior to termination of employment shall be limited to 1-1/2 times the higher of the earnable compensation in the 12-month period preceding the final 12 months or the highest compensation year as determined for the purpose of calculating average final compensation, but excluding the final 12 months. Any compensation received in the final 12 months of employment in excess of such limit shall not be subject to member or employer contributions to the retirement system and shall not be considered in the computation of average final compensation. Provided that, the annual compensation limit for members of governmental defined benefit pension plans under section 401(a)(17) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, shall apply to earnable compensation for all employees, teachers, permanent firemen, and permanent policemen who first become eligible for membership in the system on or after July 1, 1996. Earnable compensation shall not include compensation in any form paid later than 120 days after the member's termination of employment from a retirement eligible position, with the limited exceptions of disability related severance pay paid to a member or retiree no later than 120 days after a decision by the board of trustees granting the member or retiree disability retirement benefits pursuant to RSA 100-A:6 and of severance pay which a member was entitled to be paid within 120 days after termination but which, without the consent of the member and not through any fault of the member, was paid more than 120 days after the member's termination. The member shall have the burden of proving to the board of trustees that any severance payment paid later than 120 days after the member's termination of employment is earnable compensation and meets the requirements of an asserted exception to the 120-day post-termination payment requirement.

(b)(1) For members who have not attained vested status prior to January 1, 2012, the full base rate of compensation paid, as determined by the employer, plus compensation over base pay. Compensation over base pay shall include as applicable, subject to subparagraphs (2), (3), and (4), any overtime pay, holiday and vacation pay, sick pay, cost of living bonus, annual longevity pay, additional pay for extracurricular and instructional activities, compensation for extra and special duty, and any military differ- ential pay, plus the fair market value of non-cash compensation paid to, or on behalf of, the member for meals or living quarters if subject to federal income tax, but excluding other compensation except supplemental pay paid by the employer while the member is receiving workers' compensation and teacher development pay that is not part of the contracted annual salary.

(2) Compensation over base pay shall be limited during the highest 5 years of creditable service as provided in paragraph XVIII.

(3) Earnable compensation shall not include compensation for extra and special duty for members who commence service on and after July 1, 2011.

(4) Earnable compensation shall not include incentives to encourage members to retire, severance pay or end-of-career additional longevity payments, and pay for unused sick or vacation time. Earnable compensation in the final 12 months of creditable service prior to termination of employment shall be limited to 1-1/2 times the higher of the earnable compensation in the 12-month period preceding the final 12 months or the highest compensation year as determined for the purpose of calculating average final compensation, but excluding the final 12 months. Any compensation received in the final 12 months of employment in excess of such limit shall not be subject to member or employer contributions to the retirement system and shall not be considered in the computation of average final compensation. Provided that, the annual compensation limit for members of governmental defined benefit pension plans under section 401(a)(17) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, shall apply to earnable compensation for all employees, teachers, permanent firemen, and permanent policemen who first become eligible for membership in the system on or after July 1, 1996. Earnable compensation shall not include compensation in any form paid later than 120 days after the member's termination of employment from a retirement eligible position.

3 Applicability; Earnable Compensation. For members of the retirement system who were in active status immediately prior to the effective date of section 2 of this act, the provisions of RSA 100-A:1, XVII as amended by section 2 of this act shall not apply until January 1, 2012.

4 Retirement System; Definitions; Average Final Compensation. Amend RSA 100-A:1, XVIII to read as follows:

XVIII. "Average final compensation" shall mean:

(a) For members who have attained vested status prior to January 1, 2012, the average annual earnable compensation of a member during his or her highest 3 years of creditable service, or during all of the years in his or her creditable service if less than 3 years. For purposes of this calculation, the inclusion of the average annual compensation for extra and special duty in the 3 years shall not exceed the average annual amount of compensation for extra and special duty paid to the members over the member's last 7 years or over all of the years in his or her creditable service if less than 7 years.

(b) For members who commenced service on or after July 1, 2011 or who have not attained vested status prior to January 1, 2012, the average annual earnable compensation of a member during his or her highest 5 years of creditable service, or during all of the years in his or her creditable service if less than 5 years. For purposes of this calculation, inclusion of compensation in each of the highest 5 years which is in excess of the full base rate of compensation paid as determined by the employer shall not exceed the average annual amount of compensation over base pay paid to the member over all the member's years of service on or after January 1, 2012, but excluding the highest 5 years.

5 Maximum Initial Benefit. Amend RSA 100-A:6-a to read as follows:

100-A:6-a Maximum Retirement Benefit. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter to the contrary, for members who commenced service before July 1, 2009, a member's initial calculation of the retirement benefit granted under the provisions of RSA 100-A:5 or RSA 100-A:6 shall not exceed 100 percent of the member's highest year of earnable compensation. ~~[For members who commenced service on or after July 1, 2009, a member's maximum retirement benefit granted under the provisions of RSA 100-A:5 or RSA 100-A:6 shall not exceed $120,000.]~~ For members who commenced service on or after July 1, 2009 or have not attained vested status prior to January 1, 2012, a member's maximum retirement benefit granted under the provisions of RSA 100-A:5 or RSA 100-A:6 shall not exceed the lesser of 85 percent of the member's average final compensation or $120,000. Nothing in this section shall affect the ability of a member to receive disability benefits pursuant to RSA 100-A:6, II(b) and (c). This provision shall not limit the application of supplemental allowances ~~[under RSA 100-A:41-a]~~.

The service retirement allowance shall be determined in accordance with RSA 100-A:5, I(b) and shall be reduced, for each month by which the date on which benefits commence precedes the month after which the member attains 60 years of age, by 1/8 of one percent if the member has 35 years or more of creditable service, by 1/4 of one percent if the member has 30 years but less than 35 years of creditable service, by 1/3 of one percent if the member has at least 25 years but less than 30 years of creditable service, by 5/12 of one percent if the member has at least 20 years but less than 25 years of creditable service, and by 5/9 of one percent if the member has less than 20 years of creditable service.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. I rise obviously in support of the committee of conference report on Senate Bill 3.

Before I begin – and I see he is not here – I wish to salute my good friend, Ken Hawkins, who has, as Senator White indicated previously, been a stalwart person with regard to retirement and warning, for years before it was popular, that we had a problem in our retirement system.

Let me just be very brief, then I'd be happy to answer any questions. This legislation as you see it today is the combination of a lot of good ideas from the Senate, from the House, and coming out of the committee of conference. It will provide for stability and viability in the retirement system. It will, over time, reduce the unfunded liability, and it will reduce the unsustainable rates that employers are now experiencing, which are leading to job loss and problematic events at town halls, school boards, counties, and yes, here, too, in state government, dealing with these unsustainable costs in our retirement system.

Senate Bill 3 is a bill about difficult choices, and how we deal with a situation that has grown over a number of years that we can take whatever opportunity we wish to blame whoever the culprits are of the day; there's blame enough to go around and there are difficult choices enough to go around. But, I would say for the three affected parties, primarily: taxpayers, employees, and employers, that we have been fair – difficult, but fair. And, I would also say to the Senate that this bill, this compromise, meets our criteria that we established early on in the debate about this bill, that we would have the least impact on retired people and also the least impact on those close to retirement, that we would have more of the impact on people that were younger that can make more career decisions by virtue of the fact that they are younger in age, and there are more stipulations, if you will, added to those that have yet to be hired. It's that pyramid that Senator White had described many times. The final work product of this committee of conference report respects those goals while making our retirement system – without this being a silver bullet, and I would not want to indicate that it is – a marked improvement in where we are. So, I'd be more than happy to answer any specific questions.

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I think you all know this was a tough bill; it really began with the marathon hearing we had – we've had four or five hearings in the body this year that were held in Reps' Hall; they were long, they were difficult, and this was one of those bills that had that. But, I'm proud of the fact that the Senate did listen to the public; a lot of changes were made in response to people who had concerns about that. A lot of stakeholders have come forward to all of us on the ED&A Committee and also Senator Bradley as the prime sponsor, and outlined their concerns. And, I really believe that when it made financial sense, when it made...it was possible to accommodate those concerns, we tried to accommodate those concerns. And so, I'm proud of that. The House contributed some great intent language here that we hadn't really contemplated in the Senate, but I think it gets the body – both bodies, really – on record of the scope of the problems that were involved with this current retirement system situation, and why we made the steps we did. And so, I think that intent language was a real good addition and important. The bottom line is: I feel that this is a signature accomplishment. I know I'm only a freshman, but I've got to believe that it's only once in a while where you're able to make a change that will benefit people for years, even decades to come: benefit the taxpayer, benefit the people who are on pensions currently, benefit the people who will be on pensions, the sustainability of the system – all of these things. So, I just wanted to salute Senator Bradley for all his work – it amazed me on the Senate floor, as we kept working through variations of this and discussions would go on, how he could speak to this bill extemporaneously, off the top of his head, the detail involved – so, I really salute him. I salute Senator Groen, who became, really, in conference, I felt, a key person, because even though Senator Bradley was very good at bringing concepts forward, at the end of the day, we had to address a lot of numerical things, and Senator Groen was the one who was able to construct from scratch, really, spreadsheets and projections that were amazing, and so I thank him. I'm just really proud of this – I said jokingly to the Senate President, but I mean it: We pass this bill, I can just die and go to Heaven; I'm happy. I feel like this was it; this will be, when we're...if we live that long, if we look back 20 years to this day, I believe we're going to look back at this bill and say this is the thing that this Senate accomplished and this House accomplished, and it's really a signature accomplishment, and I'm just thankful to everybody who had a hand in it.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I served on the committee of conference, and I applaud the movement that was brought about because of the influence and information that the Senate brought. There was some good and rational changes made to the House initiative, which was far more punitive and more difficult. But, I continue to have concerns that the conference committee on retirement and this, the product, continues to ask more of the employees than the employers. I believe it should be a shared responsibility as we work to stabilize the retirement system. Everyone knows that over the past ten years or more, employers underfunded their portion and were able to – and, that includes the State and municipalities – and were able to get by with those years not paying their fair share. Yet, today, we end up with a product that continues to ask the employees for more from their contribution rates. We are raiding the special account that was created from both the employee and employer contributions. And, there is no longer a possibility for cost of living increases; we're going to study the possibility, but there is no fund to accomplish that. That's taking not only the $160 million in the special account, but it also included the interest on that, which could have been used for perhaps a cost of living increase for some of our lowest-paid teachers, for example, who are living on $12,000 or less a year because they retired some time ago and are very elderly. This bill also made changes to employees who are, what I consider, are in fact vested, and I think that will be challenged. There is that issue, as we know, the difference between when someone starts to work for the State and they've worked almost up to ten years. We have employees in this building who have contributed for nine years and four months, and we're going to change the contract under which they have been working all these years and tell them they no longer qualify as vested or have any rights to what they had paid into over the years. So, I think SB 3, in fact, forces New Hampshire's workers to work longer for less pay while simultaneously being required to pay more into the system and making it more difficult for them to build a livable retirement. These are our first responders, these are our public safety officers, educators around the state, civil servants, who've kept their side of the promise, paid their fair share, and been promised benefits as part of their pay package. This is part of their pay package that they, in regular payday contributions, added their monies into. It's now gone unless they're vested. So, we are asking them to pay for the failure of the State and local municipalities to pay their fair share over the years. SB 3 as agreed to in the committee of conference – again, I applaud the Senate members for their work; it's better than it was. But, it still is not a fair bill in that it asks our workers, our New Hampshire folks in all lines of work, to work longer for less pay, with less hope of a retirement in their future. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forrester for a question of Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR FORRESTER: Senator Larsen, you said that the employers didn't pay their fair share. Isn't it true that they paid what they were asked to pay into the retirement system?

SENATOR LARSEN: That doesn't mean it was a fair share. Yes, they paid what they were asked to pay, and in the 1980s, as you know, or early '90s, the Senate and House agreed to underfund the share in order to save costs. And, we all know how we like to do that, so that's what happened.

SENATOR FORRESTER: But, they paid what they were asked to pay.

SENATOR LARSEN: They paid what they were asked to pay; they did not pay their fair share –

SENATOR FORRESTER: Thank you.

SENATOR LARSEN: – and that's part of the report of the New Hampshire Retirement System to us, that everyone acknowledges they didn't pay their fair share; they paid what they were asked to.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Yes, thank you, Mister President. I just want to rise – a couple thoughts, a couple statements. I do recognize and want to thank the Committee for their work on retirement and the retirement system and changing that. But, I would really want to remind this body that it was four years ago that we began this process, and we worked very hard – I know I did; I was on the committee. And, we addressed the issues that we are continuing to address. And, I think that we did that in a very responsible manner. We made changes that are important today, and I am proud of those changes, and I do want to remind you that this started four years ago; I think there may be some Senators here that may not be aware of that because of the incredible work you've put into it during this session. But, I would have to say that if we hadn't begun this four years ago, we would be in a much different situation. I'm also proud of the fact that the changes that we made I felt we made in a very balanced approach, and my concern today is that the bill that we're looking at I cannot support because I don't believe it is balanced; I think the burden today is really on employees, as Senator Larsen had said: Employees now work longer; we're asking employees to pay more into the system, we're asking employees to receive less than their pension benefit, and for that reason I will not be able to support SB 3. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. Well, we've heard that a picture is 1,000 words, and I know we've all seen this chart before. And, this chart – the one word I hear when I look at this chart is: "unsustainable". Cities and towns cannot live with the kind of unsustainable cliffs that they're going to have to climb. In my district, I was asked to meet with folks in Nashua and my other towns, and they were – their backs are up against the wall when it comes to these pension issues. The Mayor of Nashua showed me the kind of payouts that they're going to have to do with retirees, and it is a huge hit – a huge hit. They don't know how they're going to pay it. When I look at what the committee did, I think that they were very fair, that if you look at the weight, it is spread across really those four segments. The lightest weight is on those that are closest to retirement; next are those that are vested, those that are unvested, and the biggest weight is on new hires. That's the way it ought to be, and that is a very balanced approach. And, I want to thank Senator Groen, I think; I worked with him and I think he brought some great ideas to this, and he – working on those spreadsheets for hours – brought some great creativity, and I want to applaud Senator Bradley, who worked very hard in the committee of conference to work across the table with those in the House to try to bring something that's going to work across the board. So, I appreciate all the great effort that went into this. Thank you, Mister President.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Senator Bradley. And, first and foremost, thank you so much for all the work you and everyone has done on this. I hear a lot about fair share, I hear a lot about shared responsibility, I hear a lot about burden on employees. But, is it true that today when we truly talk about burden and costs of our retirement system that employees have to pay between seven and just over 9.5 percent, while the taxpayers of the State of New Hampshire have to pay between 10 and 30 percent of people's employment rates, and is that fair? Thank you, sir.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Well, again – And, you know, I just have to take a moment to... You know, I don't know which tie I like better: your tie or Jack's tie, because the Red Sox beat the Yankees last night.

SENATOR SANBORN: Darn right they did! And will again tonight!

SENATOR BRADLEY: So, you know, let's talk about fairness. It's very easy and very convenient to try to pin blame on once subset of the problem: the employers. The real blame – and, you know what? I was a green-behind-the-ears freshman when this vote was made in 1991 to change the accounting methodology that told the retirement system how to set the employer rates. It was supposed to be temporary, but like all things, it wasn't temporary, and there was almost a code of silence, because the employers were getting good rates and the employees, because money was being taken out of the system to pay for higher benefits, $900 million was removed from the system – that's a huge part of the problem. And, lastly, something that's beyond our control was over the last 20 years, investment gains did not meet the targets. So, those are the three main issues: the legs of the stool that are sort of undermined in our retirement system. So, yes, employers didn't pay what they should have paid. But, $900 million shouldn't have been taken out of the system, and we've got to recognize the real world when it comes to what's actually occurring in the investment scenario. So, the chart that Senator Luther has – yeah, let's talk about fairness. Let's talk about the fact that given the budget situation that we have in this state and the fact that, starting with Governor Lynch, there's not going to be a payment of the 25 percent to cities and towns, and in the absence of this reform that we're going to vote for, hopefully, this afternoon, property taxes are going to skyrocket: for retirement rates, they will go up for three of the categories, I believe, nearly 75 percent: teachers, police, and firefighters, if we don't pass this bill today. It is unsustainable. And, when something is unsustainable, what's happening in the real world? Well, I look at Senator De Blois, who's not here, or Senator D'Allesandro, who's not here, or Senator Boutin, who's not here, and think about Manchester. I'm just thinking about Manchester; I love Manchester. Our friend, Mayor Gatsas, is trying to put together a budget. They've proposed laying off 200 paraprofessionals in the classroom, I believe it's 17 firefighters, 20 police officer positions are vacant, and numerous other positions through city government. Now, that is not only because of retirement. It's healthcare costs that are out of sight, it's the bad economy – people unable to pay their property taxes. But, if we don't pass this today, we will have a huge problem. Nashua: same thing. I spoke with Mayor Lozeau – significant problems. In my own school district, teachers – and, they should be commended for this – have agreed to work for five unpaid days this year so that they can prevent job loss. This is what's happening in the real world as a result of spiraling costs that are only going to get worse. On July 1st, they go up significantly; on July 1, 2013, they go up significantly again. When the real world of the investment returns is factored in, they'll go up again. So, what is fair? Fairness is trying to deal with this problem in the best we can. And, as I said before: For taxpayers, for retirees, for employees, and employers, this bill is difficult medicine – I'll be the first one to say that. The longer we wait to take the medicine, the worse it is. And, that's why we need to pass this bill today and we need to make sure that some of the problems that have occurred – maybe from the best of intentions, maybe not – never occur again.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Senator.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BARNES: Your tie is almost as nice as ours. Bottom line is, Senator Bradley – You know, everyone is talking and we have talked, and, truthfully so, about you and the folks that were on your committee of conference, the work you did inside the State House. Isn't it true that when a Senator – whether it was a Democrat or a Republican – asked you to come out to a meeting that they were called to by a group of people, whether they were firefighters or schoolteachers at 8, 9:00, 10:00 at night – in one case, I believe, it was over in Brentwood – didn't you quickly pack up your briefcase, call your wife, and say: "Honey, leave the light on"? Weren't you out there listening to everyone that had a concern? I heard you in two separate places, and you did one heck of a job. They didn't jump up and kiss you, but they certainly understood what you were doing, and they respected you for that. And, I think a fellow like you going out there – you look like the Energizer Bunny for God's sake – all the time you spent outside the State House. Isn't it true you spent a lot of time outside of this building talking and listening – not just talking – and listening to people?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you for the question. I did my best. It wasn't me; Senator Groen went to numerous events, Senator White went to numerous events, Senator Luther, Senator Carson; everybody on ED&A really worked very hard. We did our best with a very, very difficult situation that will only get more difficult if we don't do the right thing today. Thank you.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR LUTHER: I know you can answer this. Senator, I've worked in the private sector for many years. And, could you sort of illuminate just sort of the differences or similarities between what folks in this state, pensions, that sort of thing, get versus say, in the private sector? I think that might be helpful.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Well, I'm not an expert on the private sector defined contribution system; most people, if they're in the private sector, have a 401k that employers may or may not contribute into on a matching basis or something like that. There are very few people in the private sector that have what we call here a "defined benefit plan"; it's something that, quite frankly, has changed dramatically. 25 years ago, there were many more defined benefit plans in the private sector. When I was in Washington, one of the pieces of legislation that we passed reformed the pension benefit guarantee trust corporation that has been the repository of what happens when these pension systems don't have the resources to pay benefits. And, I have talked to people throughout this debate that have told me that they made all their contributions that they were supposed to into a defined benefit in the private sector, employers did, and then suddenly, they were left with dimes on the dollar, if that. And so, I think what is important today, if I was an employee, knowing that, yes, we are asking somewhat more of them – I admit that. But, it has to be done; I think most employees realize that, that it has to be done. But, they will get stability and viability in the future; we will have to monitor this closely to make sure that happens. And, I think it's important to note, too, that a number of people are loyal employees, great educators, great police officers, great firefighters, have filed their papers to possibly retire as of June 1st because of the uncertainty. The one thing that our friends in the fourth estate, I hope, will take away from today, whether you like this bill or don't like this bill, people will have six months to determine how it impacts them. And so, the precipitousness of having to move to a decision right now, in case we do something, people will have ample time to assess how these changes affect them, and I would say again to my good friend Senator Larsen that people with more than ten years in the system who are vested – and you and I may argue about when vesting actually occurs, but for the definition purposes the New Hampshire retirement system uses, ten years is the terminology – those people, with the exception of the increase in contribution rates, will see virtually no other impact except for the averaging provision for police officers so that special details can't be spiked in. And, I think that's fair, and I think that the Senate position, we held to that. And, we also held to the fact that for non-vested employees there should be no significant new provisions attached other than what we did, which, just to recap, is a five-year averaging and the inability to utilize vacation time that's unused, sick time that's unused, and severance pay, and the same provision on special details. That's what we did. I would submit to you, Senator Larsen, it's fair, it's consistent with what you tried to do and did four years ago to move the ball forward, and I congratulate you again for that. But, unfortunately, the unfunded liability at that point in time – four years ago – was $2.7 billion; it's $4.7 billion today, and it will get higher. And, that's the reality, unfortunately, that all 24 of us, regardless of our political leanings or likes or wants or desires or anything else, we've got to wake up and smell the coffee.

The question is on the adoption of Committee of Conference Report on SB 3-FN-A-L.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: At this point, we have dealt with all Senate bills amended by the House; the only thing left is House bills amended by the Senate. We have on our list approximately nine requests for committees of conference from the House; we will continue to get more. My intent would be to deal with each one of these. There does not need to be a description of the changes because we're forming committees of conference. We will then recess, and any requests for committee of conferences that come in after that during recess we will automatically accede to them and will form the committee of conference. So, that's the general plan; that's what we've done in past years. So, let's just deal with the ones we have on our list. We're dealing with requests for committee of conference on the back page.

Without objection the Clerk was instructed to read the first complete House Message and thereafter only the title of each bill shall be read.

And, of course, the disease, you all know, is the Devil's Facial Tumor Disease, and of course I'm referring to that sweet little marsupial that lives in Tasmania: the Tasmanian Devil. And, it is almost extinct because of a malignant transmissible tumor caused by fighting. So, the moral of the story is, lest we succumb to a malignant tumor, we should stop fighting. Thank you.

Sen. Bradley moved that the Senate adjourn from the Late Session.

Adopted. Adjournment from the Late Session.

June 22, 2011

The Senate reconvened at 10 a.m., a quorum being present.

The Reverend Kate Atkinson, guest chaplain to the Senate, offered the following meditation and prayer.

Good morning. Well, many of you probably know that in the Christian Church, we recently celebrated the Festival of Pentecost, which is the birthday of the Christian Church. And, this was the day, nearly 2,000 years ago, when The Spirit gave Jesus' followers the ability to speak in a variety of different languages so that every single person in the crowd that was listening to them that day understood what they were saying. Well, today, when God inspires us, we don't necessarily receive a new tongue, a new language, but we do receive a new voice. And, I just want you to think about a time when you may have been in the presence of someone who desperately needed your help. They might have been newly bereaved, they might have been recently diagnosed with a fatal illness, they might have been in some terrible conflict with someone and just unable to see past their anger. And, you came into that situation just not knowing at all what you were going to say, and then all of a sudden, as you began to speak to them, you discovered that you had just the right words to help that person in that particular situation. Today, when God inspires us, we do not necessarily receive a new language, but we do receive a new voice. Let us pray.

Spirit of God, Giver of Life, moving between us and around, like wind or water or fire; breathe into us Your freshness that we may awake; cleanse our vision that we may see more clearly; kindle our senses that we may feel more sharply; and give us the courage to live as You would have us live.
Amen.

Sen. Morse led the Pledge of Allegiance.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: I'll let you know, the first order of business when we get to the bills will be House Bill 1, House Bill 2, and House Bill 337 came in after the reporting deadline; the first order of business will be a motion to suspend the rules to allow consideration of those reports that came in after the deadline; that will require a 2/3 vote.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS AND PRESENTATIONS

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I am happy to introduce our Senate Pages for today. First is Zachary Spiegel. Zachary attends Derryfield School; he's 14 and in grade 9. He is from Concord. His favorite subject is Latin; favorite book: Call it Courage. Extracurricular activities are in theater, and in the future he hopes to work in performing arts. During the last New Hampshire Presidential Primary, Zac interviewed presidential candidates Obama and McCain for Scholastic News, and as a student reporter, he wrote articles and was featured on ABC News and interviewed with the National Public Radio's Linda Wertheimer. So, welcome, Zac; we hope you continue in your interests.

Also with us is Jordan Bodwell. Jordan is 18 and graduated from Concord High. His favorite subject is in English. His extracurricular activities include student government, wrestling, football, and work – that's hardly extracurricular, but I guess it is. In the future he hopes to graduate from law school and become a trial lawyer. So, welcome. I understand you spoke at graduation, so we are glad to have you here, Jordan, and I hope you find this day interesting. Thank you.

Without objection, President Bragdon authorized Senator Luther to use electronic devices on the floor of the Senate.

SUSPENSION OF SENATE RULES

Sen. Bradley moved that the Senate Rules be suspended in order to allow HB 1-A, HB 2-FN-A-L, and HB 337-FN-L to be acted on as the committee of conference reports were signed after the Senate deadline.

The question is on the motion to suspend the rules. Adopted by necessary 2/3 vote.

SENATOR MORSE: Mister President, I move the adoption of the committee of conference report on House Bill 1. This budget is significant for us as a Legislature, and it is significant for the State of New Hampshire. While the committee of conference was difficult at times – which it usually is – in the end, we worked well with the House Finance Committee in putting together a responsible budget, and I thank them.

The Legislature produced a truly balanced two-year budget, spending $4.4 billion in general funds, approximately $35 million less than the Senate-passed version. This is approximately an 11 percent reduction from the last biennium and projects an $11 million Rainy Day Fund balance without any new or increased taxes, fees, or bonding of operating expenses. This is the first time since World War II that a biennial budget spent less than the previous two years. This was not an easy budget to produce, but a budget of difficult choices. This is the first step in putting the State on the track towards fiscal responsibility. This budget represents the promise that we made to the voters last year: that we would show the same discipline and make the same difficult choices that working families across New Hampshire are making at their kitchen tables every day. Our budget closes a historic budget deficit, and not only does it not raise taxes or fees, it actually delivers stability and predictability to get our economy moving again. The budget represents the State living within its means and enhancing the New Hampshire advantage by making our state more competitive. This is the type of transformative change that our citizens deserve.

At the beginning of the committee of conference, there was one outstanding issue that needed to be addressed: the pending deficit in '11. Our ability to balance the budget for '12 and '13 totally hinged on balancing '11. Governor Lynch came before us and did a couple of very important things. First of all, he acknowledged the $14 million shortfall facing '11. Next, he presented us with a plan to ensure this year was balanced, and I thank him. Given that, we were able to move forward, and with his cooperation.

Another important matter we had to address was revenues. Thanks to the leadership of Senator Odell and our colleagues on Ways and Means, we were able to closely work with the House in agreeing upon revenues. This is also historic, in that as long as I have been here, we came together – we didn't inflate revenues to justify more spending during the committee of conference; it was the opposite. Given the trends of our current revenues, these Senators and Representatives felt it was prudent to lower our estimates to be as responsible with the taxpayers' dollars as we could. Although this was a difficult decision, we agreed.

The budget we are about to vote on reflects many of the same priorities and reforms included when it left the Senate. It reflects the belief that it is the role of government to take care of those that cannot take care of themselves. While there are limited resources, we are pleased to provide funding for the DD waitlist and catastrophic aid to restore the Governor's cuts. We also maintained our funding levels for mental health care for children and adults, children in need of services, and public safety.

It is important to remember that this is only the first step, but a very important one in getting our fiscal house in order. We refocused state government on its priorities while accounting for nearly $400 million in federal funds not available this biennium and over $30 million in new debt service payments resulting from previous budgets.

I would like to thank my colleagues on Finance for hanging in there with me through long days and long nights, and even missing the Bruins winning the Stanley Cup, which I have been informed I will be 80-some years old when they win again. I would also like to thank the Senate President and Senator Bradley for their leadership. We truly enjoyed working with the House Finance Committee, and would also like to thank them for their leadership during this process.

The Senate Finance Committee recommends this bill be adopted and we ask for your support.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in opposition, and would like to speak to some issues. First, let me say this: I applaud the Chair for his work done on this piece of legislation; it was a very difficult thing. The document that came over from the House was totally unacceptable. But, let me tell you some things that aren't in this piece of legislation that have a dramatic effect on every person that you represent – every person that you represent – because our responsibility is to care for those who can't care for themselves, to provide assistance for those who can't get assistance for themselves, and to make sure that they have a life that's as good as ours.

In the first instance, CHINS: The House totally eliminated the CHINS program – eliminated the CHINS program. That meant that over 500 children that are now being served would have been left out in the cold. The Senate came halfway and restored half of the CHINS money. What's a CHIN? Do we all understand what a CHIN is? A CHIN is a person who needs supervision and rehabilitation service, and this service is addressed for a problem child – youth involved with the Division through a petition in the family court. The current proposal will serve only the most aggressive youth who exhibit fire-setting or sexualized behaviors that pose a danger to the child or others and exhibit dangerous or life-threatening behaviors toward themselves or others. About 450 youth and their families will no longer be served; we'll take care of the 50 most egregious cases – 50 most egregious cases. But the 450 that need our service and have had our service will not be served. In the Manchester school system, there are 16 CHINS, costing the school system – or, will cost the school system – an additional $1.6 million if they are not among the 50 most egregious youngsters to be served.

Let's talk about adoption subsidies. We're so involved in adoption subsidy – we believe in adoption. Adoption subsidy is a financial assistance to families who adopt children with significant special needs and provides those children with stability, continuity, and long-term family connections. Children in foster care who do not return home or get adopted typically age out of the child welfare system without a permanent family and they have poor life outcomes. The cost of children remaining in the foster care system is more expensive, as the State not only pays placement expenses, but all other expenses involved with raising that child. Currently, the budget restriction in adoption subsidy will impact about 675 children – 675 children. Those children live in all of our districts; they won't be taken care of.

Let's talk about one that breaks my heart, and that's congregate housing. I got a letter from a 96-year-old woman who lives in my district; she lives in the Burns Apartments – 96 years of age. She gets congregate services. Congregate services are given to four major cities: Manchester, Somersworth, Keene, and Laconia. About 240 people are involved. What do they get? They get homemaker services, they get transportation, they get some meals, and they get personal care, for example: toileting and bathing. Without these services, many of these people will be relegated to nursing facilities, at a cost greater than the appropriation.

Alzheimer's care and care-giving services: About 250 people will be affected. And, what does the caregiver do? It gives access to support services and respite care. This will disappear under this budget.

And, I think one of the things that troubles me the most is the STD/HIV situation that will be eliminated. What will that do, and how many people will be affected? About 6,127 clients will no longer be screened, tested, or given treatment and education on risk reduction; 4,918 HIV tests will not be conducted; 382 clients who have identification of their sexual partners will not be serviced. In the City of Manchester, our Public Health screens these people. They will no longer, after the 30th of June, be able to do that. In the last year, 1,200 people were assessed; they were given comprehensive screening. They received a confidential diagnosis, testing and treatment for STDs, as well as HIV testing and counseling. In addition, another 120 high-risk individuals received HIV testing at off-site clinics including the Farnum Center, Serenity Place, and the Hillsborough County Department of Corrections; 65 percent of these people were uninsured. Who's going to pick up the slack? Where's the slack going to go? It's going to go to emergency rooms, where the cost of doing this screening and evaluation is three times the cost of doing it in a public health environment. As a public health director for the City of Manchester, I am gravely concerned that without our ability to conduct contact investigations, track, and treat clients, we will experience a surge of communicable disease transmissions within our community and state as a result of the elimination of this funding. In addition, local hospitals will see an increase in emergency room utilization and uncompensated care, putting additional burden on an already stressed system.

For those reasons, Mister President, I oppose the passage of this piece of legislation. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. This is the last day of school for Portsmouth, so many of our seniors are busy with their summer activities and the younger members of the team are busy with exams. But, I am thrilled to have representation here from three groups to accept our congratulations.

First of all, the Portsmouth baseball team just won their 83rd consecutive game and the State Championship this past weekend. I want to recognize Coach Tim Hopley, representing the team, for his managing style and his leadership in developing the skills of these great players. Five of those members were also on the 2006 Little League World Series championship team. So, there have been some great players that have come through there in the last four or five years in Portsmouth.

The Portsmouth girls lacrosse team just completed their undefeated season and State Title, which is also remarkable and exciting. This puts their total at three championships in the past five years. With us today are Lauren Nevin, Abby Ferris, and Symonne Fontenot as members of the team, and we recognize their assistant coach, Justine Ferland, and coach Mary Squire for their tireless efforts throughout the season.

And finally, I want to recognize the Portsmouth Percussion Ensemble, which recently won the concert open class division at the Winter Guard International Percussion World Championships in Dayton, Ohio. They also hold the distinct honor of winning three consecutive years at the New England percussion championships. The members here today are Maria Tulois-Kozak, Chelsea Baruski, and Sabrina Gazley – and, I apologize for murdering your names – along with their instructor, Steve Cirillo.

It is always a pleasure to represent the beautiful Seacoast, but having these three groups of students who have displayed such grace, humility, and excellence in their respective activities makes me very, very proud to represent District 24. Please help me in recognizing the Portsmouth Clippers and welcome them to our State Senate.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the adoption of the committee of conference report on HB 1. I like to say that I'm New Hampshire-educated: grade school to grad school. And, I like to say it because it's true. I have diplomas somewhere – I'm not sure where in the house – from the Barnard School in South Hampton where there were ten of us in the 8th grade graduating class, from Winnacunnet High School, UNH, and Dartmouth. And, I'm proud of that; I'm particularly proud of the undergraduate education that I received at UNH. And, I'm proud to have seen the progress made at UNH since the time I was there: the development of the earth, ocean, and space program, the McCarthy Institute, the marine science program, the environmental engineering program, and later, as a staff member of UNH,

I had the opportunity to work in the undergraduate research program with students who would match the ability of students anywhere. But today, New Hampshire parents got some discouraging news when they opened the newspapers, because yesterday, the university system of New Hampshire trustees voted on tuition increases – increases that were their last-resort response to the cut of almost 50 percent contained in HB 1: the biggest cut to higher education in any state budget, and an appropriation that's the lowest since 1988.

The great majority of the system cuts will be met by spending decreases at the system's schools, including 200 jobs. But, that just isn't enough, and so the unavoidable tuition increases have come about or will come about and the bad news for parents and their children. At UNH, in-state tuition will go up 12.4 percent, for the total cost of attendance going up 8.7 percent to almost $25,000 – not the highest in-state cost in the country, amazingly, but among the highest. At Plymouth and Keene, in-state tuition will rise almost 20 percent, with total expenses going up almost 10 percent to a total of over $20,000. And, at Granite State College, the cost of attending will increase almost 6 percent. These are our state institutions, and they're fine institutions. Our New Hampshire students should have the opportunity to attend them, to have the honor of saying that they are New Hampshire-educated just as I have had that honor, and just as many of you and your children and grandchildren do. So, I find this part of HB 1 to be a disturbing commentary on commitment to higher education in New Hampshire. And so, while I have great respect for the work that was done by the Finance Committee and appreciation for the changes that were made on the Senate side, this is one of the main reasons that I will be unable to support this committee of conference report is because of the cuts that we're seeing to higher education. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you. The budget of this great state should reflect the goals and values of our citizens, and it's a statement of who we are and who we aspire to be. More than any goal, we heard a lot about creating jobs and growing New Hampshire's economy. Unfortunately, when it comes to this state budget, these goals come up short. In fact, this budget is a shirk-and-downshift budget: It shirks our most basic responsibilities for good roads, sound public education investments and economic investments that grow jobs and support our most vulnerable citizens. Instead of growing jobs, it eliminates New Hampshire jobs: more than 1,000 jobs in the public sector and untold numbers in the private sector, creating barrier after barrier for New Hampshire's workers and their families as they struggle to regain their economic footing. This budget threatens to curtail New Hampshire's fragile economic recovery. It sends hundreds of workers into the unemployment line, imposing greater costs on local communities and their taxpayers and creating obstacles to restoring economic vibrance in the Granite State. What happened to this goal of job creation? With this budget, small business health insurance premiums will skyrocket as we eliminate hospital funding for uncompensated care, and families and children will find it hard to pry open the doors of economic opportunity.

There are unprecedented cuts to higher education, as you've heard, and job training, and to programs specifically designed to keep families financially independent and on their feet. There are thousands who will no longer be able to work because of cuts in supplements for more than 4,000 children supported in employment childcare and home supports to families with disabilities. More than 800 kids will lose their HealthyKids insurance under this budget. Life-sustaining support will disappear for more than 250 families in the unemployment parents program and 1,100 people in the TANF families dealing with disabilities. More than 400 families with children in need of services will find the doors of guidance and opportunity closed, as will 1,200 youths needing substance abuse treatment to become self-supporting adults and help their families function. This budget, as we've heard, cuts in half our state support for higher education to both university and our community colleges, an amount equal to the deepest of any cuts in the nation. It causes an immediate and unanticipated tuition increase that many families will find impossible to absorb, and such reductions cause irreparable harm to our long-term economic prosperity and our ability to grow businesses. An educated workforce is the single most important factor behind New Hampshire's economic engine. Instead of slicing education budgets we need to do everything we can to ensure that New Hampshire citizens have the opportunity to go to college and post-graduates are able to work and raise families here in New Hampshire. Yet, this budget shirks this most critical economic responsibility of the State and shifts costs back to students and families.

Additional cuts to the small business development center and innovation research center will reduce public-private partnerships' efforts to spur innovation and create jobs. Highway construction jobs will be cut as our roads and 137 red-listed bridges become more decrepit from lack of funding. Not only does this budget eliminate public and private sector jobs, but it shifts enormous tax increases on hospitals and first responders. Hospitals are some of New Hampshire's largest employers – $120 million tax shift on them creates a $100 million tax on all of us. It leads to significant layoffs in our state, and at the same time, it sends healthcare costs skyrocketing for both small business owners and private payers, and people just cannot afford it.

Also included in this shirk-and-downshift budget is an $80 million income tax on firefighters, police officers, teachers, and other public employees. These people are not and should not be the enemy. They're working people struggling to support their families and working to provide the American Dream for their families, just like thousands of other New Hampshire citizens. Singling them out for a tax on their annual income is wrong. It shifts the unfunded local retirement costs onto those who have already paid their fair share and shirks the pay package that has already been promised to them. We are already seeing this will lead to the retirement of our most experienced public employees: our most experienced firefighters, teachers, and public safety workers, putting our children's future and public safety at risk. With this shirk-and-shift budget, millions of dollars are downshifted to local communities. The cuts to education, health services, and childcare programs will dramatically increase the burden on county and local governments and welfare offices. With municipal funding cuts alone totaling at $114 million, cities and towns across the state will be forced to dramatically raise property taxes, lay off essential police officers, firefighters, and teachers, and put even more lives at risk through cuts to snowplowing, road and bridge repair, and lifesaving social services.

I know our Senate Finance colleagues restored a portion of the most appalling House cuts, that given each elected official's social contract to protect good roads, good schools, and responsible social safety net, we hoped the Senate would not capitulate to the reckless shirk-and-shift proposals set forth by the House. When we face devastating layoffs and tuition increases, why choose to lower the already lowest-in-New England state tobacco tax by 10 cents? Why agree to this House demand when it's recognized to reduce youth smoking and estimated to lose almost $15 million in revenues, and a recent report shows it could be as much as $30 million in revenue loss. And, what will happen when this loss is not accounted for in our two-year budget? Why agree to this when we know that sorely needed funds could offset dramatic increases in property taxes or student tuitions or health insurance costs? I would remind you that this budget crisis is not caused by overspending, despite what they argue in this great recession. Under Democratic leadership between 2006 and 2010, general funds spending grew more slowly in those four years than any other four-year period in the last ten years. It's our revenues from business profits, interest and dividends, tobacco and liquor sales, restaurants, hotels, and real estate sales that have declined in this recession. Yet those who will feel it most, and the difference in this budget, will again be the middle class of our state who bear three times the tax burden as a percentage of the income of our wealthiest citizens. While some may not immediately see the effect of this shirk-and-shift budget, I predict the picture will be increasingly clear as each citizen faces the challenges ahead: increasing property taxes, fewer jobs, education opportunities, increased health insurance costs, and the unmet needs of those most vulnerable on our streets. This budget breaks the social contract that each of us elected officials have with the voters: to safeguard our most important priorities, promoting job growth, public safety, public education, decent highways for commerce, and decent support for those most vulnerable in our communities. That's why I will be voting against this budget, as would many citizens of New Hampshire who will soon be feeling the sad effects of this shift-and-shirk budget. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Good morning, Mister President. As we gather here this morning on this gorgeous June day, I think we all realize this is a budget about tough choices – incredibly tough choices. It's also a budget about establishing priorities and reforming the way we do government. It's a budget that is set against the backdrop of a terrible economy, but I would argue to each and every one of us, it's a budget that if we do it and adopt it today, provides hope for the future.

So, let me just touch on some of the things that have been raised today. We all know the budget starts in February; the Governor faced many of the same agonizing decisions that we did. And, as the Governor said, as quoted by Charlie Arlinghaus, in his budget address: "None of us can say: 'Cut state government spending, but don't close the office in my town or change my program.'" Wise words. And so, the Governor proposed some pretty significant cuts: He started with HealthyKids, with postsecondary education; he defunded the disability waitlist, proposed major cuts to hospitals, CHINS, catastrophic aid, and proposed to eliminate – yes, that's right: eliminate – the subsidy for retirement that our cities and towns and counties and schools depend on. The House and Senate, in the conference committee, made adjustments. The Senate, led by our good friend from Salem, restored some money to some of the most critical needs in the state: people with mental health issues, the DD waitlist, some CHINS money, the adoption subsidy that our good friend from Manchester spoke so eloquently about some money was restored to. But, we know that given how the budget was built over the last several years and the problems that were inherited by budget-writers this year of nearly $800 million in deficit, roughly $400 million of one-time federal money that we know will never be replicated, nor should it be when our federal government is facing a $14 trillion deficit and trillion-dollar deficit stretching as far as the eye can see. We know that we weren't able to continue on the path of borrowing for operating expenses; it's simply unsustainable. And, we also realize the problem that we all know too well in this document: that we can't inflate revenue to match our spending desires. And, over the last four years, as Charlie Arlinghaus says today: "The recession and a constant unwillingness to deal with the growing budget problems devastated the State's fiscal order. In each of the last four years, the State spent more than it raised – in most years, significantly more." Today we have a chance to correct that. It doesn't mean that it's easy; it doesn't mean that it's something that we like to do. These are tough choices that we have to make. But, I would argue that if we do this today, if we get our fiscal house in order, we will see the continuation of a fragile economic recovery.

Since November, 6,000 of our friends and neighbors have come back to work. I believe that part of the reason for that is that small businesses and working families who've had to tighten their belts for years have realized that Concord is now finally, after a 24 percent increase in spending over the last four years and nearly 100 new tax and fee hikes, people and small businesses have realized that we're going to do the same thing, and it is a good time to invest in New Hampshire. And, I would argue that that's a reason why our job numbers have started to improve. Yes, there's a long ways to go; the unemployment rate was at 5.6 percent in November, it's now 4.8 percent – one of the lowest in the country, but still something that we have to work hard to maintain. Now is not the time to move away from fiscal prudence, from balancing our state budget without gimmicks, without borrowing, without inflating revenue, without looking to Washington bailouts, and without crippling tax increases. Now is the time to get our fiscal house in order, to understand what that means to the business community, to recognize that the best program is a good job, and that if we do our job today of getting the State's fiscal house in order, we will lead the way to recovery for New Hampshire working families and small businesses. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee of Conference Report.

160 Findings; Intent. The New Hampshire general court makes the following findings of fact and states the following intent and purpose for sections 161-188 of this act.

I. Immediate action is necessary to make the New Hampshire retirement system (NHRS) viable and solvent.

(a) NHRS is the successor to the State Employees' Retirement System. NHRS was created and established as of July 1, 1967. The NHRS was intended to and does establish a defined benefit pension plan qualified under Section 401(a) of the United States Internal Revenue Code (IRC). The NHRS plan is a governmental plan within the meaning of Section 414(d) of the IRC.

(b) As a defined benefit pension plan, the provisions of NHRS describe benefits which will be made available to members as vested deferred retirement benefits payable on retirement or on events such as disability or death. Benefits pursuant to the NHRS are payable after a period of years during which members accrue creditable service. Members are deemed to be in vested status for those benefits after 10 years of creditable service.

(c) As a governmental plan, the NHRS is only available to governmental employers.

(d) The NHRS is funded with contributions from members, through mandatory payroll deductions, and with contributions from the governmental employers, all of which are raised through taxation. Such contributions are held in trust by the NHRS Board of Trustees; funds held by the trust are held and invested on behalf of all members.

(e) As a defined benefit pension plan, the NHRS requires actuarial calculations in order to determine benefits which are payable as well as funding obligations.

(f) The benefit calculations which are required by the NHRS generate funding obligations which are complex and depend on numerous variables with consequences that occur over a period of many years, in some circumstances in ways that are not foreseeable.

(g) The NHRS has an estimated unfunded pension liability of $3.72 billion and an estimated unfunded medical insurance liability of $976 million.

(h) In 2007, legislation was adopted to require the state and other public employers to pay down over 30 years the unfunded accrued liability, which was approximately $2.7 billion at the time. While that plan is now being implemented, large increases in the amount of the unfunded liability result in the current $4.7 billion total, uncertainties in future market returns, recommendations by NHRS actuaries to lower income earning assumptions, rapid increases in medical costs, increases in life expectancy, and slower growth in public sector employment require prudent legislative intervention to ensure financial viability of NHRS.

(i) Financial viability of the NHRS is essential to the operation of state government and local government performing its constitutional and statutory obligations. Therefore, the stability of NHRS is an important, immediate, and fundamental necessity.

(j) The Pew Institute has concluded that unfunded pension and health care liabilities are a nationwide problem, estimated at over $1 trillion. Additionally, the level of direct federal debt in excess of $14 trillion means that federal funding to the states will have to be significantly reduced in the near future. Thus, the state cannot expect assistance from the federal government in meeting NHRS obligations, and indeed it is reasonable to anticipate a loss in federal funds.

(k) The NHRS plan (and its trust) was created by the New Hampshire legislature and can be amended or terminated by the New Hampshire legislature at any time. Notwithstanding the general court's power, it is the general court's intention and public necessity to protect the reasonable interests of the members who accrue benefits under the NHRS plan, of the employers of those members, and of the citizens of New Hampshire.

(l) It is the legislature's intention that its actions taken at this time will not prevent future legislatures from acting to make any and all laws necessary and proper to preserve the public security, order, health, morality and justice, including further changes to the NHRS.

(m) The legislature's ongoing power to amend the NHRS is a fundamental power essential to government, and cannot and will not be surrendered by the legislature or irrevocably transferred away from government.

(n) The legislature finds that members who are deemed to be in vested status should be treated differently than members who are not deemed to be in vested status.

(o) The legislature finds that pension entitlements must be viewed in terms of benefits which have accrued up to the time when valuation is determined, and that such entitlements can be essentially expressed as a dollar value by taking into account the time value of money.

(p) The legislature finds that participants who are deemed to be in vested status in the NHRS have a reasonable expectation that the value of benefits which have accrued to them will not be taken away, although they may be changed prospectively.

(q) The legislature intends that the present value of accrued benefits for members who are deemed to be vested will not be diminished financially, as determined based upon an actuarial determination.

(r) It is the legislature's intention that benefits of members who have already retired will not be significantly diminished or impaired.

(s) The legislature does not intend that the rate of future benefit accruals is or should be protected.

(t) It is the legislature's intention that changes to the NHRS are and will continue to be constrained by the Internal Revenue Code tax qualification requirements imposed by Code Section 401(a) and related guidance; that is, changes will be made, or will not be made, in order to protect the NHRS qualified status.

II. Making NHRS viable and solvent through the actions to be undertaken pursuant to this legislation is a matter of extreme policy importance to the state.

(a) On average, benefits currently constitute an additional 52 percent increase to the cost of state employee salaries.

(b) These benefits paid by the NHRS are significantly higher than are paid in the private sector and cannot be sustained. Public employees are increasingly not cost-competitive with private alternatives to providing state and municipal services.

(c) Absent the actions to be taken pursuant to this legislation, it is likely that the state and its political subdivisions will not be able to afford to continue providing governmental services directly, but will have to provide these services through private alternatives.

(d) Public employee contributions to their pensions have not been increased for many years.

(e) Public employer contributions have been increasing significantly, erratically, and unpredictably in amounts that are undermining state and local government budgets, the public policies reflected in these budgets, and the ability of the state and local government to perform core constitutional and statutory obligations.

(f) Public employees provide state and municipal services which are essential to residents and visitors. Without changes to address the unsustainable increases in the costs of public employee benefits, however, the state and local governments will be forced to reduce the number of public employees, and shrink public service, in order to fund these growing benefit costs. The general court finds that such a result would be detrimental to the ability of state and local government to protect the lives, health, morale, comfort, and general welfare of the public.

(g) Increasing employer contributions would result in significant harm to the state's economy.

(h) Taxes to fund employer contributions are imposing an unreasonable burden on taxpayers.

III. This act contains the minimum actions necessary to assure the viability and solvency of the NHRS.

(a) The changes to be made to the NHRS at this time pursuant to this act are essential to assuring the solvency of the NHRS, addressing its structural problems, and balancing reforms fairly among employee classes, while minimizing the impact on present employees, especially those closest to retirement.

(b) The legislature specifically finds after many public hearings, hours of studying the issue, and hours of debate, that this act constitutes the minimum actions necessary to assure the viability and solvency of the NHRS.

(c) The response of public sector employers to significantly increasing premium contributions has been to reduce their number of employees. Without significant reform to the NHRS, this trend is likely to escalate.

(d) Absent this legislation, public safety, public education, and other elements of the social safety net will be increasingly compromised and unable to provide services to the public.

(e) This legislation represents the minimum reform necessary to continue to provide appropriate public safety, public education, and other governmental services.

(f) Where public sector employers have raised taxes to pay for increasing pension contributions, there has been an adverse effect on job growth and retention.

(g) Raising taxes to pay for increasing pension contributions, would discourage business from relocating to this state and encourage businesses to move from New Hampshire or expand their operations in other states.

(h) The legislature specifically finds after many public hearings, hours of studying the issue and hours of debate, that raising taxes to address NHRS' issues would be harmful to the state's economy, the quality of life of its citizens, place New Hampshire at a competitive disadvantage to other states, and would be against the public interest.

(i) The financial viability of the NHRS must be preserved, as it serves an important public purpose. The general court expressly finds that the changes made in this act are reasonable and necessary, and are the minimum adjustments possible to the retirement system and to public employee retirement benefits to accomplish the important public purpose of preserving and maintaining the ability of the state and local government to provide retirement benefits to public employees.

(j) The changes set forth in this act have been deliberately designed to adjust the system fairly among employee classes, to introduce changes in a way to minimize the impact on present employees, especially those closest to retirement, and to improve the long-term fiscal health and sustainability of the retirement system.

161 Retirement System; Definition of Earnable Compensation. Amend RSA 100-A:1, XVII to read as follows:

XVII. "Earnable compensation" shall mean:

(a) For ~~[all]~~ members who have attained vested status prior to January 1, 2012 the full base rate of compensation paid, as determined by the employer, plus any overtime pay, holiday and vacation pay, sick pay, longevity or severance pay, cost of living bonus, additional pay for extracurricular and instructional activities ~~[or for other extra or special duty]~~, and any military differential pay, plus the fair market value of non-cash compensation paid to, or on behalf of, the member for meals or living quarters if subject to federal income tax, but excluding other compensation except cash incentives paid by an employer to encourage members to retire, supplemental pay paid by the employer while the member is receiving workers' compensation, and teacher development pay that is not part of the contracted annual salary. Compensation for extra and special duty, as reported by the employer, shall be included but limited during the highest 3 years of creditable service as provided in paragraph XVIII. However, earnable compensation in the final 12 months of creditable service prior to termination of employment shall be limited to 1-1/2 times the higher of the earnable compensation in the 12-month period preceding the final 12 months or the highest compensation year as determined for the purpose of calculating average final compensation, but excluding the final 12 months. Any compensation received in the final 12 months of employment in excess of such limit shall not be subject to member or employer contributions to the retirement system and shall not be considered in the computation of average final compensation. Provided that, the annual compensation limit for members of governmental defined benefit pension plans under section 401(a)(17) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, shall apply to earnable compensation for all employees, teachers, permanent firemen, and permanent policemen who first become eligible for membership in the system on or after July 1, 1996. Earnable compensation shall not include compensation in any form paid later than 120 days after the member's termination of employment from a retirement eligible position, with the limited exceptions of disability related severance pay paid to a member or retiree no later than 120 days after a decision by the board of trustees granting the member or retiree disability retirement benefits pursuant to RSA 100-A:6 and of severance pay which a member was entitled to be paid within 120 days after termination but which, without the consent of the member and not through any fault of the member, was paid more than 120 days after the member's termination. The member shall have the burden of proving to the board of trustees that any severance payment paid later than 120 days after the member's termination of employment is earnable compensation and meets the requirements of an asserted exception to the 120-day post-termination payment requirement.

(b)(1) For members who have not attained vested status prior to January 1, 2012, the full base rate of compensation paid, as determined by the employer, plus compensation over base pay. Compensation over base pay shall include as applicable, subject to subparagraphs (2), (3), and (4), any overtime pay, holiday and vacation pay, sick pay, cost of living bonus, annual longevity pay, additional pay for extracurricular and instructional activities, compensation for extra and special duty, and any military differential pay, plus the fair market value of non-cash compensation paid to, or on behalf of, the member for meals or living quarters if subject to federal income tax, but excluding other compensation except supplemental pay paid by the employer while the member is receiving workers' compensation and teacher development pay that is not part of the contracted annual salary.

(2) Compensation over base pay shall be limited during the highest 5 years of creditable service as provided in paragraph XVIII.

(3) Earnable compensation shall not include compensation for extra and special duty for members who commence service on and after July 1, 2011.

(4) Earnable compensation shall not include incentives to encourage members to retire, severance pay or end-of-career additional longevity payments, and pay for unused sick or vacation time. Earnable compensation in the final 12 months of creditable service prior to termination of employment shall be limited to 1-1/2 times the higher of the earnable compensation in the 12-month period preceding the final 12 months or the highest compensation year as determined for the purpose of calculating average final compensation, but excluding the final 12 months. Any compensation received in the final 12 months of employment in excess of such limit shall not be subject to member or employer contributions to the retirement system and shall not be considered in the computation of average final compensation. Provided that, the annual compensation limit for members of governmental defined benefit pension plans under section 401(a)(17) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, shall apply to earnable compensation for all employees, teachers, permanent firemen, and permanent policemen who first become eligible for membership in the system on or after July 1, 1996. Earnable compensation shall not include compensation in any form paid later than 120 days after the member's termination of employment from a retirement eligible position.

162 Applicability; Earnable Compensation. For members of the retirement system who were in active status immediately prior to the effective date of section 161 of this act, the provisions of RSA 100-A:1, XVII as amended by section 161 of this act shall not apply until January 1, 2012.

163 Retirement System; Definitions; Average Final Compensation. Amend RSA 100-A:1, XVIII to read as follows:

XVIII. "Average final compensation" shall mean:

(a) For members who have attained vested status prior to January 1, 2012, the average annual earnable compensation of a member during his or her highest 3 years of creditable service, or during all of the years in his or her creditable service if less than 3 years. For purposes of this calculation, the inclusion of the average annual compensation for extra and special duty in the 3 years shall not exceed the average annual amount of compensation for extra and special duty paid to the members over the member's last 7 years or over all of the years in his or her creditable service if less than 7 years.

(b) For members who commenced service on or after July 1, 2011 or who have not attained vested status prior to January 1, 2012, the average annual earnable compensation of a member during his or her highest 5 years of creditable service, or during all of the years in his or her creditable service if less than 5 years. For purposes of this calculation, inclusion of compensation in each of the highest 5 years which is in excess of the full base rate of compensation paid as determined by the employer shall not exceed the average annual amount of compensation over base pay paid to the member over all the member's years of service on or after January 1, 2012, but excluding the highest 5 years.

164 Maximum Initial Benefit. Amend RSA 100-A:6-a to read as follows:

100-A:6-a Maximum Retirement Benefit. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter to the contrary, for members who commenced service before July 1, 2009, a member's initial calculation of the retirement benefit granted under the provisions of RSA 100-A:5 or RSA 100-A:6 shall not exceed 100 percent of the member's highest year of earnable compensation. ~~[For members who commenced service on or after July 1,~~

~~2009, a member's maximum retirement benefit granted under the provisions of RSA 100-A:5 or RSA 100-A:6 shall not exceed $120,000.] For members who commenced service on or after July 1, 2009 or have not attained vested status prior to January 1, 2012, a member's maximum retirement benefit granted under the provisions of RSA 100-A:5 or RSA 100-A:6 shall not exceed the lesser of 85 percent of the member's average final compensation or $120,000.~~ Nothing in this section shall affect the ability of a member to receive disability benefits pursuant to RSA 100-A:6, II(b) and (c). This provision shall not limit the application of supplemental allowances ~~[under RSA 100-A:41-a].~~

165 State Employees; Medical and Surgical Benefits; Eligibility. Amend RSA 21-I:30 to read as follows:

166 Service Retirement Benefits. Amend RSA 100-A:5 to read as follows:

100-A:5 Service Retirement Benefits.

I. Group I Members.

(a) Any group I member may retire on a service retirement allowance upon written application to the board of trustees setting forth at what time, not less than 30 days nor more than 90 days subsequent to the filing thereof, the member desires to be retired, provided the member at the time so specified for retirement has attained age 60 and notwithstanding that during such period of notification the member may have separated from service. On a date not later than 30 days following the establishment and approval of tax rates for each city and town affected by and subject to the provisions of this chapter, the state treasurer shall pay to each town and city in which any taxable real estate or interest therein has been acquired under this chapter by the United States and thus become tax exempt for such year, a sum equal to the taxes which would have been assessed against the real estate or interest therein in such town or city if the same had been included in the list of taxable property as proposed by the commissioner of revenue administration in RSA 122:6. For land acquired by the United States under this chapter, reimbursement shall be made upon a valuation determined as provided herein on a permanently continuing basis, and if growing wood and timber was taxable as real estate on the date of acquisition by the United States of the land on which it stood, it shall be deemed to be land hereunder. For all artificial improvements on land acquired by the United States under this chapter, including buildings, structures and other artificial real estate fixtures of any kind, reimbursement shall be made upon a valuation determined initially as provided herein and thereafter annually reduced by 2-1/2 percent so that at the end of 40 years reimbursement therefor shall have terminated. On land and improvements thereon acquired by the United States under this chapter the initial assessed valuation of the land and improvements for purposes of reimbursement shall be the locally assessed valuation thereon for the tax year in which acquired as adjusted by the assessors and the commissioner of revenue administration acting as a joint board, so as to make such valuation proportional to the value of all other property in such town or city subject to taxation. For purposes of this section the joint board may subdivide such assessment equitably between land and improvements thereon or between real estate acquired and that not acquired, if the official assessment was not thus subdivided. The valuations of improvements thus determined shall thereafter be annually reduced over a 40-year period as above provided. On land, and artificial improvements, the valuations initially established as above provided in a town or city shall be reviewed by the commissioner at least once in every 5 years and more frequently if reasonably necessary and be changed as necessary to make them proportional with the assessed value of all other taxable property in such town or city. The amount of the reimbursement due to each town and city hereunder shall be determined by the commissioner and certified by it to the state treasurer not later than 30 days following the establishment and approval of the tax rates of each town and city under this chapter. The commissioner shall reduce the amount of reimbursement thus determined by any amount paid or due that town or city for that year by or from the United States, another state, an interstate flood control agency or other source, because of such loss of taxable valuation. The governor is authorized to draw [his] a warrant for the payment of such reimbursements out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. Provided, however, that reimbursement payments for loss of taxes on account of the acquisition of railroad or public utility property shall be reduced to the extent that such railroad or public utility property is relocated and reconstructed in the same town or city as a result of such acquisition, and thereby is included to that extent in the list of taxable property in said town or city as relocated.

II. Notwithstanding paragraph I, the commissioner of revenue administration shall reduce the amount of reimbursement thus determined by any amount paid or due the state on behalf of a town or city for that year by or from the United States, another state, an interstate flood control agency or other source, because of such loss of taxable valuation. Any subsequent payments received by the state from the United States, another state, an interstate flood control agency or other source shall first be applied to outstanding amounts due the state, and any remainder shall be apportioned to the towns.

No such tax is imposed on any transactions, the taxation of which by this state is prohibited by the Constitution of the United States. No such tax shall be imposed on premium cigars.

379 Tobacco Tax Rate; Contingent Version. Amend RSA 78:7 to read as follows:

If the department reports that the amount of tobacco tax revenue received for the period was below the amounts received for the period of July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2011, then sections 379 and 380 of this act shall take effect on August 1, 2013. If the department reports that the amount of tobacco tax revenue received for the period was equal to or above the amount received for the period of July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2011, then sections 379 and 380 of this act shall not take effect.

(d) Within 5 business days of receipt of a permit by notification filing, the department shall issue a written notice to the property owner or agent stating that the notification has either been accepted or rejected. If the department does not respond within the 5-day period, the property owner or agent may submit to the department a written request for a response. A request submitted electronically by the applicant shall constitute a written request provided that the applicant has previously agreed to accept electronic communication. If the department fails to respond to the written request within an additional 5 days the property owner or agent shall be deemed to have a permit by notification and may proceed with the project as presented in the notification filing. The authorization provided by this subparagraph shall not relieve the applicant of complying with all requirements applicable to the project, including but not limited to requirements established in or under this chapter and RSA 485-A relative to water quality.

~~[(4)]~~ (e)(1) The time limits prescribed by this paragraph shall supersede any time limits provided in any other provision of law. If the department fails to act within the applicable time frame established in subparagraphs (b) and (c), the applicant may ask the department to issue the permit by submitting a written request. If the applicant has previously agreed to accept communications from the department by electronic means, a request submitted electronically by the applicant shall constitute a written request.

(2) Within 14 days of the date of receipt of a written request from the applicant to issue the permit, the department shall:

(A) Approve the application, in whole or in part, and issue a permit; or

(B) Deny the application and issue written findings in support of the denial.

(3) If the department does not issue either a permit or a written denial within the 14-day period, the applicant shall be deemed to have a permit by default and may proceed with the project as presented in the application. The authorization provided by this subparagraph shall not relieve the applicant of complying with all requirements applicable to the project, including but not limited to requirements established in or under this chapter and RSA 485-A relating to water quality.

(4) Upon receipt of a written request from an applicant, the department shall issue written confirmation that the applicant has a permit by default pursuant to subparagraph [(d)] (e)(3), which authorizes the applicant to proceed with the project as presented in the application and requires the work to comply with all requirements applicable to the project, including but not limited to requirements established in or under this chapter and RSA 485-A relating to water quality.

[(e)] (f) All applications filed in accordance with the rules adopted by the department under RSA 483-B:17 and which meet the minimum standards of this chapter shall be approved and a permit shall be issued.

[(f)] (g) The department may extend the time for rendering a decision under subparagraphs (b)(3) and (c)(3), without the applicant's agreement, on an application from an applicant who previously has been determined, after the exhaustion of available appellate remedies, to have failed to comply with this chapter or any rule adopted or permit or approval issued under this chapter, or to have misrepresented any material fact made in connection with any activity regulated or prohibited by this chapter, pursuant to an action initiated under RSA 483-B:18. The length of such an extension shall be no longer than reasonably necessary to complete the review of the application, and shall not exceed 30 days unless the applicant agrees to a longer extension. The department shall notify the applicant of the length of the extension.

[(g)] (h) The department may suspend review of an application for a proposed project on a property with respect to which the department has commenced an enforcement action against the applicant for any violation of this chapter, RSA 482-A, RSA 485-A:17, or RSA 485-A:29-44, or of any rule adopted or permit or approval issued pursuant to this chapter, RSA 482-A, RSA 485-A:17, or RSA 485-A:29-44. Any such suspension shall expire upon conclusion of the enforcement action and completion of any remedial actions the department may require to address the violation; provided, however, that the department may resume its review of the application sooner if doing so will facilitate resolution of the violation. The department shall resume its review of the application at the point the review was suspended, except that the department may extend any of the time limits under this paragraph and its rules up to a total of 30 days for all such extensions. For purposes of this subparagraph, "enforcement action" means an action initiated under RSA 482-A:13, RSA 482-A:14, RSA 482-A:14-b, RSA 483-B:18, RSA 485-A:22, RSA 485-A:42, or RSA 485-A:43.

398 Minimum Shoreland Protection Standards. Amend RSA 483-B:9, II(d) to read as follows:

(d) No fertilizer, except limestone, shall be applied to vegetation or soils located within 25 feet of the reference line of any public water. Beyond 25 feet, [low-phosphate, slow-release nitrogen fertilizer or limestone,] slow or controlled release fertilizer, as defined by rules adopted by department, may be used ~~[on areas beyond 25 feet from the reference line].~~

399 Minimum Shoreland Protection Standards. RSA 483-B:9, V(a) through V(b)(2)(A)(ii) is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

(a) Maintenance of a Waterfront Buffer.

(1) The waterfront buffer shall be those protected shorelands within 50 feet of the reference line. The purpose of this buffer shall be to protect the quality of public waters while allowing homeowner discretion with regard to water access, safety, viewscape maintenance, and lot design.

(2) Within the waterfront buffer all of the following prohibitions and limitations shall apply:

(A) No chemicals, including pesticides or herbicides of any kind, shall be applied to ground, turf, or established vegetation except if applied by horticultural professionals who have a pesticide application license issued by the department of agriculture or as allowed under special permit issued by the division of pesticide control under rules adopted by the pesticide control board under RSA 541-A, or fertilizers of any kind except those specified in RSA 483-B:9, II(d).

(B) Rocks and stumps and their root systems shall be left intact in the ground unless removal is specifically approved by the department, pursuant to RSA 482-A or RSA 483-B:11, II or unless rocks are removed to improve runoff control or the planting in the waterfront buffer, and stumps that are removed are replaced with pervious surfaces, new trees, or other woody vegetation.

(C) No natural ground cover shall be removed except as necessary for a foot path to water and access ways as provided under RSA 483-B:9, V(a)(2)(D), (viii) and (ix), for normal maintenance, to protect the waterfront buffer, cutting those portions that have grown over 3 feet in height for the purpose of providing a view, to provide access to natural areas or shoreline, or as specifically approved by the department, pursuant to RSA 482-A or RSA 483-B.

(D) Starting from the northerly or easterly boundary of the property, and working along the shoreline, the waterfront buffer shall be divided into 50 by 50 foot segments. Owners of land within the waterfront buffer shall measure, calculate, and maintain the tree, sapling, shrub, and groundcover point score in each of these segments in accordance with the methods and standards described in subparagraphs (i) through (ix).

(i) Tree and sapling diameters shall be measured at 4 1/2 feet above the ground for existing trees and saplings, or by caliper at a height consistent with established nursery industry standards when nursery stock is to be used, and are scored as follows:

Diameter or Caliper Score

1 to 3 inches – 1

3 to 6 inches – 5

6 to 12 inches – 10

12 to 24 inches – 15

Greater than 24 inches – 25

(ii) Shrubs and groundcover plants shall be scored as follows:
Four square feet of shrub area – 1 point.

Ground cover planted in the form of sod or mat – one point for every 50 square feet.

Shrub and groundcover shall not count for more than 25 points in each full segment.

(iii) Dead, diseased, or unsafe trees or saplings shall not be included in scoring.

50 points. If for any reason there is insufficient area for a full segment, or the segment contains areas incapable of supporting trees and saplings, such as areas of rock, ledge, or beaches, the point score requirement for the remaining vegetation in that partial segment shall be reduced proportionally to that required of a full segment. Vegetation shall not be removed from any segment which fails to meet the minimum point score for that segment. Owners are encouraged to take efforts to plan the maintenance of their waterfront buffer areas including the planting of additional non-invasive vegetation to increase point scores within segments, thus providing sufficient points to allow the future removal of vegetation as may become necessary while still meeting the requirements of this paragraph.

(v) The department shall approve applications pursuant to RSA 482-A or RSA 483-B that include the planting of trees, saplings, shrubs, and groundcover as necessary to at least maintain either the existing point score or the minimum score required. The department shall not approve any application that would result in a combined vegetation score of less than the minimum score required where the segment initially meets the minimum score or would result in any reduction of the point score where the segment does not initially meet the minimum score.

(vi) Owners of lots and holders of easements on lots that were legally developed prior to July 1, 2008 may maintain but not enlarge cleared areas, including but not limited to existing lawns, gardens, landscaped areas, beaches, and rights-of-way for public utilities, public transportation, and public access, and may repair existing utility structures within the waterfront buffer. Conversion to or planting of cleared areas with non-invasive species of ground cover, shrubs, saplings, and trees is encouraged but shall not be required unless it is necessary to meet the requirements of subparagraph (g)(2) or (g)(3), or RSA 483-B:11, II.

(vii) Normal trimming, pruning, and thinning of branches to the extent necessary to maintain the health of the planted area as well to protect structures, maintain clearances, and provide views is permitted provided such activity does not endanger the health of the plant.

(viii) When necessary for the completion of construction activities permitted in accordance with RSA 483-B:6, a temporary 12-foot wide access path shall be allowed. On those properties accessible only by water, this access path may be maintained provided it is stabilized with a surface that will infiltrate stormwater. On other properties the access path shall be completely restored and replanted with vegetation upon completion of construction except as allowed under subparagraph (ix).

(ix) A permanent 6-foot wide foot path as well as access to any docks, beaches, structures, existing open areas, and the water body, configured in a manner that will not concentrate storm water runoff or contribute to erosion, are allowed.

(b) Maintenance of a Natural Woodland Buffer.

(1) A natural woodland buffer shall be maintained within 150 feet of the reference line. The first 50 feet of this buffer is designated the waterfront buffer and is subject to the additional requirements of subparagraph (a). The purpose of the natural woodland buffer shall be to protect the quality of public waters by minimizing erosion, preventing siltation and turbidity, stabilizing soils, preventing excess nutrient and chemical pollution, maintaining natural water temperatures, maintaining a healthy tree canopy and understory, preserving fish and wildlife habitat, and respecting the overall natural condition of the protected shoreland.

(2) Within the natural woodland buffer of a given lot the vegetation, except lawn, within at least 25 percent of the area outside the waterfront buffer shall be maintained unaltered or improved with additional vegetation. Owners of lots legally developed or landscaped prior to July 1, 2008 that do not comply with this standard are encouraged to, but shall not be required to, increase the percentage of area to be maintained in an unaltered state. The percentage of area maintained in an unaltered state on nonconforming lots shall not be decreased.

400 Impervious Surfaces. Amend RSA 483-B:9, V(g) to read as follows:

(g) Impervious surfaces.

(1) ~~[Subject to subparagraph (2),]~~ No more than 30 percent of the area of a lot located within the protected shoreland shall be composed of impervious surfaces, unless a stormwater management system designed and certified by a professional engineer that will not concentrate stormwater runoff or contribute to erosion is implemented.

(2) If the impervious surface area will exceed 20 percent, but is less than 30 percent, a stormwater management system shall be implemented and maintained which is designed to infiltrate increased stormwater from development occurring after the effective date of this paragraph in accordance with rules established by the department under RSA 485-A:17.

(3) If the impervious surface area will exceed ~~[20]~~ 30 percent and the ~~[natural]~~ tree, ~~[and]~~ sapling ~~[cover]~~, shrub, and groundcover in the waterfront buffer does not meet the ~~[50-point minimum]~~ point score requirement of RSA 483-B:9, V(a)(2)(D) in any segment, then such segment shall be planted, as determined by rule of the department, with ~~[native]~~ trees, saplings, shrubs, or ~~[natural ground cover]~~ groundcover in sufficient quantity, type, and location either to meet the minimum score or to provide at least an equivalent level of protection as provided by the minimum score and shall be maintained in accordance with RSA 483-B:9, V(a).

401 Waivers. Amend RSA 483-B:9, V(i) to read as follows;

(i) The commissioner shall have the authority to grant ~~[variances]~~ waivers from the minimum standards of this section. Such authority shall be exercised ~~[subject to the criteria which govern the grant of a variance by a zoning board of adjustment under RSA 674:33, I(b)]~~ if the commissioner deems that strict compliance with the minimum standards of this section will provide no material benefit to the public and have no material adverse effect on the environment or the natural resources of the state. Waivers shall also be granted to accommodate the reasonable needs of persons with disabilities.

402 Nonconforming Lots of Record. Amend RSA 483-B:10, I to read as follows:

I. Except when otherwise prohibited by law, present and successive owners of an individual undeveloped lot may construct a single family residential dwelling and appurtenant accessory structures on it, notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter. Conditions may be imposed which, in the opinion of the commissioner, more nearly meet the intent of this chapter, while still accommodating the applicant's rights.

403 New Paragraph; Nonconforming Lots of Record; Merger. Amend RSA 483-B:10 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

III. Consistent with RSA 674:39-a, a municipality shall not merge adjacent nonconforming lots in common ownership without the consent of the owner.

404 Nonconforming Structures. RSA 483-B:11 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

483-B:11 Nonconforming Structures.

I. Except as otherwise prohibited by law or applicable municipal ordinance, nonconforming structures located within the protected shoreland may be repaired, replaced in kind, reconstructed in place, altered, or expanded. Repair, replacement-in kind, or reconstruction in place may alter or remodel the interior design or existing foundation of the nonconforming structure, but shall result in no expansion or relocation of the existing footprint within the waterfront buffer. However, alteration or expansion of a nonconforming structure may expand the existing footprint within the waterfront buffer, provided the structure is not extended closer to the reference line and the proposal or property is made more nearly conforming than the existing structure or the existing conditions of the property.

II. For the purposes of this section, a proposal that is "more nearly conforming" means alteration of the location or size of the existing footprints, or redevelopment of the existing conditions of the property, such that the structures or the property are brought into greater conformity with the design standards of this chapter. Methods for achieving greater conformity include, without limitation, reducing the overall square footage of structural footprints, enhancing stormwater management, adding infiltration areas and landscaping, upgrading wastewater treatment, improving traffic management, or other enhancements that improve wildlife habitat or resource protection.

III. An expansion that increases the sewerage load to an onsite septic system, or changes or expands the use of a septic system, shall require a subsurface approval issued by the department.

IV. Under paragraph I, and except as otherwise prohibited by law or applicable municipal ordinance, primary nonconforming structures may be entirely demolished and reconstructed, with continued encroachment into the waterfront buffer, provided the replacement structure is located farther back from the reference line than the preexisting nonconforming structure.

405 Rulemaking. Amend RSA 483-B:17, IV to read as follows:

IV. Procedures and criteria for the size[~~;~~ and placement~~;~~ ~~and construction~~] of small accessory structures such as storage sheds and gazebos, which are consistent with the intent of this chapter, between the reference line and the primary building line.

406 Penalties. RSA 483-B:18, III is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

III. Persons violating the provisions of this chapter and damaging the public waterway who, after notification by the department, fail to make a good faith effort at remediation and restoration shall be subject to the following:

(a) Upon petition of the attorney general or of the municipality in which the violation occurred, the superior court may levy upon any person violating this chapter a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed $5,000 for each continuing violation. The superior court shall have jurisdiction to restrain a continuing violation of this chapter, and to require remediation.

(b) The commissioner, after notice and hearing pursuant to RSA 541-A, may impose an administrative fine of up to $5,000 for each offense upon any person who violates this chapter. Rehearings and appeals relating to such fines shall be governed by RSA 541. Imposition of an administrative fine under this section shall not preclude the imposition of further civil penalties under this chapter.

(c) Notwithstanding the $5,000 fine limit in subparagraph (b), the administrative fine for each repeat violation of this chapter may be multiplied by a factor of 2 for every previous violation committed by the person or entity.

407 New Paragraph; Shoreland Advisory Committee. Amend RSA 483-B:21 by inserting after paragraph VII the following new paragraph:

VIII. Any permit applications denied under any section of this chapter shall be reported to the shoreland advisory committee by the department.

408 Permit Application Fees; Effective Date. Amend 2008, 5:28, II to read as follows:

II. Section 27 of this act shall take effect July 1, ~~[2011]~~ 2016.

409 Definitions. Amend RSA 483-B:4, XVII(a) to read as follows:

(a) For all lakes, ponds, and artificial impoundments greater than 10 acres in size, the surface elevation as listed in the Consolidated List of Water Bodies subject to the ~~[Comprehensive]~~ shoreland water quality protection act as maintained by the department.

410 Shoreland Advisory Committee. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 483-B:21 to read as follows:

There is established a shoreland advisory committee. All members shall be New Hampshire residents representing diverse geographic areas of the state. (The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I move the adoption of the committee of conference report on HB 2. As previously mentioned, this budget contains $4.42 billion over the biennium in general and education trust fund spending. HB 2 contains the mechanics necessary to make the statutory changes in policies to make our budget work. HB 2 contains many of the same policies and reforms as when it left the Senate, but as part of how this process works, HB 2 reflects a healthy compromise. We continue to reform state government through Medicaid managed care, how mental health services are provided, and the start of privatizing Corrections. We worked hard to prioritize these services that government should provide and are creative and disciplined in how these services are provided. One example of this is directing retirees to get the same services at a lower price to generate savings but not doing anything to diminish their level of benefits. The House improved the funding by changing the co-pays from a $6 amount to an equivalent percentage amount.

HB 2 contains the much needed and fair retirement reforms negotiated in Senate Bill 3, and will ensure city and town budgets are not harmed by reductions in state retirement payment. House Bill 2 ensures a smooth transition away from subsidizing the cost of local employees. As you all know, we often get more information as the process moves along. As the result of new information, we appropriated $3.5 million to the cities and towns for retirement subsidy to ensure our cities and towns were not harmed.

Uncompensated care is one area where we would have liked to do more, and we have laid out a plan to do so should revenues come in higher than expected, as we all hope they will. We are pleased to continue the Senate's policy of addressing this vital area in 2013 if we are able to do so.

Another compromise resulted in additional UNIQUE funds being used towards scholarships for low-income students.

While privatization of Cannon Mountain is not contained in House Bill 2 as a result of negotiations, I will not be surprised to see this legislation come forward next year.

Another important change through legislation is the 10 cent reduction in tobacco tax. If this decrease does not increase revenues when compared to this biennium, the decrease will sunset. Last August, Maine made an increase in cigarette sales for the first time in over 20 years while the New Hampshire sales decreased. This tax has increased four times in the last six years. This temporary reduction will help our struggling small businesses in border communities and give out-of-staters one more reason to shop here in New Hampshire.

Mister President, I'd like to read into the record something that I didn't finish in the process for HB 2. It is important for the legislative record and the public statements about the new retirement system to include the following:

The Legislature is not telling the board how to administer the retirement system. The Legislature is simply making sure that the board does not depart from its own past practices as they relate to the assumed rate of return. The past practice is that assumed rate of return changes adopted in odd-number years take effect in the third year out. When the board changed the assumed rate of return in '05, the changes were implemented in '08. The amendment is nothing more than an attempt to ensure that the board's actions remain consistent with past practices.

Again, I would like to thank my colleagues in the Senate and the House for their hard work and dedication. I move the adoption of HB 2 and ask for your support. Thank you.

SENATOR KELLY: Yes, thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the committee of conference report on HB 2. And, I, as Senator Larsen stated, believe that in the end, a budget is a reflection of one's values and goals; we see that in our families and we see that in individuals. In fact, I think if I met someone and they didn't tell me anything about themselves and I didn't know anything about them but I looked at their budget, personally or in their family, I would be able to tell you what they value the most and what is most important to them. And, I think that a state budget should do the same; it should reflect the same. However, I do believe that this budget does not represent what is most valued by the people of New Hampshire. I believe that the people of New Hampshire value creating new jobs and growing the economy, and, as well, providing an equal opportunity for all of our New Hampshire citizens to achieve both. The drastic cuts to our university system and the community college stop the progress that we have made in educating and training our workers – workers we need to get our economy back on track and to strengthen our economy in the future. I think that most of you would agree with me that there really is no doubt that there is a strong link between a strong educational system and a strong economy. Investing in education is, as you know, the smartest and the wisest investment we as a state can make, as it gives us the greatest return on our investment. It gives us a strong and a productive workforce that helps attract employers to our state. We also know that a less educated workforce will force employers to take their businesses out of New Hampshire and turn away other good paying jobs. These cuts to our university system and to our community college are not good for business. As well, I believe the cuts that we have seen in the uncompensated care to our hospitals is going to be devastating. It will force hospitals to increase and insurance companies to increase insurance premiums. And, who will feel those the most? Businesses. These cuts are not good for business, and they move our economy in a backwards – not a forwards – direction.

I'm also very concerned that this budget does not reflect the value that I know is held deeply – very deeply – to all of our working parents in the state. And, I believe that the working parents – which I think most of us are, or our children are – they want to wake up every day and they want to be able to say to themselves: "I can provide healthcare to my children. When they're sick, I can access the care that they need." Over 8,000 children participate in the Silver Program in HealthyKids. What is going to happen to that program when it's moved into Health and Human Services? Over 8,000 children. The cuts to Health and Human Services will not be able to provide the staff that is necessary to continue to work with these parents. These are working parents who pay the premiums – some on a sliding scale, some the total premium. But, these parents can get up every morning, they can look at the faces of their children, and they can say: "I'm going to make sure that you have healthcare, and if you're sick, I can take care of you." That's the dignity and respect that every parent needs. That's a responsibility I believe we have in this state.

I also am very concerned at the additional cuts which most of you have talked about today: cuts to the mentally ill, to the disabled, to CHINS, to substance abuse; I am now sitting on the Governor's council for prevention... alcohol and treatment, because of the President of our Senate, who appointed me. I attended a meeting the other day, and I cannot tell you the looks on the faces and the pain that I felt in that room – and, some of you were there as well – of the people who had to make a decision to eliminate any prevention for substance abuse. This will affect almost every family, or a neighbor, in our communities.

I am concerned, as well, about the cuts, as Senator D'Allesandro mentioned, to CHINS, to childcare in our state. These cuts will result, as we know – we know they will result in additional costs to our communities and to our towns and to our cities. I fear that these costs will result in raising property taxes. I know in my district that will be a hard one to swallow.

I heard today discussion about choices. We did make choices; there were choices made. Choices are always difficult to make, but I have to say we could have made other choices. We know that we are not here today making these choices and these difficult decisions because of a history of spending in New Hampshire or because of some undisciplined budgeting. We know that we're here today because this is in response to a national recession. All of us in this room can debate how we got to that national recession, and I'm sure we have many different opinions. But I do not believe that we can debate the fact that the working people in New Hampshire caused that recession. And, my concern is that we are balancing a budget on their backs. For this reason, I cannot support this legislation. And, I do want to say that I appreciate all of the hard work from many of you who worked on this; I just would like to have seen us gone in a couple different directions here and to make some different choices. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I, too, rise against House Bill 2. And, I just want to reference a few sections of House Bill 2: section 316, 317, 318, 319, and 320.

316 repeals the meals and rooms tax operators' license renewal fee; 317: transfers of animals and birds – reduces the application fee; 319: the land sales full disclosure act – reduces the application fee. But, I think here's the one that really grabs me: and, that's the reduction of the marriage license fee. It's only – I mean, for most of us – it's only one time! Right? One time! And, for me, it's been good for 50 years! So, I got 50 good years out of my marriage license fee. We reduce it by $5. What are we going to do? Induce more marriages? The total, total reduction of all of these fees is $200,000 – $200,000. Now, I know my great friend from Derry appreciates the birds and animals reduction. Good Lord. How many birds and animals pay the damn fee? And, we're reducing it! That's the thing that's mindboggling to me. At this point in time, we're struggling for dollars – struggling for dollars – and, we're reducing fees. And, as I said, the marriage license fee: I want to induce more marriages. I mean, I think that's the greatest thing since sliced bread. We should have more marriages. People are resisting me in that context. But, all three of my children got married – still married! So, I'm a promoter. But, reducing it... And, what happens? Where does that money go? It goes to harassment – the sexual harassment money. And, there's a reduction in that area.

The reduction of the tobacco tax: The Revenue Administration indicates that that may cost us $14 million – $7 million in each year of the bien-nium. We hope it's going to be offset by an increase in sales. I don't know if you saw the most recent item by the Food and Drug Administration, which now says that each package of cigarettes will have on it a picture of what happens to smokers: what your lungs look like, what your heart looks like, the deterioration that takes place in your body. The Surgeon General of the United States of America has articulated over and over again: Smoking is hazardous to your health. And, the costs associated with that on the other side are enormous, because you go for treatment for lung cancer and other associated diseases. And, we're reducing the tax, and we're hoping to sell more cigarettes to counterbalance it. It just doesn't make good sense to me at this time. We currently have the lowest cigarette tax in the area: Vermont, Maine, and Massachusetts are higher. Our tobacco tax has been producing significant revenue. To run the risk of giving up $15 million at a time when a budget is balanced very carefully and very fragilely. We run a risk of giving up $15 million. And, our Revenue Administration, in its report, indicates that that could be the ultimate result.

So, think of that; think of those sections of House Bill 2 that, really, are under the radar screen because we didn't really pay a lot of attention to those sections unless we were on the Committee. But, when I looked at it and I saw the transfer of animals and birds – we reduced it from $350 to $200, and after January 1st from $175 to $100, I said to myself: "Where are we in the real world?" Think about those things as we think about the people we serve, what we had to do in terms of operating this budget, and what's going to happen as we move forward. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. This budget is made up of two components, just like our home budgets: income, or revenue, and spending. What has been addressed this morning are concerns in cuts in spending. What has not been addressed are the revenues that support state spending. Serving on the Ways and Means Committee, I have seen these revenues, serving on that team, and they have been severely impacted by the largest downturn in the economy since the Great Depression. We've had to be as accurate as possible in our revenue projections for the next biennium. This is especially important in the midst of more talk of another recession possibly, and cuts in economic growth projections just this week alone, where some of the GDP figures have been cut in half for the next two years. A well-crafted budget is highly dependent on accurate revenue projections. While I would like to think that our revenue would grow robustly to spend on more programs, in the midst of much uncertainty, I don't think this is prudent for our state and our citizens in the midst of a $14 trillion deficit sitting on our, and most importantly, children and grandchildren's shoulders. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator Morse, in the midst of your statements, you made a reference to the assumed rate of return in the most recent discussion with retirement in House Bill 2. Are you saying that, acknowledging, in fact, that the assumed rate of return in the retirement system is one which can be set by the retirement system, and that in fact, are you acknowledging that the retirement system is an entity that the state budget does not control in terms of its rate of return, that the retirement system chooses its rate of return and that the State Senate and House do not?

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you for the question. Let me make it clear on why I read that language in here: When the Senate passed its budget, the budget that went into the committee of conference, we had not had Senate Bill 3 fully negotiated. When we passed our budget, the strongest language in there was what our intent was and how the calculation were going to make those numbers work. When we got to committee of conference, Senate Bill 3 passes, the recalculations came, and people didn't follow what was in our legislation that we passed here in the Senate. I wanted to make it clear, and I asked for language to make it clear, how we intended for that to work. And, that's what we did.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a follow-up question of Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR LARSEN: So, do you believe the Legislature can set the assumed rate of return for the retirement system?

SENATOR MORSE: I believe the Legislature can draft what they honestly believe the law should be, and that's what I did in this case.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Rausch.)

SENATOR RAUSCH: Thank you, Mister President. Just to clarify the issue on the pet stores: That is an inspection fee. Current law requires the state veterinarian to inspect the pet stores twice a year; that fee was to cover the expense of the inspection. The House did reduce that. So, to make it neutral to the Department of Agriculture, the Senate changed it from a biannual inspection to a once-a-year inspection. There is no increase or decrease to the State or to the Department by doing that. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much again, Mister President. We've had a really interesting discussion here this morning. I really have to salute my good friend from Manchester for trying to bring a sense of humor to the difficulty of the discussions that we're having today. And, you know, talking about the pet licensure fee or marriage license or tobacco taxes is very much a small part of the overall compromise – and, that's what it is: a compromise – between our friends on the other side of the wall and the Senators. And, there's no budget that anybody would ever say is perfect; there is no budget that everybody ever gets their entire way on. And, I remember, Senator, that you voted against the budget that you brought to the floor a couple of years ago because you objected to certain parts of it. That's what a compromise is about. And, I think what we need to remember today is the budget, HB 1, is how we manage our state's fiscal house for the next two years. But, what Senator Morse has created in HB 2 is really a blueprint for how we're going to meet the future obligations of the State of New Hampshire in the most responsible way possible and in the most innovative way possible, and meeting those obligations while becoming much more efficient.

And, let's talk about some of the reforms that are in HB 2, starting with managed care: The Governor's already signed that legislation, but it also was incorporated into HB 2. We are going to take the single most costly item in state government and make it much more efficient. And, you know what? All 24 of us voted for that legislation because it makes sense. The Governor called for it and we did it. Senator Morse brought forward retiree healthcare; we all know there's been a problem. Senator D'Allesandro, you led the efforts to reform retiree healthcare a couple of years ago. We're taking that to the next step to make sure that outcomes are matching reimbursements. Senator Morse, again, has talked about Corrections and how we make the Corrections Department – one of the few departments that the Governor proposed an increase in spending in – more efficient in the future. Thankfully, the shoreland protection act is in HB 2. It's one of the few jobs initiatives that we've passed this year. And, again, all 24 of us supported it because it is a jobs initiative that was long overdue. We've recognized that if we want to attract businesses to the State of New Hampshire, we've got to get our net operating loss provision in line with what the rest of New England and the rest of the country does. And, Senator Luther's bill is in HB 2 with an implementation date of fiscal year 2013. Reasonable comp changes have been made, while not a part of this budget – critical to not be taxing business owner income. I can't say enough how important that is for the future of the State of New Hampshire; again, all 24 of us supported it. Contract consolidation: Something Governor Lynch has talked about for a number of years to save money so that dollars are not spent on administrators; dollars are spent on people who need services. And, lastly: retirement reform. We've had that debate so many times before; we don't need to rehash it, except for the fact that it has to be done.

HB 2 is about how we're going to meet our future obligations – how we're going to do so in the most cost-effective, efficient, small-government but caring way possible. HB 1 sets the stage for how we deal with the fiscal difficulties that our state is facing. HB 2 allows us to set the stage for future budgets that meet our expectations, meet our needs, and do so in a much more effective and cost-efficient manner, and I hope that all of us can support it.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President. What a beautiful day. Last night, as you can see, wasn't a beautiful night. But, today is a beautiful day, and it's another day. I want to start off by saying I am definitely in full, 100 percent support of House Bill 2. However, as usual, on a bill that size, there might be a few things in there that people aren't happy with. In spite of that, I think House Bill 2 is a great piece of legislation; we need it to make House Bill 1 work. So, I hope everyone agrees and votes to push this thing over to the House and move it along.

But, there is one little section in there that bothers the heck out of me, and Senator Larsen and Senator D'Allesandro alluded to it. And, guess what it's called? The cigarette tax. In all my few years up here, I have never seen an industry twist and push our Legislature the way the tobacco industry pushed this Legislature and the one on the other side of the wall. The robocalls that came in, the calls I got: the poor people were coughing and hacking, begging me to vote for the cigarette tax reduction. So, I want to say this: The years I've been here, I have never, never voted for a cigarette tax increase. Please understand that. Please understand I've stood on this floor and voted against legislation that would make business owners prohibit smoking in their establishments. I didn't think the State had any damn business telling business owners whether they could have smoking or not smoking. I owned five McDonald's restaurants and I put smoking out – Christ! – ten years ago! I was the first McDonald's franchise in New Hampshire to prohibit smoking. But, the State didn't have to tell me that; my common sense told me that. I'm not against people who smoke; I used to smoke. Fine. If people want to smoke, damn it all, if you've got 'em, light 'em up. That's what we used to say in the service after that 20-mile hike: If you've got 'em, light 'em up. Help yourself; I don't give a darn. I don't mind the cigarette smoke; it hasn't killed me yet. I'm 80 years old and I'm still breathing. But, I do object to an industry pushing the way they did to get this 10 cent reduction. And, I think the border towns – I can understand the Senators in the border towns having a problem with that. But, I don't think somebody from Lawrence, Massachusetts is going to drive up to Salem to save 10 cents on a pack of cigarettes when he's going to spend a buck-and-a-half in gasoline to get there. But, maybe I'm wrong. The one nice thing about it: There is a clause in there that after two years this puppy will sunset. I think the tobacco industry wants to use New Hampshire as a big deal, saying: "Gee, look at that: New Hampshire reduced their cigarette tax." Now, why would a cigarette company want to do that? They want to do that because they want to sell more cigarettes. Now, what's wrong with that? I'm a business guy; I want to sell my hamburgers for 10 cents less than the guy across the street; that's good business.

I wonder if this article that I picked up in the paper this morning in the Union Leader had something to do with the tremendous push and the hammer held over the head of this Legislature – both sides of the wall – had on it. I'm going to read it to you:

"Cigarette warning labels unveiled." Senator D'Allesandro alluded to it. "The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services on Tuesday unveiled a group of graphic images and messages that will cover the top half of every cigarette package in the United States starting this fall. Food and Drug Administration Commissioner Margaret Hamburg" – that's a good name – "said her agency estimated that the new campaign could induce as many as 213,000 established smokers in the United States to quit in the first year. Now, you don't suppose the tobacco industry knew about this before they started making robo-calls to us, and putting the arm on some of us to vote for a 10 cent reduction. And, I take offense to it. And, I also want to tell you that over the years, I have received campaign contributions from cigarette companies; I've accepted them. But I'm going to close by saying if by some chance someone isn't making notes of what I'm saying about these cigarette companies and somebody in tobacco land sends me a check, I'm going to happily accept it, endorse it, and send it to the New Hampshire Cancer Society. Thank you very much, and I am going to vote for House Bill 2 because I think it's a terrific piece of legislation. So, come on guys and gals, and join with me on it.

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. There are essentially four changes in the capital budget House Bill 25 that we all voted for here in the Senate, and I'll explain them in this way: First of all, the first change is we agreed with the House to add $700,000 for the base of the dome, which is up here, and we don't want the dome falling in our chamber. So, we agreed to do that. Secondly, the Senate agreed to add $800,000 to the Corrections capital budget because we had heard new testimony, new information about the safety and security issue regarding the doors in the high-security unit of the state prison. So, we agreed to that change. The third one was we added $138,000 back into state parks maintenance. And, the fourth item that we concurred on is the addition of two new liquor stores to be constructed: one in Chesterfield and the other in Manchester. And, I think what's important to note here is that while we all understood that after debt service and expenses there would be net revenue over $1 million to the general fund. And, Lord knows, in this day in age, we need more revenue. But, it's also important to note these are not general fund bonds, these are bonds "other", meaning the operating revenue of the liquor commission will pay the debt service.

So, Mister President, that sums up the differences between the House and the Senate, and we would ask the Senate to agree with the Senate Capital Budget Committee.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I rise to point out that sometimes bipartisanship works well, and I think the capital budget was, in fact, a well-run conference committee thanks to our Chair in the Senate. And, it is one which reflects and recognizes the capital investment needs of our state. Those investments we're making in our state buildings and our parks, the investments we're making in the communities, the vocational centers at our high schools, the renovations that need to happen on an ongoing basis across the state will in fact help our state to become more successful producing self-supporting taxpayers as a result. We anticipate and hope that the new liquor stores will bring in additional revenue we can then recognize in the budget, as well, and that the capital dome above our heads will remain a proud example of the state capital of our state and reflective of the high quality that this state represents. So, I just rise to say it's a good capital budget and I think we will see some bipartisan support for that. Thank you.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill clarifies the definition of gross misconduct for purposes of unemployment compensation, reduces the amount of a work-related theft resulting in the loss of wage credits, and disqualifies an unemployed individual who is discharged for single or multiple thefts in an amount greater than $100 but less than $250 from receiving unemployment benefits for 4 to 26 weeks.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Senator Barnes, can you fill us in on what the committee of conference did?

SENATOR BARNES: Yes, I certainly can, Mister President. But, I'm looking for my material. What was...26. Thank you, thank you, Senator. This is the one relative to the definition of gross misconduct. This is a piece of legislation that I was a sponsor of, or co-sponsor of, I should say. And, I certainly don't believe anybody should be stealing money; I think they should be dealt with in a harsh manner. But, the compromise was to bring it down from $500 down to $250. I agreed with that, and I think it was a good agreement. And, I think next year, that might rise a tad again. But, it is a step in the right direction.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. The House receded from its position and concurred with the bill as amended by the Senate with Amendment 2251, which requires that school districts adopt a policy allowing an exemption to specific course material based on a parent's or legal guardian's determination that the material is objectionable. And, we ask for the Senate to concur.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Can I ask Senator Forsythe a question?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Well, he did not speak.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator Forsythe, thank you for the courtesy. I was hearing – and, I was not in some of the hearings on House Bill 542. But, I was hearing that under 542, if it were to become law, a parent could in fact object to any material for whatever reason. And, by removing the word “conscientious” – right now you can allow a parent or guardian to object for religious reasons for their children's involvement in health and sex education coursework, and then during the conference committee you learned that “conscientious” has religious and philosophical connotations. But, does this – by passing House Bill 542 are we allowing parents, for whatever reason, to object to course material – maybe new math – because perhaps they don't know how to teach their kids new math, so why should the kids be allowed to learn new math? Are these the kinds of reasons we're going to let parents object to the course material? Any reason?

SENATOR FORSYTHE: That is correct; it is the parent's determination on what is objectionable, and it's not qualified by saying "conscientious". However, keep in mind that the other part of the bill says that the schools and the parents have to agree on a replacement, and that replacement has to meet the state standards, and the expense has to be borne by the parents. And so, yes, they can object to any material, but the school has to work with them on a replacement and agree to it. So, you know, in practice, this won't create an undue burden on the schools and standards will continue to be met.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a follow-up question of Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR LARSEN: My major was anthropology in the university, and in fact I learned a lot about evolution and saw a lot of evidence for it. But, so, under this scenario, a parent could say: "I don't want my child to ever hear the word 'evolution' and I need them to learn creationism only." Is that the kind of result we might get from this?

SENATOR FORSYTHE: That question came up, and we addressed that question. Teaching evolution is in the state standards, and so that has to be taught in state standards. So, the parent could object to the book and the child wouldn't have to read it, but then they couldn't come up with any substitute that doesn't have evolution that meets the state standards. And so then the choice would have to be, do they want to lose credit for that course, which is a choice they'd be making in the first place, even without this bill. So, no; the state standards specifically require teaching evolution, and so that's not an issue.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thanks.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I just want to rise in opposition to this legislation. I did follow this through the Education Committee and some through the conference committee, but found that it was unacceptable, only in that we currently have in our statutes a process where parents can meet with teachers and superintendents and principals as well as the state school board and to make determinations in regard to material that they might find offensive in those classes. So, I find this legislation going too far-reaching and really upsetting the balance I think that we have on parental rights, children's rights, and also state standards, as well. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. I just would like to add that I believe that the language in this amendment does clarify who is responsible to pay for the replacement and an agreement has to be reached. So, I do think that this clarifies the situation.

Recommendation:

That the House recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the Senate amendment, and concur with the Senate amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the Senate, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Chapter; Federal Health Care Reform 2010. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 420-M the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 420-N

FEDERAL HEALTH CARE REFORM 2010

420-N:1 Purpose and Scope.

I. The intent of this chapter is to preserve the constitutional integrity and sovereignty of the state of New Hampshire under the Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution and part I, article 7 of the New Hampshire constitution by creating a legislative oversight committee to supervise the insurance commissioner's implementation of the insurance reforms required under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2009, Public Law 111-148, as amended by the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010, Public Law 111-152, including any federal regulations, interpretations, standards, or guidance issued thereunder (hereinafter "the Act").

II. Further, it is the intent of this chapter to prevent the state of New Hampshire from defaulting into federal oversight regarding the Act by not meeting certain federally-mandated time frames for state implementation of the Act. It is the intent of this chapter to preserve the state's flexibility by allowing consideration of each state implementation requirement as it arises.

420-N:2 Definitions. In this chapter:

I. "Act" means the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2009, Public Law 111-148, as amended by the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010, Public Law 111-152, including any federal regulations, interpretations, standards, or guidance issued thereunder.

II. "Commissioner" means the insurance commissioner.

III. "Oversight committee" means the joint health care reform oversight committee established in RSA 420-N:3.

420-N:3 Joint Health Care Reform Oversight Committee Established.

I. There is established a joint health care reform oversight committee consisting of 6 members as follows:

(a) Three members of the senate, appointed by the senate president.

(b) Three members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.

II. The terms of the members shall be for the biennium and shall be coterminous with their membership in the general court. The oversight committee shall elect a chairperson from its membership. The oversight committee shall meet at the call of the chairperson who may call a meeting as often as necessary. The oversight committee shall require 4 members for a quorum.

III. The committee shall provide legislative oversight, policy direction, and recommendations for legislation with respect to the Act as it determines appropriate. The committee shall also review existing rules, bulletins, or policies adopted pursuant to 2010, 243 and may require the repeal of such rules, bulletins, or policies.

IV. The committee shall make a report, together with any recommendations for legislation, to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the chairpersons of the house commerce and consumer affairs and the health, human services and elderly affairs committees and the senate commerce and health and human services committees by December 1, 2011 and annually thereafter.

420-N:4 Implementation of the Act.

I. The oversight committee established under RSA 420-N:3 shall determine all policies within the state of New Hampshire regarding implementation of the Act, as directed by this chapter and by any future law enacted by the general court with respect to implementation of the Act.

II. Before establishing any standard for enforcing or implementing the Act, and before initiating any rulemaking proceeding relating to the Act, the commissioner shall obtain approval for the standard or rule from the oversight committee.

III. The commissioner shall make periodic reports as requested by the oversight committee on the provisions of the Act that have taken legal effect in New Hampshire and on the status of the commissioner's implementation and enforcement efforts under the Act.

IV. The commissioner shall not implement or enforce any provision of the Act that has been ruled unconstitutional or invalid by the United States Supreme Court.

420-N:5 Authority of the Commissioner. Only with such prior approvals from the oversight committee as are required under RSA 420-N:4, the commissioner shall have authority to:

I. Make, adopt, and amend rules and regulations pursuant to RSA 541-A for, or as an aid to, the administration of any provision of the Act relating to insurance;

II. Apply for any public or private grant funds available under the Act;

III. Apply for any waiver available under any specific provision of the Act;

IV. Adopt and apply standards consistent with the Act for form and rate review of insurance products and any other regulatory oversight functions performed by the department; and

V. Enforce the consumer protections and market reforms set forth in the Act that relate to insurance. This shall not include the medical assistance program under RSA 167.

420-N:6 Consistency. In order to prevent a default to federal regulation and to preserve the state's status as the sole regulator of the business of insurance within the state, the oversight committee shall have the authority to find, with respect to any specific provision within Title XXXVII, that the provision is inconsistent with and prevents the application of the Act. Upon such a finding, the commissioner may, on a provisional basis, implement this provision of the Act. The commissioner's authority to implement this provision shall extend only until such time as the general court can take legislative action to amend Title XXXVII as it deems appropriate.

2 New Section; Federal Health Care Reform. Amend RSA 161 by inserting after section 10 the following new section:

161:11 Federal Health Care Reform. Before initiation of any rulemaking proceeding or waiver request under Public Act 111-148, as amended by Public Act 111-152, or any federal regulations, interpretations, or guidance issued thereunder, the commissioner shall obtain approval for the rule or waiver request from the joint health care reform oversight committee established in RSA 420-N:3.

3 Funds From Exchange Planning Grant Declined. The insurance commissioner shall decline the $666,000 in exchange planning grant funds awarded to the insurance department by the federal Department of Health and Human Services and approved by the fiscal committee of the general court and the executive council for purposes of conducting initial planning activities related to the potential implementation of a state-designed health benefit exchange under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. In declining the funds, the insurance commissioner shall indicate to the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services that it is the intent of the general court that the funds not drawn down be used for the purpose of reducing the federal budget deficit.

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 2011.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes an oversight committee to provide legislative oversight, policy direction and recommendations for legislation with respect to the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2009 Public Law 111-148, as amended by the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010, Public Law 111-152. This bill requires the insurance commissioner to obtain approval from the oversight committee before implementing any of the federal changes. This bill also directs the insurance commissioner to decline certain exchange planning grant funds and to indicate to the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services that the money is to be used to reduce the federal budget deficit.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. The committee of conference made a couple major decisions with regard to this bill. The first one was in an effort to strengthen the Senate oversight we added another Senator to a total of three on the oversight committee. The second significant change was that the House insisted on adding language that directed the Insurance Commissioner to decline the $666,000 exchange planning grant funds that that were awarded to the Insurance Department by federal Health and Human Services. Those were the two major changes in the bill in the committee of conference.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to House Bill 601 and the committee of conference report. First and foremost, I'd point out a process question, or issue, which is: this is like the third bite at the apple for this $666,000. The Executive Council has accepted it, the Fiscal Committee has accepted it, and the conference committee decides: "We want another bite at this apple and we want to tell the Insurance Commissioner not to accept it." If the intent – and as I read the intent of 601 – is to prevent New Hampshire from defaulting into the federal oversight and preserve flexibility by considering each implementation requirement as it arises, I'm curious how exactly we do that if the first thing we do is tell the Insurance Commissioner that they can't have the money or the resources to look at planning grants. It just doesn't make sense, Mister President. This ultimately drag-your-heels approach – and, I do appreciate the work of Senator White and the efforts to have oversight with respect to New Hampshire-specific efforts – but, ultimately, if we're dragging our heels on this, we're going to do exactly the opposite of the intent, and that is we'll just default to the federal requirements. So, I caution that and rise in opposition to it because of that and would ask for a roll call.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I would just caution my colleagues that to reject this bill will cause the effect of having no oversight on the process. And, for those of you who want to move forward with implementation of the state response to the federal healthcare, I would point out that the current law that we're operating under, which, in 420-L, is due to sunset in eight days. And so, what will happen is the practical effect will be that there will be no direction to either the Department of Insurance or the Department of Health and Human Services from a legislative standpoint to work with implementation of how we're going to deal with federal healthcare.

To Senator Houde's point, I would make the point, as he well knows, that I was not in agreement of the clause that you had objection to, and as we discussed during the budget, sometimes things are a compromise, and I, as the lead on this committee, felt it was better to accede to the House position than lose the bill, and that was going to be the practical effect: we were going to lose the bill and lose the oversight and everything was going to stop in eight days. I would just caution my colleagues about the consequence of that. But, I understand you're going to have to make some difficult choices here.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee of Conference Report.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. As we've come to expect and we're grateful for, the House has acceded to the Senate position. As you know, there were some questions about trying to find a way to entice some venture capital to come into New Hampshire to help try and create some jobs, and throughout this process the House had asked for a 24-month limit on trying to find opportunities for this private investment fund to invest in, and the Senate thought that 60 months might be a more appropriate time. In addition to that, the Senate came up with some language to require that the funds themselves will be invested solely in companies operating in New Hampshire and that any funds will be used solely for New Hampshire operations. Additionally, all gains and losses maintained in the New Hampshire innovations business stock growth fund, the balance of which shall be continually reinvested into the fund itself. And, with that, I ask for everyone to support it.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. This bill was introduced to extend the life of the legislative oversight committee put in place to evaluate the medical malpractice screening panels process that we have. The committee of conference agreed to the Senate position and extended the committee's life to 2013 as opposed to 2012 in part to avoid a duplication of what happened this year which is that the committee sunset and we had to reconstitute it and start from scratch; this way we'll have a longer period of time to look at the performance of the screening panels and not fall through the cracks. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee of Conference Report. Adopted.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. This bill had accredited high schools and we inserted the words: "or approved by New Hampshire Department of Education". While the Senate wanted to recognize that all schools should strive to be accredited, they also did not want to exclude the opportunity for any student that might meet other criteria for the scholar designation, and thus added the words: "or approved by New Hampshire Department of Education". And, the other change that was made was the words "approved test" to "recognized test". The assessment test used in the criteria for student acceptance as a Granite State scholar should be based on non-reference assessments since the Department of Education doesn't approve these tests, they recognize these tests, we changed the word from "approved" to "recognized". And, we ask that you agree.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Allows a person who is anywhere he or she has a right to be to use deadly force to protect oneself or a third person.

II. Inserts a civil immunity provision for the use of force against a perpetrator in certain circumstances.

III. Deletes the minimum mandatory sentencing requirement for felony convictions which include the possession, use, or attempted use of a firearm.

IV. Amends the definition of “non-deadly force” to include the act of producing or displaying a weapon.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Boutin.)

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. I'll say this, Mister President: Outside of the committee of conference on the budget I think this was probably one of the most arduous ones. It has since become known as the “bang-bang” committee of conference report.

Senate Bill 88 is a compilation of several pieces of legislation filed this year, both on the House and the Senate side, having to do with self defense. And, Senate Bill 88, adopted by the House and Senate, represents a compromise on three of four issues that were of significant interest to many of us. The three areas of compromise are as follows: One was the “stand your ground” provision, which means that you have the legal right to defend yourself wherever you legally have the right to be. So, that is an extension of the Castle Doctrine. Secondly, we expanded the civil immunity protection: In the event that you are charged under the Chapter 627 provisions, you will have the appropriate civil immunity. And, thirdly, we adopted the definition of “non-deadly force”, which is the issue that was involved in the Ward Bird case, so that if you are warning someone off with any sort of weapon to let them know that you feel threatened, that you will no longer be tossed in jail for that. The fourth piece, which we were not able to agree on, and largely because the various groups in the state that have a stake in the subject of self-defense could not reach agreement, and so neither could the conference committee, and that had to do with constitutional carry. I would remind my Senate colleagues that we have a bill that was Re-referred – House Bill 330 – that addresses constitutional carry. And so, if there are any of us in this chamber who feel compelled to take on that task, you are more than welcome to do that. It is there and available for you; maybe the Senate Judiciary Chairman would be interested in that. So, Mister Chairman, at the end of the day, this is a good compromise, and it promotes the Second Amendment rights of our citizens in the State of New Hampshire. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to reiterate my opposition to Senate Bill 88 and to note, again, the concerns that were expressed at the hearing from the Attorney General's Office and the Association of Chiefs of Police. I do want to take a moment to recognize and appreciate the work of Senator Boutin, not only to make this bill better, but also to reduce the number of bills that we'll have Re-referred in our committee. Thank you, Senator Boutin.

For example, one of the things that I think is better about this version of the bill is it retains the initial aggressor doctrine limitation and provides discretion in sentencing. However, I still fear that it opens the door to use of deadly force in self defense in public with potential increased risk to innocent bystanders. Frankly, I still don't know if there are any limitations as to where one has a right to be: schools, courtrooms; we've had this conversation; I'll just raise it again. There's not clarity in the bill as it's coming out. Frankly, I still believe at the end of the day this is a solution in search of a problem. Our self defense statues as they exist today work just fine by providing someone only has to retreat when it's safe for them to do so. If there is any question whatsoever, there is no need to retreat. So, I think it's a pretty drastic shift in doctrine and one that I'll oppose and ask for a roll call on, Mister President. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I simply rise to oppose this bill, as well. It was described as a reasonable compromise. I don't believe we have the right to reasonably compromise with public safety. It's my understanding the police chiefs of this state oppose this bill. This bill raises the question of: where do you have a right to be? Do you have a right to be in a courtroom and hold a gun? Probably, because this says: any place you have a right to be, you may, in fact, defend yourself if you feel threatened. What about in schoolrooms? Daycare centers? What about in this building? It's not a reasonable compromise when the public safety is at risk. This puts the public safety at risk. It's wrong, and we ought to all be voting against it. Thank you.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee of Conference Report.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Houde, seconded by Sen. Barnes.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a question of Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Senator Barnes. I'm just curious: House Bill 109 – is it the same substance which was vetoed by the Governor – is 91 the same substance as that, or is it...

SENATOR BARNES: It is except...It's pretty close to the same, Senator. The Senate amendment that was added to it isn't on 109, and that will be taken up – 109, the veto override, will be taken up. And, I have a funny feeling, if gambling were legal in this state, which it isn't yet, I would bet that we'll probably see it over here this afternoon.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a follow-up question of Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR HOUDE: I'm just wondering what the difference is.

SENATOR BARNES: The difference is the Senate amendment.

SENATOR HOUDE: Okay. Thank you, Senator Barnes.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Boutin.)

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. Just in an attempt to address Senator Houde's question: House Bill 109 and Senate Bill 91 are both sprinkler legislation. House Bill 109 is directed specifically at planning boards adopting requirements for sprinklers; Senate Bill 91 is more directed at the community, such as adoption at town meeting or through the board of selectmen or otherwise. So, that's the distinction.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the adoption of the committee of conference report on SB 91. The bill eliminates the ability of municipalities to set regulations on sprinkler regulations based on what makes sense for their own towns. I have faith that my town officials can make these decisions in a way that recognizes and addresses not only the safety issues involved, but also those of cost to homeowners, including the critical goal of providing workforce housing to our citizens. So, I urge members to vote against the adoption of the report on SB 91.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I, too, rise to oppose the adoption of the report on Senate Bill 91. As I was walking in to session, I was advised, in fact, that Concord's sprinkler requirements will be retained and will be allowed to exist with the passage of this. And, it was indicated that that's because Concord already put theirs in place. But, the future towns or cities that find a need to put this in place because of their own fire suppression requirements will not be able to do that. There are times when maybe grandfathering a law makes sense, but why, if you believe in local control, and you believe that perhaps you want to keep down the cost to communities in terms of property tax increases, why don't we trust local government enough to make those decisions? Concord put in some fire sprinkler regulation in scattered sites areas, where – we are a 260-square-mile city, and there are places where people want to develop that we cannot guarantee our fire department will get to in time. So, in order to allow development in areas that are not covered by fire hydrants, etcetera, there are times when the city planning has agreed to allow it if they agree to put in sprinklers. That makes huge sense. I worked ten years on affordable housing and very much believe in continuing affordable housing. But, there has to be some place where there's a better compromise than just telling all future communities that they cannot put this kind of sensible legislation in and that if they want to allow development in a rural area they have to find ways to cover through their existing property tax-paid fire suppression system. It makes no sense to pass it the way it is. There are compromises to be made in this problem, but Senate Bill 91 is not the one. Thanks.

SENATOR BARNES: Senator Larsen, I hear what you're saying; the municipal association said basically the same thing you're saying. But don't you think, as a homeowner, you have the right to make some decisions, or do you need the City of Concord and the State of New Hampshire to come along and tell you you can only have three-and-a-half bedrooms instead of two-and-a-half?

SENATOR LARSEN: No, that's why I say that there needs to be a better compromise, that in fact, if I am a homeowner and I want to build ten miles outside my city limits where there are fire hydrants and I want to join a community of people who are clustering out there, I should not be able to force the community to cover my fire suppression in an area that's so remote that it costs all taxpayers for my ability to build out there. So, for my own personal safety, if I want to build out there, I ought to be willing to foot the bill. If I'm going to stay in an area that's reachable by normal fire suppression systems, then, you know, it's the community that helps to pay for it. But, if personal choices also are those that put someone out and you choose to live out in a rural area, you choose to live remotely, then you have to pay for some of your own costs, then.

SENATOR BARNES: Would you believe that I'm not going to change your mind. However, I still think it's up to the homeowner to make those decisions, and I think that's the way it should be. And, the cost of housing the way it is today, I think that's something that plays into it, also. The cost of fire suppression – and, I don't have my fire suppression expert here who's a builder; I don't know where he is. If he was here, I'm sure he could answer some of those questions for you about the cost. I can't tell you the cost. I heard him during the committee, and some of the costs are pretty –

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Senator Barnes.

SENATOR BARNES: That's a "would-you-believe".

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Okay.

SENATOR BARNES: I'm running out of "would-you-believes"; it's almost over.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Thank you.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Senator Larsen. I understand where you're coming from; I've heard the discussion. And, your good Senator, Senator Merrill, made these same arguments during the committee hearing, and she did a very find job of bringing the case forward. Thank you.

This bill provides that a resident of New Hampshire shall not be required to obtain, or be assessed a fee or fine for failure to obtain, health insurance coverage.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you, Mister President. This is an act relative to health insurance coverage under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. The Senate position was that New Hampshire should join the State of New Hampshire as a plaintiff in the lawsuit pending in federal court captioned State of Florida, et al v. United States Department of Health and Human Services. This is the infamous "Should New Hampshire join the lawsuit or shall New Hampshire join the lawsuit?" Another part of the Senate version was that a resident of New Hampshire shall not be required to obtain or be assessed a fee or fine for failure to obtain health insurance coverage. The House amended the bill, so we asked for a committee of conference. They wanted the grant money – the infamous $666,000 received by the New Hampshire Insurance Department for the implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act – to be returned to the federal government. There were other conversations, and Senator Houde was there in the committee of conference, and we were able to have that removed from the bill as compromised by the committee of conference, as well as the requirement of the Attorney General to either join or not join the lawsuit. But, we were able to retain this portion that provides that a resident of New Hampshire shall not be required to obtain or be assessed a fee or fine for failure to obtain health insurance coverage. Thank you very much, Mister President.

541-A:10 Filing of Proposed Rule Text; Establishing and Revising Text.
 I. At the same time the notice required by RSA 541-A:6, I is filed, the agency shall file the text of the proposed rule with the director of legislative services. The first time a rule is proposed under RSA 541-A:3

to implement newly-enacted state authority, the agency shall send an electronic copy of the notice and proposed rule to the chair of each house and senate standing policy committee, as defined in RSA 541-A:1, XVI, for distribution to the members of such standing policy committees. Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Findings and Purpose. The legislature finds that, through no fault of their own, certain persons entitled to benefits as surviving spouses and dependents of group II members killed in the line of duty have been provided with incorrect information concerning the benefits to which they are entitled over an extended period of time. Such persons have relied in good faith upon this incorrect information and have ordered their lives accordingly. In order to avoid the unfairness that would occur if these errors were retrospectively corrected, the state of New Hampshire will provide such persons in this position with the benefits that they were promised.

2 Additional Medical Benefits; Surviving Spouse and Dependents; Group II Member Killed in Line of Duty. On the effective date of this act, if the premium payment under RSA 100-A:52 and RSA 21-I:30-a for the surviving spouse and dependent children of a police officer or firefighter killed in the line of duty, as determined under RSA 21-I:29-a, is not for the full amount of the premium for eligible medical and surgical benefits, and the local political subdivision has elected not to pay the excess cost of the premium for such medical and surgical benefits, the state shall pay the difference between the amount paid by the local political subdivision and the amount under RSA 21-I:30-a, I, so that the benefit is not reduced by the application of any benefit limitation or premium contribution for such surviving spouses and dependent children.

3 Application. Nothing in this act shall authorize or require the state to pay for any premium for eligible medical and surgical benefits that was being paid for by the local political subdivision on January 1, 2011.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill provides for payment of the premium for medical benefits for surviving spouses and dependent children of a police officer or firefighter killed in the line of duty.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. First I'd like to start out by thanking our Senate attorney, Mr. Lehmann, for all his help in crafting language on this bill. We met in committee of conference, we agreed upon the basic premises of the bill, but the House asked that we include a provision that basically stated that this was a one-time fix. There were nine widows currently in the state who were caught in kind of a difficult situation where promises were made that we would fully fund their medical subsidy, and we agreed to that provision. And, secondly, they asked that we also put in a provision that stated that if the difference between the cost of the medical subsidy was being picked up by the municipality that they could not, because of this legislation, stop making that payment. The committee of conference agreed to those provisions, and we would ask that you support them. Thank you, Mister President.

Committee of Conference Report on SB 196, an act relative to the re-nomination or reelection of teachers and prohibiting assessing teacher performance based solely on assessment scores.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend RSA 189:14-a, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I.(a) Any teacher who has a professional standards certificate from the state board of education and who has taught for one or more years in the same school district shall be notified in writing on or before April 15 or within 15 days of the adoption of the district budget by the legislative body, whichever is later, if that teacher is not to be renominated or reelected, provided that no notification shall occur later than the Friday following the second Tuesday in May.

(b) School boards shall have a teacher performance evaluation policy.

(c) Any such teacher who has taught for ~~[3 consecutive years or more in the same school district]~~ 5 consecutive years or more in the teacher's current school district, or who taught for 3 consecutive years or more in the teacher's current school district before July 1, 2011, and who has been so notified may request in writing within 10 days of receipt of said notice a hearing before the school board and may in said request ask for reasons for failure to be renominated or reelected. For purposes of this section only, a leave of absence shall not interrupt the consecutive nature of a teacher's service, but neither shall such a leave be included in the computation of a teacher's service. Computation of a teacher's service for any other purposes shall not be affected by this section. The notice shall advise the teacher of all of the teacher's rights under this section. The school board, upon receipt of said request, shall provide for a hearing on the request to be held within 15 days. The school board shall issue its decision in writing within 15 days of the close of the hearing.

Amend the bill by replacing sections 2 and 3 with the following:

2 Review by State Board. Amend RSA 189:14-b, I to read as follows:

I. A teacher aggrieved by such decision may either petition the state board of education for review thereof or request arbitration under the terms of a collective bargaining agreement pursuant to RSA 273-A:4, if applicable, but may not do both. Such petition must be in writing and filed with the state board within 10 days after the issuance of the decision to be reviewed. Upon receipt of such petition, the state board shall notify the school board of the petition for review, and shall forthwith proceed to a consideration of the matter. Such consideration shall include a hearing if either party shall request it. The state board shall issue its decision within 15 days after the petition for review is filed, and the decision of the state board shall be final and binding upon both parties. A petition for review under this section shall constitute the exclusive remedy available to a teacher on the issue of the nonrenewal of such teacher.

3 Grievance Procedures. Amend RSA 273-A:4 to read as follows:

273-A:4 Grievance Procedures. Every agreement negotiated under the terms of this chapter shall be reduced to writing and shall contain workable grievance procedures. No grievance resulting from the failure of a teacher to be renewed pursuant to RSA 189:14-a shall be subject to arbitration or any other binding resolution, except as provided by RSA 189:14-a and RSA 189:14-b. Any such provision in force as of the effective date of this section shall be null and void upon the expiration date of that collective bargaining agreement. However, after the expiration date of that collective bargaining agreement, nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the school district public employer and the exclusive bargaining representative from entering into a subsequent agreement that may include arbitration or any other binding resolution for teacher nonrenewals pursuant to RSA 189:14-a and RSA 189:14-b. If such grievance procedures become incorporated into a subsequent collective bargaining agreement, those procedures shall become null and void at the expiration of that agreement. "Grievance resulting from failure of a teacher to be renewed" means a grievance that challenges nonrenewal, or that seeks reversal or reinstatement from nonrenewal as a remedy.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. The Senate agreed to the House amended version with two additions: We added one provision that would require school boards to have a teacher performance evaluation policy. And, for those collective bargaining agreements that currently have arbitration as the vehicles to appeal the decision, that would also be allowable, but the ability to seek arbitration must be renegotiated in each and every new contract.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly for a question of Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you. Senator Stiles, is it your intent, or do you think it's the intent of this compromise, in section 1 of the bill, which, as I know, adds language requiring a school district to have a teacher performance evaluation policy for the school district and the local union. Is it the intent to negotiate language into that policy requiring prior notification to non-performing teachers and to their non-performance, which might lead to their non-renewal?

SENATOR STILES: The intent is to allow the local district to come up with their policy. The good work that you've been doing on the task force for teacher evaluations – and, we're hoping that that will also be included in that language – and however they determine the amount of days that they would be notified would be decided at the local level.

SENATOR KELLY: So, from what I understand then, is that the policy would not require prior notification.

SENATOR STILES: The policy would be up to the local decision-makers to identify the language in that policy, but hopefully would reflect the good work that your task force has been doing.

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I agree with one portion of this bill, and that says that school boards should have a teacher performance evaluation policy; I think that's consistent with good practice. But, if you can't figure out in three years whether or not a teacher is any good or not, then we've got a big problem. And, if you have to wait five to find out if a person is good or not, that person has invested a significant amount of time in teaching. And, we're not a tenure state; we're a non-renewal state. And, having been a teacher for about 50 years and having been on my local school board for ten years, I can tell you if we can't make these evaluations after the three-year period, then we've got some very serious problems. So, I think the five-year situation is completely just – it's not worthy of our discussion. Thank you.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives has adopted the recommendation of the Committee of Conference to which was referred the following entitled Bill:

SB 33-FN, relative to retired state employee contributions for medical benefits costs.

June 22, 2011
2011-2520-CofC
05/10

Committee of Conference Report on SB 33-FN, an act relative to retired state employee contributions for medical benefits costs.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrency with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Paragraph; State Employee Contributions to Medical and Surgical Benefits. Amend RSA 21-I:30 by inserting after paragraph VII the following new paragraph:

VIII. The commissioner of administrative services shall invoice and collect from retired state employees under the age of 65 years receiving medical and surgical benefits provided under this section, who do not receive a retirement allowance as defined in RSA 100-A:1, XXII, the premium contribution amounts of 12.5 percent of the total monthly premium for each such retiree and 12.5 percent of the total monthly premium for each applicable spouse; provided that the charge to each household shall not exceed 12.5 percent of the total monthly premium for 2 plan participants. The commissioner of administrative services is also authorized to invoice and collect from such other participants contribution amounts as specified by law. Collected amounts shall be deposited in the employee and retiree benefit risk management fund. Failure to remit payment of the contribution amount in full within 30 days of billing shall be grounds for terminating benefits, effective from the beginning of the billing period. Reenrollment shall be dependent upon payment of any outstanding contribution or other amounts within 6 months of the termination date. If a participant fails to remit payment in full for participation within 30 days of billing, on the 30th day the participant shall be notified by certified mail, return receipt requested, that he or she shall remit payment to the department within 10 business days of receiving the letter or his or her benefits shall be terminated effective upon the 10th business day after receipt of the letter and that reenrollment shall be dependent upon payment of any outstanding contribution or other amount within 6 months of the termination date.

2 New Hampshire Retirement System; Medical and Surgical Benefit Administration. RSA 100-A:54, III is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

III. The retirement system shall deduct from the monthly retirement allowance of retired state employees under the age of 65 years receiving medical and surgical benefits provided pursuant to RSA 21-I:30, the premium contribution amounts of 12.5 percent of the total monthly premium for each such retiree and 12.5 percent of the total monthly premium for each applicable spouse; provided that the charge to each household shall not exceed 12.5 percent of the total monthly premium for 2 plan participants. The department of administrative services shall provide information as to the total monthly premium cost for each participant to the retirement system for purposes of calculating this deduction. Deducted amounts, which shall be in addition to and notwithstanding any amounts payable by the retirement system pursuant to RSA 100-

A:52, RSA 100-A:52-a, and RSA 100-A:52-b, shall be deposited in the employee and retiree benefit risk management fund. In the event the retiree's monthly allowance is insufficient to cover the certified contribution amount, the retirement system shall so notify the department of administrative services, which shall invoice and collect from the retiree the remaining contribution amount. Failure to remit payment of the contribution amount in full within 30 days of billing shall be grounds for terminating benefits, effective from the beginning of the billing period. Reenrollment shall be dependent upon payment of any outstanding contribution or other amounts within 6 months of the termination date. The department of administrative services shall provide notice of the termination of benefits as provided in RSA 21-I:30, VIII.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 2011 at 12:01 a.m.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. The committee of conference met on Senate Bill 33 and we agreed with the House amendment that added a reenrollment clause for retirees whose benefits were terminated for nonpayment within six months of the termination date upon payment of any outstanding contribution or any other amount. We also just recently passed an amendment that brought the financial aspects of the bill in line with what we just passed in House Bill 1 and House Bill 2. And we ask the Senate concur. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee of Conference Report. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes.)

SENATOR BARNES: Mister President, can you tell us what happened with 1 and 2 over there at the House?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: House Bill 1 and 2 both passed; I do not know the exact tally. House Bill 1 was 275 to 1-0-something; I don't know about HB 2. They both passed. HB 1 passed 274-108; HB 2 passed 259-119.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you.

Recess. Out of recess.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: The first thing we need to take up is what are called Enrolled Bill Amendments, which we never usually deal with on the Senate floor; they're usually dealt with in recess. These are technical, spelling, grammatical changes to a bill. We've passed HB 1 and HB 2; the Governor has asked us to get them to him as quickly as possible, so we're going to deal with the Enrolled Bills process on the floor rather than in recess.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much, Mister President. I call the attention to the Senate – my Senate colleagues – that what's in my hand is HB 2, and highlighted are the Enrolled Bill Amendments that were done. And, what's passed out to you is just the language of the changes in words. However, you can fit them all into the budget with all of these tabs and you can understand that my perusal of HB 2 did need minor technical changes – nothing to do with policy. I recommend that the full Senate concur with Enrolled Bills Amendment. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Could I ask for a few more minutes to look through all the pages?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Yes, a few more minutes.

I recognize Senator Prescott to walk us through the various changes in Enrolled Bill Amendment 2521, prepared by the Office of Legislative Services.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: I believe when the Senate President says I'm going to walk through this, we're actually going to crawl through this. So, I would appreciate patience upon the rest of the body.

What I have to do is I have to go through – because this bill was such a mammoth bill – HB 2 – I had to go through and have them all highlighted in the bill, and then go back through the amendment and see if I can decipher if everything was done properly. I would think that that would be a long and arduous process for all of us to do this, especially me just standing up on the Senate floor and talking about it and then saying: “Um, uh,” and then “Oh, yes! That's right” and go over all of my thoughts for these comments that are on the Enrolled Bill Amendment. This did take me quite a long time to look through this bill. I would rather have it that if anybody has a specific question that we could talk about that specific question. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro for a question of Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Well, what does this mean? I mean: “Omitted text”, and I can't even read the second one, but I suppose that's – is that the same? “Omitted text”? What does “omitted text” mean? Is the text just withdrawn and replaced by nothing so that you read the sentence...It drops off where things are marked out and then you go to the next line and you say: “That's the end of it”? So, you take that piece and you throw it out? And, in the second situation, you just delete and read forward? Is that what it is? It just seems to me that it's difficult for us to decipher the writing that's on the side, and if we could just get the rationale, Senator, that would be super. I appreciate that. And, I realize it's cumbersome, and I appreciate it.

Recess. Out of recess.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Again, in terms of explanation, this consists of technical, grammatical changes to the bill that were caught in the enrollment process by the Office of Legislative Services. Usually this is done in recess, but since we're not in recess and the Governor wants HB 1 and 2 as soon as possible, we're doing it on the Senate floor.

Sen. Prescott moved adoption of the Enrolled Bill Amendment. Adopted.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives has voted to override the Governor's veto on the following entitled Bill(s):

HB 109, relative to residential fire sprinklers.

HB 133, relative to the minimum wage.

HB 329-FN, requiring parental notification before abortions may be performed on unemancipated minors.

Without objection, the Clerk shall read the title of the Veto Messages only.

Governor's Veto Message Regarding HB 109

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on June 15, 2011, I vetoed HB 109, an act relative to residential fire sprinklers.

HB 109 prohibits local planning boards from requiring the installation of a fire suppression sprinkler system in proposed one or two-family residences as a condition of approval for a local permits. It also lessens the ability of local communities to work cooperatively with developers to move projects forward in cost-effective ways. Instead of allowing communities to work with developers to substitute sprinkler systems, communities will now have to revert to requiring what may be more costly options: fire ponds, cisterns, wider road widths, increasing the size of building lots and increasing the size of distance between buildings.

HB 109 will also prohibit municipalities from enforcing their current sprinkler ordinances. Today, communities from Salem to Hooksett to Boscawen to Lebanon have these ordinances, which have been approved by the local governing bodies.

I believe that the decision of whether or not to require fire sprinklers for new or renovated residential development should remain a local one. The State should not dictate a required course of action. It is obviously the local community that is impacted from new residential development both in terms of land use and in terms of bearing the costs of providing increased fire protection services. This legislation will remove local control over an important issue.

The State Fire Marshal and numerous local fire departments across the State also have concerns about the ability of local officials to continue to have fire sprinkler systems as a local option.

For these reasons, I am vetoing HB 109.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch
Governor

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR BARNES: If I want to override the Governor's veto, should I vote yes or should I vote no?

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: A "yes" vote overrides the veto and the bill becomes law; a "no" vote sustains the veto and the bill does not become law.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. And, I'll be brief, since I've already talked about sprinklers once today.

This bill would prohibit planning boards from requiring sprinklers for one- or two-unit developments, and I believe this goes too far. I do believe our towns need to be very cautious about the circumstances under which they make a requirement that in fact, as we know, can add to the cost of housing, and I think we're not interested in, certainly, in doing that: in making housing less affordable for our citizens.

However, I believe that there can be circumstances under which it does make sense for a planning board, in conjunction with a developer, to arrive at a decision whereby, yes, the sprinklers will be required, in conjunction with, or in working with, perhaps some request of the developer in terms of how they're going to proceed. And, I know, for example, in the Town of Durham, a project has recently been approved for a large student housing development that's made up of...they're being called "cottages". And, I believe that they're maybe a mix of one-living unit and two-living unit cottages. And, the Town and the developer were able to arrive at a package, a decision that incorporated sprinklers as a requirement along with the request of the developer to have narrower roads, less pavement, I think a denser kind of a development – more of a community feel. And, that was the agreement that they arrived at. And, my understanding is that under this change, that would not be an option. And, I think that does go too far. So, we need to leave some flexibility to our town officials to arrive at the right decision for our own towns. So, I would support the Governor's veto of this bill. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator Merrill, with the Governor's veto, he wrote: "House Bill 109 will also prohibit municipalities from enforcing their current sprinkler ordinances." And, Concord has a current sprinkler ordinance, and it's mostly applied – it's only applied in our scattered sites that are far from fire coverage, and that's the reason they were allowed to develop out in those areas. My first question is: Does it prohibit current ordinances, in your understanding?

SENATOR MERRILL: If the Governor says it, I believe it. Yes, that's my understanding.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a follow-up question of Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I think it makes it difficult for...Wouldn't you agree that it will make it difficult, in fact, if we want to encourage housing and allow flexibility for where people choose to live, that in fact we want to have the ability for scattered sites, so you want to have fire safety at the same time. Would you agree with that?

SENATOR MERRILL: I would. And, I believe you need the flexibility to look at each case.

SENATOR LARSEN: Yes. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Boutin.)

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. I want to just clarify this discussion. First of all is that there is nothing in House Bill 109 that precludes a developer and a community reaching an agreement if that's the desire of the developer. So, let's make that clear. Second of all, it is not quite accurate to say that this eliminates sprinkler ordinances that already exist, because the fact of the matter is, the bill as originally written said: "adopt or enforce", and the word "enforce" was taken out. So, there's a carve-out for those current municipalities that have a sprinkler ordinance in their subdivision regulation. So, I just want to make that clear to everybody so that they know what they're voting on, Mister President.

The question is, notwithstanding the Governor's Veto, shall HB 109 become law?

Governor's Veto Message Regarding HB 133

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on June 8, 2011, I vetoed HB133, relative to the minimum wage.

This legislation repeals New Hampshire's state minimum wage law, effectively ceding state control and authority to the federal government.

This legislation would make New Hampshire one of only a handful of states that completely defer to the federal government and do not independently establish their own minimum wage laws. I do not support turning over complete authority to the federal government to determine what makes sense for our citizens or our businesses.

The minimum wage law ensures that our citizens receive at least a minimum level of compensation for their hard work. It also helps ensure a level playing field for business owners - the overwhelming majority of whom want to give their employees a decent day's wage for a day's hard work.

New Hampshire's current minimum wage is set at the federal level, and it is appropriate. But four years ago, we agreed that - after a decade of federal inaction - we needed to act to help families meet rising costs. This legislation removes the New Hampshire legislature from that debate, and gives authority to set the minimum wage solely to the federal government.

New Hampshire's current economic strategy is working. We have one of the lowest unemployment rates in the nation. Ten thousand more people are working now than at the same time last year. We have one of the fastest-growing economies in the nation. And we have one of the highest median incomes in the nation.

New Hampshire has had a minimum wage law since 1949, and neither our citizens nor our businesses have called for its repeal. There is no need to undermine our state's economic strategy or cede our state authority to the federal government. Therefore I am vetoing this legislation.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch
Governor

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to urge my colleagues to sustain and support the Governor's veto. I pulled out my floor remarks from this recently; they were fairly succinct, so I'll try to make that the case again.

New Hampshire's minimum wage is the same as the federal minimum wage right now. As my colleagues surely know, the federal minimum wage is a floor below which states may not fall. States are, however, able to raise it higher, which we did before the federal government did recently, which was the first time in approximately a decade. If HB 133 passes, New Hampshire wouldn't be able to do that.

As the Governor indicated in his veto message: "This legislation removes the New Hampshire Legislature from that debate and gives authority to set the minimum wage solely to the federal government."

We just had a discussion this morning about New Hampshire's economic status and low unemployment rate. I don't believe that there's been an outcry from either citizens or businesses for a repeal of the minimum wage, and therefore I don't believe that there's any reason to undermine the trajectory of our state's economy or cede authority to the federal government. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott for a question of Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much, Senator. Does this preclude a Senator wishing to introduce legislation this fall to raise the minimum wage beyond the federal minimum wage?

SENATOR HOUDE: I don't believe that it would preclude legislation from being introduced to reestablish the state's ability to have a minimum wage.

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Very good. Thank you very much.

The question is, notwithstanding the Governor's Veto, shall HB 133 become law?

Governor's Veto Message Regarding HB 329

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on June 15, 2011, I vetoed HB 329.

I support parental notification and parental involvement in a minor's decision to seek an abortion. The decision whether to complete a pregnancy or seek an abortion is a serious and life-changing one for any pregnant woman. Minors need and benefit from the support and guidance of their parents.

However, any law must make reasonable allowances for cases where that is not possible. I am particularly troubled by the lack of an exception for the victims of rape, incest and abuse. If the legislature works with me on this change and the other limited, common-sense changes outlined in this message, I would sign parental notification legislation. First, a young woman should not be forced to involve the person that abused her in the first place in this decision. That is why of the 36 states that require some form of parental involvement, 16 include exceptions from notification for rape or incest or abuse. There must be an exception for rape, incest and abuse in any parental notification law in New Hampshire.

Second, some of the provisions of this legislation are unclear and too narrow. The health exception does not allow a physician to sufficiently exercise his or her best medical judgment and proceed with an abortion when a delay will create a grave and immediate risk to the minor's health.

For example, when a physician sees a minor patient who is hemorrhaging, the physician may not be able to definitively determine whether a delay in performing an abortion would result in the irreversible impairment of a major bodily function, even if the physician has determined that there is surely a grave and immediate risk to the minor's health. The bill's medical emergency provision requires a physician to determine in a very short time frame that a delay will create a serious risk of a substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function. That standard is narrow, complex and unworkable. It is difficult for a physician – at any point in time – to be certain that a delay will present a “serious risk” that there will be both a “substantial and irreversible” impairment of a major bodily function. If the physician chooses not go forward with the abortion because of uncertainty of the risk, the minor’s health could be affected. If the physician performs the abortion and is wrong in that determination, then he or she is subject to criminal liability. The medical emergency standard now in HB 329 needs to allow physicians to exercise their full professional judgment based on all the potential serious health impacts to their patients.

Lastly, this bill subjects medical professionals to potential imprisonment and civil lawsuits without giving medical providers sufficient guidance on how to comply with the law. The law should include clear standards on what information must be collected from the minor and what records should be kept.

Because this legislation lacks an exception for rape and incest, and for the other reasons I have articulated, I am vetoing HB 329.

If the legislature passes a bill that addresses these concerns, then I am prepared to sign a parental notification law.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch
Governor

Date: June 15, 2011

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I rise again to ask my colleagues to sustain the Governor’s veto on House Bill 329. As my colleagues will no doubt recall, I offered two amendments to House Bill 329: The first proposed a medical provider bypass instead of the judicial bypass and removed criminal liability for providers. The second amendment changed the age to 17 and amended other parts of the bill, such as the need for potential harm to a young woman being irreversible. While neither of these garnered enough support to pass, the latter did garner enough support to sustain the Governor’s veto.

The Governor has written two more concerns in his veto message, particularly about the lack of an exception for rape, incest, or abuse, which, I would note, is contained in at least 16 of the states that have some form of parental involvement legislation or statutes. I hope my colleagues will similarly recognize those concerns for young women who for whatever reason, but particularly in the situation of rape, incest, or abuse, cannot tell their parents without risk of endangering themselves further, and therefore vote to sustain the Governor’s veto.

I would finally note that the Governor provides concrete guidance for an acceptable notification law. Next year, the question was just asked of me whether or not legislation could be introduced. I would suggest that an amended law could be introduced which, with the Governor’s support, would undoubtedly pass. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to encourage a sustaining of this veto. We debated this bill pretty thoroughly in the last sequence, but now it’s down to the wire. And, I think the Governor’s points in making the veto statement...As stated, the lack of an exception for rape, incest, and abuse – the bill does not allow for health exceptions, does not for a physician to sufficiently exercise their medical judgment. For example, when a physician sees a minor patient who is hemorrhaging, the physician may not be able to definitively determine whether a delay in performing an abortion would result in irreversible impairment, yet this physician risks both the minor's health as well as their own professional liability under this law.

There was a very well-written statement in today's Concord Monitor from Dr. Julia Burdick, and I hope each of you saw this. But, in that she explains, of course, we want parents to be involved with their teenagers' lives.

She states: "A terrified pregnant teenager with an abusive family needs all the protection our court system and medical community can provide. A parental notification law imposed by a court system risks further abuse and harm to the teenager. Proper support and safety as well as confidential counseling and decision-making should be left to those who have spent years in training, not a judge.

As parents, we want to know when our daughters face a decision like this so we can be helpful and supportive. But our daughters' safety is more important than our desire to be informed. If, for whatever reason, our daughters can't or won't come to us, we must make sure they get safe professional medical attention and quality counseling from caring doctors and nurses. In states that already have parental notification laws, rates of teen pregnancy and patterns of decision-making have not changed. Instead, teenagers go to great lengths and danger to seek medical care and counseling outside of their home states and communities."

This doctor who writes says: "My whole career has been about making sure my patients get the best medical care I can provide." And, she applauds the Governor for his veto and encourages us as legislators to work toward more open access to affordable, compassionate and quality medical care rather than focusing on creating barriers.

This bill creates barriers; this bill puts teens at risk; this bill is dangerous to the health of teens across our state. We can correct it; we could at least account for rape and incest. And, while I wouldn't want any of these enforced, this bill is truly wrong for the young people of our communities and risks their wellbeing and in fact their lives. So, I urge you to think about this.

On WMUR just last night: a man accused of impregnating a 14-year-old girl. He's going to be deported because he's an illegal immigrant, but this girl – does she get to go home to a supportive family? What if her family tells her she has to carry this to term? Is this what you think is right? There are many, many instances – things that are unimaginable that happen in people's lives, and I encourage you to consider that as you vote for this. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Groen.)

SENATOR GROEN: Thank you, Mister President. I urge that we do override the Governor's veto. I am rather surprised at the lack of confidence that some of my colleagues have in our court system. We have a very carefully written judicial override – that judicial override has been used in most states across the country; it works. In all of the cases that they've described, the judicial override works. I'd urge them to have more confidence in our court system. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I ask that my colleagues sustain the Governor's veto. I guess my question is: Do we have such little confidence in the parents of children that we have to do something like this? 80 percent of the time – 80 percent of the time – a child will talk to their parent – will talk to their parent about a situation like this. Where is the confidence that we manifest in our ability to be good parents and work with our children in bringing our children up and bringing them through the process? I think that's the key issue. We know – we know! – of the incest that takes place in our communities; it's a terrible, terrible thing, but be aware of it, because it does exist! And, what do you do in that particular situation? You put a child through something that's really unbearable. And, the child bears that scar for the rest of their lives. That's a terrible thing; that's a terrible burden for all of us to carry. I would hope that my colleagues would think about that. I have two daughters; I have three granddaughters. We work on a positive relationship with our children and our grandchildren, a loving positive relationship. And, one would hope that that relationship would stand the test of time. And, I think the thing that we should have confidence is ourselves, both as parents, grandparents, and members of the community. And, when people need advice, they should be ready, willing, and able to get that advice from us. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. In the communication that I have heard from constituents, I have never seen such a lopsided message. I have received 408 emails; only six support the Governor's position; 402 support the override. That's a very strong message to me. Thank you very much.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. I would ask for a Rule 2-17. I'm always proud to represent the Seacoast. And, this morning I brought to your attention some exceptional people. And, I have one more that I would like to bring to your attention, and that is a little boy from Rye.

Colton Bullard was recently awarded the Good Sport Award by Little League International. Colton demonstrates the New Hampshire spirit by the manner in which he lives his life. Colton was raised by his father until his father passed away six years ago from an aneurysm. Since that time, he has been raised by an adult: an aunt, and an older sister and brother. Colton's dedication and passion for baseball has been truly exemplified during his time in Little League.

Colton is a catcher, which is known as the "field general". And, he has proven himself a leader on and off the field. His brother was paralyzed in an automobile accident in 1993, and Colton has spent the last several years volunteering his time with a nonprofit organization for athletes with disabilities, as well as teaching survival skills at a camp for youth in Vermont.

While Colton has certainly been faced with adversity throughout his life, he has met every challenge and hardship head-on and with a smile on his face. It is very fitting that he be awarded the Good Sport Award by the International Little League Organization, and I welcome the entire Senate to join me. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I actually have, if I could, two 2-17's. The first one is to thank my colleague and his assistant. Senator D'Allesandro hosted a memorial service for Governor Peterson last week, which you spoke at. And, I have to tell you, nothing could have made the Governor's life any clearer. And, to Senator D'Allesandro and Sonja: You did a beautiful job for the Governor. Thank you.

I'd also like to speak about how the process went through the budget. And, this is truly why it's time to leave. I just received a phone call from the office that says: "No worries; she has good news about vegetables. She was excited; just wanted to tell you." So, it's time to go home for all of us. But, the reality is, I want the Senate to know that, you know, Senator D'Allesandro, Senator Odell, Senator Barnes, we fought through this budget process. And, none of them wanted the cigarette tax put in the budget; I can tell you that that was their belief that it wasn't going in – even the Senate President. We did not give this up just to give it up. We debated to the nth degree; it got very testy during that process. But, I want you to know that these people fought for you and I fought for you, and I'm from Salem! That wouldn't be my strongest belief, but we fought right to the end to make sure that we held the Senate's position.

But, I also was disappointed yesterday, and I'm glad that many of you today thanked the Finance team for their work and for their openness, because it was suggested it wasn't open. I made one mistake; I left Senator D'Allesandro sitting over there for two hours one day; I apologized to the hilt. It's just that you get caught up in things, and you will make a mistake up here. But, the reality was, I invited many of you to go in and debate about insurance or education, you know, with commissioners or with other colleagues, outside the Finance team, because I wanted your positions in this budget. And, I went into that with two things: Because I think in the overall thing, we forget about the little things. The Senate fought for two positions in the end. And, as you say, you know, 'The budget takes on your characteristics.' I can tell you we fought for public safety, we fought for the disabled, we fought for mental health. Those positions – they lived through this budget. The Senate's position is what happened. But, there were two other things during this process that nobody's talking about. And, I want you to know that the Senate does have a heart and does fight for all of you. There was a 111 year-old law on the safety net in our communities that was removed from the budget. We put that back in as Senators. We fought to make sure it stayed in there because it was the right thing to do. And then there was one other piece of legislation, and when Senator D'Allesandro was going on about 315 and 316 or whatever other sections he was talking about – and, God forbid I forget a number right about now – but, there was a section 304 that was in the budget – it's renumbered now; I don't even know where I'd find it. But, it was about special needs kids, and it was about the process that they've had in place. I can tell you the Senate fought to the nth degree, Senator, to keep that in place. You can be proud of what the Senate did in this budget process. It's those little things that will make a difference. To those of you that I gave up on the cigarette tax, I apologize. But, we fought to the end, and I want you to know that. And, I do believe it's a strong budget that does show what characteristics are in this Senate, and I'm proud of everything you did to help make that work. Thank you.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. Rule 2-17. Many of you knew Steve Taylor, former Agriculture Commissioner, and I'm very sad to report the passing of his wife, Gretchen. And so, I know that those in the Plainfield community are giving their very best thoughts and wishes to Steve and his family while he's going through this, and I'm sure that this group of Senators wants to do so, as well. Thank you.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: I would note that there's a very good chance that we're going to need to come back, assuming the Governor makes any more vetoes or others come over from the House, we're just not sure when. So, when we adjourn today, or when we recess today, I'm not sure when some of the issues, for instance, the budget, are time sensitive. But, we can't come back until after the House on some of these, if it happens. So, I would reserve Wednesday and Thursday of next week – just keep them open. I heard rumors the House is meeting on Thursday, so we may have to meet on Thursday. But, try and keep those open.

In the event there are no more vetoes, though, this might be one of our last days, and I would be remiss not to mention that our Sergeant-at-Arms for the last two years, Doug Wyman, has decided to get some time for himself and not hang around in the Senate Chambers one day a week. And, we appreciate, Doug, your service for the last two years, and issue our congratulations to you. Thank you, Doug.

Without objection, President Bragdon moved that all Rule 2-17's shall be entered into the permanent Journal of the Senate.

MOTION TO RECESS TO CALL OF THE CHAIR

Sen. Bradley moved that the business of the day being completed, that the Senate recess to the Call of the Chair for the purposes of sending and receiving messages, processing enrolled bill reports and amendments, and when we recess, we recess to the Call of the Chair.

Adopted. The Senate is in recess to the Call of the Chair.

Adopted. Adjournment from the Late Session.

September 7, 2011

The Senate reconvened at 1 p.m., a quorum being present.

The Reverend Kate Atkinson, guest chaplain to the Senate, offered the following meditative thoughts and prayer.

Good afternoon. Well, it's just a few days before we mark the tenth anniversary of 9/11, and I know that everyone is remembering the events of that day and all of the emotions that we experienced as individuals and as a nation and as citizens of the world; we remember the loss and the fear and the anguish. And, we also call to mind some other things: the courage and the selflessness and the dedication to duty that we witnessed in our fellow human beings, and many of them made the ultimate sacrifice. So, I invite you to join with me in a moment of silence as we remember them now.

Reverend Atkinson led the Senate in a moment of silence in remembrance of September 11, 2001.

I'm going to share with you a meditation with a response, written by Sylvia Kamens and Rabbi Jack Riemer. The response is: "We remember them." I invite you to join with me in saying those words at the end of each line.

At the rising of the sun and its going down, we remember them.

At the blowing of the wind and the chill of winter, we remember them.

At the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring, we remember them.

At the blueness of the skies and in the warmth of summer, we remember them.

At the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of autumn, we remember them.

At the beginning of the year and when it ends, we remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live; for they are now a part of us as we remember them.

When we are weary and in need of strength, we remember them.

When we are lost and sick at heart, we remember them.

When we have joy we crave to share, we remember them.

When we have decisions that are difficult to make, we remember them.

When we have achievements that are based on theirs, we remember them.

God of love and healing and hope, even as we recall the tragedy of the past, help us to move faithfully into the future, determined to be the people you call us to be and to make a difference in this city, this country, and your world.
Amen.

Sen. Prescott led the Pledge of Allegiance.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS AND PRESENTATIONS

(The Chair recognized Sen. Boutin.)

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, and good afternoon, Mister President. I have two very lovely young ladies from Bow High School here today.

And, the first one I'd like to introduce is Ashlie Tucker. Ashlie is in 10th grade, and her favorite subject is history. And, her extracurricular activities include basketball, volunteering, and shopping, and lastly, soccer. I would like to just point out that Ashlie has scored four goals, and the Bow High School Girls Soccer Team is undefeated, right? So, that's a great thing. And, Ashlie wants to one day be a small business owner and create jobs, just what we need. Ashlie wants to attend college in New York City and become a fashion designer and own her own business. Thank you for being here, Ashlie, today.

The second lovely young lady, also a 10th-grader at Bow High School is Sarah Carlson. Sarah's favorite subject is mathematics – maybe we can hook you up with the Chairman of the Finance Committee after session today; help us with our budget. Her extracurricular activities include soccer, Nordic, track and field, and volunteering. She intends to attend college in Maine and become an engineer or an architect. Thank you for being with us today, Sarah.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. I have two of my long-time friends up in the gallery: Tammy Dargie and Tina Daniels.

Without objection, the Clerk shall read the title of the Veto Messages only.

VETO

Governor's Veto Message Regarding SB 3

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on June 15, 2011, I vetoed SB 3, making comprehensive changes to the state retirement system.

Even as this bill sits on my desk with a deadline of today, members of the ongoing conference committee on HB 1 and HB 2 have publicly announced that they will consider substantive changes to this legislation, a version of which is already included in HB 2. Those changes include potentially addressing decisions made yesterday by the Board of the Retirement System that could impact the budgets of the state and local communities.

Given the legislature's stated intent to change this legislation further, and my responsibility to review the legislation in its full and final form, I am vetoing Senate Bill 3 and will assess the legislature's final product.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch
Governor

Date: June 15, 2011

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. Not that much time has passed since we last debated this bill in February, March, April, May, and June for us to not remember what it is; it's retirement reform. It's been superseded by House Bill 2. Passage of this bill will have no practical impact because of a provision that was placed in House Bill 2 that superseded – should Governor Lynch have vetoed Senate Bill 3 – would have superseded our overriding it today. Nevertheless, I urge my colleagues to continue in the tradition of attempting to reform our retirement system and vote yes to override the Governor's veto.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to support the veto of Senate Bill 3 and recognize that in fact the language in House Bill 2 does take precedence. But, I would also point out that our predictions on retirement have come true. You compare the retirement in fiscal year 2010 to 2011 and you will see that there is a fourfold increase – four times the retirements this year as in previous years during the final months of the biennium. This is, I think, going to be more and more evident as we see our most senior teachers no longer teaching; our most senior firefighters have retired, our most senior police have retired. Not only have we seen layoffs because of reductions in city and town budgets, but we have seen a loss of some of our most experienced and professional public employees. So, I simply rise to say that these retirement changes will have a long-range affect, and I think that those who have retired will be missed in terms of their experience. Thank you, Mister President.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR LARSEN: It is my understanding that a "yes" vote is to override the veto and a "no" vote is to sustain the veto.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: You are correct. A “yes” vote will override the veto; a “no” vote will sustain the veto.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you.

The question is, notwithstanding the Governor’s Veto, shall SB 3 become law?

A roll call is required.

Governor Lynch’s Veto Message Regarding SB 57

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on July 6, 2011, I vetoed SB 57, relative to regulation of title loan lenders.

I am vetoing this legislation because legalizing excessive interest rates for title loans – rates of 300 percent APR – would be detrimental to our families, our communities, and to our economy.

Thirty-one other states – including all the other New England states – ban these types of excessive interest rates. In 2006, Congress passed and former President George W. Bush signed federal legislation capping the interest rate on title loans to members of the military at 36 percent APR. In addition, SB 57 was strongly opposed by large numbers of Republicans and Democrats in the legislature, the New Hampshire Local Welfare Administrator’s Association, AARP, the Banking Department, the Department of Justice, the New Hampshire Community Loan Fund and New Hampshire Legal Assistance.

In 2008, bipartisan legislation supported by the Banking Department, the former Attorney General, communities and many others, capped interest rates on title and payday loans at 36 percent APR. That change was reasonable and well thought-out. There is no evidence that reversing that law would benefit New Hampshire. On the contrary, there is significant evidence that it would harm our state and families.

New Hampshire currently caps interest rates for title loans at 36 percent APR. This legislation would have allowed significantly higher interest rates for loans made against the title of a car. For example, under this bill, a family who took out a $500 loan against their car would pay $1,187 in principal and interest over the maximum 10-month life of the loan. At the same time, companies would be allowed to loan without any inquiry into a borrower’s ability to repay the loan and would even be allowed to loan to people receiving local welfare assistance.

Failure to repay a loan could lead to seizure of the family car, which is often essential for family members to maintain employment.

For vulnerable families, these excessive interest charges could force them further into a cycle of debt, and potentially onto public assistance. The New Hampshire Local Welfare Administrator’s Association said the “temporary relief” that may come from a title loan “often comes at the cost of enslaving recipients in a cycle of increasing debt for basic needs, causing an ultimate crash and the need to come to the legal welfare office." Frequently, the welfare administrators said, families end up worse off than before they took out the loan.

That cycle of debt hurts our families, hurts our local communities, and ultimately our economy. Therefore, I am vetoing SB 57.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch
Governor

Date: July 6, 2011

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the vote to override the Governor's veto on Senate Bill 57, a bill relative to the regulation of title loans. The House Commerce Committee overwhelmingly and with bipartisan support voted to support Senate Bill 57 as the right balance between allowing title loan businesses back into New Hampshire and increasing consumer protections for those that use these loans. Those that claim the rate on these loans that exceed 300 percent do not factor in the new consumer protections that were passed in the bill. In fact, at no point will a consumer ever pay such an interest rate. National banks, credit card companies, and pawn shops all have financial products that in some cases exceed the APR rate to that public title loan. We as state legislators have no control over those loans. Today we can allow an industry that is regulated by New Hampshire back into the state, which means new jobs for those who need them and options for credit for New Hampshire consumers and businesses with a history of few complaints and an opportunity to bring back good-paying jobs with benefits to New Hampshire workers. Please override the Governor's veto of Senate Bill 57. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. I don't know if I should have this be a question of Senator Sanborn, because I'm not sure what bipartisan support there was in the Commerce Committee for this particular bill. But, I'll just make my remarks in support of the Governor's veto.

I've argued against title loans on several occasions, to no avail to this point, I'll point out. But, I would like to reiterate some of the Governor's veto message. Legalizing excessive interest rates for title loans is bad for New Hampshire families, New Hampshire communities, and New Hampshire's economy. My colleague on the Commerce Committee is correct that we can't do anything about some of these loans, but I'm not sure when two wrongs made a right. 31 other states – including all of those in New England – banned them. And, the federal government... Legislation that was signed by George W. Bush in 2006 caps the interest rate on such loans to the military at 36 percent APR, which New Hampshire did in 2008. There is simply no reason – except for the desire of title loan companies who will profit at New Hampshire residents' expense – to reverse that position.

Here are the consequences of these types of loans, and they're quite incredible: A family that takes out a $500 loan against their car could pay over $1,000 over a maximum ten-month life of the loan. Companies could loan without any inquiry into the ability to pay, and would be allowed to make loans to people receiving welfare assistance. Failure to repay a loan could lead to seizure of a family car, which is often essential for family members to maintain employment, whether in the North Country or elsewhere. This cycle of debt is what is most concerning to me, and others, including the New Hampshire Local Welfare Administrators Association, New Hampshire Legal Assistance, AARP, the Banking Department, the Department of Justice, and what I noticed certainly during the session, many in the faith community, are all opposed. We shouldn't do something just because we can. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is, notwithstanding the Governor's Veto, shall SB 57 become law?

Governor Lynch's Veto Message Regarding SB 88

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on July 13, 2011, I vetoed SB 88, relative to physical force in defense of a person.

In 2006, I vetoed legislation with identical provisions because the New Hampshire Chiefs of Police, the New Hampshire Sheriffs Association, the New Hampshire State Police, representatives of over 40 local law enforcement departments and the former Attorney General warned it would jeopardize public safety. Many of those same organizations and the current Attorney General have asked me to veto this bill because it contains the identical provision governing the use of deadly force. This legislation would permit the use of deadly force anywhere a person has a right to be, even if the person could easily remove himself or herself from an encounter without exposing himself or herself, or anyone else, to danger.

SB 88, like the earlier bill, is a dramatic and unwarranted change in New Hampshire law that would legalize the inappropriate use of deadly force and jeopardize public safety.

"The current law governing the use of deadly force in self-defense establishes a careful balance between the right to use deadly force in self-defense on the one side, and the sanctity of human life and the safety of innocent members of the public, on the other," wrote the New Hampshire Association of Chiefs of Police and the New Hampshire Sheriffs Association. "SB 88 would dramatically alter that balance and increase the potential for deadly encounters erupting in public places."

There are times when deadly force may be the only alternative, and existing law already makes provisions for those cases. Existing New Hampshire law already allows citizens to stand their ground and use deadly force – in any location – to protect themselves or another person in response to another's use of deadly force or to prevent a kidnapping or sexual assault no matter where those offenses take place. Current law also allows citizens to use deadly force to protect themselves against an intruder in their own home, regardless of whether the intruder has used deadly force. And current law puts the burden on the state to disprove beyond reasonable doubt claims of self-defense in other cases.

SB 88 would unleash the potential for increasing deadly violence in our communities. It would allow the use of deadly force on street corners, in shopping malls, public parks, and in retail stores. Drug dealers and other felons who brandish weapons will be further emboldened to use their weapons, while prosecution of those criminals will be made more difficult because of this bill's expansion of the right to use deadly force.

Given that the current law is working well and is widely supported by law enforcement, I have vetoed SB 88.

SB 88 also contains changes to the state's criminal law on mandatory minimum sentences for offenses involving a firearm, as well as changes to the definition of "non-deadly force. I am prepared to sign these provisions into law if they are subsequently enacted in separate legislation.

Respectfully submitted,

John H. Lynch

Governor

July 13, 2011

(The Chair recognized Sen. Boutin.)

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise today in support of overriding the Governor's veto of the self defense/defense legislation known as Senate Bill 88.

I want to begin this by posing this question: What is our most basic fundamental human right? The answer is – and I think you will all agree – it is the right to self defense. It is the right to protect yourself and your loved ones from physical harm.

Currently, in New Hampshire's self defense statute, we have what is known as the Castle Doctrine. That says that within your home you have the right to defend yourself and your family from physical harm without a duty to retreat. However, unlike 31 other states, New Hampshire's self defense statute does not include the Stand Your Ground Doctrine. What is the Stand Your Ground Doctrine? The Stand Your Ground Doctrine says that you have the right to self defense of your family, yourself, against physical harm without a duty to retreat, wherever you may be.

Senate Bill 88 is a long overdue fix to this shortcoming in our state's self defense statute. It will permit self defense and it will eliminate the duty to retreat from wherever you have a right to be.

If we examine Chapter 627 a little more closely, which is our self defense statute, Part II says that you have a right to self defense. Then it goes on in Part III and it says: "Yeah, you've got a right to self defense, but before you exercise that right, you need to think about retreating first." And, I would suggest to my fellow Senators that no one in making a split-second decision should have to choose between going to jail or facing serious physical harm.

SB 88 is a well thought out, vetted measure that won large support in both chambers of this Legislature. It enjoys wide public support because the public understands that their fundamental right of self defense is limited and they want that limit lifted.

I ask you to please join me today in voting to override the Governor's veto of SB 88, and instead give our law-abiding citizens a stronger self defense statute: a right to self defense of themselves and their loved ones against physical harm from attackers wherever they may be. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde.)

SENATOR HOUE: Thank you, Mister President. Senator Boutin talked about what the bill does, and I can't add a lot to that. I just think it stops short, which is current law allows a person to use deadly force in self defense without a duty to retreat if they can do so in complete safety. So, that split-second decision that we talked about, one doesn't have to sit there and ponder and say: "Gee, I wonder if I can get out of this situation safely now." If they have to think about it then they're not in complete safety in using the duty to retreat, and so they'll be justified in using deadly force in self defense. I think it's a solution in search of a problem that we just don't have, and what it does is it creates an imbalance between public safety on the one hand, so that when a person has a right to use self defense in any place they can be, in any public place – a mall, shopping center, whatever – there's no consideration for the danger to others in that situation. And, I think any reasonable person in the State of New Hampshire would say: "Yeah, we should have a balance between public safety on the one hand and the right to self defense on the other." And, I think current law strikes that balance and Senate Bill 88 would throw it out of kilter.

I would remind people that the State has to disprove claims of self defense; there is a presumption that the self defense was warranted. I'm not aware of any cases that the State has tried to do so or been successful in doing so. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise and ask my colleagues, my brothers and sisters in the Senate, to sustain the Governor's veto on Senate Bill 88.

Let me begin my remarks by saying these things: We live in the safest state in the United States. We live in the healthiest state in the United States. We live in a state that is known around this nation as the best place to raise your children. I raised all of my children in the State of New Hampshire. I have nine grandchildren who we are raising in the State of New Hampshire. I feel very comfortable with the existing statute here in the State of New Hampshire.

I live in the most volatile area in the State of New Hampshire: I live in the City of Manchester. We have 10 percent of the population of this state within the confines of our city. Do we have abhorrent behavior in our city? Absolutely. Yet, our police chief, Chief Mara, is on record as not only being opposed to this bill, but saying without hesitation that what we are doing in The Queen City is the right thing, and we're doing it well. My police chief in Goffstown, Chief Sullivan: again, opposed to this legislation. What's happening in his town is good for his citizens; it's good for the State of New Hampshire. What we are looking for is a problem that doesn't exist.

And, we talk about all of these other states that have introduced this extension of the Castle Doctrine. Representative Shurtleff, who was a law enforcement official, writes in an editorial in the Concord Monitor today:

"Florida was one of the first states to experiment with the "standing your ground" concept with a law passed in 2005. A 2009 analysis by the St. Petersburg Times studied the impact of the Florida law and found that after averaging 34 homicides a year from 2000 to 2006, the number tripled to 100 a year from 2007 to 2009."

We must have the ultimate respect for our law enforcement community. They risk their lives every day for us. They're out in the streets every day protecting us. And, there isn't any one of them that asks us if we want them to be there. They're there because it's a public service; they are public servants. And, they have families. And, one of them was murdered in my District. So, I can tell you that the people of my community, the law enforcement members of my community, are out there every day protecting the lives and property of everyone who lives in that jurisdiction. And, I might say that statement is true of every law enforcement official in this state. And, we're all supported by these law enforcement officials. We all live in communities, we live in towns, we live in cities; we have police officers, we have firemen, protecting us all the time, asking them: your life is out there; your life is the one that's at risk on a continual basis, and you are defending us. And, what do they say about this bill? They say this bill gives more juice to the criminal than it does to the defender. Now, these are the law enforcement people that we support! We support them. There isn't anybody in this body who I think would have a negative thing to say about their law enforcement community. Our local police, our state police, our sheriffs, in unison, in unity, they have all come out against this piece of legislation. When have we ever seen unity like this against any one piece of legislation? That manifestation is rare – very rare in our state, if not very rare in our country. But, they're all speaking out in unison.

We all are here to do what we think is the right thing. I have great respect for every person in this body. And, you will do what you think is the right thing to do; I'm sure of that, regardless of how you vote. But, what I'm saying to you is this: It's your life, it's the life of your child, it's the life of your wife, it's the life of your family that's being protected on a daily basis. We're celebrating the sacrifice made by police and fire in the 9/11 situation. Ten years ago, those people had no inhibition at all about going into a building to defend the lives of the people they are sworn to protect, knowing full well that many of those people would not come out alive. Yet, they were there – they were there. Our public servants: our police officers, our firemen, others who gave their lives made that sacrifice. It seems to me that when our people who we ask to defend us ask us – ask us! – plead with us not to pass this legislation, we should listen. You know, being a good listener isn't a bad thing – it's not a bad thing. So, let's listen to the men and women who put a uniform on every day and whose basic responsibility is to protect us: to protect you, to protect me, to protect my family, to protect your families, and, if need be, to lay down their life for you. Think about that. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White for a question of Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Senator D'Allesandro. I'd just ask you a question based on this statement from the New Hampshire Constitution: "All persons have the right to keep and bear arms in defense of themselves, their families, their property, and the state." Do you believe in that statement?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: I certainly believe in the Constitution of the State of New Hampshire.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White for a follow-up question of Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR WHITE: Do you believe that the last part of that statement that says: "...bear arms in defense of themselves" pertains to people when they are outside of their home or their own property?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Well, thank you for the question, Senator White. I'm not a constitutional scholar. But, I think that what we have in place in terms of the laws that are a manifestation of the Constitution, because they haven't been questioned as being unconstitutional, are clearly representative of that statement.

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise today to clarify the issue as I see it addressed in SB 88. Like many of you, I am sure, I have been in communication with my constituents in my District. And, I've realized that there is a lot of confusion regarding this legislation. And so, I would like an opportunity to clear up what I think is the important issue, and that is that this legislation is not a gun law, but a law regarding an individual's conduct. It is important to recognize that SB 88 does not change New Hampshire's laws regarding an individual's right to carry or own a gun. What this legislation does do is it changes the behavior that will be acceptable and legal for individuals who do carry a gun.

My concern about the outcome of this legislation is that it will put the safety of the public at an unreasonable and an unnecessary harm. Extending the use of deadly force to conduct addressed in SB 88 will now create situations where I believe innocent individuals and the public safety are at risk for imminent harm. Again, remember, SB 88 does not change an individual's right to own or to carry a gun. Current law, the law that is in place today in New Hampshire, balances the right of the individual to bear arms and our responsibility to public safety. As Senator Houde just said, our current law states that deadly force is justified to defend yourself in your own home, and it is also justified in many other situations if you cannot retreat in complete safety. It is also important to remember, as Senator D'Allesandro mentioned, that New Hampshire is the safest state in our nation, and I would think that we would want it to remain the same.

SB 88 will now create situations where I believe innocent individuals and public safety are truly at risk. SB 88 does not change an individual's right to own or carry a gun. For these reasons, I stand with Governor Lynch, New Hampshire's Attorney General, our local and state police, and vote to sustain the Governor's veto of SB 88. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I want to read one sentence out of the code as it stands right now, RSA 627:4, III: "A person is not justified in using deadly force on another to defend himself...or a third person from deadly force by the other if he...knows that he...and the third person can with complete safety retreat from the encounter."

If you saw the Union Leader today, the B section, top story: Here's an individual who did exactly that: attempted to retreat and was shot. "Man shot in ankle while fleeing two robbers." So, this individual is trying to fulfill, in essence, what the code is saying right now: to retreat from the encounter. What SB 88 does is it balances that out, and that's why I support this bill. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. De Blois.)

SENATOR DE BLOIS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of overturning the Governor's veto. This self defense bill really affirms our Second Amendment right to keep and bear arms. It's important, because budgets are being cut; in the City of Manchester, police officers are getting laid off. And, this bill allows the average citizen to take responsibility for his own safety. In Manchester, we have shootings a few times a year. In most of those shootings, the victims are unarmed. And, it's great to have the police protect us, and they do a fabulous job of doing that. But, when you're shot and you're laying in the street, the police are there to investigate why it happened, not to stop it. This bill takes the responsibility, allows you to protect yourself. I think it's a good bill; I think we ought to pass it, and I hope we do. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to support the sustaining vote – to vote no on this bill. We heard that, in fact, an argument that this somehow restores balance, and I would remind you that the New Hampshire Chiefs of Police and the New Hampshire Sheriffs Association wrote to us and to the public through an op ed that under current law governing the use of deadly force in self defense, the current law establishes a careful balance between the right to use deadly force in self defense on one side and the sanctity of human life and safety of innocent members of the public. They argue that Senate Bill 88 would dramatically alter that balance and increase the potential for deadly encounters erupting in public places.

We saw in another op ed a 2009 study: St. Petersburg Times studied the impact of Florida's law – Florida passed this in 2005 – and they found under this new law that after previously averaging 34 justifiable homicides between 2000 and 2006, the number tripled to 100 – 100 homicides from 2007 to 2009 in Florida. The Florida study highlighted diverse situations which homicides were justified under the law as it afforded individuals criminal immunity by simply saying they felt threatened: a gang shootout, an argument on a basketball court, and an argument over garbage bags in a hallway, all resulted in justifiable homicides or attempted homicides under the Florida Stand Your Ground Law.

The Police and Sheriffs went on to write to us that this more permissive standard would apply to anywhere a person has a right to be. Here in New Hampshire, that's any public place, such as a grocery store, a mall, a school, an airport, or a roadway. Senate Bill 88 would permit the use of deadly force in self defense in those places, even if the person could easily remove themselves from the situation. They write that, in fact, right now, under current law, the State must disprove the claim of self defense, and there is a presumption that the claim of self defense is valid, and the State must prove otherwise under current law. The Police and Sheriffs argue Senate Bill 88 is not a gun bill, nor is it a self defense/gun issue. So, they – our own law enforcement officials – argue they are not aware of any problems with our current law. The use of deadly force in self defense should be justified under the law only in those situations where there is no reasonable alternative.

New Hampshire is the safest state in the nation. Why would we pass this dangerous bill? I urge you to vote no and to sustain this veto.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White for a question of Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. Senator Larsen, do you believe that if a person produces or displays a gun, a knife, or any deadly weapon that they have committed assault with a deadly weapon?

SENATOR LARSEN: When you say "produce", are you saying brandish?

SENATOR WHITE: Yes.

SENATOR LARSEN: I believe that that would be heard in a court of law and it would be decided in a court of law under the fairness of our system whether in fact that person was threatened, whether they felt threatened, whether they were defending themselves against criminal threatening. So, I think it's really on an individual basis and that that would be answered in a court of law, where I think it's proper.

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. I'd like to just take a minute to walk all 24 of us through the one page that represents RSA 627:4, talk about what is proposing to be changed – which I would argue is rather narrow – and what isn't being changed, because I think what isn't being changed, which is when deadly force is justified, is critical to this debate.

If you look at the current statute that is not proposed to be changed – when deadly force can be used is today extremely narrow, and it will continue to be extremely narrow tomorrow. There are four items that would justify use of deadly force: First of all, you must reasonably believe – and, that's a legal standard – that unlawful deadly force is about to be used against you – unlawful deadly force is about to be used against you. We are not changing that standard.

The second criteria is that any unlawful force – not unlawful deadly force, but unlawful force – against a person while a burglary is being attempted. That's the current law; that will continue to be the current law.

The third is if there is an attempted kidnapping or forcible sexual offense. Current law, will stay under Senate Bill 88. Or, if there is likely to be unlawful force in the commission of a felony against the person within his or her dwelling and/or its curtilage: area surrounding the dwelling. None of that is changed, which is why I would argue that this law, though emotional, that this proposed law, though widely debated, is very narrow in its focus. It just changes the duty to retreat. And, if you go further down in the legislation, that's where it is. No longer will you have to look around, see what your opportunities for retreat are when confronted with one of life's most desperate circumstances which, while we're one of the safest states in the nation, happens from time to time, as Senator Luther talked about a gentleman this morning.

I'd like to touch a little bit on Florida, because Florida has been raised, in particular by those that are articulating opposition to this bill. And, while it is true that the number of justifiable homicides increased, I think it's also important to dig a little bit deeper into the crime statistics in Florida. We all remember last year was an election year: Governor Charlie Crist touted the fact that Florida, in 2009 – and, this is when he was running for the United States Senate – had set a 39-year crime low. Now, it's not all because Florida's a Stand Your Ground state – certainly not. But, when the public has an opportunity to defend themselves, that minimizes the likelihood of crime. Some of those statistics are pretty interesting. A 39-year crime low – what does it mean? 60,000 fewer crimes: vehicle theft down 21 percent; robberies down 15 percent; murders down 13 percent; aggravated assaults down 8.4 percent. So, when one looks at Florida, which is the first state in the nation to have Stand-Your-Ground legislation, I believe one must look at the entire picture, which not only are there justifiable homicides, but the significant decrease in overall crime.

There's been talk about: Have we adequately listened to those that are in opposition to the bill? Well, interestingly enough, the Governor paid a visit to me this morning. I told him, as I've said all along, if there are issues with this bill that make its implementation difficult to prosecute criminals, I'm all ears as to how we can fix it. I was ears when this bill was first introduced, through the entire process, today on the floor, and in the future. And, I suspect that all 24 of us are, because each and every one of us in this chamber salutes the work that our law enforcement personnel do, our firefighters do, all our public safety officials do, our troops that just returned home from serving overseas and the National Guard do, and every man and woman that has served this country so admirably for so many generations.

What I think it comes down to is this: It's a narrow change that in those most desperate of circumstances when your life's on the line, when the life of one of your loved ones are on the line, and there is a real threat, do you have to think about the consequences after the fact of being second-guessed when you've defended yourself? People have compared this, again, to Florida. The Florida law is much more aggressive, if you will, than the New Hampshire law: A perceived threat can be utilized to call for justifiable homicide. But again, we go back to the law that did not change under Senate Bill 88. There must be a real threat that a person reasonably believes is deadly force to be used against him or her: a robbery, a kidnapping, a sexual assault, or a felony on one's property – none of that has changed. And, that's why I would urge my colleagues to continue to make sure that New Hampshire is the safest state by making sure that in the world where a law enforcement officer is not always present in a life-threatening situation, that people have the ability to defend themselves. I urge a yes vote and override the veto. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Senator Bradley, we heard from the Chiefs of Police and the Sheriffs that in fact they are not aware of any problems with the current law. We also know that no one in New Hampshire has ever been prosecuted for using deadly force instead of fleeing a perceived threat. So, what is the problem we are attempting to solve?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Senator Larsen, I am aware of that; I've had those same conversations with law enforcement personnel. But, I also know, and I think you know, of a constituent of mine who was charged under a different statute for brandishing and the turmoil that ended up for that gentleman, that can happen when these situations get out of control. This is something that when people are threatened – and, increasingly we see this in this uncertain world, even in the safest state in the nation – that people are threatened. The story that our friend from Nashua outlined today: Are we forcing them to be second-guessed after the fact in a situation like Senator Luther outlined? That's the possibility here.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen for a follow-up question of Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I am not convinced that the issue of brandishing a weapon relates to this. You would have to convince me that brandishing a weapon is the same as standing your ground.

SENATOR BRADLEY: It is a different section of the law, a different statute, fixed by this bill, by Senate Bill 88, I would add, and an example of what can happen.

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you.

The question is, notwithstanding the Governor's Veto, shall SB 88 become law?

A roll call is required.

Governor Lynch's Veto Message Regarding SB 91

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on July 13, 2011, I vetoed SB 91, an act relative to residential fire sprinklers.

SB 91 prohibits local governing bodies from requiring the installation of a fire suppression sprinkler system in proposed one or two-family residences as a condition of approval for a local permit. While it preserves existing local ordinances requiring automatic sprinkler systems in the communities that have adopted such ordinances, it would eliminate enforcement of any existing ordinance that requires sprinklers in manufactured housing units that are situated in a manufactured housing park.

The State Fire Marshal and numerous local fire departments across the State believe that local officials should continue to have the ability to require automatic sprinkler systems as an option when evaluating new residential construction.

This bill will limit the choices available to communities in meeting local fire control requirements. Instead of providing a range of options, communities will now have to revert to requiring what may be more costly options: fire ponds, cisterns, wider road widths, increasing the size of building lots and increasing the size of distance between buildings.

The decision of whether or not to require automatic sprinkler systems for new or renovated residential development has been, and should remain, a local one. The State should not preempt local decision-making. That is why I vetoed HB 109, a related bill that prohibits local planning boards from adopting regulations requiring sprinklers for one and two family homes in new subdivisions. SB 91, like HB 109, will remove local control over an important issue.

For these reasons, I am vetoing SB 91.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch
Governor

Date: July 13, 2011

(The Chair recognized Sen. Boutin.)

SENATOR BOUTIN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of overriding the Governor's veto on Senate Bill 91, having to do with prohibiting the requirement for sprinklers.

I'll begin by saying this is contained in House Bill 109, which has already debated in the House and Senate, was overridden in the past, and that had to do with restricting planning boards from requiring sprinklers in their subdivision process. Senate Bill 91 is a little bit different, in that it has to do with giving communities that authority. So, let me just take a moment and say why I think this is a bad idea and it would be a bad idea to sustain the veto.

First of all, for some period of time now, we've had our unemployment at nine percent. Our economy is in the doldrums. That sector of the economy that is hurting the worst – hurting the worst – is the housing sector. Getting financing is a difficult problem. And so, why on earth would we, at this time, in this most difficult economic time in our state and as well across the nation, would we want to add new regulations? I mean, even Washington – unheard of! – Washington is starting to repeal regulations. Why in New Hampshire do we want to have new regulations that would cost homeowners large dollars – significant dollars?

Additionally, what Senate Bill 91 does is addresses manufactured housing parks. And, it would be a significant hardship to require title proved manufactured housing coming into our state having to be ripped apart, install sprinklers, and then put back together, only driving up the cost of housing for those people who can least afford that extra cost.

So, I urge my members to join me today in overriding the Governor's veto of Senate Bill 91 and give our homeowners and prospective homeowners the relief that they so badly need. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the Governor's veto of SB 91. First, I want to say that I certainly understand and share concerns that have come up about the potential cost of fire sprinklers and what that may add to the cost of housing, especially for our lower and middle class citizens. I believe that in the Senate we've demonstrated a commitment to workforce housing, including just this session, when we rejected a bill that would have repealed major workforce housing legislation that we passed just a few years ago.

With that said, I think that Senate Bill 91 goes too far in tying the hands of our local officials in making decisions about what they know makes sense for their own communities, both in terms of public safety and cost, for in fact it's possible that in some cases, alternative fire control measures may end up being as or more expensive than sprinklers. I have faith in my municipal and my fire officials to make responsible and reasonable decisions.

I think that SB 91 is an unnecessary encroachment on local control, and for that reason I will vote to sustain the Governor's veto. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Merrill.)

SENATOR BARNES: Senator Merrill, you ended up with two words that are very dear to my heart: local control. Isn't local control also that people who own those homes make those decisions, whether they want them or not? Isn't that part of local control? That's the way I look at it.

SENATOR MERRILL: Certainly that's a level of control that we enjoy. But, I think we have also seen that it's appropriate to invest decision-making in our local officials on a number of fronts, and I believe that this is one that's appropriate at that level as opposed to, in this case, at the state level, as is being proposed.

SENATOR BARNES: Thank you, Senator Merrill.

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Senator Barnes.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I have, over the years, as some of you might know, worked long and hard on workforce housing issues. And, we did succeed in – thank goodness – with everyone's cooperation, we succeeded in protecting many of those new changes that will hopefully open doors to workforce housing and more affordable housing and, in fact, construction jobs. I live in a city that in fact has an ordinance that allows for scattered-type developments for a residential area to go on the limits of the city where there's no fire hydrant nearby, no public water. But, my city has chosen to allow that development. But, to keep those people safe, they've been able to say: "You as a developer, you as a potential home-buyer can locate out there, but we can't guarantee public water to you, sprinklers to you." So, in fact, the way Concord addressed this was to say if you're going to have a scattered-type development in that scenario then you might be asked to put in sprinklers into that area. And, the people who choose to live so far from public water sources understand that when they buy. In the same way, I think, manufactured housing is sometimes located on the outskirts of town and the difficulty of our fire department in a city that's the size of Concord – 260 square miles – it's difficult for our fire department to cover all that. So, our city chose to pass a local ordinance. Our city, under this law, would be grandfathered. But, there are communities across this state that may choose to do a similar thing, to allow a developer to go into a very rural area and to locate housing there, and it might be the perfect setting for someone in a private home. But, this bill goes too far, I'm afraid, in that it says that that kind of an arrangement cannot be made. What I wonder is, don't you not only lose local control, but do you not also lose your ability as a taxpayer to not have to service someone who's chosen to live so far out of town that your fire department cannot protect them as might be expected, that your water system might be required to be moved out that far because there are too many houses out there now. So, as taxpayers, you are in fact supporting other people's choices to live in rural communities in rural locations.

So, my consideration on this is that I think it goes too far and that there may be some middle ground somewhere. But, I do not believe that this is reasonable to limit local control in this way, and in fact I think we need to sustain this and keep working on the issue. So, thank you, Mister President.

Sen. Prescott asserts Rule 2-15 on SB 91.

Governor's Veto Message Regarding SB 129

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on June 27, 2011, I vetoed SB 129.

The right to vote is a fundamental right that is guaranteed to all citizens of this State under the United States and New Hampshire Constitutions. An eligible voter who goes to the polls to vote on Election Day should be able to have his or her vote count on Election Day. SB 129 creates a real risk that New Hampshire voters will be denied their right to vote.

Voter turnout in New Hampshire is among the highest in the nation, election after election. There is no voter fraud problem in New Hampshire. We already have strong elections laws that are effective in regulating our elections.

SB 129 requires a voter to present photo identification in order to cast a ballot in any municipal, state or federal election in New Hampshire. The photo identification must be one that is issued by the United States government or the State of New Hampshire, or a driver's license from another state. Without that type of photo identification, the voter can only cast a "provisional" ballot, requiring the voter to return to their city or town clerk's office no later than 2 ½ days after the election with a valid photo ID, a waiver from the Secretary of State, or an affidavit of religious exemption.

Seniors, students, those who are disabled or do not drive, and those who do not already have a state-issued or federal-issued photo ID, may not be able to arrange to obtain a valid photo ID within the tight 2 ½ day timeframe. Many town offices are closed or have only limited hours on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, when those voters who received a provisional ballot would be expected to return to produce a photo ID and have their vote counted. Voters in areas of the state where DMV offices have been consolidated will also be disadvantaged. Traveling to Concord or Manchester is not an option for everyone. These circumstances will present real hardships, especially for our seniors and disabled voters.

The New Hampshire City and Town Clerks Association, AARP, the League of Women Voters, and the Secretary of State have all opposed provisions of this bill. The bill's provisions for the length of time to produce a valid photo ID after an election and the types of photo IDs allowed are among the most restrictive voter identification provisions in the nation despite any evidence that current law is insufficient protection against voter fraud.

If SB 129 were to take effect, New Hampshire would have a different and more lenient standard to register to vote than to cast a vote. Under current law, a person registering to vote prior to Election Day can execute an affidavit and does not need to produce a photo ID. When a voter chooses to use a photo ID to register, he or she may use any photo ID deemed to be legitimate by the local official, not just a State of New Hampshire or US Government issued ID.

But SB 129 goes even further and actually discriminates between state and federal workers on one hand and municipal and private employees on the other. Under SB 129, a State Trooper can use his or her state photo ID to vote, but a municipal police officer cannot use his or her municipal issued photo ID. State employees can use their agency-issued photo ID's to vote, but employees at private companies may not use their company-issued photo IDs. SB 129 would also allow a person to use a Massachusetts or Maine driver's license as a valid photo ID to vote, even though a municipal photo ID issued by Raymond or Londonderry would not be a valid photo ID. Creating a two-tiered system of photo IDs for registering and voting makes no sense. It will only cause confusion and frustration at the polls that is bound to result in preventing some voters from casting their vote on Election Day.

There is also no provision made in SB 129 to guarantee the confidentiality of those that cast a provisional ballot. Unlike current election law, which protects from public disclosure the names of those persons who request and cast an absentee ballot during the election process, there is no comparable provision guaranteeing confidentiality to those who are issued and cast a provisional ballot. Ballot secrecy is fundamental to our voting system, and SB 129 fails to preserve ballot secrecy for all voters.

The provisional ballot provision of SB 129 may also impact the State's responsibility to conclude its state primary elections in a timeframe that will allow the general election ballots to be prepared and sent to military and other overseas voters in compliance with federal law. Many of the states that have adopted the use of provisional ballots with photo ID have primaries in the spring or early summer months, much earlier than New Hampshire's state primary. There is also a risk that challenges to election results over the validity of provisional ballots will impact the Secretary of State's ability to meet federal requirements for supplying general election ballots to overseas voters.

For all these reasons, I am vetoing SB 129.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch
Governor

Date: June 27, 2011

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I rise today to ask my colleagues to support a veto override of Senate Bill 129. Senate Bill 129 requires that any person seeking to vote in a New Hampshire election produce a photo identification card. This is not the first time that we've seen a bill dealing with the requirement of a photo identification card to vote in the State of New Hampshire. Back in 2007, both the House and the Senate passed a version of a photo ID bill, only to have it vetoed by the same Governor for a very similar reason.

The world that we live in today moves very fast, and it's gotten a lot faster since 2007. The carrying of a photo identification and the requirement of using a photo identification card has rapidly escalated. You can't cash a check, you can't buy certain cold medicines, you can't check baggage at an airport without one, and you can't send a package from FedEx without some sort of a photo identification card, which says you are who you say you are.

Currently, 30 states require some form of identification to vote, and in a 2010 Rasmussen poll, it showed that 82 percent of Americans support some sort of a photo identification law. Furthermore, as a response to the overwhelming public support, voter identification has been considered in 17 of 20 states that currently do not have a requirement over the past year. New Hampshire is the only state that allows same-day registration but does not require a photo ID and does not employ provisional ballots, a combination that makes our process ripe for fraud and magnifies the importance of voter ID reform.

What I'd like to do is to address some of the concerns that have been voiced about this bill. First, that there's no voter fraud problem here in the State of New Hampshire, so we don't need this bill. Although successful prosecutions of voter fraud are rare, there are hundreds of allegations of suspicious or fraudulent voting every two years. Unfortunately, because states without voter ID laws lack any sort of reliable paper trail, it is nearly impossible to properly investigate possible election fraud after the fact.

Secondly, too many people lack the necessary identification and it's too difficult for them to acquire. In a recent American University survey of registered voters in three states – Indiana, Maryland, and Mississippi – found that only 1.2 percent of respondents lacked a government-issued photo ID. Moreover, of those surveyed, less than 0.5 percent had neither an ID nor the proper documents necessary to obtain one.

In a recent case, Crawford v. Marion County Election Board, the Supreme Court ruled that if identification cards are free, as they would be in New Hampshire under this bill, the inconvenience of going to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, gathering required documents, and posing for a photograph does not qualify as a substantial burden on voters' rights to vote or represent a significant increase over the usual burdens of voting. Again, it's important to point out in this bill, if you do not have any kind of photo identification, you can go to the clerk and they will give you a voucher where you can go to any motor vehicle division office in the State of New Hampshire and get a non-driver's license photo ID for nothing. This is being paid for out of our existing Helping America Vote Act fund.

The New Hampshire voter ID law would not go into effect until November 2012 general elections, giving residents without proper identification over a year to take the necessary steps to obtain one.

Another problem that people have spoken about is that voter ID laws stifle voter turnout. The first voter ID laws were enacted in 2003, following the passage of the Helping America Vote Act, and since then, 30 states have adopted some form of identification requirement. Over that time, and despite many attempts, studies have failed to find a sustained link between reduced turnout and voter ID requirements.

Another complaint is town clerks and moderators will not be able to implement the law. Although the Election Day process will change slightly, local officials will have three elections to work out the best practices for implementing the law before it becomes effective in November 2012. Working with the Secretary of State, there is little doubt town officials can take the steps necessary to protect our democratic process. If problems arise, legislators will have sufficient time to adopt any necessary fixes.

Finally, provisional ballots will disrupt the recount process in New Hampshire. Due to the number of races on the ballot each year, New Hampshire has more recounts after every election than any other state. While the use of provisional ballots will add another layer to that recount process, it is doubtful the number of ballots will overwhelm the system as some have predicted. Furthermore, statutory or rulemaking language adjusting existing recount deadlines by a day or two should provide the additional time necessary to ensure all properly cast ballots are counted.

Ladies and gentlemen, it's time. It is time that we pass a voter ID law. The people of New Hampshire are asking for one. This is a right step in the right direction to provide that for us. It speaks to the integrity of our election process, and it ensures that our process remains clean and without fraud. So, again, today I ask you to please vote with me to override the veto on Senate Bill 129. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in support of the Governor's veto. As you know, Mister President, I was a civics teacher. And, one of the things that I emphasized in all of my classes was voting. In 1964-1965 in the United States of America, we passed two very fundamental pieces of legislation: One piece was called the Voting Rights Act – the Voting Rights Act – because people were denied the right to vote. We had a head and poll tax, which meant you had to pay a fee or you couldn't vote – pay a fee! – or you couldn't vote. Thank of that. 1964, '65 is not that far away. The Voting Rights Act: to allow more people to participate in the process. In New Hampshire, the beautiful State of New Hampshire, which I adore, you had to, in some of our little towns, produce a passport in order to register to vote. What percentage of people in the United States of America have a passport? 20 percent; 20 percent have a passport. But, we got rid of that; we got rid of that in New Hampshire. And, guess what? We even have unified polling hours in New Hampshire, because in the old days the polls used to open at 11 and close at 5. So, if you were working, guess what? You didn't vote! You didn't vote. We have an election process in this state that's as good as any in the nation – any in the nation. We encourage voter participation. We have same-day registration; it's a very significant issue. Why's it such a significant issue? Because of the transient nature of the population. You know, if a kid starts in grammar school in Manchester, on the west side of Manchester, 30 percent of those kids won't be in that same school at the end of the year; they'll be on the other side of the river or they'll be out of town. We should be doing everything we can to induce people to participate in this magnificent process. You know, many of our brothers and sisters have given their lives to sustain this process, to make this process open to everyone – open to everyone – in the most accessible fashion.

Now, some of us talk about this provisional ballot, where you've got three days to come back and get it checked out. Come on. We don't need provisional ballots – we don't need provisional ballots. We need good election poll activity, and we have that. The Secretary of State, the League of Women Voters, the city and town clerks all oppose this piece of legislation – they all oppose this piece of legislation! Again, we're trying to solve a problem that we don't have. We're coming up with all kinds of solutions we don't have problems for! Let's put all of these solutions in a bank, call it the solution bank, and every time we have a problem, we'll go and pull that answer out! Now, come on. Voting is a constitutional right; it's a privilege in a democracy. We do it well in New Hampshire. And, I might say, Mister President, the Secretary of State was my student in civics when he was in the ninth grade! And, he's the longest serving Secretary of State in the United States of America. And, he is noted for quality election work – called upon all over the country to give his enunciation on how to run a good election. We run the best elections. I mean, look at the quality that we have here: all elected! All elected! How can we fight that issue? Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Prescott.)

SENATOR PRESCOTT: Thank you very much, Mister President. I rise in thanks of Governor Lynch for vetoing Senate Bill 129, basically because of the provisional ballot measure. I am certainly in favor of photo IDs. You go to the polls, and if you have the luxury of being able to go with your children to register them to vote, and you find that people are asked for a photo ID. And, it shouldn't be any more stringent than that to vote, and that's just exactly what the provisional ballot measure does. It makes it more difficult to vote if this bill passes than it does to register to vote. So, I rise and say thank you very much, Governor Lynch. And, I plan on bringing forward legislation this fall to bring forward a position of voter ID that does just that: makes it just as easy to vote as it does to register to vote. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of Governor Lynch's veto of SB 129. If the premise of this legislation is to address a problem of New Hampshire voter fraud, and if the Secretary of State and the city and town clerks clearly state that there is no history of voter fraud, then there is no basis for this legislation, and therefore New Hampshire current law that protects an individual's right to vote should not be changed. If the premise of SB 129 is based on a fear of future unsubstantiated voter fraud and the passage of this law results in placing additional burdens on voters with the potential for voter discrimination and even a possibility of limiting an individual's right to vote, this legislation is not only far-reaching, but unnecessary. Therefore, I stand with the rights of our voters and will vote to sustain the Governor's veto. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Thank you, Mister President. This has been a tough bill for me. I will first of all state as I stated the first time this bill came through the Senate: I unequivocally support voter ID. I do think that it's important to the integrity of the process to have voter ID, that a person proves they are who they say they are. To Senator D'Allesandro's point, he talked about how sacred the vote is and that we need to encourage people to vote. I would submit to you that one of the best ways you can encourage a person to vote is to assure them of the integrity of the process; otherwise they're frustrated and they don't vote.

On the other hand, we had a bill that allowed people to cast their vote on the day they vote; we had what I thought was a pretty good bill. I believe the House felt differently, because one of the things they saw as a flaw in our bill was that if a fraudulent ballot is cast, there is no way to retrieve it. And so, yes, you have a photo of the person who cast that fraudulent ballot, yes, you have the affidavit, but the ballot's in the box. And so, they didn't like that provision, and they sought to solve it another way. The Chairman of the committee that sent the bill back to us asked me this morning: "I know the bill has some problems; I know the bill has some flaws. Could you just pass it, and I promise you I've already got fixes ready to go; I know there's some issues." But, that presents a dilemma for us. We try to pass good legislation here and we try to be thoughtful.

I was interviewed by a reporter about a week ago about what was going on with SB 129. And, they asked me, first of all: "Well, is it a partisan issue?" I said: "There's nothing in the Senate that's not a partisan issue. That's a foolish question." But, then they asked me: "Well, do you think that people are voting the party line or being guided by their natural constituencies and that's why this has been so cantankerous?" I said: "No, I believe that the reason that this has been so cantankerous is because 24 Senators really, really care about the election process, really care about the first-in-the-nation Primary, really care about voting." Now, we have some differences of opinion about the mechanics of that. But, I don't think in New Hampshire the sacredness of voting, the principle of one person, one vote...I don't call into question anybody's motives about that here – nobody. I think that's to your point, Senator D'Allesandro. By the way, was your point that you were such a good civics teacher that you have the longest serving Secretary of State, or...Is that what it was?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: I was the best civics teacher!

SENATOR WHITE: I appreciate you clarifying that.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: I wanted to clarify that specifically for you.

SENATOR WHITE: But, I think that the bill does have some flaws, and even the Chairman of the House committee that I spoke to this morning...because he asked me where I was on this, and I said I was still undecided at that hour in the morning, believe it or not, because, again, I unequivocally believe in the principle of voter ID and the accordance of it to assure the public of the integrity of the process. But, I have concerns about the flaws of the bill. So, I guess I'd say to everybody, as you vote your conscience today: This is somewhat of a Hobson's Choice because there are some issues, and it's a tough vote, and...It's just a tough vote.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. Well, I'd like to thank Senator White; he took a lot of my thunder, so this will be hopefully relatively short.

I agree with my colleague from Manchester that we should be doing everything we can to protect an individual's right to vote. We have made great strides forward over the history of our country in ensuring that everyone has the right to vote. I see this bill as another step in that progress moving forward. What we are ensuring is that you are who you say you are. We live in a time, in an age where identity fraud is rampant. We keep hearing over and over again about individuals who've had their identity stolen and all the problems they have run into because of that. Why is it so difficult to ask someone to please produce an identification card with their photo so we can make sure you are who you say you are?

We've heard some discussion today that there's some problems with this bill. I'm not sure about that. I went back and I read the bill, and I've, again, read a lot of the criticisms of the bill, and I believe a lot of that is addressed already into the bill. But, I am dedicated to getting a voter ID bill passed in the State of New Hampshire, and I will be working with our clerks who came forward with the comments to ensure that we can pass one, and I will be bringing in a bill. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a question of Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. Thank you, Senator Carson. I just had a question for clarification. My understanding – and I'm looking at page three of the bill, Section 659:13-II, (c): "The identification was issued by the United States or the state of New Hampshire, or is a valid state driver's license." So, when you say – there is a question, Mister President. When you say that it's not asking too much to present a photo ID, it's not really any photo ID, is it though? Because a private institution that is in the State of New Hampshire couldn't issue a valid ID for voting purposes.

SENATOR CARSON: Correct; it has to be a State or government-issued ID. (The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a follow-up question of Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR HOUDE: So, what's the justification for University of New Hampshire being able to issue an ID that students can vote with but not Dartmouth College?

SENATOR CARSON: As we know, Dartmouth is a private college; it is not a State-run college. So, any identification card that's issued by a university would meet that standard of being a State of New Hampshire-issued ID; it's coming from a State institution.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a follow-up question of Sen. Carson.)

SENATOR HOUDE: If I may, Senator. I appreciate the answer to that question, but I don't understand the justification for that.

SENATOR CARSON: I can't answer that question. I really didn't see a problem with that because it was specified through the House that they wanted some sort of governmental or State-issued identification card. And so, that would cover our state universities but not the private institutions.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you.

SENATOR CARSON: You're welcome.

The question is, notwithstanding the Governor's Veto, shall SB 129 become law?

Governor Lynch's Veto Message Regarding SB 154

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on July 6, 2011, I vetoed SB154, repealing New Hampshire's participation in the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative.

RGGI was created as a bipartisan initiative in New Hampshire, and across the Northeast, to address shared economic and environmental concerns. Here in New Hampshire, Republicans, Democrats and Independents worked together to develop a two-part strategy: help families and businesses reduce their energy use through RGGI and increase our supplies of homegrown renewable energy through the Renewable Portfolio Standard.

I am vetoing this legislation because it will cost our citizens jobs, both now and into the future, hinder our economic recovery, and damage our state's long-term economic competitiveness.

According to an independent assessment of the program conducted by the University of New Hampshire, the cumulative impact of the initiative through the end of 2010 has been a net benefit of over $16 million in allowance revenue. These are funds that have been invested directly in helping New Hampshire families, businesses and local governments become more energy efficient, reduce costs, and create jobs.

This bill would have ended those energy efficiency efforts – eliminating jobs today and eliminating efforts to help businesses and families cut their energy use. Given that energy is a major cost factor for businesses, ending our energy efficiency programs would also hurt our efforts to bring new companies and jobs to New Hampshire.

In addition, because New Hampshire is part of a regional electricity system, if this legislation were to become law, New Hampshire ratepayers would continue to pay part of the cost of the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative, but would no longer receive any benefit from the allowance auction revenue. SB 154 would effectively cause New Hampshire ratepayers to pay higher electric rates to subsidize efforts to reduce energy costs in other states.

RGGI continues to have bipartisan support today because it is helping to reduce our dependence on foreign oil, creating jobs, and helping our businesses save money and become more competitive. I believe that we should continue that progress. Therefore, I am vetoing this legislation.

As originally drafted, this legislation also contained important changes to New Hampshire's Comprehensive Shoreland Protection Law. These changes, which enjoyed widespread support among stakeholders and bipartisan support in the legislature, were ultimately included in HB 2 and have already become law.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch
Governor

Date: July 6, 2011

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, again, Mister President. I am the sponsor of Senate Bill 154. Senate Bill 154, I think as we all recall, started out as a rewrite to the Comprehensive Shoreland Protection Act, something that this body and former Senator Fuller Clark had worked on for a number of years with success but needed some tweaks. The Senate passed it; the House actually improved it. But, at the last minute, the RGGI repeal, which we fully debated, was attached to it. The Shoreland Protection provisions were also put into HB 2, thankfully, and it was a bipartisan bill and I thank all of my colleagues for that, again.

So, what we're left with, in essence, is a debate – hopefully the last one – about RGGI. I would urge my colleagues, given the questions that were raised about where the money goes, the questions about whether it's the most effective use of the money that's raised, and the questions about the market validity of carbon trading at this point in time in our country, given that our efforts at of reform of this program were not successful, I would ask my colleagues to vote yes and override the Governor's veto. Thank you.

SENATOR MERRILL: Thank you, Mister President. We did have a lot of discussion on RGGI this year. And, I for one will be pleased if we follow the Governor's wisdom on this issue and uphold his veto of 154. At the same time, I will say that I believe the detailed discussions we had this year were useful. I think the concerns about RGGI were aired; suggestions were made about future administration of the program, and at the same time, many a testifier reminded us of the benefits, the value of the program, describing those kinds of programs that did benefit from the $32 million in RGGI funding that have helped municipalities, homeowners, and New Hampshire businesses to save money and energy. So, I urge my colleagues to support the veto of Senate Bill 154. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Luther.)

SENATOR LUTHER: Thank you, Mister President. I want to make a couple points. One is, I know a lot of us are probably parents, and what I've learned as a parent is to incent your children – positive incentive – works – in my experience, anyway – much better than negative incentive. Cap and trade is a negative incentive program. And, if you look at the markets, they are busted. The RGGI credits that are being bought and sold right now are almost worthless. The auctions, the last two auctions were a terrible failure. In Nashua, Jack Tulley, one of the car dealers, he was approached by retailers in Greater Nashua to sell RGGI credits. They're trying to get rid of them because they're almost worthless. His advice to dealers is: "Run, and don't let them sell those to you." Markets are showing that this program does not work. And, we had had some discussion, I know, over email, with some folks: What is a primary and secondary market? The stock market is a secondary market. And, if a company cannot get stock out there and trade a value, then what's called IPO's – initial public offerings – are a failure and companies are not able to raise new capital. And, what's happening is the markets are saying: "This is a program that doesn't work." And so, I would encourage my colleagues to vote to override the Governor's veto. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is, notwithstanding the Governor's Veto, shall SB 154 become law?

Sen. Bradley asserts Rule 2-15 on SB 154.

INTRODUCTION OF A SENATE BILL

Sen. Bradley moved to introduce SB 198 and RESOLVED, that in accordance with the list in the possession of the Senate Clerk, Senate legislation numbered Senate Bill 198 shall be by this Resolution read a first and second time by the therein listed title.

Adopted.

First and Second Reading and Referral

11-1115

SB 198-FN, relative to the calculation of aid to the permanently and totally disabled and temporary assistance to needy families (TANF). (Morse, Dist. 22)

Sen. Morse moved Ought to Pass.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. And, I move Senate Bill 198 Ought to Pass. The Department of Health and Human Services approached the Governor and the Legislature with an oversight that took place in the budget. The necessary language to achieve the savings to two programs in Health and Human Services was omitted in House Bill 2. Reductions were made as part of the Governor's budget in House Bill 1, but the corresponding statute changes were omitted in House Bill 2 following the House phase and the Senate phase. Without passing the legislation before you today, the Department of Health and Human Services will be unable to realize $8.3 million in savings for the fiscal year. Please support the motion of Ought to Pass. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to oppose Senate Bill 198. I understand, and having been in leadership I understand having been on Finance – I understand the need to balance the budget. But, I think Senate Bill 198 exemplifies the problems we had with the budget.

Senate Bill 198 points out a very small feature that adds up to a lot of dollars: $8 million. But, it shows through its example that this budget was balanced on those least able to pay, that in fact we need to go in and tell people who are in TANF households that they have to live on less; they have to live, in some cases, on $1,380 a year less. There are 491 families who are going to be affected by this, and 103 of them are going to lose $1,380 a year, and the remaining 266 are going to lose $960 a year. You are going to have families – perhaps a single mom who is also receiving SSI, who is now going to see her cash assistance lowered because she's in fact disabled. It means that if you have an elderly parent living with you, or you might be an elderly parent yourself – maybe a 65-year-old father living with his younger children; perhaps you're disabled. You are going to lose assistance and the value of your assistance either under SSI or the aid to the permanently and totally disabled or the old age assistance grants are going to lower your TANF grant.

I understand the need to balance the budget. But, I hate to see...And, this just shines a bright light on a very small but significant sector of our society that very much needs assistance that will lose additional money, and we will be asking them to live on less in a time when jobs are harder to come by, when disability makes it more difficult to find a job, and you're trying to support your children. So, I think it just is a highlight of what was a problem in the budget; we balanced this budget on those with the least ability to pay. And, there were many ways we could have done it differently; we chose – as a majority – we have chosen not to do this. But, Senate Bill 198 is, I think, an example of where those problems are and how I think this state can do better in the future. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Mister President, I want to point out there were challenges in the budget. But, the challenges started at the Governor. I mean, he had a tough time building the budget. But, this request came to you for the Senate to introduce this legislation making technical changes today. Then, what I did, when this request came to you originally – not in the last day – what I did was I contacted the Department to make sure that the public had been notified properly during the budget phase before I supported this legislation – which was not how it was presented to me, quite honestly. But, in doing so, I received a notification from the Department that goes from the phase that Terry Smith, the Director of this department, not only went to the public with this right after the Governor's Address, but all the way through the House's phase and the Senate's phase, he made it clear to all those groups that were involved in the State of New Hampshire where this was. The fact that this isn't in the budget is certainly a technical issue, or I wouldn't have supported it. The public understands we had to make tough decisions; it was vetted during the phases of all the budgets, and the Governor himself made a tough choice; it wasn't just the majority party. I ask you to support this; it's very important to the budget phase.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Sanborn for a question of Sen. Morse.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you so much, Senator Morse. Just for clarification, to be sure: You're suggesting that the Governor himself has requested that this has to happen and that he had put it in his first budget?

SENATOR MORSE: Yes. And, the reality is, he gave the Senate President a letter saying that. I think we're all in this boat together. These are tough times in the State of New Hampshire; the Governor realizes that, and he wrote a letter that says that. It needs to be done; it's truly a technical correction that we all need to live up to.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, sir.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass. A roll call was requested by Sen. White, seconded by Sen. Sanborn.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Groen, Sanborn, Odell, White, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Boutin, Barnes, De Blois, Rausch, Morse, Prescott, Stiles, Bragdon.

The Clerk read the following House Message:

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives concurs with the Senate in the passage of the following entitled Bill, with amendment, in the passage of which amendment the House asks the concurrence of the Senate:

SB 198-FN, relative to the calculation of aid to the permanently and totally disabled and temporary assistance to needy families (TANF).

Sen. Morse moves concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to oppose Senate Bill 198, and so I therefore oppose concurrence in it as it comes back from the House. The original language of Senate Bill 198 included language which in fact goes after those most needy in our communities. It reduces even further the amount of allowable income that's disregarded when calculating aid through the Temporary Assistance to Needy Families income household. So, it not only reduces aid to those most needy in our communities: a family that might have someone with a disability – it now no longer will ignore their income. It means that those who have perhaps taken in someone who's receiving SSI or state assistant – supplemental assistance – will see their household incomes further reduced, and I think it's the wrong families to go after, the wrong places to seek ways to balance our budget. I realize Senate Bill 198 is a correction to a mistake that was in the budget, but it is still one which I think goes after the wrong places for finding funds.

Secondly, the House then added language that addresses marital masters. And, we have seen over the years...I know there are those who are perhaps angry at marital masters and decisions that have been made about their families. But, in the long run, I think the proof will be shown that the marital masters save court time, save costs in our courts, enabled a marital master to understand a family better than a judge who was getting a case at the last minute and trying to review the needs of that family and the needs of those children. So, the marital masters had better insight into families as they're dissolving, and I think were better for children and for families, and it saves state money. So, the continued effort by the House to attack marital masters is, I think, a mistaken one, both in terms of costs and in terms of the social consequences to our families here in the state. So, for that reason I rise to oppose Senate Bill 198 and oppose concurrence to that. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the motion of concurrence.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Houde, seconded by Sen. Larsen.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Forrester, Bradley, Forsythe, Groen, Sanborn, Odell, White, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Barnes, De Blois, Morse, Prescott, Stiles, Bragdon.

The Clerk read the following House Message:

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives has voted to override the Governor's veto on the following entitled Bill:

HB 542-FN, relative to exceptions for objectionable material in public school courses.

Without objection, the Clerk shall read the title of the Veto Message only.

Governor's Veto Message Regarding HB 542

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on July 13, 2011, I vetoed HB 542, an act relative to exceptions for objectionable material in public school courses.

I am vetoing this legislation because it does not clearly define what material would be objectionable; it would be disruptive to classrooms and other students; and it would be difficult for school districts to administer.

Current law already allows for parents to remove their children from classrooms for particular lessons on health or sex education. Given the strong moral and religious issues inherent in those subjects, that is appropriate. But this legislation goes far beyond that. HB 542 would allow a parent to determine any course material is "objectionable" and require school districts to work with parents to develop an alternative. This legislation in essence gives every individual parent of every student in a classroom a veto over every single lesson plan developed by a teacher.

For example, under this bill, parents could object to a teacher's plan to teach the history of France or the history of the civil or women's rights movements. Under this bill, a parent could find "objectionable" how a teacher instructs on the basics of algebra. In each of those cases, the school district would have to develop an alternative educational plan for the student. Even though the law requires the parents to pay the cost of alternative, the school district will still have to bear the burden of helping develop and approve the alternative. Classrooms will be disrupted by students coming and going, and lacking shared knowledge.

Just as important, this legislation will fundamentally damage educational quality. Much of the genesis behind this legislation is objections to certain books that have been used in lessons. This is a perennial debate, and teachers and schools have a responsibility to ensure they are using age-appropriate, school-appropriate materials in their classrooms.

The intrinsic value of education is exposing students to new ideas and critical thinking. This legislation encourages teachers to go the lowest common denominator in selecting material, in order to avoid "objections" and the disruption it may cause their classrooms.

Because it is unclear what educational material or programs would be objectionable and the quality of education in the classroom could be impacted, I am vetoing this bill.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch
Governor

Date: July 13, 2011

(The Chair recognized Sen. Kelly.)

SENATOR KELLY: Thank you, Mister President. I do rise to oppose the concurrence on House Bill 542. I think this legislation is truly overreaching and would result in complete chaos in our school districts, as well as in our classrooms. We now have a system in New Hampshire that sets curriculum; it does so in a very collaborative and transparent manner, and it sets standards that provide a quality of education for all of our children that we can rely on. As well, current law today allows parents to remove their children from the classroom for particular classes that teach health and sex education, so there are exceptions. I urge my colleagues to oppose this concurrence because of this overreach creating chaos, and it certainly would not be in the best interest of our parents and our schoolchildren. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. I urge my colleagues to support the override of this veto. House Bill 542 is a simple bill that just allows parents to opt out of objectionable material. But, they do have to still, with any replacement, they still have to obey city curriculum requirements and the school has to agree to the changes. So, it's a good balance between parental rights and yet keeping authority in the classroom and controlling the curriculum. Also, the replacement has to be paid for by the parents at their expense, so we don't violate Article 28-a. Although there are some ability right now to remove kids from classrooms, it's for a very narrowly focused set of classes and it's also for religious reasons only, whereas people may have a moral objection to material, but that's not covered in current statute. So, I think this is a very important bill to pass. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, many of us have served on local school boards for extended periods of time, and I think one can analyze this as a result of that kind of service and say: 'Gee, this is going to put a tremendous burden on the institution.' But, I think the most egregious part of this bill is this: that the name of the parent or legal guardian or any specified reason disclosed to school officials for the objection to the material should not be made public information and shall be excluded for access under RSA 91-A. So, this exclusion exempts that person from the Right-to-Know law. I can remember when we put the Right-to-Know law in place; we called it "the sunshine law", and we designed our law after the sunshine laws that were created in Florida, and it was because of openness and transparency. This is not open and transparent if you can exclude that individual from the Right-to-Know law. Now, as both of us know, Mister President, most school board meetings are public sessions, and when we discuss curriculum and when we discuss objections to curriculum, it's usually brought out in a public session. This particular note in this particular piece of legislation excludes the public session and it excludes openness.

It seems to me, if you have opposition, you ought to be able to state it and it should be public; it shouldn't be private. They are public schools, or they're public charter schools, and public openness...They're paid for with public funds. Why should anything be exempt from the Right-to-Know law? Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR STILES: Thank you, Mister President. Essentially what this does is it ensures that every school district will have a policy in place so that when there is an objection...Now, many school districts currently have that, but we don't have that many people that object to materials. This ensures that there is a standard policy that all people are treated the same, and I would encourage you to do that, because those decisions are made at the local level of how that will happen.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Odell for a question of Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR ODELL: When you talk about a policy at the school level, at the district level, would this be similar to a policy such as we have on bullying, where we require schools to have a policy on bullying? Is this bill really about a policy rather than action?

SENATOR STILES: Actually, yes it is. It's to have a standard policy so that all people are treated the same, so if you come in to object to materials that I'm providing, you're treated the same as this individual. It's so there's a standard policy. It's a practice.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Odell for a follow-up question of Sen. Stiles.)

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you, Mister President. Just so I understand this: We're not expanding the options for parents, we're basically saying a school has to treat everyone who has an objection equally based upon a written policy.

SENATOR STILES: Thank you for the question, and yes, that's correct.

SENATOR ODELL: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Forsythe.)

SENATOR FORSYTHE: Thank you, Mister President. Sorry about that. But, I just wanted to respond to the Article 91-A objections. It's the name of the parent and the specific reason that are not subject to Right-to-Know, not the material that somebody's objected to – just to clarify that. And, there are numerous exceptions in the Right-to-Know laws for privacy concerns dealing with personnel – we go into nonpublic sessions all the time. This is just recognizing the privacy rights of the individual. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is, notwithstanding the Governor's Veto, shall HB 542-FN become law?

A roll call is required.

The Clerk read the following House Message:

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives has passed Bills with the following titles, in the passage of which it asks the concurrence of the Senate:

HB 652-FN, establishing a commission relative to Medicaid managed care.

HB 654-FN-L, relative to credit for retirement system employer contribution overpayments.

HB 655, establishing a committee to study issues regarding the New Hampshire Local Government Center.

HB 656, relative to boundaries of wards.

SUSPENSION OF SENATE RULES

Sen. Bradley moved to suspend all rules necessary to allow the consideration of House Bills 652, 654, 655, and 656, and further allow them to be reported out of policy committee in the 2012 Senate Session by the adopted Senate deadline for House bills.

The question is on the motion to suspend the rules.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Sen. Houde for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President. Question for the Chair, or Senator Bradley, who moved that, which is: Just for clarification purposes, the message asked for concurrence and passage, but you had just indicated that this was for the purposes of being assigned to a committee. I assume it's the latter, but I'd like to confirm that for the record.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Yes. The Senate got a message from the House asking us to go along with them, but we are going to treat them as regular bills and assign them to committees in the normal fashion.

SENATOR HOUDE: Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR LARSEN: I rise to actually oppose the precedent that this series of bills offers to the Senate. I think we have to be careful as Senators what kind of precedent we're setting for future sessions as well as our own. This series of bills was passed in what I think everyone would recognize as kind of unconventional, random, fall legislative sessions held by the House. There were oftentimes bills, and this series of bills, which didn't, in my mind, warrant the suspension of rules to discuss some of these topics, and certainly this... Other times we've had special sessions in the fall – we've followed our rules but we've had a special session to deal with important emergency issues. For example, we had a special session on low-income energy assistance so that we could make sure the people in this state were warm during the winter. So, we passed a bill, but it was during a special session. We've had other bills in special session that had to do with emergency topics: flooding, for example. We had, in a special session, to deal with the terrible issues of flooding in Alstead. But, to randomly pass bills throughout... suspend their own rules – I'm criticizing the House process – suspend their own rules for things that are nonemergency, for these bills which could have been introduced as bills in the January session, to me makes no sense; it sets bad precedence; it makes our sessions unreliable, unpredictable, and I think the best thing we can do for public policy is to be a body that's predictable, transparent, understandable. The House has not been acting in that method, and that's why I rise to object to these bills that could have been introduced as House bills during this session. So, I will be voting 'no'. I understand that we will not be talking about the topics contained within, but there are significant issues – certainly the ones relating to the retirement bills and the question of whether the retirement bill in House Bill 654 is constitutional. So, not only are we suspending rules and setting a bad precedent, but we're probably suspending rules to consider a bill that's unconstitutional, and I have letters from the retirement system and their lawyer indicating such, as the Senate President received similar language from them. So, I think it's a bad precedent; I think we ought to all vote 'no' and tell the House to go back and draft some bills for this session. Thank you.

PRESIDENT BRAGDON: Thank you, Senator Larsen. I will point out that this is a suspension of the rules; it will require a two-thirds vote.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a question of Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR BARNES: Senator, I heard loud and clear what you had to say, and I don't disagree with some of what you had to say. But, would you believe that I believe that these five bills are going to be coming to a Senate committee and all of us will be sitting on some of those bills, and that this Senate, as we always do, will have public hearings on them – the public will not be in the shadows like perhaps you perceived happened over in the House; that's not going to happen in the Senate – the public's going to come in and they're going to have their say and we're going to listen, and it's going to come back to this floor for us to vote on.

SENATOR LARSEN: I believe you believe that. I'd like to see us be an august body that sends a message to the House that they ought to follow their own rules a little more closely, and that's the message I'd like to send to them.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Barnes for a follow-up question of Sen. Larsen.)

SENATOR BARNES: I couldn't agree with you more. However...I have a 'however' here. I don't think here in January we should be fighting with those dudes over there, because we're going to have plenty of that as we go through the session. You've been here a long time – you're so young I don't know how you've been here so long, but you've been here a long time, and you know as well as I know that we don't like to pick on each other's bodies. Let them do their business and let the people decide what kind of a job they're doing and let the people decide what kind of a job this Senate is doing. We have redistricting coming up, Senator, and we don't need to be telling the House how they should do their redistricting. It's been a gentlemen and a ladies' – used to be just gentlemen but I put ladies on there; I noticed that – agreement that we don't mess with their bills and we don't mess with ours. So, I don't think we really should be trying to send the House a message. I think the Speaker of the House is a smart fellow, and I think he's probably listening to this, or will listen to it, and he understands that some things they do over there, maybe some of us don't like. But, for gosh sakes, let's move on. And, for the record, I'm going to vote for this.

SENATOR LARSEN: Was that a question?

SENATOR BARNES: Would you believe?

SENATOR LARSEN: I would believe that's how you believe, and I would continue to argue that it stands to be a bad precedent which could lead into future sessions having similar issues. So, sometimes courtesy...The idea of setting precedent and standing by the right steps take precedence over courtesy. So, I would end with that, Mister Senator from the District 17, and I think we ought to end our conversation with that I agree to disagree with you on this.

SENATOR BARNES: Happy New Year.

SENATOR LARSEN: Happy New Year to you.

(The Chair recognized Sen. Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. I couldn't possibly be more eloquent than my friend from District 17, Senator Barnes, so I'll conclude.

(The Chair recognized Sen. White.)

SENATOR WHITE: Mister President, I will rise in support of Senator Larsen's remarks. I do think the process is important, although I will say I disagree with your last sentence: I don't think we should be weighing the merit of the bills or the constitutionality, but I do support everything else you said about process and will be voting against this.

The question is on the motion to suspend the rules.

A roll call was requested by Sen. Larsen, seconded by Sen. Houde.

The following Senators voted Yes: Gallus, Bradley, Forsythe, Groen, Sanborn, Odell, Luther, Lambert, Carson, Barnes, De Blois, Merrill, Morse, Prescott, Stiles, Bragdon.
